KOSMET TRYOUTS FOR ANNUAL PLAY COME NEXT WEEK

February 28 and March 1 Set as Dates For Students to Compete.

CAST FOR "THE MATCH MAKERS" SOON SELECTED

Leading Characters and Choruses to be Picked on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Announcement by the play committee of the Kosmet Klub that tryouts for the annual production of the members will be held Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week, was made Tuesday evening. No place for the tryouts has been selected but it will be announced within a short time.

All university students are eligible to try out for the leading parts and for the choruses of the musical comedy, "The Match Makers" which the club is sponsoring at the Orpheum theater on the evening of May 1. Two nights are given over to the tryouts so that all talent may be judged. In this way the committee which selects the cast hopes to have not only one of the best suited casts in the long history of Kosmet plays but one which will truly represent student life and campus organizations at Nebraska.

No advance notice is necessary in order that students try out the first part of next week but the committee is making the announcement at this time, they explain, in order that those who are already planning to try for a part may arrange their programs to be able to come either Monday or Tuesday evenings. In case some cannot come wither night, some arrangements may possibly be made by notifying members of the committee in charge.

Letters from other colleges where honorary dramatic societies of men similar to the Kosmet Klub are established, state that many of the organizations are busy planning their year's production. At some of the institutions where the clubs have been founded for a long time, the plays are not only given to the student body but are shown in many of the big eastern cities before great audiences. The 1921 production of the Kosmet Klub, "The Most Prime Minister," which was written by Kosmet men, has attracted considerable notice from the eastern clubs.

Already some of the musical hits of the 1922 show are being played, and the committee is working to surpass the quality of all previous performances.

Mr. Campbell's address is 1236 North State street, Chicago, Ill.

Bronze Name Plate Returned To Girls Of Alpha Delta Pi

The capability of the university military corps for active service is much greater than is generally known—not only are the uniforms of the cadets at hand but there are also military supplies of every kind commonly issued to infantry troops and some that are given to men in other branches of the service. Some two thousand tested rifles with cartridges head the list of weapons. Then in a long list covering the pages of a small book come the rest. Everything is included, from buttons to canteens, and all are in first rate condition. Five thousand shoes are marked down somewhere on this list. The shoes are "calf and all" between new and old. The new are being shipped back and the old will be sold at public auction in the middle of March.

Equipment Of Military Corps At Nebraska University Large

Alpha Delta Pi girls are feeling real jubilant today. Their bronze name plate has been returned. However they are still in the dark as to who took said plate last December the 22 or whom returned it Sunday. Mystery surrounds the manner in which this plate was returned. At 9:30 Sunday morning one of the girls went out onto the front porch to secure the morning paper. There was no evidence of the plate being in sight. Still, as she was sleepy she might easily have overlooked it. About 11 when another girl was called to welcome her early date she discovered the aforesaid name plate hanging on the door knob.

The peculiar thing about the whole affair is that the Alpha Deltas had given in an order for a new bronze nameplate no later than last Saturday. Perhaps the miscreants who appropriated said plate got wind of this and lost their hardheartedness long enough to designate one of their number to return it. Or what is more likely, they were influenced by the prayers and sighs that the Alpha Deltas put up when they were informed that they were to be taxed for the new plate.

At any rate, the girls are not kicking about the return of the plate, and only regret that it has been gone so long. The plate was a gift of the freshmen and its loss was acutely felt by the sorority. Now they have cancelled their order and advise anyone who loses articles under similar circumstances to write a story in the Daily Nebraskan about it. Then it will be sure to be returned. Possibly the ones who did this trick were the same ones who tried to swipe the Kappa Delta's dinner gong last spring.

Nebraska's military department has been exceptionally fortunate in securing the equipment for the students who are taking the drill course here. The large stock of supplies on hand compares favorably with that in any of the colleges where R. O. T. C. cadets are drilling under regular army officers. The university is directly responsible for the equipment to the war department. The individual student in town must return to the local military department all equipment which is issued to him at the beginning of the school year.

LARGE CROWDS AT ART ASSOCIATION

Annual Reception at Exhibit Draws Many Lincoln People.

The annual exhibition of the Nebraska Art Association began Monday evening with a large opening reception. The number of people in attendance at the reception was the largest in the history of the association. Music was furnished by the University orchestra and Dr. Lowrey gave the customary talk on the exhibition. He stressed the fact that the work of every artist of note has at some time been shown in the Lincoln Exhibition. He gave a very appreciative running comment on the pictures on display this year.

Mr. F. M. Hall, president of the Art Association outlined the new plan on which the exhibition is being held. He made a strong plea for the members to continue their contributions which alone will make it possible to continue the exhibitions on the present plan.

Mr. F. M. Hall called attention to the fact that this year completes the fortieth year of the local Art association, and expressed great gratification that not only has the Association a stronger footing but the University has developed a successful school of Fine Arts.

The trustees of the Association, members of the faculty and prominent stock holders acted as an especial reception committee. Tea was served in the China room under the direction of Mrs. C. F. Ladd chairman of the social committee.

Prof. Grumman will give talks on the different paintings on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. The University orchestra will play Thursday evening at 7:30.

SECOND SEMESTER OFFICERS ELECTED

Juniors Choose Minor Class Officers at Meeting Held Tuesday Morning.

A junior class meeting was held Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock in the Social Science auditorium for the purpose of electing minor officers for the second semester. President Carl Adams presided.

Minor officers elected are as follows: Vice president, Adelheit Dettman; secretary, Bernice Scoville; treasurer, John Loren, Hastings; sergeant-at-arms, Frederick Free. A meeting of the officers was held immediately after the class meeting.

Announcement of the names of the members of the committee for the second semester has been delayed because the registrar's office has not ruled upon the eligibility of all of those appointed. The list of the committee members will be published in the Daily Nebraskan as soon as the registrar passes upon it.

President Adams announces that a number of distinctly junior affairs are being planned for the near future, the purpose of these being to promote a better class spirit and to broaden the acquaintances among members of the third-year class.

FRESHMAN LECTURE ON DISARMAMENT

Prof. F. M. Fling Tells of History of Washington Arms Limitation Conference.

Professor F. M. Fling addressed the freshmen Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning, taking for his subject: the Washington Disarmament conference. He traced the historical background of the conference, describing the aims and accomplishments of the Versailles treaty, the events leading up to the call for the Washington conference, and the several agreements which are the outgrowth of the de liberations. Professor Fling emphasized that in order to understand present world events one must have a comprehensive knowledge of history.

Inventions and discovery have made the world smaller according to the speaker and people are coming to realize that America is only part of an interdependent society. People before the war began to appreciate that despite the universal desire for permanent peace, it could never come by just spontaneous action. One nation such as Germany could upset the aspirations of all the rest. Some international organization had to be agreed upon to insure peace.

Professor Fling referred to a book he bought in Paris in 1910 written by (Continued on Page 4.)

LARGE AMOUNT FOR EUROPEAN STUDENTS

Pledges of $3,300 Are Given by Nebraska University for Relief Work.

The University of Nebraska did so well in subscribing to the student relief fund for European students that the University of Illinois sent for information so they could put on a similarly successful drive this week. $1314 has already been sent in through the Herbert Hoover fund handling European Student Relief and with the pledges the amount will total between $3200 and $3300.

In Russia and Germany the money will be used to provide the absolute necessities of life without which the student population must be arbitrarily reduced. Since 1914 one-third of the medical men in Russia have died as a result of war and pestilence. The country needs men educated to take their places. To live in Moscow and not go hungry is worth 40,000 rubles monthly (a ruble normally is worth 50 cents). Such is the terrible condition that ten or more students in Russia alone, starve daily. Our friendly aid will encourage, inspire and reenergize the very life of students over there.

All organizations which have pledged or are contemplating pledging money to this worthy cause are asked to have the money in by March first.

Husker wrestling captain who won his match in the Nebraska victory over Minnesota. He meets a well known Iowa grappler in the Saturday mat meet with the Hawkeyes.

HAWKEYE WRESTLERS PREPARING FOR MEET

Iowa Mat Men Take Strenuous Workout for Nebraska Match Next Saturday.

Iowa City, Iowa, Feb. 21—After taking all but two matches from the strong Purdue wrestling team, the Hawkeyes are working this week for the match with Nebraska on Saturday. Coach Mike Howard is very well satisfied with the showing made by his team last week, and thinks that they have a very good chance to go through the season undefeated.

There are two weak spots in the Hawkeye team, though, the 145 and the heavyweight divisions. Bob Smith 145 pound wrestler of two years' experience has been declared ineligible, and there is no man at the present time who is capable of taking the place. Captain Sweeney, 135 pound man, wrestled in both classes against Purdue, winning in his weight by a fall and losing the other on decision. Johnny Heidt, in the heavyweight class will be a tough man to handle after a little experience, but now he is hardly able to cope with the best heavyweights of the conference. He is a fighter, though, and is a dangerous man at all times.

Pfeffer, 115 pound wrestler and James in the 158 pound classes, wrestled their first conference matches against Purdue. Pfeffer is built like Sweeney, and wrestles nearly the same way. He should do wonders after he finds out that he is really good. James did not have much of a chance to show his stuff last week as his match went only 1:20, when he picked up his opponent and slammed him to the mat, taking the fall after his opponent was unable to rise. He is fast and speedy, and should be able to win most of his matches.

Prospects are indeed bright at Iowa for the best wrestling team in the history of the University, and the year is receiving the support this year that has never before been given to a wrestling team.

Y. W. TO SELL CANDY ON CAMPUS TODAY

Y. W. C. A. girls will sell popcorn and candy on the campus all day Wednesday. The kitchen in Ellen Smith hall, as well as many of the sorority houses, have been very busy places the last day or so. Delicious fudge, divinity, peanut brittle and what not have been made by these industrious maidens.

Famous Psychology Fresh Air Class Finds Remedy For Yawning Students

If you should ever see a crowd of students rushing into Social Science at 10 o'clock of a morning and these same students were all bundled up in kitty-hoods, scarfs, fur-lined shoes and mittens and navajo blankets, would you be surprised? Would you think it was an expedition outfitting for the south or the north pole, or would you attribute it to some new style from the effete east, even as young Lochinvar swooped out of the west? Well, in either case you would be wrong, entirely wrong. These heavily garbed eds and co-eds are none other than members of the famous psychology fresh-air class.

This is the class where you sit congealed while the winter breezes

NEBRASKA MEETS SOUTHERNERS AT COLISEUM TODAY

Huskies to Battle Oklahoma Sooners in Basketball Game Here This Evening.

NEBRASKA ANXIOUS TO REVENGE DEFEAT

Scarlet and Cream Warriors to Play the Missouri Tigers Friday Night.

The Cornhusker cagers meet the Oklahoma quintet at the coliseum tonight. The Scarlet and Cream flippers have held several strenuous practices in preparation for this conflict and hope to avenge the trouncing they received at the hands of the Sooners several weeks ago. The Oklahomaans are holding fourth place in the Valley race, and if the Huskers are able to win this game, Nebraska will be in a tie with the Sooners for fourth place.

The probable lineup for Nebraska in the Oklahoma contest will be as follows: Capt. Smith and Tipton, forwards; Warren, center; and Riddleberger and Russell, guards. This combination has been showing up well in the workouts and is expected to start the Sooner game.

The Sooner basket tossers have been exhibiting a good brand of ball lately and are expected to give the Huskers a stiff battle. Captain Waite of the Sooners is one of the most feared centers in the Valley and is among the leaders of the conference in individual scoring records.

The Scarlet and Cream flippers will invade Missouri the latter part of the week for a series of two games. Friday night the Huskers will play the strong Missouri quintet at Columbia. The Tigers have not lost a game this year and the Huskers are conceded but a very small chance of defeating the Tiger cagers. On the following night the Huskers will meet the Washington Pikers at St. Louis. The Pikers have won a lone game this year and the Cornhuskers are expected to have little difficulty in disposing with the Piker cage artists.

CAMP-FIRE WORKER SPEAKS AT VESPERS

Mrs. Teal, volunteer camp-fire worker, spoke at vespers last night on the work of the camp-fire organization. She told of the responsibility that rests on university girls in their influence on younger girls who have the advantages of life are models for girls who are not so lucky. Their actions and modes of life are imitated. Camp-fire and other similar organizations have a powerful influence for good on little girls between the ages of thirteen and fifteen.

NEW STUDENT COUNCIL FOR BIZADS TO MEET

Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock a meeting of the new student council of the business administration college will be held in Dean Letossignol's office. The purpose of this meeting will be to consider ways and means to promote better work in the college. The desire of the council is to raise the scholarship and also prevent cribbing and cheating in examinations. Mr. Harry Adams, president of the commercial club is the chairman of this new movement.
