NO SENIOR MANAGING EDITOR YET SELECTED

Competitive System for Freshmen Editors and Art Staff is Instituted.

Out of one hundred and fifty applications, editor-in-chief Ward M. Randol has finally selected his editorial staff for the 1922 Cornhusker. It has been a very difficult task to examine all of the applications and ascertain the eligibility of all the applicants. A few of the major appointments have already been announced, such as the advisory board and the college editors.

The editor states that no senior managing editor will be announced until next semester. A number of reasons prevent such an announcement at the present time.

The appointments announced yesterday are as follows:

The freshman editors will be placed on a competitive basis and the freshman doing the best work will be given the position of freshman editor and recommended for a staff position next year.

The copy editors constitute one of the important departments of the staff. They will edit and type all of the copy and have charge of other routine office work. They will be directly under the supervision of the editor.

The competitive system will also be used with the art staff. The student who produces the best work and shows the greatest interest will be made staff chairman.

No chairman is announced for the student life section. The editor will directly oversee this department.

N MEN ATTENTION.
There will be initiation by the N club of all letter men today at 2 p. m., at the armory.

ALUMNI SLOGAN CONTEST RESULTS ANNOUNCED SOON

Judges in the alumni slogan contest which ended at 6 o'clock last night were unable to select the best slogan in a short meeting held Saturday evening. Announcement of the prize winner will be ready in time for the Daily Nebraskan issue of Tuesday afternoon.

On Opening Night Fraternity Men Plan to Crowd the Second Balcony.

More than a score of university students are included in the cast for the annual Shriner's Follies which are to be given at the Orpheum theater Monday and Tuesday evenings of this week. The Chicago Musical Co. (The Joe Bren Co.), which is directing the productions has promised one of the snappiest performances of the season.

Special efforts are being made to have the fraternity men attend in a body Monday evening and to have them massed in the second balcony. "A regular old time gang in the 'coop' on the opening night is what we are looking for," said one of the Shriners yesterday.

Among the students who are scheduled to appear in the follies are the following:

- Lucille Johnson, Lois Melton, Frances Burt, Hope Ross, Imogene Evans, Elizabeth Scribner, Ruth Brown, Marion Follmer, Ruth North, Myrtle Carpenter, Zita Haly, Betty Condon, Isabel Evans, Eleanor Tarbot, Dorothy Payne, Hallie Hunt, Edith Replege, Nine York, Hallie Minor, Gorge Dorey, Richard Kimball, Oliver Adams, Waldon Howel, Monroe Gleason, Dean Lowrey, Crawford Follmer.
- Among the Lincoln Shriners who will play leading roles in the follies are the following well known in university circles:

DELEGATES RETURN FROM CONVENTION

Nebraska Representative Attends National Meet of Scabbard and Blade.

The national convention of Scabbard and Blade, honorary military fraternity was held at East Lansing, Michigan, last week. The delegate from C company of the Third regiment, at Nebraska reports that the convention was a decided success, every company being represented except one, which was accounted for by a confusion of the dates of the convention.

The arrangements made for entertaining the delegates were very elaborate. The chapter at the Michigan Agricultural College entertained the convention this year. Several smokers and a formal dance were given for the officers.

Petitions for seven new chapters were granted by the convention. The schools in which the chapters will be installed are Vermont University, Maryland University, Gettysburg College, Lehigh University, North Carolina University, Utah Agricultural College, and North Dakota Agricultural College.

National officers for Scabbard and Blade were elected and the national organization was changed to meet the demands of rapid growth. The regiments were organized into brigades. The constitution was also revised.

The next national convention will be held in 1924 at the University of Illinois at Champagne, Ill. Competition was very keen between several schools as to who should entertain the next national gathering.

The claims of several schools were strongly presented and the claims were supported by invitations from the city organizations. Illinois University was finally decided upon because of its central location and excellent railway connections.

BASKETBALL TEAM MEETS WISCONSIN

Husker Cage Quintet To Meet Badgers at Madison On January 4th.

GARMAN DISLOCATES ELBOW IN PRACTICE

Veteran Player May Be Laid Up For Over a Month With His Injury.

The Cornhusker basket ball quintet will meet Wisconsin at Madison on January 4 in what will probably be the official opening of the 1921-22 season for the Scarlet and Cream athletes. Director Luehring officially announced late yesterday afternoon that the Nebraska squad would meet the Badgers right after the holidays.

Carman Injured.
The Nebraska cage squad received a severe blow Friday evening when Frank Carman, one of last year's letter men, received a dislocated elbow during practice. The injury will probably keep Carman out of the game the remainder of the semester and will greatly hamper the prospects of the basket ball squad.

Carman is a three letter man, winning his letter in basket ball, track and baseball in the same semester. Coach Frank had expected to use him at either a guard or forward on the Varsity quintet. The injury will not effect his pitching or javelin throwing this spring since the injured arm is his left one.

Captain Austin Smith came down from Omaha over the week end and worked with the Varsity crew both Friday and Saturday. Coach Frank is fairly well satisfied with the showing made by the Varsity men thus far but can see a lot of chance for improvement. The contest with the Wisconsin Badgers should furnish a good opportunity to determine the strength of the 1921-22 aggregation. Reports from Wisconsin indicate that the Badgers have a strong combination this year and Coach Meaningwell has had his men working for a number of weeks on the court.

Coach Frank is endeavoring to arrange a number of practice games for the coming week and during the holidays for the Varsity quintet. Coach John Pickett of the Frosh squad is bringing his proteges into shape in speedy time and will probably pit the yearlings against the Varsity most of this week. The Frosh aggregation are showing up in great form in their pre-season workouts and should furnish first class competition for the Varsity performers.

KINDERGARTEN CLUB ENTERTAINS CHILDREN

Thirty little children from the state home for dependent children and the detention home were entertained Friday afternoon at the teachers' college by the Kindergarten club at a Christmas party.

The children were allowed to choose the games which they played, and the following program was given:

- Song, "Santa Will Come Tonight"—Peg Stidworthy.
- Story, "Little Boy's Visit to Santa"—Grace Stiff.
- Song, "Jingle Bells"—All children.
- Story, "Mrs. Santa Claus"—Myra Lunner.
- Story, "Golden Cobweb"—Isabel Pearsall.

Santa Claus appeared at the close of the program gave a present to each delighted youngster.

This party is an annual affair and is as much looked forward to by the Kindergarten club members as by the children of these institutions.

paper to print the Camp selections. Cornhusker students are thus afforded the first opportunity of reading the biggest football feature of the year. Camps teams are recognized as the official all-American.

The following telegram, authorizing the release of the story in a 1 o'clock edition, was received Friday:

"Orvin B. Gaston, Managing Editor, Daily Nebraskan, Lincoln, Nebr.—Camp story released afternoon papers 1 o'clock, December 20 O. K. Managing Editor, Collier's Weekly."

Are any Nebraska men on the team, did you say? Wait until Tuesday.

STUDENTS DECIDE VACATION SYSTEM

One Day Thanksgiving Vacation With Longer Christmas Holiday is Endorsed.

REGISTRATION IN STATE FAIR WEEK

Outline of 1922-23 Recesses Voted on at Polls Friday Morning and Afternoon.

By a vote of nearly ten to one, students of the University of Nebraska Friday afternoon endorsed the plan of the faculty calling for one day vacation at Thanksgiving with eight days at Christmas, for the calendar year of 1922-23.

They also voted favorably for the plan of having two days of registration during the week of the state fair. This will enable school to start earlier and will allow a longer vacation in the spring.

Omaha students voted heavily for the three days at Thanksgiving while Lincoln students came to the aid of students from out in the state who favor the longer Christmas holidays. Most Lincoln students felt that it made no difference to them which of the two plans was adopted but they believed that the most of the students would be benefitted by the one day at Thanksgiving plan.

Insure Football Crowd.
The action of the students Friday in endorsing the one day Thanksgiving vacation will insure a record crowd at the turkey day football contest next year. The Nebraska Cornhuskers battle Notre Dame gridiron machine on Nebraska field at that time in one of the most important games of the Nebraska schedule. At the Thanksgiving day game this year, the student section was practically all filled up with non-university people who had purchased tickets from the students who went home.

The plan of registering during the state fair week will enable students to attend the annual state exhibit the first week in September and attend to their first semester registering at the same time. Students voted heavily for the two days of registration during the fair.

With the action of the students Friday, Nebraska showed that it wishes to stack up well with eastern schools. There can be but twelve holidays throughout the school year if the high standing is to be maintained, eastern educators say, and the students of the Cornhusker institute voiced very strongly in favor of the high standing which Nebraska deserved with the eastern schools.

SIGMA XI WILL HEAR PROFESSOR DE BAUFRE

Professor DeBaufre will discuss the production of helium from natural gas by the liquefaction process. He will also take up the work of the government in helium production during the war and the importance of securing helium in quantity for airships.

The meeting of the society is open to the public. Non-members are welcome.

NEBRASKA TO MEET SOUTH DAKOTA TEAM

Coyotes To Journey To Lincoln Oct. 7, 1922 To Open Grid Season.

Possibility For Football Contest With Harvard Is Now Announced.

The 1922 Cornhusker football schedule went another notch nearer its completion Friday when Director Luehring announced that the Nebraska eleven would meet the South Dakota Coyotes on the local field October 7, 1922.

The Huskers did not meet the South Dakota eleven this year but defeated them here a year ago. South Dakota had a good record this season and defeated some of the best teams in this part of the country. The Husker calendar now has five contests on the list. The South Dakota contest will probably be the first game of the season for the Scarlet and Cream athletes.

Games with Kansas, Oklahoma, and Ames in the Missouri Valley will come later in the season and as a grand finale, Notre Dame will journey to Lincoln for a Turkey day contest. The "Fighting Irishmen" have been considerably weakened by rulings of the Notre Dame athletic authorities on account of professionals and also by graduation. The Thanksgiving day game with the Rockne warriors should furnish one of the greatest drawing cards in the history of the school. Previous to this time the Huskers have met the Notre Dame eleven earlier in the season.

Whether Nebraska will have a chance to meet Harvard or not will depend upon the possibility of the Crimson school having an open date on their schedule. Harvard has had no definite answer on a proposed Harvard-California as yet and will probably hold out on the Husker school until something definite has been heard from the Pacific coast champions.

PI PHI CHAPERONE DIES IN ACCIDENT

Mrs. Adelaide Eberly Almost Instantly Killed When Struck by Street Car Friday.

Mrs. Adelaide Eberly, for five years house mother of Pi Beta Phi sorority, was killed at 5:45 Friday afternoon at Fourteenth and G streets. Adrain Lewis and Ralph Fletcher, university students, claim to have seen a northbound Fourteenth street car strike Mrs. Eberly, knocking her to the pavement.

Lewis and Fletcher carried Mrs. Eberly into the C. A. Robbins home, 1334 G street, and then stopped a Ford automobile going north and sent it after the street car. The names of the two men in the automobile have not been revealed. Gus Dahlburg, motorman of the street car which was stopped at Twenty-first and O streets, denies that his car struck Mrs. Eberly. He says he saw no one crossing the street when his car passed the corner.

Mrs. Eberly had gone to the grocery store and the girls at the house were waiting for her. When she did not return they went out to look for her and heard of the accident. The identity of Mrs. Eberly was established when members of the sorority viewed the body. An inquest may be held.

COMMITTEES OUT FOR ALUMNI WEEK

Harold Holtz Announces Names of Students for Big Homecoming Event.

FACULTY, ALUMNI AND STUDENTS REPRESENTED

Plans for Bringing Former Students Back in June Are Developed.

Committees for Alumni week were announced yesterday by Harold F. Holtz, secretary of the alumni. Every organization on the campus is represented on the committees. In selecting the students a method was followed in which politics had no bearing. First the heads of the various departments were asked for the names of five students whom they considered to be best qualified. Then selection was made from this list in such manner that every organization should have its representative. Finally at a joint meeting of the committees of the faculty and alumni the list was checked up and slightly revised.

The general executive committee was selected at this meeting. On account of the large number on the committee list, it was necessary to choose a small number who could meet and work together.
