VARSITY SQUAD REPORTS FORTY STRONG FRIDAY

Coach Dawson and Staff Start Men on Annual Grind For Hard Season

SO. DAKOTA HERE FIRST

Freshmen Coach Young Has Fifty Candidates Out For Yearling Team

Forty husky gridsters, the most powerful assortment of football material ever seen at the Cornhusker school, reported to Head Coach Fred Dawson and his staff yesterday afternoon on the drill field north of the Social Science hall for the opening workout of the 1922 season. Coach Dawson devoted the first workout to an intensive drill in the fundamentals of the pigskin sport.

The practice opened with calisthenics, following which the candidates were divided into four squads. Coach Owen Frank took charge of the backfield candidates, and assisted by Captain "Chick" Hartley sent them through a stiff drill. Advancing down the field, backfield sidesteping, and circling formed the larger part of the practice for the backfield men.

Bill Day, 1920 captain and center, entered the candidates for the center berth and gave them a strenuous workout on the art of passing the ball with speed and accuracy.

The guards and tackles were watched by Coach Henry F. Schulte. Schulte, together with the letter men, gave the new men a stiff drill on blocking and charging.

A squad of a dozen ends worked out under the direction of ex-Captain Clarence Swanson, who kept them busy catching forward passes to get them accustomed to handling the ball. With four letter men:

out for wing positions, in addition to about ten other candidates, the competition for the ends promises to be an interesting struggle.

Three letter men, "Red" Layton, halfback; Bryan Nixon, center; and Henry Bassett, tackle, did not report for the practice Friday, but are expected to be on hand for Monday's practice.

A noticeable feature of the first practice was the unusual fight that was displayed. The gridsters all realize that they will have to put forth their best efforts in order to win places on the team, and they are starting in with a vim that augurs well for the success of the Husker 1922 football season.

The second regular practice was held Saturday morning. Coach Dawson sent his proteges through a stiff drill which included some work at the dummies. The ends and backs worked at getting under forward passes, while the linesmen drilled at blocking, charging and how to set themselves to hold the line effectively.

Boxing completed the workouts. After the outdoor drill, the men adjourned to the basement of the armory, where a dozen or so hours were held after the workouts. Coach Dawson maintains that boxing teaches the grid candidate to be fast on his feet, to handle himself quickly and cleverly, to be quick of eye, besides hardening him physically.

Fifty yearlings, reported for the first official freshman grid practice Friday afternoon on the field east of the Social Science hall. Coach Farley Young put the first-year men through a stiff workout which included calisthenics, duck-walking, and running up and down the field in formation.

NEBRASKAN DRIVE WILL CONTINUE

Campaign to be Continued Thursday—Subscriptions Total 1900 Saturday Night

Still six hundred subscriptions short of their quota, the business staff of the Daily Nebraskan is making a vigorous campaign to raise their subscription list to the 2,500 mark before the close of this week. Eighteen hundred and fifty students have so far subscribed to the paper. This equals the subscription list of last semester when only a six column paper was published. The quota for the seven column paper this semester is 2,500 subscriptions.

"Considering the increased size of the paper and the added features, we do not believe that we are expecting too much in attempting to get 2,500 subscriptions," declared Clifford M. Hicks, assistant business manager of the Daily Nebraskan, who is in charge of the subscription campaign.

Girls will be taking subscriptions on the campus Monday. During the rest of the season athletic ticket campaign there will be no Daily Nebraskan solicitors on the campus. The final drive in the campaign will be made Thursday by a picked committee which will solicit subscriptions at the armory and station A.

Business suggests that instead of students attempting to describe the events of the school year in letters, that they take a year's subscription to the Nebraskan and have it sent to their parents.

Those students who have not found a solicitor on the campus may subscribe at the Nebraskan office in the basement of the Administration building or at Station A.

SCHOLARSHIPS GIVEN OUT IN LAW COLLEGE

Dean Seavey Announces Winners of Honor Awards For Good Work in Studies

(University Publicity Office)

Ten scholarships have been granted to deserving students in the University of Nebraska College of Law by the Board of Regents. This action is a distinct innovation by the college, according to Dean Warren A. Seavey. Self-supporting law students who have a scholarship record above the average and who can qualify as deserving are eligible. The value of each scholarship is $60 a year. The recipients are excused from paying the regular semester fee of $30, but are not given any further monetary consideration. The scholarship winners are:

- Seniors
 R. Bryan Genoways, Aurora.
 G. C. Brown, Lincoln.
 O. J. Northrup, Denver.
 Harold G. Reguartie, Lincoln.
 I. Joyner, Pine Ridge, S. D.
 Adolph E. Wenke, Pender.
 E. D. Beech, Meadow Grove.
 F. H. Mayo, Cambridge.
 S. A. Lewis, Omaha.
- Juniors
 H. F. Larkin, Lincoln.

All students in the college are eligible. In order to be considered, the student must make application to the College of Law faculty which, if it believes him deserving, forwards the request to the Board of Regents. Not to exceed 25 per cent of the students can be granted these scholarships. Seven applications were disapproved and returned.

The grades of the students recognized this year are from 5 to 17 per cent above the average of the college (Continued on Page Two)

Jimmie Best Back At His Old Stand After Long Trip

"Tell the boys I sure want to thank them for the trip," said Jack Best, veteran trainer and Nebraska's "grand old man," who has returned to Lincoln a short time ago after an extensive trip to California this summer.

"I want the boys to fight for the good old Scarlet and Cream and never give in. I hope I see a good crowd out for football and track and I don't see why we can't have a winning team if we just get out and fight," he continued.

"Jimmy" as he is known around the gymnasium, saw all the sights about San Francisco including Golden Gate Park, Seal Rocks, and the Dutch Windmills. A large football field on which two games could be played at the same time was also visited. It was during one of the trips around the beaches that "Jimmy" ate his first "hot dog."

According to Jack Best there is an armory large enough for football games on rainy days at Corvallis, California.

An extensive visit was also made in Los Angeles, which was a very busy town, according to Mr. Best. He has tried about twenty-three different kinds of California fruits and liked them all. While in San Francisco he tried various kinds of fish including Yellow Tail, Sea trout, Sea bass, Barinda and Halibut. However he liked Sand Dabs and Flounders best.

Jack Best also went through Idaho on the trip back. He has some snapshots showing himself astride a husky cow pony in full regalia, including spurs. He denies emphatically, however, the report that he "bulldogged" some steers.

He visited a number of friends in California, including Bob Hager, former Lincoln high coach. He arrived home about two weeks ago.

CHANCELLOR HOST TO UNI STUDENTS

Chancellor and Mrs. Avery Give Annual Reception in Art Hall

Chancellor and Mrs. Samuel Avery entertained 899 students and members of the faculty and administrative force of the University at their fourteenth annual reception given in Art Hall in the Library building Saturday evening from eight to ten-thirty.

Dean Carl C. Engberg and Mrs. Engberg received the guests at the door. Miss Florence I. McGehey, registrar introduced to Chancellor and Mrs. Avery in the reception line. Abonia Jostey men and women, members of the upper classes, were present to introduce students to one another.

Mrs. E. A. Burnett, Mrs. A. L. Candy, Mrs. Clyde Davis, Mrs. J. E. LeRossignol, Mrs. R. A. Lyman, Mrs. L. A. Sherman, Mrs. W. E. Sealock, and Mrs. W. A. Seavey served at the refreshment tables.

The wives of the deans were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Connor, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McNeil, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Posson, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Derrick, and Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Weir.

The Chancellor's reception is the first all-university affair of the year and many students took the opportunity to greet others whom they had not seen since last spring. The new method of registration, in force for the first time this fall has kept the greater part of the upper classmen off the campus most of the time. The reception furnished the occasion for many renewals of acquaintances.

Art Hall contained a new collection of pictures this year so that guests were able to study the fine exhibit which will be in the hall until September 28.

NEBRASKA PROFESSOR DOES RESEARCH WORK

Professor DeBaufre Spends Summer at Washington in Production of Helium Gas

(University Publicity Office)

Experiments directed toward the production of helium gas for commercial purposes occupied the entire summer of Prof. Wm. L. DeBaufre, chairman of the Mechanical Engineering department of the University of Nebraska. Professor DeBaufre returned September 11 from the Cryogen Laboratories at Washington, D. C., where he was working on a process to extract helium from natural gas. His work was under the direction of the Bureau of Mines.

A year ago last August the production of this gas at a cost that will permit its use commercially was undertaken by a committee of three engineers. Professor DeBaufre being the member appointed by the university department. M. H. Roberts, vice president of the Franklin Railway Supply company, and Dr. R. C. Tolman, chief of the government fixed nitrogen research laboratory and now with the California Institute of Technology, were the other members.

It will require another year to finish the experiments started, according to Professor DeBaufre, who was urged by the Bureau of Mines to remain in Washington this year. He felt, however, that the work in his department demanded his presence; and in order to enable him to carry (Continued on Page Four)
