

UNI PLAYERS TO GIVE SHORT PLAY AT CONVOCATION

"The Affected Ladies" is Title of Production to be Presented at Convocation.

CAST INCLUDES GROUP OF NINE CHARACTERS

Play Under Direction of Herbert Yenne—Will Portray Life in Paris.

The University players under the direction of Herbert Yenne will present Moliere's one act play "The Affected Young Ladies" at a special convocation at the Temple Theatre, Thursday at 11:00 o'clock. This comedy was written in the seventeenth century by the French writer, Moliere, and has been very popular. The play was given at the Plymouth Congregational church Tuesday evening and was very favorably commented on by the pastor, R. W. W. Bolt.

The scene of the play is in Paris. Two young ladies with their father come to Paris from the provinces. The change from the simple life to the life of the city goes to the heads of the young ladies and they become very affected. Two young gentlemen aspire to the hands of the young ladies but they are scorned for being too ordinary. In the eyes of the young ladies they do not have flourishing ways and polished manners. The two young men frame a plot and thereby send two lackeys to make love to the ladies. The lackeys go to call on the ladies with much pomp and ceremony. The girls are very much impressed and think the men very elegant. The two gentlemen come and punish the lackeys, very much to the chagrin of the ladies.

The following cast interprets the different parts of the play:
Dutroisy—Edgar Streiter.
LaGrange—Art Bush.
Magdelein—Ruth Lindsay.
Gorgibus—David Lindstrom.
Cathos—Esther Marshall.
Marotte—Gladys Burling.
Alamzor—Charles Adams.
Mascarille—Kenneth Metcalfe.
Jodelot—William Norton.
Ruth Lindsay, Esther Marshall and Kenneth Metcalfe play the leading parts. The characters have special costumes from Omaha.

EXPEDITION GOES OUT TO GET WIERD BEAST

Buenos Aires, March 5.—An expedition under direction of Clement O'Neill director of the Buenos Aires zoology garden plans to leave Saturday for the Patagonian wilderness to capture dead or alive the prehistoric plesiosaurus reported existing there. The hunters will be equipped with harpoons and firearms and will be ready to do battle if need be with more than one of the prehistoric monsters. Doctor O'Neill, said today that there had been other reports of a plesiosaurus being seen in the region where Martin Sheffield, an Englishman claims to have discovered one.

This remote region, miles from a railroad, is known as the graveyard of the Jurassic period, in which the plesiosaurus lived. It abounds in skeletons and other relics of the age of giant monsters, such as the Ichthyosaurus and the dinosaur. Doctor O'Neill believes it possible that one or more of the plesiosaurus may still be living in that lost world among the

TIME EXTENDED FOR CORNHUSKER PICTURES

Because of the large number of students who have made appointments for individual pictures for "Everybody's Cornhusker" at Townsend's, the deadline for sittings has been extended to Saturday evening. Any students who have not yet had their Cornhusker picture taken, are urged to make their appointments immediately. Saturday evening is absolutely the last chance for the taking of individual pictures.

ADAM AND EVA WILL MAKE TRIP ON ROAD

University Players to Include Seward, York, Geneva, Sutton, in Tour.

"Adam and Eva" comedy of American life in three acts, which was recently presented for three evenings by the University Players, will be sent to a circuit of six towns under the auspices of the University Lyceum board during the week spring vacation. The towns to be visited are Seward, York, Grand Island, Genoa, Sutton and Hastings.

"Adam and Eva" is to be presented by the University Players as a part of the annual lyceum program sent into the state by the university extension department. University week is one of the big advertising ventures tried at the university and the play should do much to make this year's production a success.

The play which was originally selected to be sent into the state was "Clarence" but a nick in the arrangements on the part of the players made changing to "Adam and Eva" advisable. The large amount of publicity given the play recently by the press of the state should help much to bring record breaking crowds.

Rag Staff Has Annual Fun Fest

Last night the "Raggers" held their big blowout in Faculty hall, with cats, "Ragger" and Terpsichorean pursuit. The "Ragger" was a "danger" sheet, printed on the traditional scarlet Bristol-Board, and it lived up to its rather unenviable reputation. For the "Ragger" is to the staff, what the "Shun" is to the University—and that is definite enough.

The sumptuous repast—if that's what you want to call it—was followed by an unsuccessful pursuit of the goddess of the "light fantastic." Some of the news-chasers got to going pretty fast—they certainly are a swift lot.

Isabel Evans, of whom every loyal University Nighter has heard, was superintendent of the culinary triumphs, aided by Arvilla Johnson, and the loyal Kenneth McCandless. Raymond Smith is an able instigator of impromptu refusals to speak. The program of speakers was one which has not been rivaled in University affairs. The names of the perpetrators of the "Ragger" we hold an inviolate secret.

But the "Annual Feed" of the "Raggers" is an event which disclosed many things perhaps better left undiscovered, and the staff at least is ready for the feed of next year, which may include many of the old faithfuls, and which will certainly bring together the news hounds for their revel.

For, as has been said:
"A little humor now and then
Is relished by the best of men."

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION MOVES ITS OFFICES

Voltz and His Staff Now Situated in the Law Building in Former Cornhusker Rooms.

Offices of University of Nebraska alumni association have been moved from the basement of administration hall to the rooms formerly occupied by the Cornhusker staff. The Cornhusker offices have been established in the room formerly occupied by Holtz and his staff.

The new offices are much more suited to the needs of the alumni association than those formerly held. It is much more roomy and cozy than the basement room of the administration building. It has the one disadvantage of being away from the central part of the campus.

The basement room of administration hall will make an excellent place for the Cornhusker office. It is convenient with the student activities office and is more centrally located than the former offices.

A large sign bearing the list of offices of the alumni association together with the boards in charge, is hung outside the door of the new room. Within the room there is a special little corner partitioned off for the office of Harold F. Holtz, secretary.

ALL UNIVERSITY PARTY IS SATURDAY NIGHT

Armory Will be Scene of Activities For Students. One of Final Parties.

One of the largest and peppiest all university parties of the school year will be held at the armory Saturday evening under the auspices of the mixer committee. A large committee. A large crowd of students is expected to attend the dance.

Features of a varied nature are being planned for the big party. The mixer is to be the biggest all university dance of the year and the committee is working its hardest to make it the very best party of the year.

Northwell's orchestra will furnish the music for the big party. Northwell's has long been recognized as one of the best student orchestras in the university and should help put a lot of pep into the big dance.

Checking facilities will be provided for the followers of the party. Excellent checking artists will have charge of the check stand.

Admission charge to the party will be 35 cents. This is an exceedingly low price for the type of party which will be put on by the committee.

All university parties have always been peppy affairs and the party Saturday night will be no exception to the rule. Students mix better at these parties than at any other affair during the year.

BUDGET FOR GIRL'S CLOTHING

According to the budget worked out in the department of home economics of the University of Nebraska of Kansas a girl must have $290 a year for her clothes. In the clothing classes of the department, each girl gave her clothing expense over a three year period. The average expense was $250. One budget showed an average of $700 a year and only one showed an average of $88 a year.

The authority of the same department at K. S. A. C. shows that the minimum budget for a woman meeting business people, an office worker or a clerk in a store should be $127.63. Co-eds at the University can work up no sympathy for the Topeka budget of $87.55 for the purchase of a girl's clothing.—Daily Kansan.

DWIGHT KIRSCH DESIGNS COVER FOR JOURNAL

Dwight Kirsch, a graduate of the University of Nebraska college of fine arts, has designed a new cover for the April issue of the Alumni Journal. The cover is an artistic work and will materially increase the front page cover of the Journal.

The design is embossed in white with a black background. It is of a young lady holding a scroll of the "Universitae Nebraskensis." It is a very neat design, characteristic of the drawings of Mr. Kirsch.

PROMISING SQUAD OUT FOR DIAMOND PASTIME

Large Squad Working Out Daily on Drill Field in Preparation For Early Games.

A large number of promising baseball candidates reported for practice yesterday afternoon. Men are now out for the various positions. A wealth of material from last year's freshman squad is on hand to be used in the development of a strong aggregation for the coming season. This year's battery staff will constitute a number of last year's performers including Munger, Peterson, Carman and Schoepfle.

The schedule for the coming season includes eighteen contests with teams that are greatly noted for their high class ability. Some hard battles are to be staged.

There is a large number of contenders out for every position. Anderson, veteran catcher of last year is out. Captain McCroary, Thomsen and Wythers are out for fielding positions. Pizer and Carr, basemen of last year, are also out for practice. Munger, star hurler of the 1921 Husker baseball squad, and Schoepfle, also a member of last year's pitching staff, are expected out soon.

J. B. HITTELL TALKS TO MEMBERS OF A.S.C.E.

History and Uses of Asphalt Brought Out in Lecture to Students.

"Asphalt was first discovered by the ancients in pools and springs and was used as mortar for stone paving by a Babylonian king as early as 700 B. C.," stated Mr. J. B. Hittell at his lecture on asphalt last night before the A. S. C. E. in the Mechanical Arts hall.

Asphalt was first found in Trinidad off the coast of Venezuela in large lakes. It is in a fairly hard form and is broken off with picks and shovels. Since then it has been found in Mexico. The crude asphalt is refined in large tanks measuring ten feet in diameter and forty feet in length. It is melted with steam for the purpose of boiling out all the water, the vegetable matter coming to the top where it is skimmed off.

There are four types of paving in which asphalt is used, namely: macadam, concrete, sheet and block. Asphalt is moulded into blocks under pressure by machinery. These blocks are laid on a cement bed and hot asphalt is poured over them.

The hardness of asphalt is tested by an instrument that forces a standard needle into a solid block at a pressure of 100 grams, for a period of 6 seconds, at a temperature of 77 degrees Fahrenheit. The instrument records the number of units of penetration. If the needle penetrates the asphalt 50 units, it is said to have a penetration of 50.

Mr. Hittell illustrated his lecture with numerous lantern slides, showing various kinds of paving and machinery used in the construction of pavement.

STEPHEN LEACOCK JOINS OFFENSIVE

Another powerful enemy has joined the offensive. This one is none other than Stephen Leacock, leader of modern humorists, who offers to the public his latest pen and ink sketch entitled "We are Teaching Women all Wrong." Tho he takes the most serious side of this decidedly serious subject, Mr. Leacock is bound to suffer from the nature of his reputation. One wonders if perhaps this latest work of his is not opposed to be a disguised afterthought of "Nonsense Novels" or "Winsome Winnie."

Mr. Leacock affirms repeatedly however, that this time at least he is serious and follows with a list of references establishing his right to judge. Between his periods of humorous inspiration, Mr. Leacock has, for 20 years, instructed both Eds and Co-eds in the fundamentals of Political Economy at McGill University, Montreal.

Along with other things, Mr. Leacock discloses some choice ideas about college women. He says: "Women were in primitive times the first

PALLADIAN SOCIETY ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Officers for the rest of the school year were elected by the Palladian Literary society at their business meeting Monday evening. They are: President, Miss Daisy Granes; Vice President, Mr. Edward Fisher; Secretary, Miss Lois McKenney; Treasurer, Miss Sharlet Wolford; Corresponding Secretary, Mr. Glen Dorsey. Committee chairmen were also chosen. The new officers will be installed April 1, and serve until June 1.

PROFESSOR JOSHI TO TALK FRIDAY NIGHT

Noted Visitor From Far Off Country Will Lecture on "Present Problems in India."

Professor S. L. Joshi of the College of Baroda, University of Bombay, India, who is negotiating for exchange of service with Dean P. M. Buck, of the University of Nebraska will lecture on March 17, Friday evening, at 7:15 in the Social Science auditorium, on "Present Problems in India." He comes when conditions in India are most crucial and seriously distressing. And his ability to discuss his subject is fully attested by his previous successful lectures throughout the United States.

For years he has been a professor of English literature in Baroda college. In this capacity he has been a close student of Indian life. His work has been endorsed and his college endowed by the Maharajan Gaekwar of Baroda. His ability has won for him highest honor and recognition as one of the most enlightened and powerful of native princes of India.

Last summer he was the representative of Indian universities at a conference held in London, of all the British Universities. Professor Joshi is a graduate of Oxford and has a graduate degree from the University of Columbia. He expects to remain in this country during the coming year and his position in the Baroda college will probably be filled by Dean Buck of this university.

Two sons of Professor Joshi were soldiers in the American army during the late war.

NEW EDITION OF SONG BOOK SOON TO BE PUBLISHED

Alumni Association Takes Over Rights to Publication and Will Compile New Issue.

FRATERNITIES MAY HAVE A SONG IN BOOK

Songs of Other Large University to be Contained—120 Pages in the New Edition.

Edition number two of the University Song book is now in the process of compilation according to an announcement made Wednesday afternoon by Harold F. Holtz, secretary of the alumni association, which has taken over the rights to the book. A much larger and complete book than the first edition is promised. The book will be published within a few weeks.

Thirty-two more pages will be placed in the new book, than were contained in the first edition. The second number will comprise 120 pages of songs.

Not only University of Nebraska songs but songs from some of the other large universities will be published in the book. Northwestern, Cornell and Illinois were represented in the first edition of the University Song book. The second edition will probably contain songs from Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Chicago, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, California and other large schools.

Songs from these schools will be placed in the book at the expense of such pieces as "Polly Wolly Doodle All the Day." Most of the songs of that type which have little or no right to be in a university song book will be kept out of the second edition. In their stead will be placed the songs from these other universities.

A feature addition to the new song book will be the publication of one song from the songs of the fraternities on the campus. Mr. Holtz has promised that every fraternity which wishes, may have one of their songs contained in the new book. The only stipulation is that the fraternity promise enough subscriptions to the book from among the members to at least pay for the making of the plate. When the book is completed, the plate may be given back to the fraternity, Mr. Holtz said.

Song books of practically all of the large universities in the country have songs from the fraternities on the campus and Mr. Holtz believes that Nebraska should follow the custom set. It is entirely arbitrary whether the fraternity have a song published or not.

Sorority songs are not to be published in the new edition of the book, Mr. Holtz declared.

Prof. H. B. Alexander of the philosophy department has already donated "The Ivy Song," to the new book. This song is sung at every Ivy day celebration and each year the committee has secured the copy from Mr. Alexander and has made duplicates for distribution. The song runs four pages and makes a very valuable addition to the list. Prof. Alexander has also announced that he has unearthed four other very good songs which he will give to Mr. Holtz for the new book.
