

"School Days" Party Given by Y. W. C. A.

First Entertainment of Year is "Kid Party" for Eighty-five Girls

"School Days" was the appropriate title of the first party of the Y. W. C. A. year held Wednesday evening in Ellen Smith Hall. Eighty-five girls sang, romped, played "Farmer in the Dell" and its like in true little school girl fashion. Tiny black paper slates which were inscribed with "school days", the by-word of the evening, opened to reveal a quaint program and contained a space designated for the exchange of addresses.

A group of youthful, bashful girls and boys formed the initial feature of the program with a number of clever, humorous lyrics and finished by leading the entire party in university songs. Recess followed this, and dancing, kindergarten games and exchange of addresses occupied that ever popular occasion. Since the Y. W. C. A. chose to conduct its school on a strictly ideal plan, lunch came directly after recess. Each guest was provided with a small, brown lunch box, true to form in all details. Removable lids disclosed sandwiches, cakes, pickles and potato chips. School was finally dismissed with dancing listed as the severest subject of the day.

Gladys Mickel was chairman of the social committee which had charge of the party. The personal was as follows: Lois Thompson, Lila Wyman, Helen Guthrie and Amy Martin.

Miss Appleby Describes Personal Conditions in Germany and England

"An American or an Englishman can go from one end of Germany to the other without a black look—but not so a Frenchman," says Miss Erma Appleby, secretary of the University Y. W. C. A., who has just returned from a two-months trip to Europe. Miss Appleby was one of a party of twenty, including several college professors, a reform politician, an American labor education leader, secretaries of Y. M. and Y. W. C. A., and a journalist. For a month the party was in England, and the travelers spent ten days in France. Miss Appleby was twice entertained by Lady Astor, a Virginia woman who is a charming hostess.

fish parliament and who is now very enthusiastically working for the prohibition cause in England.

Lloyd-George, the "Welsh wizard," was one of the speakers on the day that the American visited the English legislative body. He is a very convincing speaker, and has a strong personality, says Miss Appleby.

Cut Frosh Law Class One-Half

Riley to Organize Congregational Club of University Students

"Just to get acquainted," will be the principal aim of Rev. Walter H. Riley, new Congregational student pastor for the coming semester. Rev. Mr. Riley intends to accomplish this by holding receptions at the Congregational churches about the city. Although his plans are not yet fully matured, he expects to organize a group of Congregational students in order to unify their religious and social activities.

Mr. Riley received his education at Oberlin college, Ohio and previous to coming to Lincoln was pastor of the Congregational church at Weeping Water.

H. T. Huntington, Methodist student pastor, stated that it was too early to give definite plans for the coming year, but that receptions would be held in the city churches individually.

Announce Freshmen's Lecture Schedule

celebrations. For years the Innocent society has scheduled and had charge of freshmen convocations. This year the Innocents plan to co-operate with the Sphinx in the rally on Tuesday.

At the rallies on Monday and Tuesday, the tags for the week will be distributed. On Monday, the sophomores will receive red tags upon which is printed an ear of corn, a place to write the name, the home address and the Lincoln address. On Tuesday, the freshmen will be given green tags which are decorated with the same printing.

Chancellor Samuel Avery, Head Coach Fred T. Dawson, Captain "Chick" Hartley and Alumni Secretary Harold F. Holtz will be on the program of speakers for the rallies.

At the barbecue on Friday a real lunch of barbecued meat sandwiches, doughnuts, coffee and ice cream has been arranged. The Sphinx has been busy throughout the summer working up plans for the celebration.

The first step in the celebration plans were taken by the Summer Nebraskan, publication for the summer school students, which enthusiastically sponsored the plan and through letters sent to all Sphinx by Wilbur C. Peterson, president of the organization, and the editor of the Summer Nebraskan, more than thirty hearty endorsements of the plans were secured.

Spends Summer at Wisconsin School

Robert S. Slothower, supervisor of the department of manual arts, has spent the summer under the tutelage of Professor I. S. Griffiths, head of the manual arts departments of the University of Wisconsin.

Fees at this school are small as compared with those of Wisconsin. In the past, there has been a fee of $300 as matriculation for students whose homes are out of the state. There has been some agitation in favor of enforcing this law in the future. At the present time, there is an incidental fee of $22, paid like tuition at the beginning of each semester, a fee unknown to the students of Nebraska.

During the summer just past, there were students from twenty-five states in the university. Thirty-five students from Nebraska were enrolled.

The campus of Wisconsin university is one of the beauty spots of the state. Four lakes are practically on the campus, one of them furnishing private piers to the sorority and fraternity houses, which are built upon it.

Mr. Slothower is at the head of the manual arts department of the University of Nebraska, a new department in the Teachers' college.

scholarships will be encouraged to go on with graduate work and thus ultimately make a higher and more scholarly type of business man than would be possible if they were at once to begin business activities. "It goes without saying that the credit of securing these scholarships is due to the dean and his associates and to the recognition that the graduates of the college have received."
