BISHOP STUNTZ TO ADDRESS BANQUET

Committee of Two Hundred Will Hold Annual Event Next Friday.

IS A CLOSED NIGHT

Dr. J. F. Stone Spoke Well of the Spirit Shown by Students Last Year.

The second student banquet for 1,000 students under the auspices of the Committee of 200 comes this week Friday evening at the St. Paul Methodist church. The committee is making plans to seat a capacity crowd and the ticket sellers are striving to pass the goal set by the first banquet last fall at the Scottish Rite temple. This banquet, addressed by Dr. John Timothy Stone of Chicago, was the largest student gathering of the year.

In addition to the main speaker, Bishop Homer C. Stuntz, the committee on arrangements has planned several interesting attractions. An orchestra will play during the banquet and university songs and yells, which featured the October banquet, will be given. It is expected that some of the songs which are to be printed in the Cornhusker songbook will be sung during the evening.

Williams Will Speak.

R. O. Williams, Nebraska '91, has consented to speak on the toast list and represent the alumni of the University. Mr. Williams has been active in the support of University projects since his graduation. He took his advanced degree here at Nebraska in '03. Other speakers on the program have not yet been announced by Lawrence Slater, general chairman of the banquet.

Friday night has been declared closed by University authorities and practically all other activities have been banned for the evening. This reason, along with the fact that many of the fraternities and sororities are planning to not serve dinner on Friday evening but to reserve tables at St. Paul, indicate that a monster crowd of students and faculty will be on hand at 6:15 when the dinner will be served.

The committees working under Chairman Slater are as follows: Tickets: Jack Virture, chairman; Janet Maitland, Marion Note, Ann Hepperly; arrangements, Floyd Oldt, Grace Stuff; decorations, Glen Dorsey.

Tickets Will Go Fast.

Tickets for this banquet remain at the price of 75 cents per plate and should be secured during the early part of the week, say the committee members, so that an accurate estimate of the number of plates to be served may be given as far ahead possible. Members of the church groups have taken the lead in the ticket selling and have been working for almost a week.

"After College What?" and its problems will be taken up by some of the speakers in their talks and the question discussed from its practical aspects. Both the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A., as well as some other campus organizations with large memberships have taken up and discussed this topic once each year. This year the discussion has been more general and much more extensive than before and it is the plan of the committee to bring it before as many students as possible.

Real Cornhusker spirit will have a large place on the program of the evening's entertainment. There will be no lack of the spirit which was characterized by Dr. Stone of Chicago at the October banquet, as "the finest spirit I have ever seen at any of the universities over the country."

Dr. D. E. Thomas, who has taken the place of director of the banquet, left vacant by the illness of Dr. Harry Huntington, has given out notice that the Committee of 200, under whose auspices the banquet is being given, will be thoroughly reorganized after Friday night

LAWYERS SHOULD KEEP CLIENTS OUT OF TROUBLE

"The lawyer's most important service is not that of getting his client out of trouble, but that of keeping him out," said John L. Kennedy, prominent Omaha attorney and business man, before the members of the College of Law at general lecture period Friday, March 11. Dean W. A. Seavey introduced the speaker.

Mr. Kennedy tried to impress upon the minds of the lawyers-to-be that the attorney is becoming more and more of a business man each day. "There is not a business that does not demand more or less knowledge of legal matters," he explained.

Duty to country and to the public was emphasized by the speaker as an important responsibility of every lawyer. "Remember your country first and then yourself afterwards, speak her language always and uphold her ideals," were his closing remarks.

GOLDEN FLEECE ORDER PICKS PRIZE WINNERS

TRESSES WITHIN A RANGE OF TWENTY COLORS ELIGIBLE.

Red Hair Predominated Throughout the Entire Program.—Chemicals Were Barred.

That glowing event, the annual luncheon of the Order of the Golden Fleece, took place yesterday noon in the Palm room of the Victoria hotel. The winners of the six prizes awarded by the judges are as follows: The first prize for the most vivid red hair—the reddest of the red went to Betty Kennedy, with honorable mention for Florence Williams. The first prize for the most "fascinating, scintillating golden glow" went to Vivian Hansen. The prize for the greatest quantity of red hair went to Gwendolyn Damerell. The two consolation prizes, for those having tresses in shade nearest lemon and nearest brown went to Miss Diamond and Mary Thomas.

The donors of prizes for the events were Mrs. R. E. Griffen, Miss Elsie Fitzgerald, Mrs. F. F. Teal and Mrs. Willard Yates of Lincoln and Jessie Beghtol Lee of Chicago and Marian Swezey of Gary, Indiana.

The judges, who during the luncheon had a table to themselves with an excellent view, were Mrs. Barton Green, Mrs. R. E. Griffen, Mrs. Everett Sawyer of Lincoln, and Miss Mary Gant of Omaha. The judges were thoughtfully provided with smoked glasses. In the quantity contest they had the right to remove the hairpins of the contestants. "This is no more than a safe precaution these days for such a test," they said.

Twenty Colors Eligible.

At the annual luncheons of the Golden Fleece, all students of the University of Nebraska are eligible who pass the registration committee as having tresses within the following range of more than twenty colors: Squash, carrot, pumpkin, orange, brick, scarlet, flamingo, maroon, copper, auburn, henna, mahogany, magenta, sorrel, strawberry roan, russet, cerise, carnation, salmon, shrimp pink and pink. Those having the hues of lemon, ginger or putty are barred as "nears" at one end of the prism; and those having "insipid brown" were barred at the other end. "Chemicals" were also barred. It was emphatically announced. About fifty were in attendance.

A program was given during and after the luncheon. It was as follows:

Part I.

"Fair Lighthouses," Louise Pound.
"Tints of Titian," Gwendolyn Damerell.

"Headlights of History," Etta Day.
"Their Harsh and Gaudy Hues," Frances Botkin.

"And Beauty Draws Us By a Single Hair," Magdalene Craft.

Part II.

Instrumental Trio, "Keep the Home Fires Burning," Luella, Frances and Margaret Gettys.

Musical recital and buck and wing dance, Frances Carrothers.

High Schools Show More "Pep" Than We Do

Gosh, kids, let's hurry—we gotta get to that game in plenty of time," is the by-word of this week. All our little future prospectives are heard uttering these words of warning.

It has been an interesting week, not only for the blase University "studes," but for the "green" little visitors who have just finished taking in the sights of this enormous city. I am sure that to most of this brightly sweated clan a thousand and one wonderful revelations have been made in their short sojourn in our midst.

They showed more "pep" and enthusiasm over their champions than we have been able to muster up since our own high school days. They wouldn't say "die" until they heard the last whistle and were pretty good sports about losing, too.

The streets have been swarming with enthusiasts which their large letters emphasized. You could spot them a couple of blocks away and say to yourself "now when I was a boy—"

This would show us what a value it is to have the spirit of youth and we must try not to think we are ancient beyond hope at the age of twenty-one.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS ATTEND NEBR. LUNCHEON

A large crowd of the high school boys who were in Lincoln for the state basketball tournament, attended the Greater Nebraska luncheon held at the Grand Hotel Friday noon. Earl Mast, Y. M. C. A. secretary, was the main speaker after the chicken pie lunch. He was introduced by Lawrence Slater, who acted as chairman. He announced that there will be no luncheon this Friday on account of the big banquet for 1,000 students which will be given in the evening at St. Paul church under the direction of the Committee of 200.

The subject for the talk by Mr. Mast was "Two by Four or Four by Four." The visitors were introduced to many of Nebraska's songs and yells.

ENGLISH SOCIALISM AFFECTED BY WAR

PROF. O. D. ALLEN SPEAKS ON ENGLISH CONDITIONS.

Financial Matters More Important to England Than is a Political Policy.

Prof. O. D. Allen, head of the political science department of the University of Minnesota, spoke on "Economic and Political Conditions in England" at an open meeting of the International Relations Club in the Social Science auditorium Friday evening. Few seats remained vacant when Chancellor Avery introduced the speaker.

Professor Allen traced the industrial and economic development of England to the conditions of today brought about by the war. He said that the war killed orthodox socialism in England, but that guild socialism is taking its place. As an illustration he said that in a certain village the architectural union contracts for all the buildings.

A financial matter is often more important to the British government than the determination of a political policy, declared Professor Allen, as he told of the power of the labor unions in England since the war. He said that when prices dropped the laborers refused to work for lower wages.

DR. W. S. HALL WILL ADDRESS UNIVERSITY MEN

Will Speak at Men's Special Convocation Thursday at the Temple Theater.

Dr. Winfield Scott Hall, noted lecturer, writer and medical teacher, will address University men at a special men's convocation to be held Thursday, March 17, in the Temple theater at 11 o'clock. Dr. Hall was dean of the Medical College at Northwestern University for a number of years and is recommended highly on his topic "Social Hygiene."

Dr. Hall will be in Lincoln for three days next week and will be the main speaker at a meeting of the Lancaster Medical association Saturday evening. He has traveled all over the United States and Canada on his lecture tours and is known as one of the pioneers in his line. Dr. Hall has the distinction of having been recalled for ten consecutive years to speak to the students of Chicago University and for eleven years has made annual visits to the University of Illinois to deliver his series of lectures.

The Board of Temperance and Moral Welfare of the Presbyterian church is sponsoring the trips of Dr. Hall. In a long list of recommendations of Dr. Hall's lectures there are many like the following which was written by the secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at the University of Missouri after Dr. Hall's visit there:

OMAHA COMMERCE STATE CHAMPIONS

University Place Make a Vigorous Struggle for Supremacy But Failed.

SCORE WAS 11 TO 9

Nebraska City Defeated Central City in Class B—Ravenna Takes Class C Cup.

The grand finale of the eleventh state high school basketball tournament closed last night at the Coliseum with Omaha Commercial High the state champions.

Omaha Commercial and the University Place teams put on one of the greatest battles ever witnessed between two high school teams for the Class A cup and the championship of the state. The final score was 11 to 9. Nebraska City won the Class B cup by defeating Central City to the tune of 16 to 15. Both teams put up a hard battle but the ability to hit the basket at the right time won for the Nebraska City quintet.

Ravenna Defeats Friend.

Hard games were played in the other classes for the leadership of the various divisions. In Class C Ravenna handed the Friend quintet the short end of the score consisting of 18 to 6.

The Class D trophy went to the Minden team who defeated the Osceola quintet in the finals by the count of 24 to 5. Fairmont won the Class E cup. The final score was Fairmont 14, Fairfield 9. The Waco quintet and the Farnam team staged a real battle for the Class F cup, with Waco winning by the score of 8 to 7.

Wakefield won the class G trophy by outplaying the Franklin quintet. The final count was Wakefield 16, Franklin 12. In Class H, Waverly defeated the St. Edward crew by the score of 16 to 11. The class I trophy went to Holmesville. The final score of this game was Holmesville, 10; Scribner, 6.

Panama captured the Class J cup by defeating Bertrand by the count of 19 to 11 in the finals. In Class K, Greenwood won out over Odell to the tune of 16 to 5. The Class L trophy was carried home by the Waterloo team who defeated Cedar Rapids in the finals by the score of 20 to 5. In the final division Trumbull took the Class M cup by giving Ashland the short end of the score in the finals. The final count was 9 to 6.
