

BARBECUE FOR FRESHMEN WILL BE HELD TODAY

Every Man in School Is Invited to Attend the "Fun-fest" to Welcome New Men.

MEAT IS NOW COOKING

And a Good Program Is in Store for all Freshmen and Upper-classmen Who Attend

Freshman welcome barbecue at 6:30 this evening.

Every man in school is invited. Tickets are fifty cents and may be obtained at the Student Activities office, Cornhusker Stationery Shop or at any Iron Sphinx.

Arrangements have been made to accommodate 1,200 men at the barbecue to be held on the Athletic field at 6:30 this evening. The barbecue is the climax of a week of welcoming by the Iron Sphinx and the Innocents societies co-operating.

A good program of music and speeches has been arranged. The Northwall orchestra will furnish music and Dean of Men Fred T. Dawson, Chancellor Samuel Avery, Captain Hartley of the football team and members of the Innocents will speak. Plenty of eats have been ordered for all the 1,500. The order has been in for nearly a week but the large sale of tickets up until Thursday caused those in charge to place an additional order so as to insure plenty of everything.

Tickets have been on sale throughout the week. The members of the Iron Sphinx have been working on the athletic sale campaign and have not been pushing the sale of barbecue tickets until Thursday when they started selling them in big lots. The barbecued steaks are oven Thursday afternoon. Roasting of the meat was started late Thursday and will continue until the time of the feed tonight.

A string of tables will be placed on the inner part of the football field. Past these tables the men will file to secure their seats. Members of the Sphinx will have charge of dishing out the food. Lights have been strung on the fence post to the south of the football field, on the goal posts and on the bleachers.

"Duke" Gleason will have charge of the cheerleaders for the barbecue. Gleason has been leading the cheering at all of the ticket "pep" meetings throughout the week and freshmen should learn many Nebraska yells under his supervision.

Several fraternities have closed their tables for dinner tonight. Sigma Alpha Epsilon was the first to take such action but was quickly followed by a half dozen other organizations.

Holmes to Preach on "Ideal Young Man"

"The Ideal Young Man" is the title of the sermon to be delivered by Rev. John Andrew Holmes, next Sunday at 7:45. An interesting feature of the program will be the reading of several letters on the subject, written by selected young women. On Sunday evening at 7:45 October 1, the theme will be "The Ideal Young Woman" with letters written by representative young men.

RECEIVE APPLICATIONS FOR NIGHT EDITOR Applications for the position of night editor of the Daily Nebraskan, will be received in the Student Activities office until 5 p. m., Tuesday evening, September 26.

The success of the student athletic ticket campaign is most encouraging. It is another example of the pep shown wherever University men congregate. I saw the same spirit at Fort Snelling last summer where Nebraska men endeavored to give Nebraska a high place in the various activities of the camp. If the same spirit is shown by citizens of Lincoln, it will result in putting across the stadium campaign successfully. Great credit is due to the Daily Nebraskan, to the members of the committee, and especially to Mr. Seleck in charge of the campaign, for the successful results. (Signed) S. AVERY

CHANCELLOR AVERY RETURNS FROM YORK

Attended State Convention of the American Legion Where He Met Many Uni Alumni

Chancellor Samuel Avery returned late Wednesday evening from the state convention of the American Legion held at York. He was accompanied by Professor Charles Taylor, Dean Warren Cleavey and L. E. Gunderson, bursar.

"I saw more University of Nebraska alumni at the convention than I would see in six weeks of ordinary traveling around the state," remarked the chancellor. Professor Charles W. Taylor was elected to the executive committee of the state organization and will have charge of the Americanization work of the Legion.

Three past state commanders are alumni of the University, which shows what an active part in the affairs of the state Legion former students of Nebraska University play. The past commanders are William Ritchie of Omaha, Earl Cline of Nebraska City and Robert Simmons of Scottsbluff. Simmons was president of the Alumni association of the University last year.

The Trades School of the University was responsible for the transportation of a twenty-piece Legion band from Lincoln to the convention. Prof. E. E. Brackett, principal of the Trades School was in charge of getting the automobiles to carry the band to York.

None of the University men who made the trip to the state convention are planning to attend the national convention which will be held next month in New Orleans, but several of the alumni expressed their intention of attending the big meeting in the south.

Chancellor Avery, who was absent from the city during the campaign on the campus for the sale of Student Athletic tickets, expressed himself as being much pleased with the success of the drive.

TO GIVE ANNUAL MIXER SATURDAY

Plans All Set for "Get-Acquainted" Social in Armory With a Good Program

The last details of the preparation for the annual Mixer given by the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. in the Armory tomorrow night were taken care of at a meeting of committee chairman and group captains at Ellen Smith hall last night. This good time is arranged each year in honor of the new students as a get-acquainted event. The mixer is the first all-university social given by the students.

A novel plan of introduction will open the evening's program. All formality and embarrassment will be dropped and everyone will go away with a large number of names and information about their newly made friends. Games and stunts will make up the evening's good time and all will be given a chance to participate. The committee in charge is expecting a large turnout and as one member said, "We've simply got to give everybody the time of their lives."

W. S. G. A. to Give A Party for Girls

The W. S. G. A. will give its annual party for freshmen girls and their big sisters Saturday afternoon from two-thirty to five-thirty at Ellen Smith hall. The purpose of the affair, which is called a "pup" party, is to provide an opportunity for first year girls to get acquainted with each other. Similar entertainment has been arranged at the First Presbyterian church.

For the benefit of students of the Congregational denomination, receptions will be held at the First and Vine Congregational churches. "A jolly good time, with games and good 'ests' entirely informal" is the way the programs at these churches were summarized by W. H. Riley, Congregational student pastor. The affair of the First church is under the management of Miss Kathryn Reymann, and at the Vine church is directed by Marla Eaton. The Reverend Mr. Riley expects to be at both places.

According to an announcement made by J. W. Hilton, Christian student pastor, receptions will be held at the First, East Lincoln and Tabernacle Christian churches. A purely informal good time has been planned and everyone is welcomed.

Games to Have Better Officials

Better officiating in high school football games this fall is the aim of Coach Henry F. Schulte of the University of Nebraska, who is organizing a school for officials. This school will be conducted in all sections of the state and will be open without charge to officials, coaches, players and those interested in the great fall sport.

The plan for better officiating is a part of the program conducted by the University of Nebraska for the purpose of encouraging clean athletics in high schools. The pentathlon, track honor roll and high school tournaments are other services to high schools which the state university fosters in co-operation with members of the high school athletic board of control.

At the meeting of officials a thorough study of the football rules will be made along with a discussion of the special problems that bear on football in particular. A problem sheet Continued on Page Four

Partial List of the Greek Pledges to Be Announced Soon

According to Professor R. D. Scott, chairman of the Fraternity Eligibility committee, it is not certain how soon a complete list of the men who pledged fraternities this fall may be available. The committee will publish a partial list as soon as possible, depending on how soon the fraternities turn in their lists, and the amount of time necessary for the consideration of the names.

Lincoln, Omaha and Hastings men are to be most carefully examined, for membership in national high-school fraternities bars pledging in similar university organizations.

BRITISH NOTABLES ARRIVE TOMORROW

University Officials Aid in Reception of Representatives of Sulgrave Institute

Plans are complete today for the entertainment of the delegation of notables from the Sulgrave Institution of England, who are expected to arrive in Lincoln at 7:45 Saturday morning. They will leave here at 4:30 Sunday afternoon for Omaha.

The entertainment of the distinguished visitors while in Lincoln is under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce. Arrangements have been made for noon luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce and a banquet in the evening at the Lincoln hotel. University officials have been assisting in making plans for the guests' entertainment. Chancellor Avery will be one of the speakers of the evening. Governor McKelvie is also on the program. August Elche, vice chairman of the Chamber of Commerce, will preside. The visitors will be shown points of interest about Lincoln, including the city and farm campuses. The latter will be examined carefully.

The Sulgrave Institute is the old ancestral home of the Washington family and the birthplace of George Washington. It was built by Lawrence Washington about 1550 and is rich in historical significance. Besides being the ancestral home of the father of our country, the stars and stripes of the Washington coat of arms were incorporated into the American flag during the revolution. Several prominent Englishmen look over the old manor and set it aside as a memorial to the American people and as a tribute to their great leader. It is the desire to further cement the bonds between Great Britain and the United States that has prompted the founders of the Sulgrave Institute to visit this country.

The members of the party arrived in New York Sunday and have been spending this week making a tour of the eastern cities. A number of cities will be visited in the middle west, including Omaha, Lincoln, Topeka, Kansas City and Sioux Falls. The following are included in the party:

Sir Charles Wakefield, former Lord Mayor of London; Lady Wakefield, Sir Arthur Haddington Hawfield, president of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce and junior lord of the treasury; Lady Haworth; Harold Spender, prominent British editor and author; Sir William Letts; H. S. Ferris, esquire, director of the British Sulgrave; Hon. Lucien Turcotte Paenud, government leader of the Canadian house of commons, Madame Paenud; Lieut. Gov. MacCallum Grant of Nova Scotia; Madame Grant; Hon. B. D. Edwards, acting high commissioner of the commonwealth of Australia to the United States; Andrew B. Humphrey, secretary of the Sulgrave, and John A. Stewart, director of the Sulgrave delegation.

Lack of Equipment Dims Prospects for Inter-college Teams

The prospects for 1922 inter-college or inter-fraternity football schedules have been dimmed because of the lack of necessary equipment. Coach Farley Young's yearlings, numbering a half hundred or more have caused the athletic department to search all lockers for spare shoulder pads, shoes, jerseys and moleskins.

Last season the colleges of Business Administration, Engineering and Law had teams on the field. The inter-college championship game last season resulted in a 6 to 0 victory for the Business Administration team.

IRON SPHINX MEETING All Iron Sphinx will meet on the Athletic field today at 6 p. m.

Forty-Seven Girls Report for Soccer

The girls' soccer season opened with forty-seven girls out on the field east of Social Science building Wednesday afternoon. Most of these were new players. When the "letter girls" appear the number will be increased appreciably. It is ideal weather for soccer, promising fine practices before the tournament which will probably be the first week in November. If you make a class team, there's 100 points toward the "N" sweater.

Silver Gifts for Ellen Smith Hall

Ellen Smith Hall has received two gifts of silver to add to the silver buffet-set in the dining room. The Mystic Fish of last year presented a silver sandwich tray, and a round tray, untrimmed, for the large sugar and creamer of the set. The members of last year's Xi Delta members gave a good-looking hammered silver sugar and creamer, which exactly matched the small oval tray that the set already contained.

WESSEN WRITES BOOK ON ENGLISH

Takes up the principle that Underlies Effective Composition in Daily Life.

Professor Maurice H. Wesen has recently had published "Everyday Uses of English" (Crowell Company). The book takes up the principles that underlie effective composition, treating them from the point of view of their application to the problems of daily life. It is primarily, of course, a text to be used in Business English. As such it has evolved from the classwork of Professor Wesen. But it is, besides a text book in Business English, useful to business men, office workers and the general reader.

Part I takes up in a practical way the construction of business letters and reports. Specific types of letters are analyzed and illustrated. Various types of business reports are discussed and outlined. The illustrations given and the vivid discussions prepare students for the use of the appendix of suggested problems and exercises.

The second part deals with those elements out of which all compositions are constructed—words, sentences, paragraphs, spelling, punctuation.

The book has been very well received. The Literary Review of the New York Evening Post said of it: "Designed to present the principles of business composition in its various forms and to summarize the mechanics of writing, this book really performs the functions of two. It provides a thorough, useful and authoritative treatment of the entire field, together with complete, well-arranged tables of words and rules. The style of its longer articles is vivid and entertaining, frequently epigrammatic. Its chapters on business reports, the sentence, and the paragraph contain some new material of value."

VESPER CHOIR

All girls interested in joining the vesper choir—especially freshmen and those who have had experience in choral work—please report some time Friday afternoon in Ellen Smith hall.

STUDENT COUNCIL ANNOUNCES DATE OF FALL VOTING

October Third Is the Time Set for the Autumn Student Political Race.

BALLOT FOR EACH CLASS

Third Tuesday in Each Semester Is Designated Election Day by the Board of Regents.

Rules governing the autumn student election of class presidents announced by the president of the Student Council today have been made by the Board of Regents.

The third Tuesday of each semester, exclusive of registration week, is set aside for the elections, when the presidents of the four classes are elected. In the second semester elections the Ivy Day orator, editor-in-chief, managing editor and business manager of the Cornhusker are chosen.

The polls of the election which is scheduled for a week from Tuesday, October 3, will be in charge of the Student Council. Each candidate may have a representative at the polls but no money shall be spent on behalf of any candidate.

There is a separate ballot for each class and the ballots are counted at the close of the polls by the Student Council members who are in charge of the election. Any candidate who violates the rule about the spending of money, or of soliciting by cards or other means at the polls may be declared ineligible.

The rules provide that each candidate must file his name in the Student Activities office not later than five p. m., on Friday preceding the election.

The University catalogue defines the status of students who may participate in the elections as follows: Any student having the full number of entrance credits properly distributed as required by the University and less than twenty-four hours, shall be considered a freshman.

Any student having from twenty-four up to but excluding fifty-three hours credit in addition to the full number of entrance points named above, or any freshman in a three-year college having thirty entrance credits, shall be considered a sophomore.

Any student having from eighty-up to but excluding eighty-nine hours credit or any second-year man, by credit, in a three-year college, shall be considered a junior.

Any student having from eighty-nine up to but excluding graduation or any third-year man, by credit, in a three-year college, shall be considered a senior.

During the second semester of each year, eighteen hours shall be added to each and every one of the foregoing figures.

For many years the registrar was in charge of the student elections and published the notices of filings. The registrar's assistants also were in charge of the counting of the ballots. With the coming into power of the Student Council, the Regents have changed the rules and provide that the Council shall be in charge of the polls. A faculty committee has co-operated with the students in the past few years during the elections.

Ackerson Added to Agriculture College Instructor Staff

A recent addition to the faculty of the Agricultural college is C. W. Ackerson of the University of Minnesota. Mr. Ackerson holds two degrees from that institution. He received a B. Sc. degree in 1921, and an M. Sc. in 1922. His master's degree was taken in nutrition under Dr. Palmer. He is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity, and also of the Iron Wedge. This is similar to the Innocents of Nebraska. Mr. Ackerson is engaged in experimental nutrition work, and is working for his Doctor's degree under Dr. M. J. Blah, who is chemist of the experiment station and professor of chemistry.

Pi Beta Phi announces the pledging of Neva Kelly, Bassett, Neb.; Dorothy Mansfield, York, Neb.
