

CLUB OPPOSES CUT IN APPROPRIATIONS

Pathfinders Pass Resolution Opposing Withdrawal of Fund for Gymnasium.

Feeling that University of Nebraska athletics would suffer if the special session of the state legislature withdraws the appropriation for the memorial gymnasium, the members of the Pathfinder club, recently organized civic organization of the city of Lincoln, Wednesday noon, passed a resolution urging that the appropriation be not taken away.

The men felt that the athletic activities of the university were of such vital importance and the need of a new athletic building so great that it would be injurious to the university to hold up the building.

The appropriation for the memorial gymnasium is a large item in the half million dollar reduction in university expenses proposed by Governor McKelvie in his address to the legislators. More than $300,000 of the total of a million dollars which is to be put into the gymnasium has already been raised and there is now an outstanding appropriation allowed by the last session of the legislature which will add to the amount. This last appropriation which will be collected in 1922 is the one which the governor would have the solons withdraw as a part of a proposed $2,000,000 saving in state expenses.

PROGRAM FOR CITY HOSPITAL AT TEMPLE

Nebraska Professor Will Conduct Trip Thru Europe During Coming Summer.

An interesting program for the benefit of the city hospital is that to be given at Temple theater on February 9 by Mrs. Lura Schuyler Smith and Carl-Frederic Steckelberg. It is seldom that Lincoln people have the fortune to hear Mrs. Smith and Mr. Steckelberg, and it is an opportunity of advantage.

The program will consist of several selections of famous composers. Aside from the great enjoyment to be derived from such an evening, there is the added thought that each ticket bought is aiding, in its way, the city hospital fund. Everyone realizes the necessity of such a fund and should be willing to help.

Reserved seats go on sale February 2 at the Ross P. Curtice Co. Special student tickets at 25 cents may be purchased now at the school of music.

Mummy Draws Big Crowds To Fourth Floor Of Museum

One Egyptian mummy on the fourth floor of the university museum goes a long way towards making that institution interesting to the public in general. That mummy, together with the commoner breeds of Indian mummies, creates so much interest that the crowd goes first to the fourth floor to view the last remains and then takes in the novelties of the lower levels on the way down.

"Do you suppose that that is a real one," asked one elderly gentleman of his wife, "I read in a magazine how they're manufacturing those things by the dozen out of straw and stuff."

"Of course it is," answered the spouse, "everything in here is real, that's why it's here."

"Well, I bet that cloth isn't what they found on him."

"It is too, didn't I just tell you that everything in here is guaranteed?"

"Anyway, I guess when he was buried he didn't ever think that some day he would come clear over here in Nebraska."

"Look here," said his wife, now gazing at a humped up Indian ancient, "don't that look just like a young man, as plain as day?"

"And there's two babies," supplemented her husband.

"Oh, let's get out of here. I'll dream of this for a week."

So they went to view the birds and beasts and rocks of strange design, leaving the deceased to be shuddered at by others.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU FINDS WORK FOR MEN

The university employment bureau has placed approximately twenty students in the past week at odd and permanent work. The bureau is under the direction of Wm. G. Aistad and is located in Professor A. J. Reed's office in the Temple building. Students are urged to keep in close touch with the bureau because a great deal of odd work is reported by Lincoln business men. Restaurants are asking for considerable help and all students who have experience in that line are pretty sure to be located at once. Students are urged to call at the bureau as often as it is convenient because work is being reported at all hours of the day.

FORMALDEHYDE FIGHTS BADGER FARM ENEMIES

"Beware of smut in your seed oats for this spring sowing," warns R. E. Vaughn, plant pathologist at the college of agricultural, University of Wisconsin.

"We recommend a thorough treatment of seed oats with formaldehyde, about one pound to thirty bushels of the oats. This may be applied by spraying, dipping, or the machine method. Soaking the oats in a water solution of formaldehyde is the most thorough treatment. Formaldehyde kills the smut, and by using it on your seed oats you will insure a good crop next summer."

NEW MEMBER APPOINTED FOR Y. W. C. A. CABINET

David Van Gilder, '23, has been appointed to the Y. W. C. A. cabinet in place of Madeline Hendricks, '22, who was forced to give up the work because of her health. Miss Van Gilder will have charge of vespers committee. She is a member of Gamma Phi Beta.

REV. AINSLIE TO TALK TO STUDENTS AND FACULTY

Rev. Peter Ainslie of Baltimore will address the students and faculty at a 6 o'clock dinner given at the Grand hotel tonight. Mr. Ainslie is here in the interest of the Society of International Good Will and Christian Unity, and the subject of his address will be "International Good Will."

Rev. Mr. Ainslie was a member of the Hague peace conference in 1919. He is now a trustee of the Carnegie Church Peace Union and the editor of the Church Union quarterly. The dinner has been provided for at the nominal price of 50 cents—no tickets need be arranged for in advance.

W. S. G. A. CONTEST WINNERS ENTERTAINED

The W. S. G. A. is an organization for every woman in school. Those who did not have the opportunity to become active members during the drive the first semester, at which time over eight hundred women joined, may have the same chance for membership this semester. Dues are 50 cents. Margaret Stidworthy is chairman of the membership committee.

DEBATERS PREPARE FOR FIRST CONTEST

(Continued from page 1.) A preliminary Bibliography 1 is ready for distribution at U. 112, Prof. M. M. Foggs office, from 9 to 10, 2 to 3, and 4 to 5 o'clock Friday. This material is, for the present, at the reserve desk. Students who get copies of it will leave certain biographical information concerning themselves.

The intercollegiate debate bulletin card is on the first floor university hall. The argumentation and debate seminary room, U. 106-A, is being cleared for action.

HUSKER WRESTLERS MEET AMES TODAY

The vacancy in the heavyweight position has been filled by Renner. Pucelik dislocated his shoulder in the Indiana meet, and is out for the season. Pucelik's loss caused keen disappointment among Husker mat fans, who hoped to see him wrestle "Polly" Wallace, all-American in football, and western conference heavyweight champ in wrestling.

Outside of the heavyweight, Renner, the Nebraska lineup will be the same as that defeated by Indiana a week ago. The lineup is as follows: 115 pound, Whealy; 125 pound, Pickwell; 135 pound, Isaacson; 145 pound, Thomas; 158 pound, Reed; 175 pound, Troutman, and heavyweight, Renner.

Cyclone Team Strong

The Cyclone team, which has lost but one dual meet in five years, is a powerful aggregation. The Ames team is composed mainly of veterans, who fill six out of the seven places on the team. The Cyclone school opened the season last Saturday by defeating Indiana 50 to 0, the Ames grapplers winning every match.

The Ames team is captained by Dickerson, a 115 pounder, and a wrestler of outstanding ability. "Polly" Wallace, heavyweight, is the other big noise of Coach Maysters crew. Wallace was an all-American football man, and western conference champion in the heavyweight division last year.

ALUMNI BACKING EDDY MEETINGS

Sherwood Eddy is a western man. He was born in Kansas, was graduated from Yale university and took post-graduate work at Princeton. Eddy specialized in civil engineering during his college course, but as some one has aptly put it, "Eddy turned from civil engineering to the great task of human engineering." He is equally interested in science, in philosophy, in literature, and big game shooting, on account of which he has often been compared to Theodore Roosevelt. But his central purpose is clear. His purpose is to lead the young men and women of the colleges of every continent from the lower ambitions of a crude materialism to a high faith in God and in humanity. And this is the prime object of the Eddy meetings at Nebraska, February 8, 9 and 10.
