Howarth, Gillian, Bekins, Bailey, Anderson, Brown, Cressell, Maxwell, Newman, Russell, Patty, Smith, Carmen, Warren, Hoy Hartley, Collins, Jones, Riddell, Norton, Holland Schaffers, Wyant and Dale.

The scorers will be under the direction of Ed Lamphere with Hugh Carson and Edward Smith assisting him. The timers have been placed in charge of Verne Moore with Gibbs, Salter and Pickwell acting as assistants.

Clerks' Committee Has Plenty of Work.

The clerks' committee with Farley Young as chairman will have plenty of work to do. Shaw, Wenke, Deering, Scherer, Weller, Gish and Lyman will act as assistants on this committee. The work of the committee will be to verify the entries and get the score books filled out for the officials before the teams in question are due on the floor. They will also have to see to it that the teams are on hand on time and that every thing is in readiness when the time for the contest to begin comes.

The entertainment committee will be to provide for all the free time of the visitors. Roy Wythers is chairman of this committee with Richard Hadley assisting him. Coach Schissler will act as chairman for the trophies for all classes and the awarding of the trophies to their respective winners.

The police committee will be in charge of John Pucelik acting as chairman with Munn and Thompson assisting him. The information committee will be the entire "N" club and Melvin Bekins acting as chairman. The program committee is in charge of Russell Bailey with George McGuire assisting him. The finance committee is headed by Neil Chaderton and other men to be appointed by the "N" Club. The duties of this committee will be to supervise the sale of tickets, take charge of the entry fees and receipts and prepare complete financial statement of all expenditures and receipts.

The publicity committee will be under the direction of Gregg McBride with Jack Landale and Charles Mitchell assisting him.

Play will begin in all classes on Thursday morning at 8, and continue throughout the day until 10. The tournament games will close the baseball season at the University of Nebraska. Following the tournament Coach Schissler will have his athletes out on the baseball diamond for preliminary spring practice.

BRIGGS WILL SPEAK TO RESEARCH CLUB

J. W. Briggs, general superintendent of the Cushman Motor Works, will meet with the Industrial Research club in the Grand hotel Wednesday at 6 p. m.

He will deliver a short talk on some of the problems which arise in the relations between management and workmen and then answer questions.

Mr. Briggs served as an apprentice in England and since coming to the United States in 1900 has been engaged in automotive work in Detroit and Chicago, holding managerial positions with the Buda and Several Motors companies.

During the war he was director of motor truck production for the Detroit district.
