

BARBEQUE PLANS COMPLETED FOR FRIDAY EVENING

Several Fraternities Close Tables For Friday Evening For 100% Attendance

EXPECT CROWD OF 1500

Good Program and Eats Being Arranged by the Iron Sphinx in Charge

Every man in the University is invited to the freshman welcome barbecue to be held on the athletic field Friday evening at 8:30. Not freshmen or sophomores alone but juniors and seniors as well may come to the big meeting.

Several fraternities have already closed their tables to allow 100 per cent attendance from their organizations. Sigma Alpha Epsilon was the first to take the step, followed closely by Alpha Sigma Phi, Delta Chi and Sigma Chi. Reports from the other fraternities were due this morning and it is expected that most of them will send their men in a group to the feed.

Arrangements have been made to accommodate 1,500 at the barbecue. Men who do not get their tickets today may get them at the gate tomorrow evening. Arrangements will be made to accommodate a few late comers but it is hoped that most of the men will get their tickets early to help the committee in arranging the necessary final details.

A popular university orchestra, cheerleaders and university speakers are on the program for the barbecue. Chancellors Samuel Avery, Dean of Men Fred T. Dawson, Captain Hartley, members of the Innocents and other men will give short addresses.

University Receives Valuable Collection

Books used by Prof. Amos G. Warner while writing his widely-known reference book, "American Charities," have been sent to the University of Nebraska library by Professor Mary Roberts Coolidge of Mills college, Cal. Professor Warner was a prominent member of the University faculty and it was while he was at Nebraska that he wrote his book.

A portion of the letter written by Professor Coolidge is as follows: "When Professor Warner became seriously ill and gave up his teaching at Stanford university, I bought his sociological library. I am sending for the university library some of the foreign reports which Professor Warner used in writing 'American Charities' and which I believe to be quite rare."

Registration For Chorus Still Open

"We are taking up interesting work and we want to begin together" says Mrs. Carrie B. Raymond, director of the chorus.

RECEIVE APPLICATIONS FOR NIGHT EDITOR. Applications for the position of night editor of the Daily Nebraskan, will be received in the Student Activities office until 5 p. m., Tuesday evening, September 26.

ENGINEERS PROMOTE INTEREST IN WORK

Nebraska Professors Serve on Committees for the Promotion of Engineering

Professor O. W. Sjorgen of the agricultural college has been appointed a member of the program committee of the Kansas-Nebraska section of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education. The next semi-annual meeting is tentatively scheduled for October 28 at Manhattan, Kansas. This is the date of the annual Kansas University-Kansas Aggie football game. It was chosen in order to secure a larger attendance at the meeting. A number of the members of the engineering faculty of Nebraska will probably be there, according to Dean Ferguson.

Professor Clarke E. Mickey has been elected to membership on the committee on "Subject Matter of Undergraduate Course in Highway Engineering Laboratory" of the Highway Education Board. This board is semi-national in scope. Mr. J. J. Tigger, United States commissioner of education, is chairman of the board. Mr. Mickey will associate with professors from Alabama, Michigan and Virginia.

George Salter, C. E., '22, is employed as engineer in charge of location and survey of all Mexican land owned by the International Petroleum company at Tampico, Tamps, Mexico. Wilford C. Wiggins, C. E., '22, is employed at present by the Henningston Engineering company of Omaha.

Baseball Stars Will Appear Here

Appearance of Babe Ruth and Bob Meusel in Lincoln, participating in a ball game at Landis field, is assured by a final exchange of telegrams today between the booking agency representing the two major league stars and the owners of the Nebraska league park. The date originally suggested for the appearance of Babe and Bob has been changed to Saturday afternoon, October 14.

Officers of the Lincoln Amateur Baseball association will stand as sponsors for the Ruth-Meusel baseball show in the capital city. Two teams of local amateurs will compete in a diamond encounter, Babe to be in the lineup of one team and Meusel to wear the uniform of the other club.

Association officers announced today that an effort would be made to put on the unplayed City league game between the American Legion and Lincoln Printers teams on the date in question, the Legion and Printer manager to toss a coin for choice of the two Yankee stars.

Manager Stroud of the Printers has approved the plan suggested by the amateur association officers and Manager Duke of the Legion team will have the same opportunity. In all events, the local association will provide the two ball clubs for the Ruth-Meusel attraction, sharing with the park owners in a division of the net receipts.

Major league dope today indicated that the Yankees will get into the world's series, with the Giants as the opposing team. The series is scheduled to start Wednesday, October 4, and at the very latest will be concluded by October 12. This latter date will give Ruth and Meusel ample time to come by train from Gotham to Lincoln, arriving here Saturday morning, October 14.

Lincoln is to be the first stop by Babe and Bob on their tour. In all probability, the Yankee stars will show in Omaha the following day. Many thousands of baseball fans in Lincoln and adjacent Nebraska towns undoubtedly will take advantage of the opportunity to see Ruth and Meusel display their baseball wares.

500 NEBRASKAN SUBSCRIPTIONS MUST BE RAISED TODAY

TODAY is the last chance to subscribe to the Daily Nebraskan. At two dollars for the whole year there is not another offer on the campus that can equal in value what the Daily Nebraskan will give you in a year's subscription. This paper, the only one of its kind on the campus, is the only medium where a student may secure an accurate daily account of all the activities connected with the school. This year the size of the paper has been increased to seven columns in order to cover the school news more thoroly and this has been done without an increase in the subscription price. The staff in undertaking this depended upon an increased circulation to cover the cost of a larger paper but to date the list is far below that of last year despite the fact that the school has a greater enrollment. THE PAPER CAN BE NO BETTER THAN THE STUDENTS WISH IT TO BE AND THEIR INTEREST IS INDICATED.

AWGWAN TO MAKE FIRST APPEARANCE EARLY NEXT WEEK

"Opening Number" of University Comic Magazine Filled With Live Articles

BOOK IS REORGANIZED

Cover Design Will be One of Many Features of the First Issue

If you're sad—Your luck is gone, Wear a smile, From AWGWAN.

The "Opening Number" of Awgwan, Nebraska's publication, will appear on the campus some time next week, according to the announcement of the staff. A hopper full of mirth-producing material has already been put through the channels of comic material in the office of "old man Awgwan" and the whole collection, preceded by a striking three-colored cover will greet the students of Nebraska not later than Tuesday, September 26.

The staff of Awgwan's first number is exceedingly large and a great variety of material has been incorporated in the opening number. Cartoons and material ranging from the ridiculous to the sublime has been produced and the "official sifter" of the office has allowed only the very best of the material to pass. Several new features have been offered in the cleverly written articles this year. The jokes and satire will come "close home" to the students of the University of Nebraska and all of the mirth will be clean and refreshing.

A large amount of money has been spent to produce good art work for the "Opening Number." The cover page is being prepared at a high figure with the use of red, yellow, and blue combinations. All of the latest ideas in engraving and comic art have been studied by editors of Awgwan and are being carried out in the pages of this comic publication.

University Chess and Checker Club Started

Chess and checkers enthusiasts will meet Friday in the Temple Y. M. C. A. to organize a club. H. Herbert Howe, of Table Rock, Neb., a freshman in the University is the promoter of the organization. Mr. Howe was winner of the Hardy chess trophy in 1921.

The University Y. M. C. A. has agreed to furnish rooms for meetings and chess and checker boards. Mr. Howe feels that enough students are interested in the two games to make the club a success.

Athletic Exhibit in Front of "U" Hall Draws Much Attention

"What kind of a Cornhusker are you?" That challenge rang out from the athletic exhibit between the Army and University hall Wednesday, to induce further sale of season athletic tickets.

Pictorial of sixteen of Nebraska's championship football teams, stood out from the background of red "N" blankets, arranged over tables in booth effect. Gridsters of 1891, the very first football team of the University held the place of honor at one end, above three cups that are trophies of the school. At the other end was shown Jack Best, Nebraska's grand old man, and a photograph of the hurdles in which a Nebraska runner came in ahead of the Kansas man who ran in the Olympics.

Grouped along the sides of the exhibit were photographs of the teams from 1891 to 1921-22. All the teams in that interval of time were not shown, however. Much interest and

STAFF MEETING

Tonight at seven o'clock the first staff meeting of the year will be held in the Daily Nebraskan office. The meeting is compulsory and all applicants who wish to hold staff positions must be present. The roll will be taken. Plans will be discussed and policies outlined. Special attention is called to the date and time.

Nebraskan Arranges For Broadcasting of Grid Games by Radio

Radio broadcasts, play by play, of football games at Nebraska field, have been arranged by the Daily Nebraskan through the station in the Electrical Engineering building, Bertram Ellsworth, the operator, promises that he will be able to get reports from the Kansas game at Lawrence. Since the apparatus will send only a few hundred miles, he is unable to obtain reports of the Oklahoma and Syracuse games.

Even the cheering and the voices of the cheer leaders will be audible to those who tune in. The play-by-play reports will come directly from the reporter at the field, through a direct telephone line, to the radio set on the campus. Mr. Ellsworth and Mr. Myer are at present remodeling and rebuilding the set. They are sure the instruments will be ready for use the first game, October 7. The aerial, too, is out of use, but the support on the power house stack will be repaired in a few days. Various lecturers will be broadcasted this winter, according to Mr. Ellsworth.

Missouri School of Journalism Has First Chinese Girl

Miss Eva Chang, the first Chinese woman to enter the Missouri school of journalism, arrived in Columbia September 15. Miss Chang came to this country a year ago on a scholarship of China's indemnity fund. Her home is in Shanghai, and she went to school at St. Mary's Hall, a boarding school for Chinese girls. She was one of ten to pass the rigid examinations for the scholarships offered every other year to girls from all over China for a four years' course in the American college or university of their choice. Her first year was spent at Oberlin college, Oberlin, Ohio, but her interest in journalism moved her to change to Missouri to complete her course. Many of the leading newspaper men in China are graduates of the University of Missouri, Miss Chang said, and it was upon advice of an American editor of one of the largest papers in Shanghai that Miss Chang came here.

SELLECK THANKS STUDENTS FOR HELP IN DRIVE

Agent For Student Activities Office Show Appreciation For Service Rendered

CAMPAIGN BIG SUCCESS

Students Requested to Check in Unsold Tickets—Exact Count Announced Later

Thanks to the students who have given their time and energy to make the athletic ticket drive a success is expressed in a letter by John K. Selleck, agent of student activities. No definite count has yet been made of the number of tickets sold as the athletic department is waiting for ticket sellers to check in unsold tickets. Students desiring to purchase tickets may secure them at the athletic office at the top of the stairs in the east end of the Armory.

Selleck's letter to the solicitors follows:

"In bringing the student athletic ticket drive to a successful close we are assured that the student body is squarely back of the Nebraska athletics as never before. The students have shown their loyalty and pride in Nebraska's teams.

"The wonderful spirit shown on the campus this week will reflect to the good of all the activities throughout the entire year.

Freshmen have caught the spirit of their school and started out in a fine way. I take this opportunity to express my appreciation of the effort put forth on the campus to bring about this success. I thank the colleges, organizations, and committees for their co-operation. Many individuals whose names are not listed in the office have given freely of their time and effort. The result of their work is a great satisfaction to all. The real success of this campaign lies directly with the student body. Theirs was the most important part of the campaign, and all of them have done their bit to make it a success.

(Signed) JOHN K. SELLECK.

Palladian Society Holds Open Meeting

Palladian Literary society is planning an especially good open meeting for Saturday evening. A talk by A. A. D. Bixby, well-known Nebraska poet will be the feature of the program which will begin promptly at 8:30. A get-acquainted period, beginning at 8 o'clock, will precede the program. ## UNIVERSITY BAND TO HAVE NEW UNIFORMS

Members of Band Will Sponsor Mixers to Raise Funds For Suits

A sixty-piece band directed by William T. Quick will soon be organized. The members of the band are to wear handsome uniforms patterned after those worn by the cadet officers of the R. O. T. C.

Half the cost of these uniforms will be defrayed by the university and the other half will be raised by the band, under the direction of B. B. Gage. In order to raise the remaining $840, two mixers will be staged. The tentative date for the first of these is October 7. Thanksgiving has been fixed as the date of the other party. Both affairs will be held in the Armory.

In two or three weeks, after sufficient practice time has been spent, the band expects to come out with a series of concerts, the dates of which will be announced later by the band management. Although the military department has limited band membership to sixty there is still an opening for musical instruments in the orchestra. Cellos and string bass are needed especially. Anyone interested may try out Thursday, September 21.

Football Officials Hold First Meeting

A large group of men officiating at football games throughout the state met last night in the Armory and started what is expected to be a permanent organization.

The meeting was for the organization of the football officials and men who wish to officiate at games. Coach Schulte has been working on the idea some time now, and plans to complete a permanent organization here this week. The work of the group will be manifold, study of the rules, decisions and rulings are to be considered.

The purpose of twofold—to organize clubs for discussion of football problems and to affiliate the organization with other state officials throughout the state. Similar organizations are to be started under Schulte's direction next Monday in several of the larger towns of the state.

The Lincoln organization will study football rules in a series of evening meetings. This is in line with the general scheme of the athletic service of the University extension work, that has been highly recommended by Chancellor Avery.

Under Schulte's direction, this is hoped to be made a statewide organization. It is hoped to stimulate interest in football contests, and have a more uniform officiating staff. Coaches, men and anyone else interested in the sport, have been invited to attend the Wednesday night meeting.

Book of Autographs Sent to Uni Library

Autographs of many famous people are contained in a volume just received by the library. The book will be placed in exhibition in the new display case. Among the signatures contained in the book are those of Henry W. Longfellow, Washington Irving, George Cruikshank, Richard B. Sheridan and Charles Dickens. It is a beautifully bound volume with a vari-colored design on the morocco cover.

"Why do they call 'em salesmen?" "Every one has a tale ready," explained the judge, "as to why he shouldn't serve."—Louisville Courier Journal.

Pompous physician (to man plastering defective wall): The trowel covers up a lot of mistakes—what? Workman: Yes, gunner—and so do the spade.—London Bystander.

FRESHMEN CLASS TURN OUT STRONG FOR CONVOCATION

First Year Students Learn About University Traditions and School Spirit

CONDRA TAKES PICTURES

Importance of the Olympics Impressed on Minds of First Year Men

More than 1,500 members of the freshman class attended the first convocation of the year held in their honor Wednesday morning. Chauncey Nelson president of the Innocents, conducted the meeting, which was sponsored by the Innocents and the Iron Sphinx.

Cheers and yells for Nebraska opened the meeting and the members of the first year class demonstrated very satisfactorily that they will develop into enthusiastic Cornhuskers. In opening the meeting, Chauncey Nelson urged the freshmen to be sure to get their green caps before Thursday evening. He promised them no end of trouble if they appeared on the campus many more days without the emerald headgear. He also urged them to unite so as to be prepared to fight their hardest in the Olympics October 21. He warned the freshmen that to wear the green caps after Olympics would be much to their discredit while to wear them now is an honor. The sophomores, he says, intend to go the limit to keep the freshmen from discarding their green caps. Captain Hartley asked that every freshman wear an "N" button before Wednesday evening. He told of the encouragement members of the team received from seeing the large number of buttons about the campus and asked that every first year man buy a season athletic ticket and boost for Nebraska.

Dean of Men Dawson also urged that every man wear the green caps and the emerald headgear. He told the freshmen that he did not intend to go back to eastern colleges again after once having worked at Nebraska. He said Nebraska hoped to have a good team again this year; as good as the team of last year. But to do that, Dawson said every student must back the team by wearing a red button.

Dr. G. E. Condra, director of the department of conservation and survey, made a rousing speech on traditions before the freshmen. Dr. Condra was one of the members of the faculty who were instrumental in starting the Olympics. He told of how husky freshmen used to fight the battles for the weaker freshmen and that little scraps between the two classes finally led to an organized battle conducted by the Innocents. He told them not to be "do-nothings" but to get out and work for Nebraska. He told of the Nebraska colors and of how students of Nebraska had, thru work, become among the foremost in their classes.

Following the rally, the freshmen gathered on the south side of the armory where moving pictures were taken of the entire group.

Tryouts Open to All Students for Uni Dramatic Club

The annual tryouts for the University Dramatic club, should interest every student who has inclination toward this splendid activity. The University Dramatic club is the oldest dramatic organization on the campus and has been noted in previous years for the quality of its production. Each year it presents a musical comedy usually called "The Follies." The organization is made up from the successful participants of these annual tryouts and is not limited to any set number. Each contestant is given three minutes to try out using a scene from any show and may try out individually or as a member of a group. The group tryouts are urged as they give the contestants better opportunities to show what they can do. In case of group tryouts the individual time is allowed for each member of the group.

A register has been placed in room 101 Temple building where contestants are expected to register before
