FOUR HIGH SCHOOL TEAMS ELIMINATED

Platte game credit the Curtis youngsters with outplaying the Platters, who were backed up against their goal line a good share of the game.

Hartington had little trouble with Bloomfield, winning, 47 to 3. Alma did not play.

As a result of last week's games the undefeated teams in the state are Lincoln, North Platte, Hartington, Alma, Tekamah and Polk.

Take Nine in Row.

Hartington having copped nine victories in a row and confident of ending the season with a perfect slate, has issued a challenge to any team in the state and has served notice that the challengers intend to file a title claim unless this challenge is accepted.

Havelock won the Lincoln suburban title by defeating University Place, 24 to 12, in a warmly contested game on the shootnow gridiron.

Defeat Outside Eleven.

Out-of-state teams found it rather hard sledding last week. Omaha Commerce walked on Council Bluffs, 56 to 0. Neola, another Iowa aggregation, was trimmed by Creighton university high school, 14 to 0. Chester swamper Belleville, Kas., 57 to 6. The McCook Reserves sent the Oberlin, Kas., crew home defeated, 19 to 10.

Bayard won from Scottsbluff, 27 to 14. Friend defeated Seward, 26 to 21. Tucumseh blanked Fairbury, 35 to 0.

The Central City-Hastings game was cancelled because of ineligibility of a number of the Central City players.

Two games and a possible third contest were protested Friday afternoon. Beatrice served notice Saturday morning that it would protest the Lincoln-Beatrice game.

Curtis to Protest.

The Curtis Aggies have announced their intention of protesting the game with North Platte. The North Platte eleven is credited with the long end of a 14 to 10 score.

The play in dispute came when half-back Lofton of the Curtis Aggies received a forward pass, catching the ball upon his shoulder. Lofton was three yards from the goal and, according to Dwight Thomas, Aggie coach, Lofton held the ball on his shoulder with one hand and ran across the goal line. A North Platte lineman tackled Lofton after he had crossed the goal and the Aggie gridster fumbled, a Curtis player recovering the oval.

According to Coach Thomas, the referee and umpire ruled the play a touchdown, but later reversed their decision and declared it to be an incomplete pass.

Broken Bow is considering the matter of protesting the game at Alliance. According to "Jitt" Carr, Broken Bow coach the matter of officials was the subject of dispute.

teaching, and its extension. One who has even named upon himself the name or nature of Christian Science knows that, in the degree his thought is held in obedience to these simple rules, his demonstration is successful.

As the thought of mankind has been lifted up with respect to pure religion and the science of healing, so must it be lifted up with respect to all things, including church, and church government.

REPORT OIL FOUND NEAR RUSHVILLE

A report of the drilling for oil northwest of Rushville, Neb., together with a sample of the oil were received at the office of the conservation and survey division this week. The well is just across the line in South Dakota and the specimen received is high grade oil.

It is not known, however, how strong the well may be—that is, whether or not it has economic importance—and this cannot be told until the water is cased off and deeper drilling is done.

making general claims based on flimsy foundations.

Professor Schneider is a Ph. D. of Columbia university and is also entitled to write M. D. after his name, although not a practitioner of medicine. He was president of the American conference of pharmaceutical faculties in 1913-14. His specialty is botany and pharmacognosy, which he has taught in Northwestern university at Chicago, and in the San Francisco college of pharmacy. At present he is professor of pharmacognosy in the college of pharmacy of the University of Nebraska, Lincoln. Professor Schneider has written a number of standard text books on various topics connected with his specialty, one of the latest being on the Microanalysis of powdered vegetable drugs. He has also written extensively on bacteriology and on microscopy and drawing. His work appears not infrequently in the periodic pharmaceutical literature.

While on the Pacific coast Professor Schneider was engaged in work on sugar beets for a large sugar concern, and also cultivated belladonna on a commercial scale. He was at one time examiner of drugs at the port of San Francisco, and was even appointed to go to a marine station in British Columbia to give instruction in lichenology.

At the recent meeting of the American Pharmaceutical association the Ebert prize for the best paper (of a certain kind) was awarded to Professor Schneider for his treatise presented at the Washington meeting of the association last year, entitled "A General Method for Making Quantitative Microanalysis of Vegetable Drugs and Related Substances," published in the association's journal for Dec., 1920.—Druggists' Circular.

WOMEN'S INTERCOLLEGIATE CONFERENCE IN UTAH NEXT

BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 19.—(P. 1 N. S.) Utah was selected as the meeting place for next year's Women's Intercollegiate conference at the final meeting of the present convention Thursday.

The policies adopted and the decisions made by the women are as follows:

1—That the A. W. S. advocates limited armament and feels that a definite policy should come from the disarmament conference at Washington.

2—That the noblest and highest ideals of womanhood as expressed through mental and spiritual development should be fostered among college women. Provision for this development on the campus should be made.

3—The western conference of deans of women are in sympathy with and offer support to A. W. S. in their efforts to secure adequate funds for their activities.

RECEIVE REPLIES TO RESOLUTIONS

"I shall be surprised and disappointed if this conference does not yield great benefit to the world."

That from Congressman McLaughlin, Fourth Nebraska district:

"I acknowledge receipt of your letter of November 15, with enclosure of resolutions adopted by the faculty and students of the university on the subject of limitation of armaments. I am in complete agreement with the declarations set forth and shall be glad to co-operate here in every way at my command with those who are endeavoring to remove the dangers of war and reach a state of world peace."

That from C. F. Reavis, representative of the First Nebraska district: "I am in receipt of yours of the 15th inst., enclosing resolutions of faculty and student body relative to the conference on limitation of armaments. Of course, I am in hearty sympathy with the purport of the same. I regard the conference as the greatest opportunity for service to humanity that has been presented since the dawn of the Christian era, and anything I can do later as a member of congress to put the program decided upon into effect will be gladly and eagerly done."

That from Robert E. Evans, congressman of the Third Nebraska district:

"Your letter of November 15th, enclosing the resolutions relative to the disarmament conference, at hand. You may be assured that I will do all that I can to aid in this matter."

That from George W. Norris, Nebraska senator:

"Please accept my thanks for furnishing me with a copy of the resolutions adopted by the students, faculty and officers of our state university concerning the proposed limitation of armaments.

"I was more hopeful than I can express with words, that one of the things we might succeed in obtaining as a result of the world war, is a peace that would be enduring. To attain and insure this most desirable condition, we must it seems to me, secure a most binding agreement for disarmament, at least for such a limitation of armament that hereafter wars between nations will be impossible. In view of the fact that all the great nations of the world are deeply in debt, and all the people thereof laboring under almost unbearable burdens of taxation, we would in my judgment, do humanity an immeasurable service by securing at this time, some agreement to limit armament, which agreement should not of course, give the United States the worst of it."

O. W. Underwood sends the following letter from the American delegation at the Washington conference:

"I am in receipt of your letter of November the 15th, 1921, enclosing a copy of a resolution adopted by the students and the faculty of the University of Nebraska, endorsing the purpose of the international conference on the limitation of armament and commending the course of the president in inviting the nations to confer.

"It is encouraging to me, as one of the American delegates, to feel that our purpose and our efforts are so liberally supported by the representative public opinion of the country.

I thank you for bringing the resolution to my attention. Very truly yours.
