TRACK SEASON IN FULL SWING

Nebraska Has One of Largest Squads in Country—Schulte Sets Goal at Four Hundred.

HIGH SCHOOL MEET MAY 14

Excellent Schedule Prepared—Includes Kansas, South Dakota and Haskell Indians.

Nebraska will be represented this spring by not only the largest track squad in the Missouri Valley, but also one of the greatest gatherings of track men in the country. Coach Schulte has placed the goal at 400 men and to accomplish this expects every man to bring out at least one other candidate.

Spring vacation, which starts next week, will in no way hamper the work of any of the track men. Coach Schulte expects to remain in Lincoln and take care of all of the Husker athletes who will work out during the vacation period here. All of the men who are going home for the week have been instructed to work out at least four times during the vacation period.

The annual state high school track meet will be held in Lincoln on May 14 this year. Director Luehring and Coach Schulte expect to have a large number of high school cinder path artists here for the annual classic. One of the features of the meet will be the selective Pentathlon for the high school athletes. This is something new for the Nebraska high school men and Coach Schulte is planning making it an annual event at Nebraska.

Coach Schulte has outlined eight coming events which all of the men must be in shape for after they have returned from the vacation. Every man must be in condition for the Varsity or if he is not eligible for the Varsity he must be in shape to win his numerals. The first meet of the year will be the Inter-Fraternity meet on April 9. Coach Schulte expects every man who is out for track now to participate in this meet if he is not eligible for Varsity work.

Inter-College Meet.

Following the Inter-Fraternity meet will be the inter-college meet on April 16. The men in the novice division will compete against the Freshmen in a meet which will be staged April 23. The Missouri Valley Conference tryouts for the Freshmen will be held on April 30. Nebraska has a great bunch of yearling performers and should put some real material in the field for this meet. The Missouri Valley Conference Freshmen Telegraphic meet will be held on May 11. A dual practice meet with Wesleyan is scheduled for some time this spring. The annual medal meet will be held on May 21 this year.

The Varsity men have a strenuous season coming on with three dual meets and four or five other big meets on the calendar. The preliminary tryouts for the Drake relays will be held April 9 with the finals coming on April 16. The Drake relays will be held on April 23, and Coach Schulte expects to enter three relay teams for certain in the big classic. Nothing definite has been decided regarding the Peen games at Philadelphia, Kansas, Haskell Indians and South Dakota will follow one another in dual meets with the Huskers.

PHI ALPHA DELTA HOLDS BANQUET AT GRAND HOTEL

Phi Alpha Delta, legal fraternity held a banquet at the Grand Hotel Wednesday evening. Cecil Strimple acted as toastmaster and introduced the speakers. The main speaker of the evening was Judge James R. Deal, of the Nebraska Supreme Court.

Judge Dean, who is a member of Phi Alpha Delta, presented to his hearers the fact that satisfaction comes to the lawyer not so much in the capital he acquires as through the service he renders to his community and state.

UNIOR HOP FRIDAY NIGHT AT K. C. HALL

The Junior Hop will be held Friday evening, March 25, at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Tickets are now on sale and may be purchased from the following members of the Hop committee: Andrew Schoepel, Chambers Seymour, Katherine Willis, Jessie Watson, Bryce Crawford, Clarence Ross, Vivian Hanson and Wallace Herrick.

Plans are nearly completed for a successful prom. In other years it has been a tradition to make the annual Junior dance a formal dinner affair and tickets sold for more than $5.00. This year in keeping with the Nebraska economy campaign the prom will be informal and tickets will cost $1.25 including war tax.

Parasites Depend On Brains of Others To Make Grades In Exams

"Nope, can't say as I know a thing about this; I'll have to trust to the girl next to me for my grade." That is the way most of us go to exams and the way we pass them. We depend on the brains and industry of others; we are that creature known by society as parasite.

No one hesitates for a single instant about taking the opportunities to exchange or accept knowledge. It is habitual and customary, it is being done. We cut for all we're worth and never feel any pangs of conscience because of this laxness. If one or two students in a class know lots and are willing to pass it along very few can possibly flunk the exam. Anyone who is a proficient copier can get by with all but murder.

It is perfectly legitimate to "bluff" because all you can get out of your own mind is yours, feeble and uncertain as it may be.

Cheating is so prevalent that you never wink an eye-lash at it, and quite the contrary with honesty—when you find an exceptional honest man in the midst of us hypocrites you gasp and think that he must be the man Diogenes searched for with his lantern. People evidently had the same trouble in that day that they have now.

HUSKER DEBATERS TO FACE IOWA IN TWO MATCHES

First Forensic Contest for Nebraska Will Be With Hawkeyes.

Nebraska's first venture in inter-collegiate debating this year will take place the last of April or early in May, according to Prof. M. M. Fogg, when the Huskers will enter a forensic contest with the University of Iowa on the question of the closed shop. The exact phrasing of the proposition has not been settled. There will be two debates—one at Iowa City and one at Lincoln.

The innovation started at the Nebraska-Iowa contests last year—the open forum—will be continued. After the formal debate persons in the audience will put questions to the members of the teams. This give-and-take discussion proved highly interesting last year, running for about an hour at each debate.

The omission of special faculty coaching, which Iowa and Nebraska inaugurated last year and which has since been adopted by several of the state universities of the northeast will also be continued. The idea is that intercollegiate debates shall apply what they have already learned in courses in argumentative composition or elsewhere about the science and the art of debate.

Nebraska candidates for the group from which the teams will be selected are requested to leave their names with Professor Fogg before vacation. The teams will have to be selected about a week after vacation.

Speaking members will have the additional honor of election to Delta Sigma Rho, the honorary national debate fraternity.

NOTICE.

COLLEGE WOMENS ATHLETIC CONFERENCE AT INDIANA

Third Annual Convention is Largest Yet Held—Nebraska Represented.

The third Athletic Conference of American College Women held at Indiana University last week was the largest convention yet held. Over fifty colleges were represented by 156 athletic girls who flocked from all over the country for a two-day session.

Basketball rules, uniform point system, conference pin and inter-transference of points were the main topics discussed. A large swimming meet was held between the eastern schools and the western schools, with the east winning by a large margin.

The next national conference will be held at the University of California in 1924. The next sectional conference of W. A. A. will be held next year at Colorado University, where Nebraska will act as secretary of the meeting.

Nebraska W. A. A. delegates returned to Lincoln Tuesday noon, full of enthusiasm and new ideas for the association here.
