

UNIVERSITY PLAYERS PLAN BUSY SEASON

Students Are Assured of Good Plays
For the Coming Year—Dramatic Club Tryouts
Soon

The University Players assure us that the coming theatrical season will find them prepared to surpass all their previous fine efforts.

Several of the older members of the Players have returned and the new material is exceptionally promising. The Players will be under the same management as last year. H. Alice Howell, director; Walter M. Herbert, business manager; C. L. Coombs, stage manager; R. Sandstedt, electrician; Gerald Leuch, property manager. Several late New York successes are being considered for production and the prospects are good for some splendid performances.

A novel feature of many schools offering courses in Dramatic Art in late years has been the Children's Theatre. The Players offer playlets particularly suited to the youthful theatre-goers and regular performances are given to which all children are invited. The department of Fine Arts seriously considering this novel addition and announcements will be made later concerning the details.

Those who are interested in theatricals should watch the Nebraskaan closely for the announcement of Dramatic Club try-outs. The members of the Dramatic Club are chosen from those who try out. The try-outs are open to all students and those who be in work on their offerings will have a decided advantage.

CITIZENSHIP SCHOOL HAS SPLENDID YEAR

Work of University Instructors Made
School Big Success—Over One Thousand in Attendance

At the request of the Lincoln Suffrage organization, the University of Nebraska conducted a citizenship school or institute in Lincoln during the spring of 1920. This school covered a period of six weeks. The sessions took the form of weekly lectures. A similar school was held in Omaha under the auspices of the Omaha teachers. During the summer, the newly organized Nebraska League of Women Voters conducted several schools throughout Nebraska.

Believing that the citizenship school or institute is the most effective means of securing an intelligent manifestation of interest by the citizens of the state in the problems of government, the League of Women Voters in October requested the University to establish the citizenship school as a part of the service of the extension division.

Many members of the regular university faculty have heartily co-operated in the giving of their services to the work of the citizenship school. Special mention should be made of the following faculty members and friends who have rendered repeated services during the past year in disseminating popular education along citizenship lines: Professor L. E. Aylsworth, of the Department of Political Science; Dr. Lida B. Earhart, Professor of Elementary Education; Associate Professor J. P. Senning, Department of Political and Social Science; Dean W. A. Seavey, College of Law; Dr. G. O. Virtue, Professor of Economics and Public Finance; Dr. F. M. Fling, Professor of European History; Dr. Hattie Plum Williams, Department of Political and Social Science; Miss Edna Bullock, Legislative Reference Bureau; Associate Professor Roy E. Cochran, Department of History; Mrs. J. P. Senning, Legislative Reference Bureau; Mr. A. A. Reed, Director of University Extension; Messrs. L. C. Oberlies and A. E. Allyn, Board of Control of State Institutions; Mrs. H. H. Wheeler; Mrs. C. H. Dietrich, President Nebraska League of Women Voters; Miss Lenore Burkett, Miss Hazel Beckwith, Miss Vera Upton, Miss Blanche Garten, Miss Eleanor Pogg, Miss Ethel Upton, and Mrs. Edward Becker, for music and dramatics; Mr. E. B. Healy and Mr. Mathews of Bloomfield, and Mr. F. E. Anderson of Wausa.

More than a thousand men, women and children attended the local schools of citizenship held during 1920-1921 in Lincoln, Hastings, Wausa, Bloomfield, Milford, David City and Cozad, and the State Institute of Citizenship. The attendance was suggestive of earnest citizens, desirous of seriously studying the many problems of our political, social and economic structure.

This has been a successful year for citizenship schools in Nebraska. To be sure, only a beginning has been made, but the interest manifested has been such as to demonstrate the desirability of University Extension Courses in Citizenship.

UNIVERSITY COMMONS OPEN LAST EVENING

The dining hall of the University Commons, 1228 R Street, opened last evening with a six o'clock dinner. Miss Frances Dunning is in charge of the dining hall and is going to serve the meals, which are to be dietetically correct, for six dollars a week. Miss Dunning is head of the industrial management of the department of Home Economics and her classes in cookery will prepare some of the meals.

The five dormitories have new draperies, new davenport, new pictures and some remodeling has been done so that each dormitory now has two well furnished parlors. There are one hundred and fifty girls living at the Commons and fifteen more applications than can be filled.

UNIVERSITY CHURCH ADDED TO CAMPUS

Opens Doors Today With Special Services. Organized Especially for Students.

First services at the new university church, formerly the St. Luke's Episcopal, Thirteenth and R. Streets, will be held today. Rev. L. W. McMillin is the pastor.

Organization of a church where the young people of the university may worship is one of the latest things in school life at Nebraska. For months, negotiations have been going on for conversion of St. Luke's into a university house of worship, and the bishop and the executive council of the diocese of Nebraska finally leased the building from the holding trustees late in the summer.

Repairs have been made on the building such as would make an attractive house of worship for the young people of the university. Services will be especially for students and instructors of the University of Nebraska.

Music will be furnished by a chorus of university students. Local management of the church which will be known as the University Episcopal church will be in the hands of the clergyman and a student commission acting under the bishop and executive council of the diocese.

NEW TEA ROOM CATERS TO STUDENTS

The Lincolnshire Tea Room, 318 South Twelfth Street, caters especially to University students and University functions. Fraternity and sorority dinners and parties are given special attention. Breakfast is served daily from 7:00 to 9:30. Luncheon, daily from 11:30 to 2:00. Afternoon tea and refreshments may be had any time from 2:00 to 5:30. Dinner from 5:30 to 8:00. After-theatre parties by appointment. Combination breakfast, luncheon and dinners ranging in price from 25 cents to $1.50 are being served.

The Lincolnshire club management wishes also to call attention to the delicious dainties that may be had fresh daily from the Lincolnshire pastry shop. French pastries for parties; pies, cakes, doughnuts, salads, potato chips and many other delicacies for every occasion. Try our home-made ice cream for your next party. Remember, Lincolnshire ice cream. You may also get the famous Page & Snow candies at the Lincolnshire quarters.

WORK OF FORMER STUDENTS EXHIBITED

A feature of the university art exhibit, which will remain on exhibit for the next two weeks, is a collection of art work done by former students of the university. Evelyn Caldwell who graduated from the university a short time ago and who is now studying art in the Chicago Art Institute has on display some samples of her work done during the last year. There is also on exhibition some sketches and paintings by Dwight Kirsch, who is now employed in the Niagara Lithographing Co., New York City. Mr. Kirsch is also pursuing his studies in the art student's league of New York.

Miss Louise Mundy, instructor in the school of Fine Arts, has spent the latter part of the summer in the east, where she has been visiting art galleries, schools, and museums and especially investigating work in applied art.

"And they are not at all expensive"

It is a frequent occurrence to hear comment regarding the moderate cost of shoes purchased at this store. Women who like smart footwear are agreeably impressed with the fact that they can secure distinctly uncommon styles here without extravagance in price. It will pay you to investigate the economy of our values.
