will also run in the 440 yard low Alpha Tau Omega spring party, Linurdles. Decring is entered for the special 100 yard dash and has a good chatce of winning first place. Deering took first place in this event at the uli-Sigma Xi initiation, Ellen. Smith nois and Drake meets. Moulton is encred for the javelin throw and will also heave the discus. The big Husker has been making some good throws with the discus and javelin and should place in both of these events. The Penn, relays are one of the biggest track classics held in the United States and Coach Schulte feels that if the men make some showing that Nebraska will probably do better than most of the western schools entered. Next Saturday the Nebraska cinder path team will compete with Kansas in a dual meet on Nebraska field. Kansas has a big track squad this season and their roster includes such men as Bradley, 1920 Olympic star, and Sandefeur, the giaut Jaghawk weight man,

LEGISLATURE PROVIDES FUNDS

Measure Passes Gauntlet After Sev eral Days of Conference and Debate.

FORMER SUM IS REDUCED

Before Money Becomes Available $350,000 Must Be Raised By Popular Subscription.

The bill appropriating $250,000 oward the building of a University Memorial Gymnasium was passed by the Nebraska legislature yesterday during a night session. This action came after several days of deadlock between the house of representatives and the senate. The sum is $100,000 less than that asked for by the regents who petitioned for $350,-000. The house members would not give their sanction to this amount but finally adopted the onference committee report of $250,000.

Must Raise $350,000.

This money becomes available after $350,000 has been raised by popular subscription. A drive for contributions toward this memorial has been in action for some time. Those in charge of the campaign beleive that the necessary amount can soon be raised. This will give Nebraska a new gymnasium in the near future.

Representatives Chas. Reed of Lincoln and Fred McFarland of York have been championing the measure.

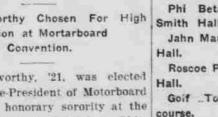

JOURNALISTS HOLD BUSINESS MEETING

Sigma Delta Chi held its monthly meeting Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock with a dinner at the Gran1 hotel. A financial report of the organization was given. It was decided to hold a banquet before the end of the school year, at which an out-of-town man of journalistic prominence will be asked to speak.

Ada Stidworthy, '21, was elected national Vice-President of Motorboard senior girls' honorary sorority at the convention held at Columbus, Ohio, this week. She was Nebraska University's first representative at a national Mortorboard convention as the local Black Masque chapter of Mortorboard did not become affiliated with the national society until this year.

Election as vice-president of the national honorary organization comes as a distinct honor to the Black Masques and to Nebraska as well as the representative. The next convention will be held in two years when all the national officers have arrangements made for their attendance. Universities represented at the Columbus convention were as follows: Nebraska, Minnesota, Michigan, Cornell, Swarthmore, DePauw, Illinois, Knox College, Kentucky, Missouri, Colorado, and Ohio State. The Black Masque society of 1920 at Nebraska had the honor of becoming the charter chapter on the local campus but the thirteen senior girls who are at present active members are the first to actively work under the national association. Ohio state Mortorboard chapter made the national convention a pleasant and profitable one. A spread at the home of the president of the Ohio chapter was followed by informal gatherings at the homes of the different members. After the business meetings, a luncheon open to junior and senior girls followed and the delegates were guests at a tea where an effort was made to have them meet the most representative girls at Ohio state. The alumni members also assisted in the entertainment of the visitors. In February 1918, a convention for the nationalization of senior honorary societies for women was held at Syracuse, Delegates from Ohio, Cornell Michigan, Syracuse and Swarthmore were present. At this meeting, the pin of the Ohio state chapter was adopted and later, at the second national convention during April 1919 at Ann Harbor, the name of the Ohio society was chosen for the national organization. The Black Masque chapter of Mortorboard has been active at Nebraska as a local organization for many years. Thirteen girls are selected at the end of their junior year for membership each year, and are publicly "tapped" the afternoon of Ivy Day. 1 -- main

ADD FINE ARTS GROUP TO OMAHA DAY TRIP

Tour Will Include Collections al Dietz, Kuntze Homes, and Public Buildings.

A fine arts group has been added to the nineteen groups already announced for Omaha day, Prof. Paul H. Grummann is making arrangements for the tour to be made by this group.

The Lininger gallery and residence will be open and special facilities will be offered to make the visit to that place instructive and profitable. The residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Dietz will be open by special arrangement. Mr. and Mrs. Dietz own over 500 pictures and art objects collected during repeated trips abroad. Mr. and Mrs Knutze similarly have promised to open their beautiful residence which contains important paintings and tapestries.

Tentative plans have also been made to visit the new Cathedral, the Athletic club and the First National Bank building, all of which are of interest to art students. The mural paintings in the court house and the collections in the public library will be included in the tour.

Next summer he wil lecture at the University of Chicago.

CHANCELLOR AVERY TO BE HOST TO SENIORS

Picnic Will Take Place of Annual "Sneak" Day. To Be Held At Crete.

Chancellor Avery will be host to the senior class Tuesday morning May 5, when he will entertain them at a picnic at Crete. This plan was presented to them at a meeting of the class yesterday.

This holiday will take the place of the secret "skip day" when the underclassmen of the university banded together to prevent the officers and the members of the class from going on the trip.

The Lincoln Chamber of Commerce will furnish sixty automobiles in which to carry the students to Crete. The day will be spent in boating. dancing, sames and entertainment. The lunch will be furnished by Chancellor and Mrs. Avery.

Definite plans for the day have not been fully arranged but will be anaward of $500 and has urged him to nounced in a later issue of the Daily Nebraskan. The committee working on these plans is: Burks Harley. chairman, Dorothy Hipple, Helen Wahi, Harold Holmquist, Fay Pollock and Edith Burton.
