

CO-ED TRACK MEET TO BE BIG AFFAIR

Several Universities Enter Competition in Telegraphic Contest May 12

The Intersectional University Telegraphic Track and Field Meet for women, under the auspices of the National Women's Track Athletics Committee, will be held on the respective fields of the Universities entered, on Friday, May 12, 1922. Nebraska is entered in the meet as representative of the middle west. The other entries are University of Arizona, University of Kentucky, Florida State College for Women, Mississippi State College for Women, University of California (Southern branch), and the University of Wisconsin. The events Nebraska has entered are as follows: 50-yard dash. 100-yard dash. 222-yard relay (4 runners) 60-yard hurdles. 500-yard relay (10 runners) Running high jump. Running broad jump. 8 lb. shot put. Basketball throw for distance. Baseball throw. Javelin.

Immediately following the separate meets each Director will send a telegram to Harvard G. Cleavland, 719 Medio Street, Long Beach, California, giving the name and record of first-place winners in each event. A letter is to follow giving the complete record of the meet, with name, age, weight and class of each contestant.

In case of the weather preventing the holding of the meet at any College on the specified date, it will be held on any day within the next week. The complete compilation will not be released to the Press until all telegrams have been received.

A 500-yard relay—10 runners is to be a feature of the meet. This relay gives the opportunity of bringing more girls into the meet, and gives the ordinary runner a chance in team competition. It will be an interesting and exciting event.

Here's your chance Nebraska Girls! to put your University on the map of Women's Athletics. Ruby Damme, W. A. A. sport leader announces the following practice hours:

Tuesday—12-1 o'clock. Thursday—1 o'clock. Monday, Wednesday, Friday at 4 o'clock.

It is possible that a Women's Team selected through this meet will be sent to the next Olympic games.

BIG THREE DECIDE TO HIDE IN SHELL

New York, April 10—The campaign for football reform is being carried on by the Daily Princetonian, the Yale News and the Harvard Crimson is attracting considerable attention on the various campuses and in the east. The general opinion is that the ideas are good, but that some of them are impracticable. Among the opponents to Article 1, referring to pre-season practice, is Bill Roper, head coach of the Tiger eleven, who believes that it is essential in order to make the players physically fit.

The Princetonian, however, says that the abolishment of early fall practice will operate to shorten schedules by eliminating what is now the only athletic preparation made outside of the college year, and that no increase in early season injuries will result.

No Intersectional Games

The suggestion to do away with the so-called intersectional games has contrary to expectations, aroused little opposition. In speaking of the proposal the Princetonian says:

"With the abolishment of intersectional games and all contests outside of the three home grounds, few early season games of any importance will become unnecessary. Princeton's visitors will have to accept the no-return game basis.

"Alumni urge the strongest argument against this proposal. They want to see their team in action and, being unable to go back in the fall, enthusiastically welcome games taken to them.

Regrets Chicago Game

"The coming exodus to Chicago should never have been planned, albeit a great many graduates will see a Princeton team play for the first time since they left college.

"It is also argued that such a move would awaken the old hue and cry about eastern provincialism; about Harvard and Princeton retiring into their shells. It will be said that we fear invasion; for loss of reputation. We reply that what concerns the three is no business of others. If we want to restrict our relations to among ourselves we are at perfect liberty to do so."

Ruth Pickes, Nannie Roberts, Davida Van Gilder, Miss Clark and Lois Pederson will leave today for the Intersectional Conference of the Women's Athletic Association to be held at Boulder, Colorado. Nebraska is to act as secretary of the conference.

"THE MASCOT" WILL BE GIVEN APRIL 29

Alumni of Lincoln High Glee Clubs to Give Opera the Last Saturday of Month

Presentation of "The Mascot," an opera in three parts, will be made Saturday, April 29, at the Lincoln High School auditorium. The Aeolian Singers club, composed of alumni members of the Lincoln high school glee clubs, will present the musical play.

Professor H. O. Ferguson, director of music in Lincoln public schools, is being assisted in the work of directing "The Mascot" by Frances Burgess Varcik, who is doing much to give the opera the professional touch which most home talent productions lack. Miss Varcik has had much experience with professional productions and will materially help the quality of the play.

Rehearsals of the entire opera have been conducted weekly for more than three months, sometimes the rehearsals have been held twice a week. Besides this rehearsal of the entire chorus and cast, the cast has been practicing much more.

"The Mascot" is one of the best operas ever seen in Lincoln. It is much above the quality of most of the home talent productions produced. More than $300 worth of costumes are being rented for the play.

Practically all of the members of the cast and the greater part of the chorus are students of the University of Nebraska, formerly of the Lincoln high school.

No announcement of the sale of tickets has yet been made. Lemont Kier will have charge of the ticket distribution. The papers are to be sold for fifty cents a piece.

The cast of the opera follows:

- Bettina, The Mascot, soprano, Bernice Bays
- Flamett, daughter to Lorenzo XVII, contralto, Marjorie Cooper
- Pippo, the shepherd, tenor, Francis Diers
- Lorenzo XVII, baritone, Joe Zimmerman
- Rocco, farmer, baritone, Henry Eller
- Frederic, prince of Pisa, tenor, Ivan McCormick
- Parafanta, the sergeant, tenor, James Sheffield
- Matheo, Inn Keeper, baritone, Robert Hiatt
- Pages, Georgia Wunderlich and Lillian Blanchard

Twin Beds, those kind that we common folks only hear about, very seldom come in two parts but this skit of Delian is as exceptional as the name itself. Act I will show them as they were and Act II will be as they are now. The cast of characters will always remain a mystery even to the closest personal friends of these great stars of the stage who are not expecting to even live through the barrage of eggs and confetti that is sure to fly.

In fact, these martyrs for the cause of Delian have already made all the arrangements for the long journey.

The Syncopated Sisters (they're not twins however) are offering a few minutes of the classiest features inclining somewhat toward the light fantastic that ever the eagle eye of any old maids ever glared upon. The sisters with their partners are the pick, graceful and charming element of Delian. They plan an extensive tour of the United States and Canada as well as thru all the theaters of Lincoln this summer if their hit is the success it promises to be Friday night. They aren't kidding the undertaker, they are too busy holding off offers already from the great theaters of Chicago and New York until they present their acts for your approval Friday night.

You Ought To See Her Now, a comic skit from several angles will finish the program. "Not one dull minute" will be taken care of by five curtain acts by the talent of the society, readings, music and stunts will serve as entertainers between the scenes and hold the audience in one spell of laughter.
