Friday

11 a. m.—Convocation at St. Paul's church.

8 p. m.—Final address by Mr. Eddy at St. Paul's church.

Sherwood Eddy meetings begin tomorrow morning at 11 a. m. in St. Paul's church. With the coming of the internationally-famed student leader to the Nebraska campus but one day off, an increasing amount of interest is being shown by the students in the great thoughts which Mr. and Mrs. Eddy hope to drive home in their lectures Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week.

The executive committee which has been working for some months on the arrangements for the convocations has told of enthusiastic reports from the student, faculty and alumni groups interested in the success of the meetings and wishes to call to the attention of every student two things at the outset. First they desire that every one realize that Eddy is here for a serious purpose, to bring a straight-forward rational faith adequate to the needs of the present day. They are asking that the students take the meetings with serious thought. In addition, the committee members are stressing the fact that students are requested to attend all of the meetings as Mr. Eddy will work his lectures into one large central theme.

Mr. Eddy has not announced his subject for the Wednesday morning meeting but will choose the one which he considers best fitted to the occasion. The official program calls for six general meetings for all University students. The co-eds will hear Mrs. Eddy Thursday afternoon at a special vespers service and the students on the agricultural campus have a special meeting on the morning of the same day.

Definite announcement of the name of the professors who will excuse students from their 11 o'clock classes to attend the Thursday and Friday morning convocations will be made in tomorrow's edition of the Daily Nebraskan. Arrangements have been made so that upperclassmen and women may attend the Wednesday and Thursday evening meetings. Friday evening has been declared closed to all university social functions, so the committee feels that every obstacle in the way of preventing students from hearing the Eddy lectures has been removed. Mr. Eddy has just finished a series of meetings at the Southern Methodist university at Dallas, Texas. Reports from there indicate that Mr. Eddy has stirred up the same serious discussions and the worthwhile ideas that have been so characteristic of his meetings at other colleges both in the United States and in Europe and Asia.

Prayer groups organized in the various sections of the town and the central prayer meetings held twice a week for the past two or three weeks have laid a foundation for the thesis which will be presented beginning tomorrow. At the same time that Eddy accepted the call to come to Nebraska he not only declared that all other student meetings must be laid aside during his stay but he maintained that effective meetings could not be held without adequate preparation in the form of prayer.

Sherwood Eddy, who has labored for twenty-three years in Christian service in all parts of the world and who has not received one cent of salary for his work, is coming to Nebraska with the same spirit. He serves without pay and has absolutely no monetary aims in connection with it. He is coming here, as one member of the committee has said, "to present Jesus Christ as the solution for the dissatisfied indifferent changing aspect of the world."

Arrangements for the admission of students of other colleges to the meetings have not been completed. The undergraduates of several of the institutions around Lincoln have been clamoring for the privilege of hearing Eddy speak and will be given preference over the people outside of the university in the convocations at St. Paul's church. Alumni have become interested in the meetings and each fraternity and sorority house has been visited by some graduate in the interests of the program of lectures. Indications point toward record breaking crowds for all of the meetings as the organizations have endorsed the plans and the purposes for which the meetings are being held. One hundred per cent attendance has been pledged by many.

LINCOLN HIGH GRADS HOLD ANNUAL REUNION

Members of the class of 1919 of Lincoln high school are planning a reunion to be held early in March. A meeting of a group of the members was held Friday afternoon when some preliminary plans were made and the following committees appointed:

THE WORK OF SHERWOOD EDDY

The work of Sherwood Eddy for the last twenty-five years is known equally in the student worlds of Asia, Europe and America. Mr. Eddy is a western man, born in Kansas. He is a graduate of Yale and was a post-graduate student at Princeton.

His travel for years among American colleges has acquainted him with all phases of American student life. Those at the student volunteer movement convention at Des Moines in 1919, will remember his breaking away from the subject assigned him on the far east to grapple fearlessly with the big social problems confronting America and the students of today. They will recall the 1,500 students who went to a neighboring building to ask questions of Mr. Eddy and how, for two hours, he replied in the rapid-fire of his frank and fearless answers on the moral, religious, social, industrial and political problems of the day.

His more than twenty years' experience among the students and leading men of Asia and his work among followers of an of the world's great faiths and religions, as well as among students under the spell of materialism and skepticism in Europe, has broadened his vision and sympathy for men. Although for many years in the orient, he is a modern man in every sense of the word. In the intervals of his intense activity among students of India and his work for the depressed classes, he occasionally took a week off for big game shooting in the elephant and tiger jungles.

Mr. Eddy is a layman and a civil engineer who left his special profession to turn to human engineering as the greatest calling in life. Equally interested, like Theodore Roosevelt, in science, philosophy, literature and big game shooting, he is most of all interested in men. His recent study of the social and industrial problems in Europe brought him into contact with the employers, labor leaders, and the young intellectuals who are seeking a practical solution to the problems that confront America today.

Although his interests cover many phases of life, it is not at the cost of superficiality, for in his life and message he strikes clearly and with no uncertain sound a deep spiritual note, as he grapples with the problems of the modern world, and calls men from the lower ambitions of a crude materialism to a high faith in God and humanity. With Tolstoid, he believes he has found "the meaning of life." In a unique way he has a message for the college men of America, summed up as follows:

Challenges to American Students.

- 1—The challenge of the present world situation.
- 2—The challenge of the social and industrial problem.
- 3—The challenge of present moral issues.
- 4—The challenge of a rational faith for the modern man.

UNIVERSITY NIGHT TO BE FEATURE AFFAIR

1922 Annual Fun Fest to be in Complete Charge of J. Wilbur Wolfe.

University Night, the annual stunt night of the year will be with us again February 18th. The first University Night program was held on February 1th, 1911, under the direction of Verne Bates who was a member of the social committee of the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Bates is now a member of the Board of Regents so we presume that the first event was under the direction of a very capable man.

The first skits were put on by the University Band, Regimental Cadets, Glee Club, Music Society, Dramatic Club and the Fraternity Minstrels. A few remarks were made by Professor Caldwell in which he predicted that University Night would in the course of time be what it is today—the biggest event during the school year. Ever since University Night has grown and its memories have stayed with those who graduate from year to year.

In the year 1919, Harold Holtz was chairman of the committee and the skits were staged by the various colleges and organizations. The laws and Engineers had very fine skits and the commercial club and Sigma Delta Chi also participated in the program. Under the able hand of Harold Holtz University Night took a big leap forward and began to assume the garb of the present day organization.

WENKE DECLARED ELIGIBLE TO RUN

Not Guilty of Violating Spirit of Rule Says Investigation Committee.

The University of Nebraska committee on eligibility at a special meeting held late yesterday afternoon declared Adolph Wenke eligible to participate in student activities, inasmuch as he had not violated the spirit of the Missouri Valley conference rule regarding professionalism in athletics. Accordingly Wenke's name will go before the students in today's election as a candidate for editor-in-chief of the Cornhusker.

Wenke, along with John Pucelik and Clarence Swanson had been declared ineligible to participate in any athletics or activities until a complete investigation of his case could be made. He was charged with playing a game of football with an American Legion team at Tecumseh on December 3.

No further action was taken by the committee in regard to the cases of Pucelik and Swanson. Swanson has graduated and consequently cannot be affected by the decision. Pucelik was a candidate for senior president in the election being held today but the decision of the eligibility committee prevents his name from appearing on the ballot.

POLLS OPEN AT 9 FOR WHAT MAY DEVELOP INTO HEATED ELECTION

Candidates all Picked and Politicians Primed for Battle of Votes Today—Factions Hold Mass Meetings Monday Night to Boost Men.

PLATFORMS TO FORM IMPORTANT PART IN THE POLITICAL ARGUMENT

Much Effort Being Put Into the Contest—Non-fraternity Vote to Have an Unusual Importance—Polls Will Close at Five O'clock in Afternoon.

SENIOR CLASS

For President: Eugene D. Ebersole
For Ivy Day Orator: Kenneth McCandless
Eugene Dornbaugh

JUNIOR CLASS

For President: Carl Adams
J. Wilbur Wolf
For Editor-in-Chief of Cornhusker: Adolph Wenke
Frank Belser
For Publication Board: Joseph Noh
Eugene Philbrick

SOPHOMORE CLASS

For President: Harry Frye
For Business Manager of Cornhusker: Audley Sullivan
Howard Turner
For Junior Managing Editor of Cornhusker: Reed Reynolds
John Hollingsworth
For Publication Board: Paul Simon

FRESHMAN CLASS

For President: Wendell Berge
For Publication Board: Raymond Tottenhoff
Ronald Button

Polls for what gives promise of proving the most interesting election in the history of the University of Nebraska will open at 9 o'clock this morning and run continuously until 5 o'clock. Balloting is expected to exceed that of the last fall election when more votes were cast than in any election in many years. Only thirty freshmen failed to vote in that election.

Polls will be located in the carpenter shop north of U hall on the city campus. Polls will also be maintained at the state agricultural college. Students having classes at the agricultural college on Tuesdays will have to cast their votes there as their names have been transferred to the Ag. roster.

Politicians are working hard for both sides. The greater Nebraska backers and the all-University workers were busy most of Sunday afternoon boosting for their candidates. Improvised bands and orchestras accompanied the political bands about their beats and sorority houses and dormitories were busy all day listening to the qualifications of the candidates.

Little Rough Work Expected.

Little of the rough work characteristic of university elections is expected in the Tuesday contest. Candidates and politicians are expected to keep away from the physical catching of votes and to allow students to go about the duty of voting peacefully.

The vote of the university co-eds is expected to play a vital part in the election. The meeting Monday night of university men and women was well attended and candidates were received loudly. The co-eds are expected to cast their ballots for merit rather than for the man and this is the basis on which the two distinctly different parties are working. Three candidates have already won their contests. Wendell Berge, for freshman president; Paul Simon, for publication board, and Harry Frye for sophomore class president have been endorsed on both the greater Nebraska and all-university tickets and will enter the fight without opposition.

Platforms Much Advertised.

The new and important part which the party platforms in playing in the election this semester is seen from the large amount of advertising which the parties are giving to that phase. Candidates have been found to endorse these platforms and if the planks are followed out the University of Nebraska should benefit materially from the newer political interest.

Not only is the introduction of a definite platform of importance in the election, but candidates have been chosen with more care than is characteristic of university politics. In the past little has been paid to elections other than insofar as winning them goes. This year, however, the candidates which have been chosen are all well known to university students and can well afford to stand on their past records.

HOM ECONOMICS GIRLS TAKE PART IN ATHLETICS

Interest and promotion of athletics for the home economics women on Ag. college campus will take a long stride forward with the initial basketball game of history next Saturday afternoon between the home Ec. freshmen women and the senior team of the school of agriculture. Two teams of school of Ag. senior girls compete Friday afternoon in the gymnasium in machinery hall for the championship of the school of agriculture. The winners of this contest will be the opponents of a team of freshmen college women who are taking their physical education on the Ag. college campus this year. Because it is the first game of the kind ever participated in by home Ec. women does not detract from the interest shown by the Ag. college students as a body in this game, as this is another move toward the "more athletics and greater college unity" program that was started at the last college convocation. Hurray for the women, Ag. college is backing them, win or lose.

GRADUATE FELLOWSHIPS ARE OPEN TO WOMEN

A list of graduate fellowships open to women, prepared by the appointment bureau and library of women's education and industry, is in the library and information may be secured from the reference librarian.

Some of the subjects in which fellowships are offered are agriculture, anatomy, business and commerce, education, home economics, languages, literature and sociology.

A list of the schools include Cornell, Columbia, Bryn Mawr, University of Wisconsin and University of California. The amount given for the fellowships vary from $100 to $1,000.
