OFFICE SCENE OF ACTIVITY

Registrar Lists Instructions For Benefit of Students Entering Institution.

Registration for the first semester starts today. At nine o'clock this morning the doors will swing open to the incoming students. Registration closes September 17. The registrar's office has been the scene of activity the past month and with the arrival of hundreds of students this week Administration Hall has been crowded.

Office hours of the Deans during registration are—9 a. m. to 12 m., and 2 p. m. to 5 p. m.

A list of advisers to Sophomore students has been compiled and posted in front of Administration Hall and at the Social Science building. The name of the student and his adviser is listed.

The following instructions for registration are issued from the Registrar's office:

All students except Engineers and Laws register in Social Science Hall (south door). Engineering freshmen register in M. M. 202. All other engineers in department offices. Laws register in Law 208.

Former students secure tickets to meet advisers and committee on assignment to classes. These will be given out at the registrar's office beginning last Monday and must be used at the specific time indicated on the ticket or the student will be compelled to register the following week and subject to a late registration fee of three dollars.

Adult special students consult the Dean of their college.

A credit book will be handed each former student with his registration ticket. This should be returned to the Registrar's office at the close of registration as it should be on file subject to the call of the student's adviser or dean. A duplicate copy will cost one dollar.

Changes in schedule will be made by the Dean only upon the payment of the fee of one dollar except in very exceptional cases. Be sure your schedule is complete and correct.

If any point concerning registration is not understood inquire in advance at the Registrar's office.

Seniors who expect to be candidates for graduation in February or June, 1922, must secure Miss Hewitt's signature (Memorial Hall, east door) before payment of fees. Failure to do this will mean they will not be recommended for degrees.

All candidates for teachers certificates shall consult the committee on certificates in S. S. 209 before seeing their adviser.

Fees must be paid at the second quarter hour on your ticket immediately after the student has left the assignment committee. The fees will be collected in Memorial Hall, entrance east door.

Moleskin Warriors Don Padded Mitts In Practice Work

The football candidates who will endeavor to make coveted places on the 1921 varsity will lay aside the moleskins in the preliminary rounds long enough to become participants in a few ring battles.

Coach Fred Dawson, Husker grid mentor, has along with the other equipment destined to make the Huskers a great aggregation, a bunch of full-grown boxing gloves.

The Huskers will be coached in the frankly art not with the idea of making them expert ring gladiators but with the thought of giving them the zip and punch necessary to put across a touchdown when necessary.

Subscribe For The Nebraskan

With this issue The Daily Nebraskan, student publication of the University, makes its bow, and asks the support of the students during the coming year. The Daily Nebraskan is edited and managed by the students and is in every respect a student newspaper.

Throughout the school year it will be the purpose of The Nebraskan to furnish the students with a paper of which they may be proud. The management of The Daily Nebraskan asked the undivided support of all to attain this ambition.

News items are always welcome. Students who desire to become members of the staff should make application at once. The office is located on the second floor of "U" hall, Room No. 206.

Jack Austin is editor-in-chief of The Nebraskan this semester. Gregg McBride is managing editor. The three news editors are Orvin Gaston, Eldridge Lowe and Herbert Brownell. James Fiddock heads the business staff as business manager. Chauncey Potter is assistant and circulation manager.

The subscription price to students is one dollar each semester. Subscriptions may be turned in at the Student Activities office in the Administration building.

The plan of delivering "The Rag" to fraternity and sororities who subscribe the required percentage will be again followed. This is an innovation in college journalism and was established the latter part of last year.

The Daily Nebraskan is published Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of each week.

STUDENTS ARRIVE EARLY ON CAMPUS

The "old gang" began to be in evidence about the campus, fraternity houses, and downtown streets much earlier this year than in previous years. One observer said that the probable reason why so many of the students came so early this year, was because they were believers in the old adage, and wanted to be on the ground early so that they could grab all the jobs that were open.

As early as last Saturday, the trains were unloading them in increasing numbers until registration commenced this morning. Many students are expected to arrive today and tomorrow.

Many of the early comers were sorority and fraternity members who wanted to be on hand to welcome and look over the students who were coming for the first time. Several parties are on the bill for the week end.

J. E. Lawrence of the department of Journalism will take over one of the courses this year, formerly given by M. M. Fogg. This will be the two hour course in newspaper editing. The change was necessitated by the fact that Mr. Fogg has added a course in argumentative composition which he will give in the law college. Mr. Lawrence will give three Journalism courses this year: News Editing, Country Journalism, and Newspaper Administration. Mr. Fogg will retain the courses in History of Journalism, and News Writing.

The installation exercises of Kappa Delta Phi, local fraternity at the University of Nebraska, as Gamma Beta Zeta of Lambda Chi Alpha, were held Sunday, September 4, at the home of the fraternity at 517 South Eleventh street.

The Nebraska chapter or Zeta, as the chapters are called, is the fifty-sixth chapter of the fraternity. The fifty-fifth chapter was recently installed at the University of Chicago.

A smoker Saturday night at the house opened the installation program. The installation exercises were held at the chapter house Sunday afternoon, followed by a banquet at the Lincoln hotel. HUSKERS AWAIT CALL OF COACH

OPENING GAME COMES SOON

Scarlet and Cream Gridsters to Assemble Under Coach Dawson Thursday.

NEBRASKA'S 1921 SCHEDULE

Oct. 1—Nebraska Wesleyan at Lincoln.
Oct. 15—Haskell Indians at Lincoln.
Oct. 22—Notre Dame at Notre Dame.
Oct. 29—Oklahoma at Lincoln.
Nov. 5—Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh.
Nov. 12—Kansas at Lincoln.
Nov. 19—Iowa State at Ames.
Nov. 24 — (Thanksgiving), Colorado Aggies at Lincoln.

Coach Fred T. Dawson has sounded the call for candidates for the 1921 football varsity. First practice will be held on Nebraska field Thursday morning when Coach Dawson, former Princeton grid star and Columbia mentor, will assume active charge of the moleskin warriors.

With the opening of the 1921 schedule less than a month away Coach Dawson and his cohorts have a busy season ahead. During this week the plan is to send the candidates through two practice sessions a day. Scrimmaging will probably be staged next week.

Captain Swanson and a dozen Huskers have been made ready for the actual practice grind by assembling the past week for short workouts designed to put them in condition for the formal drills which will be instituted by Coach Dawson. The following have put in their appearance—Dewitz, Lyman, Lunn, Hartley, Scherer, Weller, Russell, Hartman, Howarth, Moore, McGlasson brothers, Preston, Lewellen, Wright and Klemke.

Frank Assistant Coach.

Owen Frank, former Cornhusker football star, will serve as assistant coach this year. Frank is one of the prominent figures in University of Nebraska grid history and his addition to the Husker coaching staff is a popular selection with the alumni and means that the 1921 aggregation will have the best coaching possible.

Frank played his last year of intercollegiate football in 1911. His final performance in Cornhusker togs was in the Nebraska-Minnesota game in 1911.

Parley Young has been appointed to coach the state university freshman football squad this fall, according to an announcement made Monday morning by Athletic Director F. W. Luehring. Young was selected to take the yearlings off Coach Dawson's mind sometime ago but the announcement had been withheld pending Mr. Luehring's return from New Hampshire.

A short time ago the press carried the report from Drake college that the athletic management of Drake had challenged the Iowa State representatives to a game of horse-shoes. The Aggies accepted.

Picture the proud father who sent his son to college and received word by rural route that his son "Hi" was the "Champ" horse-shoe pitcher on the varsity.

Unofficial Credit Books Issued to Students This Year Replacing Cards

All students this year, who had previous work at the University, received prior to registration, unofficial credit books, in which were entered the course they have already taken, the credit hours made, and the grades. This system was adopted so that each student could more easily ascertain what requirements he or she must meet, and what delinquencies, if any, must be removed, before a degree can be granted.

These books are not given to the students, but are loaned to them. They are to be returned to the registrar before the next registration, so that additional entries can be made. If a book is lost, a fee of 1.00 is required to replace it.

Gustave Fuchs, instructor in Romance languages, returned this week from Chicago, where he had attended the University of Chicago for the summer session.
