ENGINEERS MUST RENDER SERVICE

Says Burlington Man in Address to Engineer Students, at Special Convocation.

PRESENT STOUT'S PORTRAIT

Speaker Stresses Importance of Imagination and Power of Visualization—Will Reprint His Speech.

At the biggest Engineers' convocation in the history of the University, held Tuesday with an attendance of 225, F. T. Darrow, assistant chief engineer of Burlington railroad, lines west, and district director of the American Society of Civil Engineers, spoke on "The Point of View of a Young Engineer in the Making," and Sigma Tau, honorary engineering fraternity, presented to the College of Engineering a picture of former Dean O. V. P. Stout.

The Engineers' orchestra furnished music between numbers on the program. A. V. Lindgren, chairman of Engineers week committee, outlined the program for the rest of the week. The convocation was concluded by rolls led by R. G. Van Brunt.

Present Dean Stout's Portrait. R. C. Talbot, president of Sigma Tau, presented the portrait of former Dean Stout. Dean O. J. Ferguson responded in behalf of the College of Engineering.

"Engineering is for use and engineers are for service," said Mr. Darrow as he suggested to the students other points of view than those afforded by their technical and academic courses. Excerpts from the high points of Mr. Darrow's speech follow: "Along with work, think of thrift. Thrift of time—its wise and judicious use, its full use, its absence of misuse, should grow into a habit. . . . You have at hand forces and facilities for your instant use far beyond the wildest fancy of the dreams of the last century. . . ."

Engineers Need Imagination. "The engineer should have a well-developed imagination. On its wings he flies here and there, gathering forces and products for the service of his plans. A mental vision, seeing with the mind's eye the effect of new combinations, the power to visualize. (Continued on page four.)"

SAMPLE COMMENCEMENT INVITATIONS ON DISPLAY

SAYS AMERICA IS JAPAN'S FIRST AND BEST FRIEND

Dr. Wm. Axling Brought a Message Direct From Premier of Oriental Nation.

"Japan a Menace or an Asset?" was the subject of the lecture which Dr. William Axling delivered at convocation at the Temple theater yesterday morning. A number of classes were dismissed to attend the lecture. Dr. Fred M. Fling introduced Dr. W. T. Elmore, pastor of the First Baptist church, who in turn presented the speaker of the morning.

William Axling was graduated from this university with the class of 1898, and his wife, nee Lactada Burrows, was graduated in 1901. They went to Japan twenty years ago and this, their third trip to America, is the first time they have been in Lincoln when the university is in session.

"It is a great hour in a man's life," Dr. Axling declared, "when he returns to his alma mater." He said that emotion filled his heart when he looked at some of the same professors at whose feet he had listened and learned.

"I bring the message on my heart when I answer the question, Is Japan a menace or an asset?" America ought not to forget the part she played in introducing Japan, the hermit country, to the family of nations. It was America who thrust timid Japan out upon the world.

In these seventy years since Commodore Perry went to Japan, this country has changed greatly. Her exports have crossed the billions of dollars mark and her imports are nearly as high. There is a network of schools throughout the country and every child must attend six years. There are universities that rival with Harvard and Cambridge.

Industrial increase is enormous. But the greatest change has come in political life. Today Japan is ambitious for leadership in the Orient. But she has no ambition to be a second Germany.

Dr. Axling talked with influential Japanese to find how they felt toward America. The premier of Japan said that America was Japan's (Continued on page four.)

NEW TENNIS COURTS FOR FARM CAMPUS

At a recent conference between E. A. Burnett, dean of the Agricultural College, F. W. Luehring, chairman of the department of physical education, and Clarence Dunham, landscape gardener of the University of Nebraska, it was decided to construct four new tennis courts on the University Farm campus, and resurface the old one.

These new courts are to be located on the northeast corner of the Farm campus athletic field. The old court has been in very bad shape for the past two seasons, and in need of repair. Work will be started on the tennis courts the latter part of this week if the weather permits.

UNIVERSITY PLAYERS HOLD LAST REHEARSAL

"The Tailor Made Man" Will Be Final Production of the Year.

The last rehearsals of "The Tailor Made Man," the play that the University Players will present Thursday, Friday and Saturday, are completed and the cast is ready for the curtain Thursday evening. A complete new set of scenery has been painted for this production and not a detail has been spared. "The Tailor Made Man" has a larger cast than any play the University Players have ever presented.

Walter Herbert plays the leading part. He took the part of Sir Toby Belch in "Twelfth Night," and has taken prominent parts in most of the plays of the last few years.

Will Be Last Presentation. This will be the last production of the University Players this year. Several of the Players who have appeared in many productions will not return next year. Many will return and recruits will be furnished by the dramatic department.

Herbert Yenne, one of the prominent characters in "The Tailor Made Man," has taken prominent parts in nearly all the University Plays productions. He has helped put on many carnival and mixer skits. He is especially fitted to handle juvenile parts and feminine impersonations.

Cyril Coombs is another player who has been in a majority of the plays. Tragedy is his forte. It was a part of this nature that he acted in "The Bells," the last University Players production.

UNIQUE FLOAT WILL FEATURE FARMERS' FAIR

One of the features of the Farmers' Fair parade, May 7, will be a float gotten out by the Varsity Dairy Club, called the "Evolution of a Vitimine." This float will set forth graphically the relation of the vitimine to man, and explain its value to society. A survey is being conducted in the College of Agriculture at present to obtain appropriate "living specimens" for the use on this float.

HUSKERS EASILY DEFEAT COTNER

Opening Game of Baseball Season Results in Victory for Nebraska Nine.

SCORE WAS 11 TO 0

Munger and Atkinson Pitch Effective Ball with Anderson Receiving—Errorless Game.

Nebraska opened the 1921 baseball season yesterday at the State Farm campus diamond with a 11 to 0 victory over the Cotner college nine. The Huskers played errorless ball throughout the contest and were able to collect eight hits in six innings.

Coach Schissler has been able to develop a squad under unfavorable conditions. The entire team played together and easily outclassed their opponents. Cotner could only four hits in the seven innings.

Munger and Atkinson Hurl.

Munger was on the mound for the Huskers at the opening of the game and pitched like a veteran for five frames. The Nebraska twirler allowed only two hits in five innings. Atkinson went in for Munger and proved very effective allowing two hits. Anderson on the receiving end for the Huskers performed in a creditable manner and hit the ball for the only three bagger of the game.

A fair sized crowd was on hand to witness the opening contest. The second and third games on the schedule will be played Friday and Saturday when Nebraska meets Wesleyan in a two game series. Coach Schissler used practically all of the squad in yesterday's game. The Nebraska team have been equipped with new uniforms.

Following is a summary of the game:
