

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU ORGANIZED IN CHICAGO

Alumnae of Theta Sigma Phi to Help All Women Journalists.

(By Dorothy Colburn.)

An employment bureau for all women in every field of journalism was launched by the alumnae of Theta Sigma Phi at the last national convention of the organization. This bureau, the services of which are open to any women journalist, whether college trained or not, has its headquarters in Chicago, and it is planned, as soon as the undertaking is more firmly established, to open branch offices in several other large cities.

Alumnae of Lambda chapter have, in a similar manner, constituted themselves advisors to members of the active chapter who are seeking newspaper work in Nebraska, or who need assistance in their first journalistic efforts.

Lambda numbers many alumnae who are engaged in various fields of journalistic work, and of these several received their first experience on the Daily Nebraskan. Eva Miller Grimes, '18, a former editor-in-chief who was later employed on the Omaha World-Herald while her husband, George Grimes, '18, also a former editor-in-chief of the Nebraskan, was in France, is still engaging in news paper work vicariously, through her husband, who recently purchased the Platte Valley Daily News of Scottsbluff Neb. Jean Burroughs Reed, '18, was before her marriage employed by the Curtis Publishing company of Philadelphia and later did publicity work for the Red Cross in New York City. More recently she has been associated with the editing of the Delta Gamma Anchor, Wilma Winter, '19, has been a member of the Lincoln Daily Star staff for three years, and Dorothy Colburn, '19, was editor of the women's department of the State Journal for three years before she began teaching in the Lincoln high school. Marian Hennings, '19, is the only Lambda alumnae who has left reporting to enter the advertising field.

Honorary members of the organization include Ida Tarbell, Edna Ferber, Zona Gale, Dana Gatlin, and other well known writers. Lambda's honorary members are Dr. Louise Pound and Miss Marguerite McPhee of the University of Nebraska, Miss Sarah T. Muir and Miss Amy Armstrong of the Lincoln High School, and Mrs. Vinda Hudson Mims, '07, formerly a journalism teacher in the Lincoln and Omaha high schools.

'PEN SLUGGERS' BEAT PHI PSI NINE FRIDAY

Prisoners Capture Close Game 1-0—Both Teams Play Airtight Ball

The State Penitentiary "sluggers" defeated the Phi Kappa Psi nine 1-0 in an airtight game of baseball on the Penitentiary diamond Friday afternoon. Both teams displayed good team-work in all the six innings played. A small crowd of students were present and the entire "pen" population were allowed to turn out for the game.

Batteries for the Penitentiary were Motley and Ross; for Phi Kappa Psi, Pickett and F. Peterson. Fike of the Phi Psis handled the mit on first with confidence. Only a total of four hits was registered for both teams—each nine connecting twice with the sphere.

The team from the Penitentiary in a recent game defeated Beta Theta Pi, 5 to 1. These preliminary games are putting the fraternity nines in good shape for the coming Inter-Greek baseball tourney.

members of the senior class to sneak away to camouflage themselves for twenty-four hours from suspecting underclassmen.

The picnic will be given for every member of the graduating class and classes for seniors will be dismissed for the entire day. Chancellor Avery will provide the boats to be used on the Blue River, rent the dance pavilion for those who like to "shuffle" and with Mrs. Avery announces that a sumptuous luncheon will be served.

"You can take excursions up and down the river, fish, dance or just loaf," said one of the members of the picnic committee Saturday.

The Lincoln Chamber of Commerce has offered to provide sixty cars to transport the graduates to and from the picnic grounds. Those who expect to attend the festivities are asked to meet at the Chamber of Commerce building, 11th and P streets at 8:30 a. m.

The members of the picnic committee are Burks Harley, chairman; Harold M. Holmquist, Helen Wahl, Edith Burton, Fay Pollock and Dorothy Hipple.

FAIR BOARD TAKES STEP TO ELIMINATE SLACKERS

Cold Plunge for Those Who Are Not Willing to Co-operate With Rest of Farmers

The Farmers in the Agricultural College christened their "Slackers Paradise," Saturday afternoon, by emersing the laziest man in Agricultural College. In order to stimulate a greater spirit of cooperation from a few men who are afflicted with chronic Spring Fever, the Fair Board upon the Farm Campus, have installed a 200 gallon plunge near the center of the Campus, and made the first application of the "water cure" Saturday afternoon.

Exhibits in Place The educational exhibits in the Plant Industry Building are beginning to assume definite shape. The Home Economics Department girls will have a special room, which will be fitted up with only the most unique things possible to feminine ingenuity. Among these will be millinery of the latest design, dresses for the Nebraska women, and pastries and other articles of food which are practical for your menu, all of which will be explained to Fair visitors on May 7.

Other Exhibits which are getting into place, are those of the Dairy Department, with its automatic movie booths, the model farm of the Rural Engineering department, the "hatch-while-you-wait" incubator of the Poultry Department, the "home-beautiful," of the Horticultural Department, and the latest method of solving the H. C. L. of the Rural Economics Department.

TOTAL NEARS GOAL SET IN GRACE COPPOCK DRIVE

Latest reports of the Grace Coppock campaign show a total of $1,625 pledged by University of Nebraska women. Those in charge of the campaign say that the goal set at $1,700 is in sight as a large number of women have not been reached by the solicitors during the campaign thus far. The freshman commission team turned in the largest amount of pledges, $209.10. The team captained by Margaret Henderson came second with a total of $200.

The Freshman Commission team worked only among freshman girls. Twenty-four members made up the team. The ten upper-class teams were made up of ten members each.

Cash received amounts to $700. Most of the pledges will be paid before June 1. The money will be sent at once to help Grace Coppock, national executive for the Y. W. C. A. in China carry on her work there.

TENNIS TOURNEYS START EARLY PART OF THE WEEK

Separate Meet for Men and Women—Seventy-five Scheduled to Play

Two tennis tournaments will be started this week, one for men and one for women. About fifty men and twenty-five women have signed up for play in the tournaments. Drawings will be made Monday at 2 o'clock by the executive committee of the tennis club.

Over two hundred and fifty persons have signed up for membership in the University Tennis Club. Tennis at present has the second largest squad in University, track alone surpassing it with a membership of a little over three hundred. It is quite possible that tennis may surpass track and become the leading sport in point of number of participants. This is considered very gratifying by the athletic department, as tennis is one of the sports which has great value to its devotees many years after they leave college.

Twenty courts are now open for play and most of them are in use from 5 in the morning until dark. Two more courts will probably be completed this week. Four new courts are under construction at the University farm under the direction of Mr. Dunman, University landscape gardener. These courts may be available before the end of the week.

The department of physical education and athletics expects to revive tennis as an intercollegiate sport this spring. Matches are being arranged with neighboring colleges. The results of the tournament will aid in the selection of a team.
