

KOSMET PLAYS TO BIG CROWD TWICE MONDAY

"Knight of the Nymphs" Scores Big Hit at Orpheum Monday

"PATSY" HUNTER AND HELEN WRIGHT LEAD

Musical Numbers Popular and Well Received by Audience

Playing before a crowded house at the Orpheum last evening, the cast and chorus of the 1922 Kosmet Klub play, "The Knight of the Nymphs," scored a big hit with their audience of students and Lincoln people.

"The Knight of the Nymphs," a three act comedy taking place at the Rock Nymphs Hotel in a forest in the Adirondacks, is especially suited to a student chorus and the details of the play were carefully worked out under the personal supervision of J. Manley Phelps. The musical numbers on the program were immensely popular. A new feature in Kosmet productions was introduced with the distinctly Nebraska air created by the decorations in Scarlet and Cream and the ending of the show with the singing of the Cornhusker.

Helen Wright playing the leading role of Beatrice was especially charming, and was well received in her songs, "There's Always Sunshine After Rain," and again in her duet with Dick in the third act.

"Patsy" Hunter, who played opposite Miss Wright, as Dick, the hero of the play, acted with an ease that won him continued applause. His solo in the first act, "Just One Girl," and his part in the closing duet were high points in the production.

The supporting cast was strong and helped make the play a smooth and finished one. Among those who were especially popular with the students were Everett Northrup as Alvin Vandermort, Art Bush and Bob Troyer as Mr. Nuldoren and Mr. Montebugh, Ruth Lindsay as Mrs. Nuldoren, Oliver Maxwell as the proprietor of the Rock Nymphs Hotel, and Lillian Hansen and William Ackerman as leaders of the chorus.

In the spectacular second act, with the showing of the midnight dance of the Nymphs, the stage settings were unusually beautiful. Hart Jenks, Foster Cone, Marguerite Fallon, Glenn Jones and Frances Carrothers were the main characters in the moonlight romance. The character acting of the New York chorus girls in the third act brought a heavy round of applause.

PHARMACY WEEK WILL START THIS MORNING

Pharmacy Week starts off today with a convocation at 1 o'clock in the auditorium of Pharmacy Hall. Chancellor Avery, and Mr. Antles, secretary of the state department of public welfare, will speak.

After the splendid showing of the Engineer's last week, the Pharmacists feel that they have a real task to live up to the example this year, and that the convocation will start things off in great shape. An enthusiastic pep meeting was held Monday morning at which nearly the entire student body of the College of Pharmacy was present. Every one is invited to attend the meeting this morning.

NEBRASKA HISTORY TEACHERS TO MEET

Nebraska Teachers Association of History to Hold Convention at University

The Nebraska Teachers Association of History will hold its annual May meeting at the University May 5 and 6. The association holds two meetings a year. The fall meeting is held in Omaha at the same time that the Nebraska Teachers association meets.

Professor Roy E. Cochran, of the American History Department, who is now the vice president of the association, will become the president, taking the place of Mrs. Branthalwaite, principal of the Whittier school of Lincoln. Miss Margaret Davis, of the Lincoln high school, will retain the office of secretary-treasurer.

The association will have as its guest Professor A. M. Schlesinger, of Iowa State university. Professor Schlesinger will be entertained Friday evening at a lunch given at Ellen Smith hall, after which he will lecture to the public in the Social Science auditorium.

Saturday morning at 9:30 in S. S. 205, a program will be given, which will be open to the public, taking up various points of interest in the line of history. At this time H. P. Shepard, principal of the Lincoln high school, will lecture on history in general.

STUDENT MANAGER SYSTEM ENDORSED BY UNI "N" CLUB

University Letter Men Vote to Adopt New System of Managers at University

JIMMY BEST WILL BE SENT ON A VACATION

Trophies to be Purchased For the Championship Track Team and Grid Squad Last Lear

Action taken by the "N" club Monday resulted in a decision to adopt the student manager system at the University of Nebraska, a motion to secure trophies for the championship track team of 1921 and the football team of 1921-22, and a plan to carry on a campaign to send Jimmy Best on a vacation.

The adoption of the student manager system is one of the most important steps ever taken by the students of the university of Nebraska. When all of the details of this plan have been worked out there will be a chance for every student to qualify for one of the positions created under this system.

The money required to purchase the trophies for the track and football teams will be secured through charging a nominal entrance fee to all intra-mural athletic events. The two teams represent the true Nebraska ideals and prowess in athletics and the fact that there have so far been no trophies to commemorate the record hung up by these extraordinary artists of the cinder path and the gridiron.

The plan to send Jimmy Best on a vacation will give every student in the university an opportunity to help preserve the best tradition that Nebraska has on her campus. For a longer time than most of the alumni of the university of Nebraska can remember Jimmy has been faithfully on the job. He has trained the most famous athletes that Nebraska has ever turned out and remembers them all. He has been connected with the athletic activities of the university ever since the university first entered athletic activities. In many ways Jimmy has been responsible for the victories that Nebraska has piled up in past seasons on the gridiron track and cage.

Boxes will be placed on various parts of the campus where each student may contribute as much as he cares to pay the expenses of sending Nebraska's "Grand old Man" on a vacation.

WATER MEET NEXT ON CO-ED PROGRAM

Two Nights of Form Swimming to be Held Before Final Inter-Class Contest

The Woman's Athletic Association will run two nights in form swimming, preliminary to the main, inter-class meet which will be staged on Thursday, May 9, High School pool. The form swimming is not competitive, each swimmer may make not to exceed 150 points on her individual ability. Tonight all girls with names beginning from A to M, who have signed for different events, will be judged. Thursday evening those from N to Z will be graded. All girls who signed to try out for their class relay teams will be timed and picked on Thursday evening. The judges for these two evenings are Irene Springer and Sue Stille.

Tuesday, May 9, the inter-class relay race will be held, as well as stunts in life saving, cake-eaters race, freak diving, and other features. Girls wishing to try out for their class relay teams have until Wednesday night, May 3, to sign the poster in the gym. Lois Pederson is the W. A. S. swimming sport leader.

This is the first meet staged where girls have been allowed to make their points on individual ability rather than competition. This allows more girls to take part in the meet and encourages improvement in the form of the different strokes and dives as well as interesting the girls in method.

HUSKERS SHOW GOOD FORM AT DRAKE RELAYS

Nebraska Squad Takes First in the 440-yard Relay at Drake Saturday

WELLER'S RECORD DISCUS THROW WAS DISALLOWED

Second Place Won by Nebraska Men in Mile and Half Mile Relays

The University of Nebraska track team made an excellent showing at the Drake relays at Des Moines last Friday and Saturday, their performance being surpassed only by that of the Illinois and Kansas cinder-path athletes. The outstanding achievement of the Cornhusker tracksters was winning the quarter-mile relay, which the Husker 440 team, (Capt. Ed Smith, Lukens, Noble, Deering) stepped off in forty-two and four-fifths seconds.

On the field, Weller and Moulton, who represented Nebraska in the discuss throw, placed well.

In this event, Weller, holder of the Valley record, placed second with a toss of better than 132 feet. On his last throw, the big Husker made a record toss, but he touched the line of the circle and the heave was disallowed. Moulton won fourth honors in the discuss.

The Scarlet and Cream athletes first came into the limelight in the relays when the quarter-mile relay was run. Dave Deering, Husker lead-off man, ran a pretty race, and held his own well. Lukens, who followed him, stepped off the 110 yards in fast time, and was slightly in the lead when he handed the baton to Dave Noble, third man. Noble increased the lead considerably, and Captain Smith, anchor man, finishing with a burst of speed, won by a margin of twenty feet. The Huskers won this race in three-fifths of a second faster than the Notre Dame team, the victors in the other division. The teams were divided into two sections because of the large number of universities entered. The quartet of winning Huskers were awarded gold medals.

Nebraska placed a good second in the mile relay race. The Cornhusker quarter-milers, Layton, Bechord, Ted Smith and Hawkins, ran a fast 440 and the Huskers were a close second to the victorious Illinois team, which broke the Drake relays record by finishing in 3:30 2-5.

PHARMACY DISPLAY IN LOCAL WINDOWS

Students Arrange Exhibits of College in Downtown Stores Streets This Week

As a method of advertising the ensuing Pharmacy Week the College of Pharmacy, has decorated various windows in the city. Sight seers and down town pedestrians have their attention called to a very clever display in one of Armstrong's windows. The display is very carefully arranged and consists of various pieces of pharmaceutical apparatus. The display features the polariscope, the refractometer, the compound microscope, and various specific gravity balances. Crude drugs make the completion of a very interesting window.

The College Book store has also loaned one of its windows to the college for another display of similar nature. The window includes apparatus used in the crime investigation course. Much biological and pharmaceutical apparatus is attracting the attention of university students. Everything from the ordinary pieces used in making elixirs and extracting the principle substances of plants to the more mystifying apparatus of stills make up the window.

Various downtown druggists are arranging special windows for Pharmacy week. Among these include a very interesting window by the Harley Drug Co. Other drug stores making special windows for the occasion include the Butler Drug Co. and

SCIENCE NEWS-LETTERS RECEIVED BY LIBRARY

The Library has recently been getting Science News-letters sent out weekly by the Service in Washington D. C. It contains a summary of current science and may be had at the Reference Librarian's desk. It gives many interesting scientific news items. For instance, it has been discovered that the human race dates farther back than ever. Evidence has been found that men existed before the ice-age or approximately 520,000 years ago. With the aid of science, the lovely cactus now produces beautiful white flowers, hairbrushes, flour, cattle forage, food and drink for man and fuel.

ENDORSE HOME TOWN MOVEMENT

University Authorities Favor "Boost Uni Across in Home Town" Proposition

Chancellor Avery, Dean Buck and other members of the faculty have expressed themselves highly in favor of the "Boost Uni Across in Home Town" movement, stating that such an organization could do great work both in the home town and in the University.

With the co-operation of the entire student body of the University, this organization will become one of the foremost. Dean Buck stated that this would be a splendid way to keep the persons in the home town in touch with all University life. They will receive the truth in regard to University life and this will do away with exaggerations such as that of frivolity, low standards in society and distorted news, such as the "Adam and Eve" affair. The bad things in school life are the ones which are more widespread. An organization of this kind will turn the tables and tell of the high standards.

One representative from each town would make up the organization. He would get in touch with the most representative people of his town by writing a weekly letter home or by sending clippings from the "Daily Nebraskan" regarding school life.

Another manner of representation would be through university professors who are willing to go to the towns and deliver direct messages from the school. In this way he will help the situation, requirements, and needs, and besides the regular work, to men who make up the legislature that comes to the capitol city. They can present, then, all the necessary material that can make the University of Nebraska a school first in everything.

ADVANCED BIZAD CLASSES STUDY IN OMAHA FRIDAY

The Cost Accounting and Advanced Accounting classes of Professors Martin and Cole spent the entire day, Friday, May 28, in Omaha, where they were guests of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce.

The morning was spent at the M. E. Smith Co., where the students studied the cost and general accounts records of that firm. Burgess-Nash Co. and Swift Co., were visited in the afternoon after the classes had been entertained at a luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce. The Queen of Ak-Sar-Ben and the Omaha and Oklahoma City ball teams also were guests at the luncheon.

Because of lack of time, the Union Pacific officers and the Paxton and Varing Iron Works could not be visited. From the reports of Professor Cole and Pike, who were in charge of the trip, an enjoyable and profitable day was spent.

NEW ISSUE OF THE ALUMNI JOURNAL OUT

The April issue of the Alumni Journal is now off the press, and will be mailed to the former students within a few days. The issue contains nearly fifty pages of live University of Nebraska news and is an excellent piece of workmanship.

The issue devotes much space to the Cornhusker roundup to be held the first three days in June and urges the former students to attend the reunion. It contains a large number of interesting stories about former Nebraska students together with the activities on the campus.

ARTS COLLEGE TO ORGANIZE SELF AT DINNER THURSDAY

Sale of Tickets to Big Mystery Program of Arts and Science College Starts Today

LIMITED NUMBER OF PASTEBOARDS PRINTED

Last Attempt to Organize University's Largest College Predicted Successful

The time is growing closer when the great Arts and Science mystery that has been brewing will become public knowledge. The Arts and Science dinner and initiation to be held at the Chamber of Commerce Thursday, May 4, which has been so widely advertised during the past two weeks will take place that night. Initiation to what? That is the question which has been puzzling the entire student body. This is only one of the things that any student enrolled in the largest college in the university may discover by buying a ticket to the festivities Thursday evening.

In addition to the dinner and its attendant mystery initiation an unusually fine program has been provided. A few selected members of the university orchestra will be on hand to furnish music and many other entertaining numbers will complete a program that needs no further completion.

Tickets will go on sale this morning and a bevy of Coeds will be the salesmen. They will distribute tags with the tickets and those unfortunate students not wearing the blue pasteboards will be stopped on the campus and harried from all sides until the tickets are gone.

A preliminary sale of the tickets opened Monday and the tickets went rapidly. Since there is to be only three hundred of them printed owing to the need of room at the Chamber of Commerce, a very small per cent of the eighteen hundred students registered in the Arts college will be able to secure tickets.

Rumors of organization of the arts and science students which have been floating about the campus during the past week are entirely correct. The largest college in the university is to be organized at last. Though the first college of the university, the largest, and for many years the university of Nebraska itself it is the last to be organized in any strong fashion. The more professional colleges seem at a glance to have a stronger bond of union than the arts college but the reason for this is that few students realize the real value of an Arts and Science education, and the ties in a college which seems so unwieldy.

In the history of the college many attempts have been made to organize the college and have failed for lack of co-operation on the part of the students. This final attempt is predicted by all persons who have an inkling of the methods to be used, to be a complete success.

LIMIT TIME FOR CO-ED BASEBALL PRACTICES

Girls! You have until Friday, May 5, to get in your ten required baseball practices. The list of practises to date is posted in the gym. Check over the list. If you find you have only a few, why, just practise a little oftener, that's all. From now on there will be an out-door practise at four o'clock.

The girls have some new balls now. They are real balls too. They don't turn into oblong hunks every time they are batted. Its real fun to play with them. Come on girls, get in the rest of your practises with the new ball.

Its not too late to start to practise now, if you have no practises to your credit, because only two a day are credited. There is a possibility of making eight practises this week yet, so there is no excuse for the girl who started in the sport, not to have a chance to make her class team. The very best sluggers will be the ones chosen to uphold their class honor in the final series to be held soon.
