HANSON SPEAKS ABOUT SHANTUNG

Convocation Lecturer Emphasizes Importance of this Chinese Province.

TELLS OF IDOL WORSHIP

Points Out Inconceivable Development of Oriental State in Last Fifty Years.

Dr. P. O. Hanson talked at Convocation Tuesday morning on "The Shantung Question." His talk was very informal and questions were asked by some of his audience.

Dr. Hanson in the beginning of his talk emphasized the importance of the Chinese province, Shantung, in comparison with the other provinces. He says that Shantung stands out in China with much greater prominence than any state in the union does in the United States.

The Chinese for centuries have been heathens. They worship great mountains of vast strength. For a while they would take a rock from the mountain they worshipped, place on it an inscription with the name of the mountain, take it home with them and place it in the wall of their home or the wall around their lot. They felt this would bring them good luck. The language of the people is full of proverbs referring to this mountain and its strength.

Something of the history of Shantung in the possession of the Germans and also while it was in the possession of the Japanese was discussed.

The almost inconceivable development of Shantung and all China in the past two years or so is a thing which only an eye witness can make believable. China is doing in fifty years what it took America and other countries thousands of years to do. They did not have to go through a period of invention. They have recently started in their factories, industries and school systems with the last word in the science of the work, borrowed from the study and invention of America. All this rapid development is due entirely to the work of missionaries.

Dr. Hanson has worked in China for seventeen years and is familiar with his subject. He is a graduate of the University of Minnesota.

BENGSTON GIVES ILLUSTRATED LECTURE TO FRESHMAN CLASS

"Honduras" is Subject of Address Delivered Before Yearling Students.

N. A. Bengston, professor of geography and conservation, gave an illustrated lecture to the freshmen lecture class Tuesday morning on "Honduras."

Honduras is a country in the north-eastern part of central America and is about four-sevenths the area of Nebraska. It has less than half the population of Nebraska. The surface of this country is quite rough caused by mountains and volcanoes.

Professor Bengston has traveled through most of this country, and many of the slides that accompanied his lecture were taken by him and his party as they went through this very unique country. One of the slides showed the hotel in which he stayed. It was a low brick structure resembling very much a stable. This appearance was emphasized by a cattle yard which the dining room of the hotel opened into. Many of the houses of the interior of the country were made of solid adobe walls with tile roof other warmer houses were made of straw with thatched roofs. Sometimes when fresh air was especially desired or, maybe, when the inhabitants were too lazy to build walls the houses consisted of four poles covered by a thatched roof.

In a village which was shown on the screen Professor Bengston said there were no wells in the village nor was there a sewerage system. The only health officers and street cleaners were the buzzards and hawks.

The vegetation of Honduras is fine and eduse. In some of the lowland jungles it is necessary to cut through in order to pass. The most common trees are the banana, orange, mango, cocconut palm, ceiba and Guano-caste trees.

Central America does more exporting and importing with the United States than any other country. We get coffee, bananas, gold and silver in large quantities. There is a great deal we should do for this country for it is a promising field.

The "Affs" and the other members of the Seminary will escort the "Negs" to the train. The procession will leave the "Think Shop" at 12:30. The team will stay over night at Des Moines and go on to Iowa City Thursday afternoon.

The Cornhuskers' negative team is composed of Fred C. Campbell, Law '23, of Lincoln, who will open fire for Nebraska; Sheldon Tefft, '22, of Weeping Water, who will be second speaker, and O. A. Drake, Law '22, of Kearney, who will close the case. John Noll, '22, is alternate.

The negative of the proposition "That the Policy of the Closed Shop Should Receive the Support of Public Opinion" will be maintained by the Nebraskans at Iowa, while Nebraska's affirmative team—Louis B. Finkelstein, Law '22; Ewald T. Grether, '22, and C. C. Strimple, Law '22—will maintain the affirmative against Iowa in Memorial hall. H. Leland Caswell, '22, is alternate.

From present appearances the College of Law is going to be out in force at Memorial hall to back up especially the two out of the three members from that college.

The two teams had a give-and-take grapple Tuesday night in U 106. ## COMMERCIAL CLUB BANQUET FRIDAY EVENING AT GRAND

Members Gather For Eight Time Around Festive Board.

The University of Nebraska Commercial Club will hold its Eighth Annual Banquet Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Grand Hotel. The annual banquet is the big event of the college year for the Commercial Club. Last year, one hundred and sixty members were present; and this year, it is expected that the number will be correspondingly large. Each spring for the last eight years the club has held a banquet at which the student and faculty members of the club have gathered together and discussed plans for the future and listened to short, spicy talks on topics of interest to them.

The University Commercial Club has for years taken the lead in the activities of the students of business. It was one of the big factors in bringing about the creation of the new College of Business Administration. Now this Eighth banquet is planned to outdo those of past years. A special paper, edited by members of the club is to be distributed on that evening, and will show the spirit and ideas in short, timely articles that will show the spirit and the opportunities offered by the club. It is also rumored that there are several surprises that will be loosed on that evening.

ADVOCATES A SYSTEM OF NEBRASKA STATE PARKS

Doctor Wolcott Thinks That Move Should Be Made Now Before Land Values Rise Too High.

A system of state parks for Nebraska is strongly advocated by Dr. Robert H. Wolcott, head of the department of zoology. Dr. Wolcott is one of the national commission for the preservation of natural life and forest parks in the United States.

"Many states," he said, "are now establishing systems of state parks and Nebraska should not be behind hand in this matter. Tracts naturally adapted to serve as parks are being so changed as to be no longer suitable, land is rising in value, and the need is rapidly increasing, while it takes many years to develop such areas. The general use of the automobile has rendered acute, not only the necessity of good roads, but of a park system as well, and has changed the establishment of parks from a matter of municipal, or even local concern, to one of state-wide importance. Carefully selected parks, well cared for, are as effective an advertisement for the state, as are good roads, fine farms, imposing factories, beautiful public buildings, and well-planned and well-built towns and cities—these all evidence a high quality of citizenship and a standard of living which makes life most worth while.

Parks perform many functions; (1) perpetuating the memory of historical events, (2) preserving for future generations the beautiful scenes which gladdened the eyes of the pioneers when the state was young, (3) furnishing means for the education of the general public and the instruction of children in the natural sciences, (4) affording opportunities for the scientific investigation of plant and animal life, (5) providing areas which may

REGENTS OPOSED TO SINGLE TAX

Unless the regents change their minds the University can not have the compulsory single tax next year.

A number of regents have said that since the legislature passed the law reducing student fees to a pre-war basis they think the compulsory single tax cannot be put into effect next year.

Chancellor Avery said that while he did not believe the law could legally prohibit the institution of the compulsory single tax he thought it would be unwise to take such a step. He thought it would not meet the approval of the legislators and would antagonize them.

Dean Engberg very carefully distinguished between the compulsory single tax and the voluntary single tax. The voluntary single tax, he said, is in no way affected by the legislative ruling.

COMMITTEES ANNOUNCED FOR PHARMACY WEEK

Annual Event Will Take Place May 18-21—J. G. Noh is General Chairman.

Committees have been announced for Pharmacy week, which has been an annual event for many years with the exception of last year and will be held May 18-21 this spring. A new feature will be Pharmacy night when open house will be held at Pharmacy hall. Drug plants will be on exhibition and students will demonstrate the manufacture of drugs. A lecture illustrated by lantern slides will be given in the lecture room.

At the time for holding Pharmacy week last year Dr. R. A. Lyman, dean of the College of Pharmacy, and Dr. W. A. Snyder, superintendent of the experimental substitution at North Platte, were in Washington, D. C., on professional business. For that reason Pharmacy week was abandoned.

Events planned this year include special convocation Wednesday, May 18, picnic that evening, Pharmacy night Thursday and alumni day Saturday with the annual banquet that evening.

J. G. Noh, appointed chairman of the week by the Pharmaceutical Society, announces the following committees:

HUSKERS INVADE JAYHAWK LAND

Coach Schissler's Diamond Squad Leaves for Four-Game Invasion of Kansas.

THIRTEEN MAKE TRIP

Nebraskans to Journey Into Iowa Territory to Meet Ames Upon Return from Kansas.

The Husker baseball squad left this morning at 7 o'clock for Manhattan, Kansas, where the Scarlet and Cream will meet the Kansas Aggies in a two game series. Thirteen men were included in the squad.

Captain Bekins, Pizer, Bailey, Carr, Crandall, Thomsen, McCreary, Anderson, Munger, Schoepel, Carnan, Potts, and Wythers will make up the party that will represent Nebraska against the Kansans.

Coach Schissler gave three men a light work out last night and the entire squad is in first class condition to face the Jayhawkers. Friday and Saturday the Huskers will meet the Kansas University nine at Lawrence.

Following the Kansas invasion the Nebraska squad will return to Lincoln and will then go to Ames to meet the Iowa Farmers in a two game series. Coach Schissler feels confident that the Cornhusker machine will bring home a string of victories from the two Kansas schools. The K. U. nine will probably be the stiffest opponent of the two.

The Kansas Aggies have been defeated already this season by the Haskell Indian team and the K. U. aggregation walked on the Indians in a three inning practice game.

Coach Schissler is undecided as to who will start on the mound for the Husker nine but the choice will probably be the same as worked against Wesleyan and Cotner. Captain Bekins will be at first with Pizer holding down second. Bailey and Carr will occupy the short stop and third base positions respectively. Anderson will be on the receiving end. In the outfield there will be McCrory, Thomsen, and Wythers with a possibility of some change.
