

STUDENTS GIVE $5,600 TO WESLEY FOUNDATION

Methodist students and members of the faculty of the University of Nebraska have subscribed $5,600 to the Wesley foundation for this university, according to figures given out Wednesday evening by the committee in charge of the drive for funds. Of this amount Kappa Phi, girls' Methodist club pledged $2,300. The purpose of the foundation is to extend and improve religious work among Methodist students on the campus.

VOCATIONAL MEN IN BUSINESS COLLEGE

Forty-five vocational training students are now taking courses in business training at the Lincoln Business College. The courses as offered in the college are featured mainly by work such as would actually be required in a business office. The men are taught courses ranging from business management to bookkeeping and receive instruction in theory as well as in practice.

A Veterans' club has been organized by the men in the Lincoln Business College. The club has a charter membership of forty members. An initiation was held recently and eight new men were received into the club. The club is open for membership not only to the vocational training boys but to men who have served in any military capacity.
