

STUDENTS MAY SEE FOOTBALL PRACTICE TODAY

Coach Dawson Will Open Gates of Athletic Field This Afternoon.

SCRIMMAGES ARE LONGER

Intensive Scrimmages Will Be Held Daily Until South Dakota Game.

NOTICE.

The football practice this afternoon on Nebraska Field will be open to the students and the general public. Head Coach Dawson has urged that the students turn out in force for the workout, and has given assurance that there will be plenty of action.

Continuous grinding and plugging is the order of the day for Coach "Skipper" Dawson's moleskin-clad crew, which went through another stiff drill and scrimmage yesterday afternoon. The scrimmage yesterday was much better than the workout Monday, when the men seemed to forget all the football they had ever learned. Coach Dawson lengthened the scrimmage period to an hour and a half last night.

The backfield on the two Varsity teams which line up against each other are somewhat permanent, while the linemen are continually being shifted and alternated. Backfield No. 1 is composed of "Pete" Preston at quarterback, Noble and Herb DeWitz at the halves, and Captain "Chick" Hartley at fullback. Preston, DeWitz, and Hartley of backfield appear to be going good, while Dave Noble, of all Western fame last year, still has to work off a lot of fat.

Sed Hartman is fullback, Rufe DeWitz and Bud Randolph are stationed at the half-way positions, and R. C. Russell calls signals on team No. 2. Hartman, who was kept out of most of the games last year by injuries, has shown unusual driving power in his line plunges and end runs. DeWitz and Randolph also played a good game last night.

The fight for places on the line is becoming keener every day. In the scrimmage yesterday several men won praise from the coaches. Wenke at tackle showed up well. Nixon broke thru the line on one occasion and blocked a punt, besides making several good tackles. Joy Bergquist is playing his usual good game, and is practically a certainty for one of the line positions.

Coach Dawson intimated Tuesday that the Varsity would meet the yearlings in scrimmage before the end of the week, and Cornhusker football fans are hoping that Dawson will hold a Fresh-Varsity game on Saturday, a contest which has become a tradition at the Cornhusker institution. Coach Farley Young's proteges have been working hard and holding daily scrimmages in preparation for their first battle with the varsity, in which they expect to give a good account of themselves.

JAYHAWK ELEVEN ON VERGE OF HARD WORK

Eleven Letter Men and Fifty Others Training for the Gridiron Battles to Come.

The Jayhawkers, runners-up in the Valley last year, and ancient rival of the Huskers, began training a week ago under George "Potsy" Clark, head mentor. With a nucleus of ten letter men from the 1921 team and thirty-three seasoned men on the Varsity, Clark is hanging his hopes on a twinkler.

The Jayhawkers are not edging into the season easily this year. Instead they journey to West Point on October 7, for their first game with the Army. This game was scheduled immediately following the Kansas victory at Lawrence last year of Missouri.

In view of this game, which bids fair to give Kansas the hardest competition it has ever faced, "Potsy" Clark began cutting his squad early.

The eleven K men on the gridiron for Kansas this fall are Captain Severt Higgins, guard, and McAdams, halfback, both of whom are two letter men; Wilson, quarterback; Spurgeon, Krueger and Griffin, backs; Black, McDonald and Boone, ends; Davidson, tackle, and Waldlein, guard. McAdams is the nearest approach Kansas has to a star. He is an excellent punter, a good ball tapper, and can pass and receive well, and in addition is a wonder on defense.

Clark's squad start to Garrison, N. Y., on October 3. According to present plans the Kansans will stop in Niagara Falls N. Y., Thursday, October 5, for a stretch and workout and will arrive at West Point on Friday evening. Officials for the Kansas-Army game have been announced here as Crowley, Harvard, referee; McBride, Kansas City, umpire; and Kersberg, Niles Posse Institute, head linesman.

It is interesting to note that the Jayhawkers openly admit they will have a weak line. Kansas line usually averages under weight, but that does not keep the Hawks from winning games. Neither does pre-season dope from the Jay Bird's camp telling of a weak line now indicate that there will be three weeks from today.

Nebraska's game with Kansas at Lawrence on Armistice Day will be Homecoming Day in the Mount Oread town, when thousands of old K. U. grads will journey back to see their Alma Mater team tangle with the Huskers. It will probably be as different a game as Missouri will face outside of the Turkey Day fray.

AMES SHORT ON LETTER MEN

Young playing half, and Gaylord who was the Cyclones consistent fullback, compose the backfield main stays of last years' first string.

With almost a 100 per cent turn-out of last years' freshman squad and second team, Coach Willaman has not been wanting for material.

The backfield positions are causing keen competition. Roberts, one of the most outstanding men on the freshman team, will give Wolters a close race for the pilot position. Palm, who played half in several games last year, will give Gaylord all he can handle to hold his position as fullback. Ira Young and Brorby, who played in several games last year, have been changing places with Winger and Allen, two of the frosh proteges. Many men are trying for center and end, while the tackles and guards are not having such a close battle.

Prospects are good for a large turnout of freshmen at the opening practice Wednesday afternoon.

NEW MENTORS COACH VALLEY GRID TEAMS

The tutoring staffs at most of the Valley schools will be the same this year, with the exception of Ames, Grinnell and Missouri, who will send their squads into the season under new coaches this fall.

"Who's through in the Valley" is almost as interesting as who isn't. "Jimmy" Phelan, mentor of the Tigers last year, and assistant under Johnny Miller two years prior, one time Notre Dame star, beat the athletic office to it last spring and turned in his resignation first. Friction and a split of the Tiger squad in 1921 assisted materially in opening the gate for Phelan.

Tom Kelly, line coach of the 1921 squad, succeeded the Notre Dame coach. Henry Garrity former Princeton Tiger star, backed by a host of admirers who watched his starry career on the eastern gridirons was imported to Missouri to fill in the vacant place. It is to be hoped the two men will work better than did Kelly and Garrity's predecessor.

At Lawrence, "Potsy" Clark, synonymous with the name of Jayhawk for years, will again lead the Kansas team. He is assisted this year by Karl Schladerman, former De-Paul star. As is their policy, reliable reports giving some indication of their strength, are slow to come from the Kansas town, though it is practically a certainty that Patsy is not asleep.

Ames will send her team on the field this year, backed by the training and leadership of a new coaching staff. The Williams brothers, 1921 managers of the Cleveland high school teams, who learned their football in Ohio, will coach the team.

"Ossie" Solem returned for another season with the Bulldogs at Drake. Charles Bachman again is listed as coach at the Kansas Aggie camp. Advance reports indicate that a majority of the Aggies have returned to school and are regularly reporting for practice. Bachman put some real work in his coaching last year, and turned out a team that was at least for a time a Valley contender. A. H. Elward, former Notre Dame Grinnell, was relieved last week by A. H. Elward former Notre Dame football and basketball star, who came to the Iowa position from St. Johns military academy. Diminutive, yet a fighter, Elward was favorably mentioned by all-American critics a few years ago for an end position. He weighs 140 pounds.

George L. Rider, veteran coach at Washington for years, will again coach the Piker squad. Early reports from the big city camp indicate that Francis Field is daily the scene for a stiff practice schedule.
