GENERAL PERSHING ELECTED TO FRANKLIN INSTITUTE

Given Honorary Membership in Old Eastern School Named After Benjamin Franklin

General John J. Pershing, general of the armies of the United States, has been extended an honor of real distinction by being elected to honorary membership in the Franklin Institute, one of the oldest technical societies of its kind in the world. This institute is named after Benjamin Franklin, and has its headquarters at Philadelphia.

Dean O. J. Ferguson of the college of engineering has been invited to attend the next meeting of the Franklin Institute, which will be held on the afternoon of Wednesday, May 12, at 3:30 o'clock in "The Hall of the Institute," at Philadelphia.

Interesting to note, is that the present secretary of this prominent organization, Robert B. Owens, is a former professor of the University of Nebraska. He was the first professor of electrical engineering at the Cornhusker school. A strange coincidence is that both Pershing and Owens were members of the faculty of the University of Nebraska at the same time.

NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH AT THE TEMPLE FRIDAY

The senior class of the Teachers College high school will present a rollicking comedy, "Nothing but the Truth," at the Temple theater, Friday, May 13.

The cast has been working on the play for three weeks. Mrs. Irma Wolfe Coombs is directing it.

IVY DAY DECLARED UNIVERSITY HOLIDAY

Crowning of May Queen Will Take Place on City Campus—Masquing and Tapping at Farm.

One week from today has been declared a holiday for classes in all colleges of the University for the celebration of Ivy day. Plans for the exercises in the morning on the campus which culminate in the crowning of the May Queen and the arrangements for the afternoon program are rapidly nearing completion.

The committee from Black Masque in charge of the morning festivities have announced that an official photographer has been secured to take pictures of the different parts of the morning program. He will develop these pictures in different sizes and the views will be on sale at a small price on the State Farm campus before the masquing of the Mortarboards and the tapping of the Innocents.

Does Away With Disturbance.

In this way the committee does away with the disturbances which in other years have interfered with the program and the delivering of the Ivy day oration caused by students and visitors taking pictures. No one will be allowed to stand in the space reserved for the dancing or the throne in order to snap pictures. Members of the Y. W. C. A. conference committee have made arrangements to sell pictures of the May Queen and her maid of honor for their fund. The photographs may be obtained immediately after the Queen steps upon her throne and her identity becomes known.

For the nineteenth consecutive year, thirteen men from the junior class will be tapped Innocent, senior men's honorary organization, at the Ivy day program at the Farm campus next Wednesday afternoon after the baseball game between the Huskers and Oklahoma. This society, which was founded in 1903 for the promotion of all worthy student activities and to instill in the students a bigger and broader school spirit, has numbered among its charter chapter members many prominent alumni of the school.

The duties which the thirteen men chosen next Wednesday will be expected to continue will be to lead the football and other athletic rallies during the year, hold an initiatory convocation for freshman men, provide the traditional green caps for the incoming class, also stage another big Cornhusker banquet to end the football season and develop leadership among the men of the three under-classes. These activities which are promoted each year are all University activities and not for the benefit of any one group.

This year the price reduction campaign and boycott, which attracted attention in all of the leading universities of the country and which ended in complete success was originated and backed by the Innocents. The senior honorary organization has been at the head of the Freshman-Sophomore Olympics for many years. Another big work which they conducted was the drive for funds for the memorial gymnasium, for which the legislature recently appropriated $250,000.

The slogan which the Innocents have had handed down from chapter to chapter is that they shall strive for the betterment of Nebraska University in every way without putting on a self-advertising campaign. The tapping next Wednesday afternoon is open to all University students.

CHEMISTS TAKE TWO INTO THEIR FRATERNITY

Alpha Chi Sigma, national honorary chemical fraternity, initiated Peter J. Barber and Dominic C. Gross last week. The fraternity has just passed through its most successful year since its installation twelve years ago. An alumni booklet telling of the work which the alumni have been doing in different fields of chemistry will be off the press in about ten days.

REDSKINS MEET HUSKERS TODAY

The first home game of the season will be staged this afternoon at the State Farm campus diamond when the Huskers mix with the Haskell Indians. Coach Schissler will use Munger in the first contest against the Indians.

The Haskell team have a clean slate thus far this season and have to their credit victories over Drake, Kansas Aggies and St. Mary's college. The Indians whipped the St. Mary's crew who had previously won from the Kansas Aggies by a 11 to 1 score.

The Nebraska lineup will start as usual with the exception of Poole Husker right fielder, who is out of the game for a couple of weeks with a sprained ankle. Munger will be on the mound with Anderson on the receiving end as the battery for the Husker nine. Captain Bekins will occupy the initial sack with Pizer and Carr holding down the second and third bags. Skipper Bailey will complete the infield at short. The field will be composed of McCrory, Thomson and Schoepfel.

Nebraska is now in fourth position in the Missouri Valley conference race with three victories and two defeats as a record for the first part of the season. The Huskers have seven more Valley games on their schedule before the season is completed.

JUNIOR CLASS WILL PRESENT THE INVADER

"You come out of the west, from God only knows where; you have nothing behind you. No family, no traditions."

"So, you call me an invader? Well, perhaps I am. But it does not take generations to make a man. It only takes a heart."

This is quoted from "The Invader," a modern drama of western miners and big financiers, which the junior class will present May 20, as a revival of the tradition of the annual class play, which was abandoned in 1917. Tickets will go on sale Friday.

The Vikings and Silver Serpents, junior honorary societies, will have charge of the ticket sale; and they are planning a tag-day for next Friday. The price of the tickets will be 75c; and reservations can be made after Tuesday of next week. The cast is hard at work at rehearsals every night under the direction of C. L. Coombs of the University Players. As this is the first junior class play since the United States entered the war in 1917 and is a revival of an old established junior class tradition, it is expected that the entire house will be sold out by Friday evening.

SENIOR LAW HOP SET FOR MAY 17

The senior law hop will be held Tuesday evening, May 17, at Knights of Columbus hall, instead of this evening, as previously announced in the Daily Nebraskan. Tonight is a closed night because of school on Wednesday, while Tuesday of next week is open for parties because Ivy day, which takes place Wednesday, May 18, is a holiday for students of all colleges.

FINE ARTS DEPARTMENT DISPLAYING MASTERPIECES

The fine arts department has an exhibition of masterpieces that they are showing daily in the Art Gallery. This exhibition is open to students of the University and the general public. Hall, president of the Nebraska Art Association, will talk. Following Mr. Hall, Dr. Nyce, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will give an address. The theme of the two speakers will be "Plans and Purposes of the Friends of Fine Arts."

TEACHERS ENTERTAINED BY MISSES McPHEE

A small group of women members of the faculty who have met from time to time this year were entertained at the Orlo apartments by Misses Marguerite and Claire McPhee on the evening of May 7. The manuscript of a paper by Rollo Walter Brown, entitled "Unleveling Education," was read by Mrs. T. F. A. Williams. The paper is to appear in this month's Harper's Magazine, and is one which aroused much discussion when read at a Chicago meeting earlier in the year. The manuscript was loaned by the author some weeks ago to Miss Louise Pound of the department of English.

This was the last meeting of the group for the year. At a preceding meeting in February, ex-Congresswoman Jeanette Rankin was entertained at a luncheon, and guests were asked to meet and to hear her. The organization has no formal name and meets at the spirit prompts.

Bad Weather May Delay Some Games—Last Year's Winners Strong Contenders.

"Greek meets Greek" today when the first round of the inter-fraternity baseball tournament gets under way. Today's schedule calls for four contests.

The Kappa Sigs and Phi Psis will mix at 3 p. m. today at the Cushman park diamond with the Phi Deltas and Sig Alphas playing at 5 p. m. at the same place. The Betas and Alpha Thetas play at 3 p. m. at the Lincoln high school grounds with the Kappa Deltas and A. T. O.s following at 5 p. m. The remainder of the first round will be played off tomorrow.

O.s runners up last year for the championship have a strong team in the field and are expected to make a strong bid for the championship honors. The Phi Psis and Delta Chis are two other strong contenders for first place honors.

Bad weather will probably necessitate the postponing a few of the games until later. John Lawlor, who is handling the affair for the inter-fraternity athletic council should be notified in case of a postponement in order that he may arrange the schedule. No charge will be made for the preliminary contests.
