START STADIUM CAMPAIGN SOON

Plans Being Completed for State-Wide Drive for Funds in November

Absolute start of the Memorial stadium before next spring is now assured. The first half of the structure is to be completed as soon as possible and the remaining half built as the necessary money is available. Such was the statement of Harold F. Holtz, alumni secretary, Friday.

A field organization for the campaign for funds for the stadium is now being perfected and the drive will be started in November. It is expected that the entire remaining amount toward the goal of $400,000 will be raised in that campaign.

The University of Nebraska is late in starting its stadium. According to data secured from Mr. Holtz, three Missouri Valley schools have already started their stadium drives. They are Kansas, Kansas Aggies and Ames. The Universities of Iowa, Minnesota, Illinois, Wisconsin, Purdue, Indiana and Michigan are other schools to which Nebraska hands nothing have started their drives.

Structure Well Planned

The University of Nebraska structure, as planned by the Memorial Association takes into account Nebraska's relative status among the universities of the west and the dignity of the state with reference to all others. The plans call for a substantial concrete and steel structure which will seat 25,000 or 30,000 people, for a great recreational field

STUDENTS RETURN FROM LONG TRIP

STUDENTS RETURN FROM LONG TRIP

Black and McBride Make 2,650 Mile Journey on a Motorcycle

After traveling 2,650 miles, Oswald Black, junior in the Arts and Science college, and Gregg McBride, second year law, have returned to their work in Lincoln. For more than two weeks the men rode Oz's motorcycle, visiting in Wyoming and Colorado and making an extended tour.

The two men left Lincoln two weeks ago Monday. They headed for Yellowstone National park. They reached there in fine shape and before returning had covered the 2,600 miles. They had no trouble with their machine but both men are badly sun-burned and blistered. McBride, especially, has a layer of tan that has raised some nice shiner blisters on his nose.

SOCIAL STUDIES MEETING TUESDAY

Conference of Teachers of Subject Will Be Held in Social Science

A conference of teachers and others interested in the teaching of social studies will be held Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in room 105 Social Science building. The meeting is being held at the request of the National Council for Social Studies which hopes to have similar meetings held in the summer sessions throughout the country.

Teachers of social studies, history, economics, government, sociology and geography, should especially attend the meeting. The conference will discuss the various methods of teaching, giving attention to such topics as the socialized recitation and the problem and project methods; the nature of an examination in the social studies, in order that attention may not be too exclusively given to the matter of information; and the use of pupil activities in and out of school as a means of teaching in citizenship.

The National Council for the Social Studies was organized last February. Its purpose is to "facilitate the best possible teaching of the social studies through the cooperative effort of those whose lives are devoted to this work." Its members are the school and college teachers of any of the social studies, college and normal teachers of education, and superintendents, principals and supervisors of schools. The executive committee is sponsoring the move for conferences.

A wicked cat once thought it nice to grab for fish beneath the ice;

He seized a big one by the fin, the fish then dived, the cat fell in.

Moral: Don't try to catch too big a fish.

TO HAVE SPECIAL ISSUE TUESDAY

Summer Nebraskan to Be Six Columns—To Be Sent to All Winter Students

The Summer Nebraskan for next Tuesday is to be a special edition six columns wide and four or six pages through.

The issue is being gotten out in co-operation with the athletic department to boost the sale of student athletic tickets next fall. It will be sent to all students who have registered for next winter work.

The edition will contain news of all changes which have occurred at the university during the past year, of the changes which will be made this fall. It will contain stories of the football season for the coming year and of plans of a few organizations for this fall.

The Tuesday issue is the last issue of the Summer Nebraskan. The management feels that in view of the fact that examinations start before another issue could be published, Tuesday is the best time to put out the final edition. The Tuesday paper will be the same size as the regular Daily Nebraskan.
