HOMECOMING WEEK
means that we all without exception, shall arrange and plan and look forward to entertaining our alumni at the same time. This does not mean that the traditions of any organization need be eliminated. It does mean that we must subordinate our individual interests to those of the university. Can we be larger than the institution which alone makes our existence possible? Can we not by supporting the plan, which is without the shadow of a doubt in the interest of the university, demonstrate that we appreciate the opportunity which the taxpayers, our parents and those of everyone around us are making possible for us? Can we afford to go along without a serious thought as to how it is possible for us to be down here without other expenses than those we see fit to incur personally? Can we afford to go along without a serious thought as to how long this state of affairs will continue if we do not demonstrate our appreciation? The question is before you. Are you willing to acknowledge that the opportunities you are being offered are not worthy of some sacrifice? With a little clear thinking there can be but one answer.

Write Your Alumni.
"To get down to details it is not necessary that any fraternity or sorority sacrifice its founders' day tradition. Make that an undergraduate tradition. Let your alumni know thru the columns of your news letter, at once, that you are arranging a homecoming for them at a time when they may see their friends from every other organization. They will approve. Your alumni will be back of any plan which is for the good of the university. As for the means of entertaining them at commencement, you will bear in mind that the one thing that brings them back is not the thought of the banquet table, but the possibility of being with their friends again, the details of entertainment should not be difficult to work out. Certainly none of us are willing to acknowledge that we have not within our ranks a committee as ingenious in the arrangement of these details as exists in the ranks of those schools where this plan is now in successful operation.

Only Tentative Program Now.
"As for the general program of entertainment—the one suggested is but tentative. It was arranged with the idea that we wished to be real hosts and hostesses to all those who return and it was evolved from the combined suggestions of undergraduates and former students. It is, however, subject to the decision of the executive committee and may be rearranged if for the best interest of the main plan.
"The student committee is in the process of formation and will be announced later. Suffice to say that it is being selected without regard to political affiliations or personal prejudice. When completed it will not only represent every organized body and those unidentified in organizations but it will also have the proper proportion which the registration in each college warrants. This large student committee will be represented in the meeting with the faculty and alumni committees by an executive group in order that a small central organization may assume the actual responsibilities for its success.
"As is outlined above this is the plan which the senior mens organization has seen fit to endorse. Only 100 per cent enthusiasm and support of this plan can make it a success. If it is worth any consideration from the standpoint of the university it is worth sacrifice on the part of all of us as individuals. Take this into your own meetings and demonstrate by your decision that you are not willing to stand apart when a call is sounded to support a plan which will mean a greater Nebraska university.

"If, however, you have a single reservation—if you have any question or any suggestion concerning alumni week you will find the alumni office open to receive you all day long and a secretary who is anxious to know the undergraduates as well as the graduates and exceedingly anxious to show you how this little office may assist you in a hundred different ways while you are on the campus.
In the big things let us all be for Nebraska.
HAROLD F. HOLTZ,
Alumni Secretary.

DR. R. J. POOL DELIVERS ADDRESS AT WAHOO TODAY
Dr. R. J. Pool, chairman of the department of botany, will deliver an illustrated lecture before an open public meeting of the women's club of Wahoo today. The subject of the lecture is "Out of Doors—Out West." While in Wahoo Dr. Pool will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Lehmkul, former students at the university.

UNI. PLAYERS SHOW TO CROWDED HOUSE
Mr. Yenne and Miss Burt played the characters of the lovers, Florizel and Peidita with the greatest ease. The rest of the cast which included Mildred Gollman, Marian Richardson, Esther Marshall, Katherine Matchett, Richard Day, Byron Jingley, Mr. Lindquist, John Dawson, Stoddard Robinson, Eomun Nuss and Theodore Metcalfe.
The scenic effects were especially attractive. An efficient stage manager in the person of C. L. Coombs accounted for their success. Although it is seldom realized a great deal of the time and effort of the production of a play depends upon the settings, and Mr. Coombs is certainly to be congratulated upon the results he has obtained in this play.
The plot on the whole is excellent and no one can afford to miss it. The credit of production is given to Mr. Holme, the director, who has lived up to all that has been said of him with the result of an extraordinary pleasing production. There is still two more nights, Dec. 9 and 10. Tickets are on sale at Ross P. Curtice Music Store, 1249 O street.

Change of Name Sale at Carl's saves some of the fellows 15 to 25 per cent on their clothes.

Marriages.
A wedding of interest to University students was that of George Craven and Helen L. Hughes. The ceremony was performed on Saturday, December 3 at Belville, Kan. Miss Hughes is a senior in the college of business administration. Mr. Craven is a senior in the law college, and a member of Phi Alpha Delta.
Mr. Craven started for Kansas with the avowed purpose of taking some depositions in a legal matter. On returning he admitted that instead he had executed a most important contract, and distributed many handfuls of cigars.
