PROFESSOR IVEY WILL LECTURE IN NORFOLK

Prof. I. W. Ivey will have a class of eight business men at a series of lectures on Salesmanship to be given at the Y. M. C. A. Club rooms in Norfolk. Classes of this kind have already been held in Omaha, Fremont, Beatrice and other cities in the vicinity. Business men readily accept modern methods of doing business and the classes have been a success. The class in Norfolk was organized by W. E. Hille, class of '23, Business Administration, and assistant to Prof. Ivey, and he says that business men consider this a great opportunity to benefit themselves and learn better means of selling.

Professor Ivey's lectures have proven very popular with business men in the cities where he has talked. Wm. E. Hille spent the entire spring recess in enrolling and organizing the class and received such enthusiastic support that Professor Ivey will deliver the first lecture April 18. About forty-two men have signed up for the entire course which consists of seven lectures, one delivered each Tuesday evening.

This service which is rendered by Professor Ivey for a small enrollment fee is a splendid advertisement for the University and is an illustration of the practical use of the University by non residents.

TWELVE FRATS PUBLISH SONGS

Three Other Greek Letter Organizations May Include Pieces in New Song Book

SUBSCRIPTION CAMPAIGN WILL START ON MONDAY

Much Enthusiasm Being Shown For New Edition—To Get Out Over Entire State

Twelve fraternities have already signed up and three others have indicated that they may sign up to publish their songs in the second edition of the Nebraska song book to be issued soon by the alumni association. Harold F. Holtz, secretary, announced the list Tuesday afternoon and stated that practically all of the material for the new book is already on hand and only the fraternities which are pending subscribing songs to the new book will have places saved for them as no more can be conveniently accommodated.

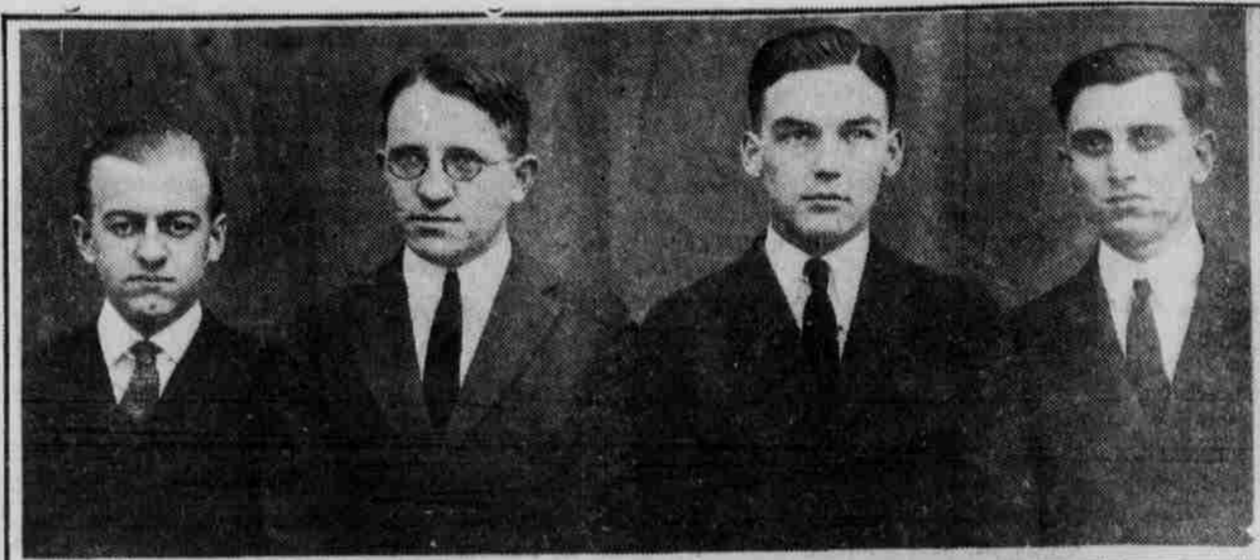

The list of fraternities, together with the number of pages which they have signed up to take in the new song book, follows:

Enthusiastic Reception

The reception which the new edition of the song book has received at the hands of the fraternities indicates that the students of the University realize the need of more singing and more and better songs in the Cornhusker song book. The subscription campaign which is to be held starting next Friday and lasting throughout the coming week promises to receive an enthusiastic reception. Students have already become enthused with the idea of a larger and better song book for Nebraska and the indications point to a book which will outclass that of any other large university in the country.

THIRTY OUT FOR SPRING PRACTICE

Candidates For Varsity Football Squad Undergo Hard Workout Thursday

RUNNING AND SIDE STEPPING FEATURES

Almost Full Freshman Squad and Many New Men Out on First Day.

Thirty football candidates answered Coach Dawson's call for spring practice, and were put through a stiff workout yesterday afternoon on the athletic field. Head Coach Fred T. Dawson was assisted by line coach Bill Day and Freshman coach Farley Young. The grid men went through the work with a commendable snap, and showed an enthusiasm and vigor in the practice which augurs well for Nebraska's 1922 football team.

Coach Dawson is devoting the workouts largely to a drill of the gridiron sport. Freshmen gridsters of last fall form a large part of the squad and Coach Dawson is teaching these new men the essential points in the game. The practice Tuesday night consisted of a drill on running and side-stepping for the backfield candidates, while the linemen pushed the big wooden "dummy line" around the field. Punting, drop-kicking and falling on the ball were also drilled.

Due to an error several mistakes were made in the story yesterday containing the names of the captains of the inter-college track teams. C. F. Bowman, captain-elect of the cross-country team, is organizing the Engineer tracksters. Riddlesberger is in charge of the Arts and Science track team. The Blad cinder path artists are being rounded up by N. Coats, mile runner. Floyd Wright, assistant varsity coach, is captaining the Law track men. Leigh and Hamilton are tutoring the Dent team, while R. A. Hardt is captain of the Pharmacy team. Preliminary tryouts for the Drake Relays will be held on the same day of the inter-college meet.

GRAVE SITUATION IN INDIA IS IMPORTANT

Freshmen Hear Illustrated Talk By Dean Buck on Far Eastern Country

"In real gravity, the situation in India is the most important in the world," declared Dean P. M. Buck to the Arts and Science freshmen this week. "India is farther away and we hear less of it than of Ireland or Russia, so the reason that we know less of India and its peoples."

Dean Buck endeavored to give the students an understanding of the "sore spot" by means of numerous photographs which he had obtained on his trips there.

The largest church in the world is in the form of a huge mosque at Delhi. This mosque is in reality a large enclosure without a roof, except at the extreme ends. One end of which is used as a university and the other as a pulpit. Inside the walls, untold thousands worship daily, the women being curtained off from the men. "That is a very good plan," said Dean (Continued on page 3.)

GRACE COPPOCK MEMORIAL DRIVE TO END FRIDAY

Set Goal at $15,000 For Campaign For Y. W. C. A. Funds For Use in China.

SUPPORTED SECRETARY IN CHINA FOR YEARS

Miss Coppock Was Graduate of Nebraska and Member of Black Masque

The Grace Coppock Memorial fund campaign is on. The goal is $15,000 and it is expected to be reached before the drive ends Friday night.

For fourteen years the University Y. W. C. A. supported Grace Coppock, secretary in China. She graduated from Nebraska University in 1905, was very active in Y. W. C. A. while in school and was a member of the Black Masque. The association work was organized in China in 1907 and since that time the University Y. W. C. A. has supported the executive in charge of the work. Grace Coppock was recognized as an international authority on the conditions of China. She traveled extensively in the interest of the Y. W. C. A. In 1917 she made a trip to America to recruit secretaries and at the time of her death had a staff of ninety-six foreign secretaries and thirty-two Chinese secretaries.

The purpose of the Y. W. C. A. of China as stated in the constitution is "to unite Chinese girls and women for advancement along spiritual, mental, physical and social lines and for service to God and country, according to the teachings of Jesus Christ." Grace Coppock was just such a leader who could make this purpose take on a real meaning. She was a real executive, one who accomplished things.

The Y. W. C. A. is the one Christian agency in China that is working in the non-Christian schools. The United States has 50,000,000 women and girls; nine out of ten read and write; China has 200,000,000 women and girls; one out of a thousand read and write. The vast majority of Chinese women are still under the influence of a social system which encourages and forces illiteracy and foot-binding for women and which allows slavery. The government has decided to permit young women to attend the government universities and this offers an unparalleled opportunity for the women of China. A national educational campaign was started in 1921 in behalf of the common people of China. Night schools were started and students spent their vacations encouraging and backing this movement.

Miss Coppock was called the "best loved woman in China." During the famine of 1920 and 1921 she traveled over the stricken area, doing her utmost to alleviate the terrible suffering. No tribute too great can be paid to the work and life of Grace Coppock.

Her work has been taken over by Miss Maude Klatt and the funds raised in the campaign this week will be turned over to her. Miss Klatt is not a graduate of Nebraska but the association expects to be represented in China by a graduate the next year.

Interest in foreign missions has increased noticeably during the past few years. Nebraska graduates are in China, India and Egypt and the slogan of "Nebraska in Foreign Fields" takes on a real and new meaning as our representation is increased. Every girl in the University will be asked to support this drive. In fact, it should be considered a privilege to help carry on the work of the association in China. The canvassing starts this morning and will be completed Friday afternoon.
