Student Opinion

To the Editor of The Daily Nebraskan: The management of the football attendance has arranged for the students holding season tickets to pass through one gate and the public, including students not holding season tickets, to go through another, and be kept separate from the student body. Now there are in our university many loyal students who have work keep them busy on Saturday afternoons. They do not have season tickets as they are fortunate to get to see even one game. It is a sad disappointment to these students to come to a game expecting to join their fellows and enjoy the afternoon, to have to sit among the public and be separated from their classmates. In my opinion this is half the fun of the game; to get together with friends and acquaintances and cheer and discuss the game with them. Does any student in the university think that because a student has no season ticket and only gets to a few games, he should be isolated from the university body? It may be that the management has some other reasons. If so we who do not hold season tickets would like to know them. If there are no other reasons we appeal to the management to allow these non-season ticket holders to join the "gang." We are sure that they are just as loyal and their hearts beat just as true for Old Nebraska as the hearts of their brothers and sisters who have season tickets.

Kappa Delta.

Kappa Delta entertained Saturday at a tea in honor of their chaperone, Mrs. Cleaver and Miss Mariabla Atkins, chairman of social service of national Kappa Delta.

Tourtlet-Ellis.

Miss Margaret Tourtlet of Adams and Paul Cooper Ellis of Auburn were married Friday at the First Christian church. Mrs. Ellis was graduated with the class of '29 and is a member of Achoth sorority.

Wessel-Werthermer.

The marriage of Miss Alice Wessel to Gabe Werthermer took place last Wednesday at the Wessel home. Mrs. Werthermer is a graduate of the University of Nebraska.

Reed-Pickering.

A marriage of interest in University circles occurred Thursday evening when Miss Florine Reed became the bride of Avery Pickering. The ceremony took place at the Reed home. Mrs. Pickering attended the University of Nebraska three years and is a member of Achoth. Mr. Pickering is a member of Delta Tau Delta.

Delta Tau Delta gave a very successful party last Friday evening. The house was decorated to look like the interior of a barn. This same effect was also carried out in the large hay rack which called for the guests. The principal event of the evening was the irritation of the thirty couples present into "The Royal Order of Hard Times." Refreshments were had later at Fritzzlen's Drug Store. The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Gardner and Mr. and Mrs. Lawlor.

Alpha Chi Omega.

The Alpha Chi Omega annual autumn party was given Saturday night in honor of the pledges. About forty five couples were present. The house was decorated with autumn leaves. Black walnut and maple cases were served as refreshments. Mrs. F. Hanson and Mrs. Roland Murphy chaperoned the party.

Alpha Delta Pi.

About sixty guests were entertained at tea Saturday afternoon from three to five o'clock given in honor of Mrs. Froeman at the Alpha Delta Pi chapter house. Out of town guests were Mrs. Mathews from Kimball, and Miss Margaret Gallehan from McCook.

Adams-Stephens.

Miss Ethia Adams and David Vance Stephens were married Thursday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Adams. Mr. Stephens is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and a member of Phi Delta Theta. Innocents and an "N" man. Mrs. Adams attended Ferry Hall after graduating from Lincoln high school. She studied music at the University school of Music Conservatory.

Acacia.

Twenty couples enjoyed a very delightful party Friday night at Acacia chapter house. The house was decorated with pumpkins, corn stalks and everything suggestive of Halloween. For refreshments, pumpkin pie, coffee and apples were served. The chaperone was Mrs. W. A. Brown.

"No. Let's Babe Ruth."

"Alright, but where will it land us, (Landis)."

The new musical comedy "Moonlight and Moonshine" brought down the house last night with the new hit "Every little Cellar has a secret of its own."

Some of the boys on the shelm, beholding as it were a mirage on the great American Sahara, started down the stairs upon the appeal of the girls "To come down into my cellar."

Were we to Percy Hammond we might add that "It is very refreshing."

A CREDITABLE ACTION.

Not long ago the George Dahlberger post of the American legion in New York spent nearly $1,000 to lead jobless ex-soldiers. The money was an accumulation which had been set aside for a club house. Unhesitatingly, they spent the last cent of their accumulation.

The vision of their club house faded two years further in the distance, yet what they saw should appease their longing for a club house for a long time.

The food, for which one $1,000 was spent, probably put out smouldering fires of anarchy in an equal number of breasts. It inspired the downhearted and strengthened the weak. It made the jobless veteran feel more like a patriot and a citizen instead of a social outcast. Not only did it help those individuals who derived a direct benefit, but the news was spread broadcast and the great horde of ex-service men all over the United States who were seeking employment read of it and were glad in their hearts to know that fellow sufferers were receiving attention and aid.

Likewise, all over the country, the American legion is making warfare on the unemployment crisis. The Legion employment bureaus are working night and day to find work for ex-service men or to put them back on the job. With bleak winter coming on and with the unemployment situation growing more acute each day, the legion has no small task to perform, but the department posts are going after the task in a creditable manner.
