OKLAHOMA BATTLE NEXT GRID GAME

Last Year's Missouri Valley Champions to Invade Lincoln for Saturday Fray.

MORALE OF TEAM IS GOOD

Notre Dame Battle Serves to Point Out Weak Spots to Coach Dawson and His Helpers.

The Cornhusker grid squad arrived home Sunday afternoon in high spirits from South Bend and Coach Dawson put the Scarlet and Cream athletes through a strenuous workout last evening on Nebraska field. The Husker mentor, with the help of Assistant Coach Frank will endeavor to strengthen the weak points in the Husker offense and defense this week before the Oklahoma Sooners contest here this Saturday.

Saturday's defeat at the hands of the Notre Dame eleven did not in any way lower the morale of the Nebraska squad and has put a determination in every man to win the remainder of the games on the 1921 calendar. The Oklahoma contest, scheduled for Saturday, will be a hard fought game and will probably determine the Husker's chance for a 1921 Missouri Valley championship.

Coach Bennie Owen of the Sooners will bring an aggregation to Lincoln that will equal the Huskers in every department of the game. The Oklahoma line will probably out weigh the Cornhusker forward wall by a few pounds and the backfield will average about the same as the Nebraska backs.

Sooners are Veterans.

Practically every man on the Oklahoma team has had from one to three years' experience on the varsity eleven. The Nebraska contest will be the first trip away from home for the Owen aggregation and this may have some effect upon the men. The Sooners have a wonderful kicker, with them this year in the personage of Morrison, fullback. In the last two contests he has averaged fifty yards on every boot and has been kicking into the wind most of the time.

Oklahoma is touted as having the strongest defensive team that has represented that school in a number of years. From tackle to tackle their line will average over 200 pounds to a man. Both ends will average more than the Nebraska end men. The backfield will compare equally with the Husker backs in weight.

The Nebraska line showed a surprising weakness in charging fast against the fast Notre Dame forwards Saturday and Coach Dawson has put the men working on the line practice this week in an attempt to speed up the attack. On defense the Huskers held like a stone wall when necessary but lacked the necessary punch to hold out the Notre Dame forwards when the Huskers had the ball.

Huskers in Good Shape.

Few serious injuries resulted in Saturday's contest, Nixon center, receiving an injury to his arm that will probably keep him out for a few days. Floyd Wright suffered a severe kick in the jaw but displayed the old Cornhusker fight and put up a wonderful game against the Irishmen. The entire Nebraska team displayed wonderful fight when the Catholics had the ball on the one yard line and everyone in South Bend was of the opinion that the count should have been a tie. A five yard penalty close to the goal proved to be the downfall for the Husker machine.

XI DELTA MAKES GIFT TO ELLEN SMITH HALL

Xi Delta society of 1920-21 presented Ellen Smith hall with a beautiful piano lamp last Saturday afternoon.

The shade of the lamp is blue and gold brocade which harmonizes with the furniture of Ellen Smith hall.

It has long been a custom of the outgoing Xi Delta's to give some parting gift to Ellen Smith hall. Last year a picture of the Chertres Cathedral was added to the collection there.

GOVERNOR SELECTS LAWYERS FOR SUIT

Norval and Wiltse To Combat University Regents in Mandamus Suit.

State Senators R. S. Norval of Seward and John Wiltse of Falls City have been retained, at the request of Governor McKelvie, to assist the attorney general's office in combatting the mandamus suit filed by the regents of the University of Nebraska to compel the governor to approve quarterly estimates of expenditures for that institution without deducting 10 per cent as a "contingency reserve."

This suit will be argued to the supreme court, as an original proceeding at the first sitting in November. The constitutionality of the new state budget law, conferring authority on the governor to approve or disapprove estimates for departments presided over by other constitutional officers, is involved.

A brief has been prepared and filed by Assistant Attorney General Wheeler, upholding the law and the governor's action. It sets forth these points: Executive approval required for estimates is an executive function, and not merely a ministerial one.

The governor's action in requiring a reserve to be set aside is not arbitrary and does not constitute a diversion of the appropriation, nor is it contrary to the constitutional budget provisions.

The section conferring authority on the governor is not a delegation of legislative power.

The state university is a branch of the executive department of the state government, and therefore properly within the governor's supervision.

The budget law itself is not broader than its title.

Dr. G. E. Condra the originator of the Cornhusker highway, which was named after the University of Nebraska, accompanied by Prof. L. W. Paul, Minn., recently made a trip to Harrington, Kan., to attend a large road meeting. The meeting was held for the purpose of originating a national highway to extend from Mexico thru Dallas, Tex., Oklahoma City, Wichita, Kan., Lincoln, Sioux City, and Minneapolis to Canada. This road had previously been marked from Oklahoma City to Lincoln, traversing the southern part of the Cornhusker route.

Dean Shailer Mathews, speaker at the fall banquet under the auspices of the Committee of 200, at the chamber of commerce next Friday evening. Dr. Mathews is dean of the Divinity school of the University of Chicago. He has held the highest official position in the national convention of his denomination, is widely known through his many books on religious and social subjects, and is one of the most acceptable speakers in the country today.

SCHOLARSHIP TO SOPHOMORE GIRL

Grace Fern Thomas is Awarded Prize of $11.00 by A. C. A. Committee.

WINNER HAD HIGH GRADE

Average of 94 Per Cent Helps to Win Award For Second Year Co-ed Over Junior Applicants.

Grace Fern Thomas, a sophomore won the A. C. A. award of one hundred dollars this year with an average of ninety-four per cent in her first year university studies.

The award was made last Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. S. M. Deutsch, 24th and South streets. The money is paid in two installments, $50 a semester, and it is a gift from the society—not a loan. Mrs. Philo M. Buck, is president of the society in Lincoln.

The A. C. A. was formerly called the association of collegiate alumnae, and was merely a northern organization. It has recently been consolidated with the southern one and is now known as the American Association of College Women.

Miss Thomas is the fifth girl to receive this scholarship. It usually goes to the most deserving junior girl, but Miss Thomas, in spite of missing three weeks of school last year because of an operation, had such superior standing that this year the scholarship went to a sophomore. Miss Thomas is majoring in chemistry and is an assistant in that department this year. Last year she was an assistant in the office of the Alumnae secretary.

BIG BANQUET FOR STUDENTS FRIDAY

Committee of 200 Has Elaborate Plans For Annual Banquet at Chamber Of Commerce.

DEAN MATHEWS SPEAKER

Well Known Chicago Man To Address Meeting—Chancellor Avery To Speak—Tickets Now on Sale.

Plans are now well perfected for the big banquet, under the auspices of the committee of 200, for Friday evening of this week. While the number of those who can be accommodated this year is much smaller than that of last year, the committee is now ready to guarantee that in no way will the quality of the event be inferior to that of last year.

The securing of the chamber of commerce insures the success of the evening from the standpoint of physical and culinary arrangements.

In the person of Dean Shailer Mathews, the principal place on the program has been eminently supplied. Chancellor Avery will be present to introduce the speaker. The 400 students with their ardor and vim will be held in respectful check by the dignity and poise of a large faculty delegation.

There is no attempt on the part of the committee to cultivate any sort of "aristocracy," but seating room on Friday evening is certain to be above par. Tickets are now in the hands of members of the committee of 200. It is expected that they will be exhausted by onday evening. Students anxious to be present are urged to see a ticket seller without delay. Faculty members who wish to make reservations may do so by calling 44 on Monday forenoon.

Don't Forget That Limeick!

The contest to date has been a warm one. But we can still use a few more limericks. Remember contestants that a limerick has five lines, of which the first two and the fifth rhyme while the third and fourth are also paired in rhyme. We have a corp of assistants at our beck and call to aid in this great contest. Don't delay about sending in your limerick. This is a chance of a life time to get a Cornhusker free.

There was a young man named Lewellen
Who tore down the gridiron a Hellin'
He plunged thru the line
Like a second Aubrey Devine
To a touchdown that started the yellin'.

Send that limerick in now.

FORMER DEAN TALKS TO ENGINEER FROSH

O. V. P. Stout Lectures To Orientation Class on Pioneer And Domestic Engineering.

O. V. P. Stout, former dean of the engineering college spoke before the freshmen engineers Monday at the regular freshman lecture class on "Orientation."

He took up first the definition of the term as applied to engineering works and then showed how he considered it applied to divisions in the engineering practice. Engineering is first divided into pioneer and domestic engineering. We consider these the same as their corresponding geographical divisions. The pioneer engineering is done in the west and unsettled lands in contradistinction to the domestic or engineering work carried on in the east and near at home.

The pioneer engineer deals with the early country and the natural resources of the country while the domestic engineer in further development and in the finer phases of engineering work.

The engineering graduate of thirty-five years ago, especially from the University of Nebraska, had only pioneer engineering to do and most of this was in the railway line, especially with the B. and M. or as it is now known, the Burlington, lines west of the Missouri. Some men who worked at the same time with Mr. Stout on this work, are Judge Shepherd, of the District Court and Professor Stuff, at present connected with the University.

The pioneer engineering was necessarily of the "Rough and Ready" type and in many ways his work was, and is at the present, similar to the (Continued on page 3.)

COMMITTEES FOR CONFERENCE OUT

One Hundred Nebraska Students Appointed to Organize University Disarmament Sentiment.

BIG MEETING NOVEMBER 10

International Problems and Limitation of Armament are Principal Topics For Discussion.

A movement among the students of the University of Nebraska to back up the disarmament conference in Washington is making rapid progress and will culminate in a big meeting of all university students on Thursday, November 10, the day before the conference opens.

When the conference called by President Harding opens, November 11, delegates from countries in all parts of the world will be in Washington to discuss international problems and limitation of armaments. People all over the country are realizing that this conference will have a large part in determining the economic prosperity and the condition of war or peace throughout the world. It is generally recognized that the success or failure of the conference depends upon public opinion. With this thought students in colleges and universities throughout America are taking definite steps to give their support to the conference.

Such a movement is well under way in the University of Nebraska. Arrangements are in the hands of a committee of eleven composed of Jessie Watson, chairman; Adelheit Dettman, Asa Heppner, Ruth Kadel, Kenneth McCandless, Glen Munger, Dorothy Pierce, Ward Randol, Mary Sheldon, Roy Wythers and Dean P. M. Buck. This committee is representative of the university as a whole and does not represent any single organization. The committee met Sunday, October 24, and again Wednesday, October 19, and held out general plans.

The movement to get back of the disarmament conference has been taking form here and there throughout the university within the last few weeks. Two organizations were working out plans for such a movement at the same time that the committee of eleven students was outlining its plans, and each group supposed it was the only group in the field. When the organizations heard of the committee they dropped their plans and offered their cooperation to the all-university committee.

The committee of eleven has appointed a committee of a hundred students to help put the program across. A joint meeting of the two committees will be held in Ellen Smith hall Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock. The members of the large committee and the organizations they represent are as follows:

Initiates—Hugh Carson; Mortarboard, Margaret Henderson; Vaikyrie, Nora Livingston; Silver Serpent, Belle Farman; Vikings, Floyd Warren; Iron Sphinx, George Turner; Xi Delta, Alvera Lottman; Green Gobins, Harry Olds; Mystic Fish, Marie Thompson.

Y. M. C. A.—Floyd Oldt; Y. W. C. A., Grace Stuf.
