PLAYERS PRESENT POPULAR COMEDY

Talented University Cast Deserves Commendation for Their Production of "Clarence."

HERBERT PLAYS TITLE ROLE

Will be Given on Both Friday and Saturday Evenings—Worth While Attending.

The University players have gone over the top again in their last night's production of Booth Tarkington's best comedy, "Clarence." The play moved along with a zest and a snap that would do credit to a troupe of professionals. The plot of the play while not particularly involved it is one of such real human interest that it gets right over the footlights and into the audiences' hearts.

The Players are to be congratulated on their selection of this type of play. "Clarence" tells the story of a young man who has just been discharged from the army. He is very much in search of something to do. He has been an expert in the governmental service, specializing on beetles. By chance he happens to hear all the family troubles of a very big business man and by the accident receives a position in the rich man's family. The girl in the family is wildly in love with a widower. The boy of the family has had an affair with the housemaid. The mother is very suspicious of the attentions which her husband bestows on the governess. Needless to say "Clarence" clears everything up in nice fashion and harmony reigns once more in the troubled family circle.

Walter M. Herbert portrays the title role in splendid style and keeps his character quiet and natural. His comedy lines in the first act were not well received—but the audience warmed up later on and enjoyed them immensely.

Miss Gladys Appleman returns to the Players and was most charming as the governess. Herbert Yenne did the juvenile, Bobby, with a lot of zest and was well received. Miss Katherine Matchett as the love-sick Cora was excellent and gave one of the best characterizations of the evening.

Hart Jenks as the busy rich man, was enjoyable and worked consistently throughout the bill. Margaret Perry made a beautiful Mrs. Wieseler. Her splendid voice was particularly pleasing. Winifred Merrybrow, Mary Best, George Stone and Edmund make up the rest of a well balanced and well directed cast of characters.

The University orchestra under the direction of Mr. William Quick, furnished the musical setting and played their overture well. The setting for act two drew considerable praise.

All in all the play went off in a professional manner. There were no long waits between acts and the play commenced promptly at 8:15.

The play will be given Friday and Saturday nights and should fill the Temple theater at each performance. Don't miss this play "Clarence" if you can possibly attend. It is a good, clean, laughable comedy, timely and well played.

SEVEN CHOSEN BY THETA SIGMA PHI

Journalistic Sorority Will Hold Annual Initiation and Banquet Sunday.

Theta Sigma Phi, national professional journalistic sorority, will hold its initiation and banquet Sunday afternoon and evening. Initiation will be held at Ellen Smith hall in the afternoon and the banquet in the evening at the Lincolnshire.

Seven women who have distinguished themselves in journalistic work while in school have been chosen. They are Sue Stille, Nellie Lee Holt, Erma Wiltse, Dorothy Huse, Valora Hullinger, Carita Herzog and Margaret Black.

At least junior or senior standing is requisite for election to membership in Theta Sigma Phi. Two of the seven chosen this semester are graduate students. Each initiate will present a paper on an assigned subject at the banquet, according to the custom in Lambda chapter.

"COBS" PLAN STUNT FOR GAME AT AMES

The Nebraska Corncobs, recently organized Cornhusker "pop" organization, will let Ames know that they exist. Such was the statement Thursday evening made by Jack Whitten, chairman of the stunts committee of the Cobs.

Whitten could not state how many of the Cobs would make the trip to Iowa State college, but he promised that the Cobs will show up at the field of battle as a feature of Nebraska's visit. The nature of the stunt which the Cobs will "pull off" before the spectators will depend on how many of the members manage to make the trip. Several of the Cobs are planning to drive to the Iowa State college but the cold snap which swept down upon the Husker camp together with reported snow storms in other parts of the state may prevent them from going. Enough of the boosters will be on hand, however, to make a showing.

AMES HOLDS "PEP" RALLIES FOR GAME

Iowa State Lists Three Meetings in Preparation of Nebraska Invasion—Held Bonfire.

In anticipation of the Ames-Nebraska contest next Saturday, Iowa State university is more than indulging in rallies. Three meetings, one each for of the days preceding the game, are listed among the homecoming week events for the Aggies. The following accounts of the rallies are taken from the Iowa State Student:

The first meeting of the series was held Wednesday evening in the field north of the varsity tennis courts. A huge bonfire, of proportions rarely seen at the Ames college, was the feature of the evening. Talks and speeches from the members of the football team and the coaching staff made up an important part of the program. A platform roped off in the center of the field furnished the speakers their position of attack. The band and quartet helped to liven up the entertainment.

Thursday night witnessed the second of the series of "pop" meetings. This meeting was held in the State gym and was in charge of the women's athletic association. Miss Winifred E. Tilden, head of the women's athletics at Ames university, and Director of Athletics C. W. Mayer were on the program and inspired the students with "lots of pep" for the homecoming day battle with Nebraska.

Final Meeting Friday.
The last meeting of the series will (Continued on Page Four.)

NEBRASKA GRIDSTER CREW SWEARS TO AVENGE LAST DEFEAT BY IOWA STATE

Coach Dawson and His Fighting Giants Embarked Last Night for Their Expedition Into the Aggie Territory—Husker Gridiron Dispute Tomorrow is Their Homecoming Battle.

THREE HUSKER STARS IN LAST GAME ON ENEMY SOIL

Will Work Out at Drake Stadium Today and Go On to Ames in the Morning—Freshmen Gridsters Will Witness Big Scrap—University Band Will Lead Parade to the Field.

Twenty-eight Cornhusker football players with Coach Dawson in charge left last night over the Rock Island for Des Moines where the Nebraska men will rest, preparatory to the Ames invasion. The men making the trip last night are: Captain Swanson, Scherer, Pucelik, Lyman, Berquist, Wenke, Peterson, Preston, Wright, Hartley, Lewellen, Nixon, Hoy, Hartman, Howarth, Ross McGlasson, Harold McGlasson, Triplett, House, Layton, Dewitz, Noble, Klompke, Schoepel, Welte, Reed and Odum.

The Cornhusker headquarters will be at the Hotel Fort Des Moines during the stay in Des Moines. Coach Dawson will take his proteges to the Drake stadium this morning for a stiff workout and the men will then be entertained at one of the theaters in the afternoon. The squad will then journey up to Ames on Saturday morning early enough for a early lunch.

The freshman squad with Farley Young in charge will leave on the Cornhusker special tomorrow morning for the scene of the battle. A number of the Varsity squad will be included in the number who are making the trip by way of the special due to the limited facilities of one Pullman car. The Huskers went through a hard workout last evening and the men are in excellent condition for the Ames battle.

Coach Dawson was well pleased with the showing made by the Varsity against the freshman last evening, with the yearlings using the Aggie plays. Practically the same lineup that started against the Kansas Jayhawkers last Saturday will start against the Cyclones in the coming battle. With the Ames contest scratched from the Cornhusker calendar, one game remains for the 1921 Varsity to take part in.

Three men are playing their last contest for the Scarlet and the Cream on Thanksgiving day when the Huskers meet the Colorado Aggies on Nebraska field. Captain Swanson, left end; John Pucelik, left guard and Floyd Wright, right half, are the three Cornhuskers who will wind up their Varsity career next week. This is Captain Swanson's fourth year on the Varsity, "Swannie" playing part time on the 1918 S. A. T. C. eleven. Wright and Pucelik have played the last three seasons and have won a great deal of recognition for themselves throughout the country as exponents of the pigskin sport. Wright is probably the fastest man on the eleven at carrying the ball and one of the most consistent ground gainers in the backfield. Pucelik has starred the last three years and is known for his ability to spill the offense of the opposing team. He was given All-American mention last year along with Captain Swanson by Walter Camp and it is expected that these two Huskers will again come into the limelight when the critics begin to pick the mythical eleven.

AMES OVERFLOWING WITH DECORATIONS

Iowa State Students Trim State Field Elaborately—Fraternity Houses Compete for Homecoming.

Elaborate decorations throughout Ames will meet the Cornhusker football squad when it arrives at Ames Friday evening. Every fraternity house in the city has been gayly decorated for the homecoming festivities Saturday and the streets of the city together with State field have shared in the trimmings.

All freshmen men of the university have been set to work to decorate State field as it has never been decorated before, says the Iowa State Student. Hundreds of yards of Cardinal and Gold bunting will be placed on the bleacher railings and gold posts. A mammoth "A" will be placed over the entrance to the field and under it the spectators will file into the game.

A prize is being offered by the Cardinal guild for the best decorated sorority or fraternity house on homecoming.

Threatening Storms Won't Dampen Ardor of Huskers

The pleasant autumn days have gone; the first snow fall of the year seems imminent; Old Jack Frost threatens to come down from the icy Northland at any moment and drape the prairies with his velvety flakes of white confetti. Everyone is getting ready for him.

Five o'clock classes are now night classes. The sun sinks to his ill-deserved rest about the time he used to be at the height of his glory. It is night—inky black—when you sit down to your evening repast, supper or dinner whatever you want to call it.

And when you hit the icy floor of the dormitory about seven bells in the morning it is still night—inky black—old Sol starts late as well as quite early these days.

But you can't blame this on to Harding or the administration. It is just the natural sequence of things.

TO HOLD ANNUAL "GO TO CHURCH" SUNDAY

Lincoln Churches Set Aside November 20 as Sunday When All University Students Should Go.

Lincoln churches have set aside next Sunday as "Go to Church Sunday," according to an announcement made this week by the university pastors' association. Special services will be held and invitations extended to all students of the University of Nebraska to attend some church on this day.

"Go to Church Sunday" has become a tradition among the Lincoln churches. The Sunday preceding Thanksgiving is set aside for this purpose and all students are urged to attend some church. The plan was started with the view of giving University students the habit. It is hoped that the congeniality of the Lincoln churches will influence students who respond to the request to attend some church, to continue to attend that church or some church in the future.

MECHANICAL ENGINEERS HEAR PRACTICAL TALKS

The A. S. M. E. held a meeting Wednesday evening which was attended by about forty mechanicals. The official pin of the society in Nebraska colors was adopted and a committee was appointed, consisting of Haber, Ogier, McArthur and Downs to see about putting on a dance in the near future.

Clyde Wilcox gave an interesting talk on the structural steel foundry at Omaha, where he was employed the last summer and Mr. Klentzky, an alumnus of the department gave a short talk on "dredging machinery." Professor De Beaufre also gave a report of the results of the investigation on the helium plants in Texas which he made in conjunction with other members of a commission appointed by the army and navy boards. After the talks and discussions a series of experiments were made as to the absorptive powers of apple cider by doughnuts.

AMES HOMECOMING PLANS STRENUOUS

Nebraska-Iowa State Game Features Extensive Program for Alumni Next Saturday.

Beginning with the registration for the alumni in Alumni hall, Friday, and extending to midnight on Saturday, the old graduates of Ames university are to be kept everlastingly busy when they return to their alma mater next Saturday for homecoming day. The feature event of the entire program is the Nebraska-Ames football clash Saturday afternoon. A review of the day taken from the Iowa State Student follows:

Sight seeing auto tours have been arranged for the old students on Friday and Saturday morning. These will give the graduates a chance to review the campus of their old haunts. Commencing Friday afternoon and extending throughout Saturday, the annual Hort show will be in progress at the college greenhouses.

Lectures by noted artists and motion picture slides will be given on both evenings in agricultural assembly.

Athletics Hold Dinner.
Three hundred and fifty athletes, wearers of the "A" have been invited to a dinner Friday evening in Margaret hall given by the Double A fraternity. A monster "Pep" meeting will be held in the state gym following the dinner.

An informal reception for all alumni friends will be held in Alumni hall (Continued on Page Four.)

CLUB HEARS TALK ON ORGANIZATION

Department Store Manager Speaks To Future Business Men On Problems of Executive.

Mr. E. C. Campbell, manager of Miller & Paine's spoke to the commercial club on "Department Store Organization," at their regular meeting Thursday, November 17.

Mr. Campbell explained briefly the ordinary methods of organization in a department store. He said that they fell into two groups; centralized organization is one in which the power of buying rests wholly with the chief executive of the firm. A decentralized organization is one in which the power of buying rests with the sub-manager. He briefly explained the chief advantages and disadvantages of each. He stated that the department store was a very good field for young men to enter, for it offers wonderful opportunities. The men are not taking advantage of these opportunities and that is the reason why over half of the managers in a department store are women.

Mr. Campbell is a Nebraska alumnus graduating in 1910 from electrical engineering college, but found the business world a more profitable field.

ALL ABOARD FOR HUSKER SPECIAL

Student Train Leaves at 6:30 a. m. Tomorrow For Ames Via C. & N. W.

SEVERAL HUNDRED TO GO

Cadet Band, Freshman Squad, Corncobs, and Rooters Ready For Trip.

All aboard for Ames! The Cornhusker special will leave for the Iowa city at 6:30 a. m. tomorrow, over the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, carrying several hundred Cornhusker rooters to the scene of the Ames-Nebraska gridiron spectacle.

All doubt as to the securing of the special train has fled as announcement was made yesterday that the required number of tickets had been disposed of and the special was a reality. Four coaches will be waiting at the depot tomorrow morning.

The University cadet band will be on the train and will help to make things lively on the journey. The band is known as one of the peppiest organizations on the campus and the fact that they are going to Ames via the Cornhusker special should incite students to make the trip.

Freshman Team Going.
The entire freshman squad, under the leadership of Coach Farley Young, are also riding the special train. The Husker yearlings have been faithful to the cause during the entire season, affording the varsity excellent scrimmage practice and using enemy formations. They have earned the right to see the Ames game and the athletic department is giving them the trip.

Besides the students, a large number of Cornhusker boosters from Lincoln will be on the train tomorrow morning. There are some who have not missed a game for years and it is safe to say that they will be in the stands at Ames when the whistle blows Saturday afternoon.

The train will pull into Ames about noon tomorrow, just in time for a good lunch before the game.

Special Section for Huskers.
A special section has been reserved for Cornhusker students at the game. Cheerleader Fred Richards will be on hand to lead the Husker rooters and stir up plenty of pep and enthusiasm. The old U-U-U-U-U will boom out from the Nebraska section and over the gridiron with a roar that Ames will not soon forget.

The Corncobs, too, will be in Ames decked in their regalia of scarlet and cream. Several unusual and clever stunts have been planned for the occasion and the Corncobs will take possession of the gridiron between halves.

Elaborate plans for the entertainment of the visiting Cornhuskers have been made by Ames students. Numerous fraternity and sorority dances are scheduled and other attractions to show the Cornhuskers a real time.

The special will leave Ames about 11:30 p. m. on the homeward trip.

LIBRARIAN SPEAKS OF OPPORTUNITIES

Tells Co-eds of Advancement Prospects for Trained College Graduate Women.

Mr. Wier, university librarian, spoke on the topic of Library Work for Girls, at the first of the series of vocational talks, given at Ellen Smith hall Wednesday afternoon under the auspices of the W. S. G. A. Betty Scribner, president of the organization, presided.

He brought out the opportunities for personal service and the use of various tastes and talents in library work. He divided the work into two classes. The internal or first class contained the work of classifying catalogues, work at loan desks and circulation departments, references and book binding and shelving.

The external or second class included the branches or delivery stations, co-operation with schools and children's work, advertising and public relations (Continued on Page Three.)
