WRIGHT'S RUN SENSATION OF PENN STATE MEET

Wright nosed Thompson out about five yards from the tape but was unable to hold his position. Thompson won the race by scant inches. Wright's name was on every one's tongue. That the Olympic champion would win the race by many yards was the expected result. To have forced the pace and to finish right at Thompson's side was accounted a wonderful performance by everyone. Wright, on his work at the Illinois Relays, Drake Relays and the Penn games has ranked himself as one of America's premier hurdlers.

Dave Deering, the star Husker sprinter, was nosed out by a foot in the preliminaries by the men who placed first and third in the finals. Deering who has always had the faculty of getting away fast at the start but quite often lacked the speed at the finish in this race got away behind and picked up on the leaders toward the finish. Deering redeemed himself however, by placing fourth in the broad jump with a leap of 22 feet 1/2 inch.

Nebraskans who were unable to witness the battle between Wright and Thompson would probably like to know how the men compare in various ways. Thompson is six feet three inches in height and weighs about 195 pounds. The Dartmouth star can cover the 100-yard dash in 10 1-5 seconds. Wright is five feet eleven and one-half inches tall and weighs 170 pounds. Wright can negotiate the 100 yards in 10 2-5 seconds. Thompson has been hurdling for six years while Wright has been working in this line for only three. Wright gained most of his ground by clearing the hurdles in faster time than did Thompson.
