SENATOR TALKS TO LARGE GATHERING

Nebraska Student Body Marches As Unit in Big Parade To Hear Hitchcock's Talk.

U. S. CANNOT BE ISOLATED

Says Nations Will Become Bankrupt If Armament Is Not Stopped And Taxes Relieved.
The University of Nebraska, students and faculty, 3,000 strong, massed together, Wednesday morning in the greatest convocation held since the outbreak of the war in 1917, put its stamp of approval on the disarmament conference that will hold its opening sessions Armistice day. The auditorium of St. Paul's church could not hold the crowd and aisles and side rooms had to be pressed into service. Unanimous approval of the resolution came at the end of an address by Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock of Omaha on world conditions and problems that made the disarmament conference imperative.

Senator Hitchcock told of the world depression and the positive need for relief of the taxes, caused by excessive army and navy building on the impoverished people of the world. Armament must stop, he stated or the nations will become bankrupt and a condition of chaos will result. Some sort of a league of nations must be arranged he believed; America can not be isolated.

The University chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Carrie B. Raymond, and accompanied by the University string quartet gave Kipling's "Recessional" by Matthews at the beginning of the program.

Dr. P. L. Hall, chairman of the board of regents, and presiding officer, called for a moment of silent prayer for the success of the disarmament conference.
Dr. Hall called attention to the purpose of the meeting and said that it was the desire to create a sentiment in favor of the disarmament conference in the Universities and colleges of the country. The great influence that the University men and women have on the thought of the country is becoming more powerful than ever.

In introducing the speaker of the meeting, Dr. Hall said that no man in America has a wider knowledge of foreign affairs and relations than Senator Hitchcock. For many years Senator Hitchcock has been chairman of the committee on foreign affairs and is thoroughly acquainted with the relations of the United States and foreign countries.

The senator is a rather tall man with graying hair. His manner of speaking is easy and forceful. He at once complimented Nebraska on the Pittsburgh victory saying that he took it as a good omen that the Cornhuskers had won and put Nebraska on the map. The morning after the game Nebraska was in big headlines in papers all over the east.

Big Bonfire Friday.

A bonfire to symbolize Nebraska's hopes for a decisive victory over the Kansas Jayhawkers will be lighted on the drill field just north of the social science building at 6:30 o'clock Friday evening, just preparatory to the torchlight parade that will be held the evening of the Homecoming game. All Nebraska students are urged to gather on the field at this time to aid in the celebration. Dr. George E. Condra, of the Conservation and Soil survey department, will give a short talk at this preliminary meeting. Immediately afterwards, when the fire has died out, the parade will form in front of the armory and Nebraska students will march to the Hotel Lincoln to welcome the Kansas team.

BLACK MASQUE PLANS DRIVE FOR RED CROSS

Several years ago the University presented a pageant which dealt with the founding of the state of Nebraska. This pageant presented on an elaborate scale the coming of the pioneers and the different stages in the development of the state. The music for the pageant was written by Howard Kirkpatrick, the head of the voice department of the school of music, and the pageant itself was written by Professor Alexander.

This same pageant is to be presented in Omaha the last of the week before the Nebraska State Teachers' association. The parts are to be taken by the pupils in the Omaha high school.

UNIVERSITY CORNCOBS NEW PEP ORGANIZATION

Similar to Oklahoma "Jazz Hounds" Movement Started by Audley Sullivan.

"The University Corncobs" is the newest organization on the campus. It was organized at a meeting of some thirty students held last night at the Kappa Sigma house. It is to be Nebraska's pep organization, similar to the Oklahoma "Jazz Hounds" that recently performed on the Nebraska field.

The idea was originated and the meeting called by Audley Sullivan. The need of such an organization has long been felt by many students.

One of the things the Corncobs will do is provide some stunt for all the home football games. It will be their duty to keep alive Nebraska pep and spirit.

Officers elected last night are: Chief Cob, Audley Sullivan; second Cob, Lyle Dierks; keeper of the corn, Harry Dunker.

The following committees were appointed: Costume, South Milham, chairman;

Disarmament Conference Will Meet With Complex Problems

It goes almost without saying that a movement for a general limitation of armaments should be preceded by a careful study of the difficulties to be overcome. That difficulties do exist is shown by the failure of the numerous projects for disarmament at the Hague conferences in the years preceding the great war.

The idea underlying these early efforts was superficially attractive. It was argued that if the nations would agree not to carry their military preparations further, or if they would hit upon some other equitable limitation, they would save enormous sums of money without suffering any military disadvantage, for they would find themselves in the same relative position upon the outbreak of a war. It was a search for a formula by means of which war could be waged more cheaply.

Unfortunately, no such formula was found, and none can, I think, be found. Every formula, upon examination, will be seen greatly to favor some nation at the expense of others. The advantages are not equal, and the proposals are usually found to have little relation to facts. The suggested limitation of naval strength in proportion to the volume of merchant shipping or according to the length of national coast-lines is an instance in point. The first would have given Germany a large navy; the second a small one. Limiting the cost of battleships would be greatly to our disadvantage; limiting the tonnage of battleships would be to the disadvantage of Great Britain. A naval holiday would of course greatly favor the nation now in the lead.

It is interesting to note that if the total military expenditures are to be made the basis of discussion, the United States will stand in the dock as a chief offender, while Germany before the war would have appeared as a relatively inoffensive power; but that means nothing more than that

NOVEMBER AWGWAN CRAVES ATTENTION

1921's Second Issue OOne of Best in Years—Many Eastern Comics Clip Awgwan.

Awgwan is out. The Old Man of Jollification has been hanging around the campus watching the students root and cheer for Nebraska's victorious team and a broad smile, which has often flitted across the genial countenance of the grand old Husker, gleamed when the Cornhusker cheers were given and the Cornhusker team was praised.

But right now the Old Man says he wants a little attention. He is stuffed into Station A with U huli as headquarters and he wishes to visit a few of the fraternities and sororities (preferably the latter) in order to get more light on the matter. He wants to get out of his cramped quarters where he is tossed about to be out of the way. "Come get me," says he now.

Torchlights Will Feature In Big Parade on Friday Night

Nearly one hundred blazing torches at the head of a gigantic procession will be symbolic of a permanent Cornhusker spirit Friday night at 7 o'clock, when all students in the university are asked to march in a parade from the armory to the Hotel Lincoln, where members of the Kansas team will be welcomed.

"It is a significant fact that November 7, 1921, marked the return of spirit to the University of Nebraska," said a faculty member yesterday. "Now is it our duty to see

OMAHA HIGH STUDENTS HOLD NEBRASKA PAGEANT

A Red Cross drive, under the auspices of the Black Masque will be staged on the campus on Thursday and Friday of this week. The Black Masque will be assisted by the Silver Serpents and Xi Deltas in securing the subscriptions.

The sorority houses and dormitories will be canvassed and tables will be placed in Social Science hall, the Armory, and the Library to help the girls who will be working on the campus. The membership fee is $1.00 a year.

The Red Cross needs funds badly this year to help disabled soldiers and their families, and to aid the poor everywhere.

UNI. STUDENTS TO MARCH IN PARADE

All Former Service Men and Women Attending the University to Take Part in Celebration.

SPECIAL NEBRASKA SECTION

Frankforter Planning to Make Nebraska Section Best in Procession—Start at 12:45.

Every student and faculty member, men and women alike, who served in any part of the service during the last great war, should take part in the university section of the parade to be staged over the Lincoln business area Friday afternoon in celebration of the third anniversary of the signing of the armistice.

C. J. Frankforter, in charge of the university section, is hard at work urging every ex-service student and faculty member in the school to be out in uniform and help make the Nebraska section the best in the entire parade. If the former service men do not have a uniform they are wanted to march in their civilian clothes but it is hoped that as many as possible will appear in uniform.

No Rank Distinction.
There is to be no rank distinction in the way the parade lines up. Faculty members will march with students, buck private will march side by side with captains.

The parade is scheduled to line up at the university on Twelfth street north from R at 12:45. There are to be no afternoon classes Friday and every student and faculty member can be on the scene of action by that time.

Prof. Frankforter urges every former service man and woman to tell every other former service man or woman about the parade so that there will be no reason for them not being in the procession. He hopes that the university will be represented 100 per cent and is personally seeing every faculty man and woman who saw service of any kind.

Disabled Lead Section.

The disabled service men will lead the section. Automobiles are to be

FRESH MAY BURN GREEN HEAD GEAR

May Stage Jubilee Bonfire Between Halves Saturday if They Win, Olympics.

The freshmen at the University of Nebraska will burn their green caps in a pile on the athletic field between halves of the Homecoming game Saturday afternoon if they are victorious in the olympics that will be held in the forenoon of that day.

In this way, the first year men will have the satisfaction of knowing that they are starting a new tradition at Nebraska university, which each succeeding freshman class will follow in years to come.

While the green headgears are smoldering on the field, these same freshmen will have a feeling of relief to know that they have cast their caps away forever—providing they are declared winners in the annual class scarp.

If the freshmen are victors, the burning of the caps will form part of the stunts that are being prepared under the direction of the Innocents society for the intermission between halves at the Saturday gridiron clash.

EAST FORCED TO RECOGNIZE WEST

Coach Dawson and His Fighting Nebraskans Are Highly Praised By Eastern Critics.

BATTLE KANSAS SATURDAY

Husker Iron Men Make Gains at Will Through Freshmen Grids—Lineup as at Pitt.

That Coach Fred T. Dawson's Cornhuskers have won a place near the top of the list of mythical football eleven's for the 1921 season is very apparent from eastern reports. Saturday's defeat of the Pitt Panthers, looked upon by eastern critics as one of the few great teams in the east, brings Nebraska into the limelight as one of the greatest eleven's in the country.

Sporting writers for practically every eastern paper gives Coach Dawson a large amount of praise for the manner in which he has brought the team to the front this year and put Nebraska in an important position in football circles. University authorities are confident that two big inter-sectional contests will be arranged for next year, one to be staged in the east and one in Lincoln.

The Cornhuskers went through a gruelling workout last evening, scrimmaging against the freshmen eleven.

Coach Farley Young's yearling aggregation, using Kansas plays were able to gain considerable ground against the Husker veterans and crossed the goal line for a number of touchdowns. The Huskers made big gains through the Frosh line though, negotiating a number of counters.

Coach Patsy Clark of the Kansas Jayhawkers is extending every effort to have the Kansas squad in the best condition possible when the arrive in Lincoln Friday. The K. U. mentor is centering his form of attack in an aerial game which was worked with considerable success against the Oklahoma Sooners last week at Norman. The Kansas athletes are working under the glare of large arch lights when darkness tends to hold up the practice.

By far the largest crowd of the season is due to assemble on Nebraska field for the big Homecoming day battle. With 500 K. U. enthusiasts, headed by a band, school spirit should be at its best when the Kansas and Nebraska athletes are battling for honors on the gridiron. Advanced ticket sale is going on rapidly but university authorities report a large number of reserved seats in the stands on the north side of the field are still unsold. Director Leubring announced that temporary stands are to be erected on the east side of the field to care for the large crowd.

The Jayhawker lineup will probably be the same against Nebraska as worked against the Sooners last Saturday. Black and MacDonald will work against Captain Swanson and scherer with Freese and Grauer meeting Puelik and Lyman at the tackle positions. Reedy and Captain "Pete" Jones will buck Berquist and Wenke while at center Peterson will work against Saunders. The K. U. backfield is composed of Wilson, quarterback, Griffin and McAdams, halfbacks and Spurgeon, fullback. The Nebraska backfield will be made up of Wright, Hartley, Preston, and Lewellen.
