

JOFFRE GUEST AT UNIVERSITY ON SATURDAY

French Hero Stops in Lincoln For Few Hours on Way to East Coast

CONVOCATION AT SOCIAL SCIENCE

Pershing Rifles Act As Guard of Honor to Distinguished Guest

Marshall Joffre, the hero of the French people during the world war, was the guest of Lincoln Saturday afternoon. The noted war marshal stopped between trains and was royally welcomed by the University of Nebraska and the citizens of Lincoln.

The visit of the marshal was confined to three hours but he was ushered to all parts of the city, assisted in the ground breaking exercises for the new Nebraska Capitol, visited the home of General Pershing and was the guest of the University of Nebraska both on the State Agricultural college campus and on the city campus.

The Pershing Rifles, honorary military company of the University of Nebraska founded by General Pershing, acted as the guard of honor for Marshall Joffre during his Lincoln visit. As he was conducted from train to cars which carried the party, the French hero was introduced to the honorary company. The Rifles then took up regular formation and preceded Marshall's car to the capitol grounds. Here the Pershing Rifles assisted in patrolling the grounds and formed on either side of the Lincoln monument when the French War Marshal placed a large wreath at the base of the statue of the martyred American President.

Marshall Joffre was the guest of the University of Nebraska for a short time prior to the departure of his train when Chancellor Avery gave an address of welcome to him before a student convocation held for the purpose of welcoming the French war marshal.

Upon arriving at the capitol grounds, Marshall Joffre assisted in the breaking of the ground for the great Nebraska capitol building which is about to be constructed. He addressed the great gathering of people who witnessed the ceremony and with a few words expressed his appreciation of the welcome. The State House grounds was crowded and the reception of the French hero was enthusiastic from the time he entered Lincoln until the time he departed. Before leaving the capitol grounds Joffre placed the wreath at the foot of the Lincoln statue at the west end of the building.

The Marshall's immediate party included a number of French officers whose sky blue uniforms attracted the crowd. Marshall Joffre's wife and the ladies of the party were attended during the visit by a number of Lincoln women. Governor McKelvie, Mayor Zehrung, Chancellor Avery, Colonel Mitchell and a number of the Army Officers stationed at the university of Nebraska were in the party attending the French war hero. A visit was paid the home of General Pershing after leaving the capitol grounds and the cars carried the party to the State Farm campus where Dean Burnett officially welcomed Marshall Joffre in the name of the College of Agriculture.

The University Convocation, in honor of Marshall Joffre held outside the Social Science Hall on the west side at three-fifteen, Saturday afternoon. A platform was erected at the foot of the pillars and a gigantic American flag hung as a background to the speakers stand.

The party with Marshall Joffre arrived on schedule time and the great hero was introduced by Doctor Bailey, the president of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce to a large number of students who attended the convocation. After a brief address in which Marshall Joffre bid his good wishes "to those who will be the leaders of America on the morrow," Chancellor Avery made an address of welcome to the Marshall and presented an engraved copy of the speech to Marshall Joffre as a token from the

PICTURES OF BEAUTIES ARE BEING SHOWN

Twenty-five Pretty Nebraska Co-eds Have Photos on Display at Magee's

SIX TO BE CHOSEN FOR VANITY FAIR

Cornhusker Management Gives Students Chance to See the "Beauties with Personality"

The photographs of the twenty-five University of Nebraska co-ed "beauties with personality" that were sent to James Montgomery Flagg, from which he chose the six pictures that will appear in the Vanity Fair section of the 1922 Everybody's Cornhusker, are now on exhibition in the show-windows of Magee's clothing store, Thirteenth and O streets. The pictures will be displayed for several days.

Students are urged to visit Magee's windows to view the pictures, which will give them an idea of the way the poses will appear in the annual. Each picture has been carefully done by an artist of exceptional ability, and they exploit the talents of Nebraska's "fair women" to perfection.

Many faculty members have commented on the beauty of the pictures. The six photographs that will appear in the Vanity Fair section will be printed on rotogravure and will reflect the popular tapestry design of workmanship.

Although James Montgomery Flagg selected the six most beautiful girls several weeks ago, by sending the winning numbers to Editor Randol of the Cornhusker, the announcement of these selections by noted artist will be made known until the books appear on the campus next month.

The acceptance of the invitation to judge the Vanity Fair contest, shows that Flagg thinks highly of the Nebraska girl from a standpoint of beauty and personality. It is generally known that Flagg's office was flooded with other offers when he accepted the offer from the Cornhusker management to judge the contest. Many of these he turned down because of lack of time to devote to them.

University of Minnesota—Baseball, Tennis, horseshoe, golf and track are all on the list of sports scheduled for spring competition by the professional fraternities at Minnesota.

Harvard—Harvard and Yale will send a tennis team to England. Three men from each university will sail on July 4 for a tournament with an Oxford-Cambridge sextette on July 17 and 18.

Silver Serpent Circus To Furnish Thrills And Surprises For Co-eds

"Step right up, ladies, the tallest lady in the land and the thinnest boy will be on exhibition inside, Zaza the fire eater will eat fire for the ladies and swallow smoke for the benefit of the children; Tete the two legged girl will dance with the three headed man, all the wonders of the world right inside."

These are only some of the many marvels and secrets that will be staged at the Silver Serpent circus which is going to be given Saturday afternoon, April 22 for all Sophomore and Junior girls. Its going to be in the Armory and there isn't a tent in the country that will ever compare with the scene of this circus. Barnum and Bailey will turn over in their graves for shame at the thought that they ever put on a real circus in comparison to this one.

The admission is only ten cents, for the side shows a penny. Surely nothing could be more reasonable. The management wishes to announce regrets that the "Siamese twins" met their fate before this affair, but expresses delight that they have secured more remarkable freaks called the "Pool M All" twins who are joined, —well, come and find out. The side shows, however are not the only delightful features of the circus. Clowns that would make the great Tom To blush for shame, to ever have

MASS MEETING OF AGS IS TUESDAY

"What about Farmer's Fair?" is the current question now on Ag Campus. Ideas and suggestions are running wild and but few definite plans have been made. The firecracker of Ag enthusiasm will be touched off Tuesday evening in a great mass meeting of every Ag man and woman. In the open, on the campus if the weather man permits, each committee is going to meet and work with the general supervision and assistance of the Fair board. It is only three weeks till the greatest Farmers Fair of history will be staged.

Preparation for the great event will take every spare minute of everybody's time for these three weeks. Every Ag is in on some part of the undertaking and every one is going to work. "No one shall sluff" is the watchword.

Arnold Fouts, treasurer of the Board has returned from visiting the Farmers Fair at Missouri where he went as a delegate from Nebraska.

HUSKERS WIN FIRST GAME FROM COYOTES

Wesleyan Defeated in First Home Game of Nebraska Swatters

METHODISTS LOSE BY 26 TO 7 SCORE

Capt. McCrory Features Game With Fine Runs Before Crowd

The first home game of the 1922 season for the Cornhusker baseball squad resulted in a 16 to 7 victory for the Huskers over the Wesleyan Coyotes at the Rock Island Park yesterday afternoon. The game which was really to be called at 2:30, was postponed an hour because of the visit of Marshall Joffre to this city.

The game started with the Nebraskans going fast and gaining a long lead ahead of the Methodists. The excellent work of Munger on the mound was a main feature of the game. Munger held the Coyotes in a tight position and they were unable to make any progress to speak of the first few innings of the contest. He struck out ten men, the first six Coyote batters up were struck out in direct succession by the fast Nebraskan hurler.

The work of Captain Wm. McCrory was also a big feature of yesterday's game. Capt. McCrory made five scores in his first five times at bat. Donahue and Hinman were among the stellar players of the Methodists.

The game was not as fast as many will probably be in which the Huskers will participate before the season is over. An unusual number of errors on the part of both teams were made (Continued on page 4)

KOSMET KLUB PLAY CHORUS OUT; TICKETS GO ON SALE WEDNESDAY

CAST OF MAY DAY SHOW IS NOW COMPLETE

"The Knight of the Nymphs" Chorus Directed by J. Manley Phelps

Author of New Musical Hits for 1922 Performance to be Named Soon

Announcement of a selected chorus of twenty-four men and co-eds for the big 1922 Kosmet Klub play which will be given at the Orpheum theater on May first, was made by the play committee of the club Saturday. With the cast of thirty already announced, the complete list of students participating in the show under the direction of J. Manley Phelps, head of the dramatic art department of the University School of Music, has been given out.

Practice for the chorus members will start immediately and continue almost every night until the play is given. The members of the cast have been at work since before spring vacation on their parts and indications are that the play will eclipse all other productions given under the auspices of the honorary dramatic club for men, within the past year. The story of the three act fantastic comedy with music, is up-to-date and catchy. The music has been selected from a large number of snappy songs submitted by students. The name of the composers of the popular hits which will be introduced to Lincoln audiences on May Day will be made public thru the columns of the Daily Nebraskan later in the week.

J. Manley Phelps, director of the Kosmet play is quoted as saying that the cast of the 1922 shown is one of the best and most talented that he has met among the students of the universities over the country. Phelps has had long experience with dramatic work in the universities, especially at the University of Illinois. He has traveled with the Redpath chautauqua for a number of seasons, fitting him especially well to round the play into the cleverest production of the year.

PASTEBOARDS FOR MATINEE ON WEDNESDAY

Two Performances to be Given at Orpheum Theatre by Honorary Dramatic Club

Prices For Seats are Announced By President and Business Manager

A May Day matinee and evening performance of "The Knight of the Nymphs" at popular prices for the students and people of Lincoln will be given under the auspices of the Kosmet Klub two weeks from tomorrow.

The decision to have a matinee show in order to cut the prices, was reached after a conference with the faculty committee on student affairs and the president of Kosmet. This is the first time in the history of Kosmet plays that a matinee performance is to be given. The play committee feel that the two shows will give an opportunity for the people in Lincoln, as well as the students to see the 1922 play. In former years, many people have been unable to see the show on account of only one performance being given.

Tickets for the show will go on sale on the campus on Wednesday of this week by a corps of students under the direction of Rolland Smith, acting-president of Kosmet, and Marvin Meyers, business manager of "The Knight of the Nymphs." Efforts will be made to have the fraternities and sororities and other campus organizations buy blocks of pasteboards and sit together at the play. The plan of committee in detail, follows:

- Prices: Night performance, May 1, Orpheum:
 First 14 rows, $1.50.
 Balance of main floor, $1.00.
 1st Balcony, $1.00.
 2nd Balcony, $1.00.
 Matinee performance, May 1, Orpheum:
 Main floor, $1.00.
 1st Balcony, 75c.
 2nd Balcony, 50c.

Reserved tickets will not be sold on the campus, but may be secured on and after 10 a. m. Wednesday, April 26 at the Orpheum box office. The pasteboards sold on the campus and at the various houses will not include war tax. This will be paid when the tickets are exchanged for reserved seats at the box office next week. Arrangements to have the unreserved seats on sale at the Orpheum office will probably be made before Wednesday.

"On the night that David Warfield played in Lincoln, we had at least two hundred and fifty requests for tickets for the 1922 Kosmet show," the manager of the Orpheum stated after the performance last week. This evidence of interest on the part of Lincoln people who have been attending Kosmet shows for several years was one of the main reasons for scheduling the May Day matinee.

The tickets on the campus will be sold by members of Kosmet Klub and a picked group of students during the week. Monday evening of the play has been declared open by university authorities on account of the Kosmet performance. Students rulings for that evening will be laid aside.

The list of patrons and patronesses for, "The Knight of the Nymphs", has not been announced as yet.

ENGINEERS LABS TO BE OPEN TO PUBLIC

All of the Laboratories of the engineering department are to be running for public inspection Thursday, April 27, Engineer's night. In some, there are no sections this semester, and in others registration was too light to permit full-speed work by the regular classes. However, volunteers are being obtained from the upperclassmen who have had the work, insuring that the promises of "everything going at full speed" may be kept.
