ALL-UNIVERSITY FUN FEST COMES TOMORROW NIGHT

Freshmen and new Students Especially Urged to Attend First Big Party.

ARMORY MUCH LARGER

Live Entertainment Promised Everyone in Attendance—Dancing at Nine.

With entertainment galore, for students who dance and students who play, the first all-University party of the year will swing into step shortly after 8:30 Saturday evening. Hundreds of the recently returned Cornhuskers are expected to crowd into the Armory, enlarged during the summer so as to accommodate 50 per cent more people than were possible at the mixers last year and the years preceding.

The all-University party is the second important step in the development of the freshmen and new students at Nebraska. For the men, the first exhibition of Cornhusker spirit was given them at the freshman convocation and at the barbecue lunch in their honor on the Athletic Field last week. For the girls, the women's convocation presented the first of a series of events which will bind them fast to their new school.

Entertainment features are to be emphatically emphasized at the first all-University mixer. For years, dancing has encroached upon the rights of the non-dancing students and with the displacement has come smaller and smaller mixer attendances. This year the all-University committee is attempting to swing the entertainment features back into the limelight, at the same time giving a goodly share of the evening to dancing.

In order to do this, the committee has arranged to devote the fore part of the evening to entertainment of various kinds, vaudeville acts and social games. These will be for all those who gather early at the big party. Dancing and non-dancing students alike will be expected to join in the fun.

Then along about the time the inflowing crowds commence to abate and the feet of the dancing students commence to get nervous, the waves of music from the Keith Tyler orchestra will come over the air and those students who dance will be allowed to spend the rest of the evening in that popular University diversion.

But the non-dancing students are not to be neglected. Led by Clara Bowman and Amy Martin, chairman of the entertainment committee for the all-University party committee, the students who prefer the social games to the prancing feet will adjourn to the Y. M. C. A. rooms in the Temple building where the remainder of the evening will be devoted to their amusement.

With the doubling of halls, the all-University committee feels that it can satisfactorily take care of the whims of all of the students. Whether the individual prefers the social evening to dancing or vice versa, his desires will be filled by the program mapped out for the Saturday evening party.

Last year, crowded conditions scared many students away from each of the parties. This condition has been greatly improved this year by the enlargement of the Armory. The scaffolds, parts of them at least, may still adorn the space where the partition formerly was, but even though students may not be able to whirl from one room to another the waves of music will float into both rooms and they may dance on the enlarged floor.

FRESHMAN CAPS

Members of the freshman class who were unable to secure caps from the Magee Clothing company should register their names with that firm at once, so that an additional order may be wired to New York.

Some of the yearlings were unable to secure caps, inasmuch as there were more first-year men registered this year than ever before. As soon as the new consignment has arrived and been distributed, the Iron Sphinx and the Innocents will give the order to the upperclassmen to see that every yearling sports a verdant top piece. Several plans have been discussed but none definitely decided upon as yet.

Smoker Planned for Engineering Society

A smoker on a large scale is being planned for the American Association of Engineers, according to the announcement made by President Paul Krench. A large number of members and freshmen heard the speech. All engineers and particularly freshmen will be invited to attend the affair, which will be held in about two weeks. A program of athletic stunts and short worth-while speeches have been planned.

Plans for the engineer stunt on University night are underway, as are those for the Engineers' Week, next spring. Organization of the A. A. E. for the membership drive is being assigned to certain non-members and freshmen and it will be his duty to bring them into the organization.

Commercial Club Has Election of Officers

James Tyson was elected president of the University Commercial club, Thursday; William Hille was made vice president; H. A. Dale secretary and Alfred Raun, treasurer.

Norris Coates was authorized to select a committee and draw up definite plans for the proposed "Blind" publication.

Eight men have been endorsed by the club from the College of Business Administration for the stadium committee to be chosen at the fall elections. They are as follows: K. J. Conder, Dave Noble, Rufe DeWitz, William Abstadt, A. Sutton, Burford Gage, Edgar Helenthal and Steve King.

Homecoming Games Will Feature Tiger Schedule This Year

Columbia, Mo., Sept. 27.—The Tiger eleven has been chosen this fall to take part in three homecoming celebrations in the Missouri Valley conference, besides the annual battle between the University of Kansas and the Tigers, which is set for Thanksgiving Day at Columbia.

Ames holds its celebration early this year, meeting the Missouri team October 14 at Ames, Ia. Perhaps the hardest game on the schedule will be the game at Lincoln, Neb. when the Tigers meet the Cornhuskers, October 21. The University of Oklahoma will celebrate its homecoming day November 12 when it meets the eleven from Columbia.

Freshman Commission Hand in Nominations

Thursday night at six o'clock the Freshman Commission held a dinner at Elen Smith Hall for the purpose of nominating new girls for this year's commission. Each girl hands in the name of three Freshmen and these names are voted upon by the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, those chosen forming the Freshman Commission for this year.

Miss Alice Bagdolt of Hastings visited Helen Chick at the Kappa Alpha Theta house Thursday.

SUBSCRIPTION CAMPAIGN WILL CLOSE TONIGHT

Sororities Working Hard for Coveted Prize—Winners Announced Later.

CONTEST CLOSES AT FIVE

Opening Number of University Comic Filled With First-Class Humor.

With half the sororities racing in a group for the grandfather's clock now on display at the College Book Store, and the field with about ten high men working furiously for three trips to Kansas offered to the individual men securing the greatest number of subscriptions, the campaign to sell Away reached a new high mark Thursday. Although it is impossible to tell just how many have been sold so far, from the number of "A" tags seen on the campus it was estimated by the contest managers that only five hundred need be sold today, the last of the struggle, to reach the goal of 1,500.

The "Opening" number of Away appeared on the campus yesterday. It was received with such enthusiasm that everyone questioned, declared it to be the best Away ever published. The book already ranks high among the national comic publications, but comments from the students indicate that it has climbed still higher.

The mirth starts with the cover, on which appears an ugly "pac" repeating his own opening number as he twirls the dial of a safe, and proceeds through a quaintly ungrammatical account of a performance of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and a cartoon of 100% to reach, by an intricate—literally interpreted—of the popular "Cornhusker Rose."

Inserted between the two halves of humor, the editorials are especially appropriate. The optimistic assertion that student publications are on the upgrade is backed up with the same sort of logical arguments that characterize the vigorous declaration of Nebraska's right to the athletic stadium that is about to become a reality.

Jokes, humorous observations, exchanges, cartoons applicable to anyone, constitute the body of the laugh-raising volume. Even the advertisements are made bright by interspersed verse and witty comments credited to professor's sons. Eight copies are still to come, and the staff promises material that can never be forgotten.

Mrs. Frank J. Taylor of St. Paul, Neb., spent Wednesday at the Kappa Alpha Theta house with her daughter, Burlette.

Miss Clare Wilson, head of the kindergarten and primary department of the Teachers' college, went to Wayne, Neb., Thursday to assist in the institute there.

Annual Faculty Reception Will be Feature Social Event of Week End

The annual faculty reception at Elen Smith Hall will be the outstanding social event in University circles Friday evening. Chancellor and Mrs. Samuel Avery will be host and hostess for the reception, according to University custom. All members of the faculty and their wives, with the administrative and library forces of the University, will be included among the guests.

Every fall for the past ten years Chancellor and Mrs. Avery have entertained the faculty at a reception. It is an informal affair, largely to promote the acquaintance of new and old faculty members. Of late years the second Friday of the school year has been set aside for the faculty party.

As the guests arrive they will be greeted at the door by Prof. and Mrs. Robert H. Wolcott. Mrs. J. E. Le-Rossignol will assist the hostess, and Prof. and Mrs. Frank Mussehl, Mr. and Mrs. Max Westerman, Prof. and Mrs. Nyrton H. Swenk, Prof. and Mrs. Theodore Bullock, Prof. and Mrs. Chas. E. Smith will assist thru the various rooms. Professor and Mrs. Mussehl and Mr. and Mrs. Westerman will direct the guests to the dining rooms, where ice, candies and coffee will be served.

New Organization Locates on Nebraska Campus Permanently

The "Dumbells" have officially organized. The Dumbells is an organization of girls who are interested in physical education and athletics, but who are not majoring in the department.

A clever, unique system is being used in classifying the members according to the number of months they have been registered in the work.

Miss Pound, faculty member, has been named "Platinum Dumbell." Annabele Ranslem, president, is "Gold Dumbell"; Sara Sunber, treasurer, "Silver Dumbell"; Dorothy Zust, secretary, is "Lead Dumbell." The other members are "Wooden Dumbells," but then, there is strength in numbers.

A committee to draw up a constitution has been selected. It is composed of Thelma Bellows, Esther Swanson and Sara Surber. Another meeting will be held next Thursday noon in Social Science 101. Every body will be there.

STATEMENT ISSUED ABOUT PARIS MEET

Physical Education Department for Women Explains Absence on Team.

That Nebraska girls who took prizes in the Telegraphic Athletic meet, were not represented in the Paris meet, has caused comment on the campus. The Department of physical education for women has given out the following statement regarding the Paris meet:

"The representative colleges and universities of this country did not enter into the spirit of this meet for a number of reasons. First, the international and women's colleges of the country, has taken a definite stand against intercollegiate athletics for women; and therefore the Nebraska chapter of W. A. A. is doing her part to localize competition.

"This meet at Paris was not under the auspices of the American physical education association, and was not restricted to college women, as was the telegraphic meet in which Nebraska took part last May.

"As yet, track athletics for women have not been standardized. A committee is now at work under the direction of the American Physical Education association, which is the organization promoting the finer things in athletics for women.

"Articles written have given the erroneous impression that the records of the University of Nebraska were not recognized, while in reality Nebraska was invited to try out for a place in the meet at Paris, but declined for the above mentioned reasons."

Mrs. C. R. Tyler of Omaha spent Wednesday with her daughter, Edith, at the Kappa Alpha Theta house.

FRESHMEN GIRLS CONVOCATION HAS GOOD ATTENDANCE

First Year Co-eds Learn of Real Purpose of University Education.

DEAN OF WOMEN TALKS

Nebraska Girls' Creed Explained to All and Various Activities Outlined.

"The real thing that you are here for is not activities or friends or spiritual development or artistic appreciation. These things can be had away from college. It is the opportunity to develop mentally, to come in contact with trained minds that you are given here that can be found only in college. Such contact is essential; all other matters secondary. To establish such contact is your vocation. If you find you haven't time or strength for the avocation and the vocation, you must sacrifice the avocation but never the vocation or your health," said Miss Amanda Heppner, dean of women at the annual freshman convocation given by Mortarboard Thursday morning at 11 o'clock in the Temple theater.

The purpose of the convocation, as outlined by Valora Hüllinger, president of Mortarboard, was to acquaint the first-year girls with activities on the campus. To accomplish this end, representatives from many of the prominent activities were given a place on the program. The girls practiced Nebraska songs and yells under the leadership of Davida Van Guilder, Margaret Stüdworthy and Adelheid Dettmann.

Miss Hüllinger explained the organization of Mortarboard which, she said, has as its aim "leadership, scholarship and service." Dorothy Heppner, president of the Y. W. C. A., outlined the purpose of the Y. W. C. A. in the association. Florence Price talked on the freshman commission and the class honorary societies. Davida Van Guilder spoke for the W. A. A. and Margaret Stüdworthy explained the principals of the W. S. G. A. Mildred Hüllinger represented the Senior Advisory board, and Delle Farman concluded the list of student speakers with data concerning the student publications and the journalistic society. Miss Heppner was the principal speaker.

"Form the habit of going into activities," she advised. "Take the attitude that this is your home, and everyone here is a member of your family. You should make and meet many friends. At the end of the year you should be able to count 500 friends among the 1900 in the freshman class."

In speaking of excuses Miss Heppner said: "It is not a good habit to stay away from classes. In case it is necessary, however, come to my office for a leave of absence, for without a record of such an excuse the professor has a right to subtract 3 per cent for each absence from your grade at the end of the semester."

"I hope you will form the habit of coming very often to Elen Smith hall," she continued. "Come there for rest and quiet. If you haven't time for walking that far there are rest rooms in almost all the larger buildings where you can go to rest or study or for a short nap."

"Students often wonder what my office is for. I sometimes wonder myself, the results are so intangible. We try to make it a service bureau. If something is bothering you and you have no place else to take it, come to me. Nothing is too trivial for me," she declared. "Bring your troubles to me and I will try to smooth them out."

"Keep your standards high, your eyes fixed on the goal of scholarship, good conduct, good taste and friends. Four wonderful years are before you to enrich your lives and the lives of others. Make the most of them," she concluded.

A copy of the Nebraska girls' creed was given to each girl on leaving.

All freshmen who took out football equipment and then dropped the course must turn in equipment at once, as a number of men wishing to join the squad are unable to do so because of the lack of equipment.

Late Registration Continues to Grow

A. L. Candy, acting dean of the Arts and Science college, has been kept constantly busy since registration week, registering late comers and changing registrations. He has the slips of 125 students in the Arts and Science college who have registered since the week set aside for that purpose. Most of this number includes new registrations, though a few are changes.

There is almost a constant stream of students going and coming from the dean's office to drop or add subjects. Deans of other colleges say they are just as busy with the same kind of work.

Professor Candy is certain that these changes are not at all due to the previous registrations of last spring. Closed sections, abandoned classes or mistakes are given as the causes for dropping and adding.

NEBRASKA-NOTRE DAME GAME WILL BE FILMED

Pictures of Three Other Feature Contests on Catholic Schedule Will Be Made.

Notre Dame, Ind., Sept. 30.—Morning pictures of four big games on the Notre Dame football schedule will be exhibited in South Bend within four days of each game, according to arrangements completed by the senior class of the university and the manager of the Blackstone theater. The battles to be filmed are with Georgia Tech., Indiana, West Point and Nebraska.

An attempt will also be made to exhibit the films in other cities. Copies of the Georgia Tech. contest will be sent to Atlanta and the Nebraska game will be shown in Lincoln. The Indiana and Georgia Tech. pictures will be released in Indianapolis previous to the Butler battle. The first presentation at Evansville, where Notre Dame meets Carnegie Tech., and at Lincoln where Nebraska will be met.

South Bend people are more interested in Kockne's new team than in any squad assembled in recent years and the movement to bring the important intersectional games back home in celluloid has met with favor. Georgia Tech., West Point and Nebraska will be met on foreign fields. Indiana will appear here as a star attraction of the annual homecoming celebration. "Proceeds from the venture will be used to reduce the cost of the activities of senior week in the spring."

Green Goblins to Initiate Sunday

Some thirty odd freshmen will run the gauntlet Sunday evening when the new members of Green Goblins, freshmen men's society will be initiated. The ceremony will be held at the Xi Psi Phi house, starting at 2:30. Thirty-three men are scheduled for initiation. A meeting of all old Green Goblins was held at the Amelia house Thursday evening to arrange the final details for the party.

Following the initiation ceremony in the afternoon, the men will be sent home, to rather again at 6:30 in the evening at the Lincoln hotel where a banquet will be held. Fifty plates have been reserved for the Green Goblins, both new and old. All old men who will not attend the banquet must call Gerald Carpenter, P-4141, or Dean Lowry, P-1525 before 6 o'clock Friday evening. Otherwise a plate will be reserved for them.

A list of the new Green Goblins will be published in the Tuesday morning issue of the Daily Nebraskan.

Movement to Adopt New Number System On State Highways

A movement to have a more simple number system used on Nebraska highways, in place of the complicated system now in use, is indicated in the action of the Chamber of Commerce directors Wednesday. A. W. Richardson, chairman of the legislative research sub-division, and C. H. Wilson, head of the sub-division of streets and highways, were authorized to secure the adoption by the coming legislature of the Minnesota and Wisconsin system of marking roads. In the northern states trunk line highways carry the same number throughout and so-called "except on national roads" are dispensed with.

MORE CANDIDATES URGED TO FILE SOMETIME TODAY

CANDIDATES
Candidates for class president of the freshman, sophomore, junior and senior classes should see the managing editor of the Daily Nebraskan this afternoon in the Nebraskan office between three and six in regard to having their pictures printed before the election. All pictures should be turned in not later than Friday afternoon.

Lack of Candidates May Force Postponement of Election Until Later.

ELECT HONORARY COLONEL
Pictures of Candidates Will Be Printed in The Daily Nebraskan.

Today is the last day for filings for the positions of the four class presidents which are to be elected by the students on next Tuesday. At five o'clock promptly, the application lists at the Student Activities office will close.

Up to late last night it was rumored that only a few names had been handed in as candidates. It is probable that if only one name is handed in for any one of the offices, the election for that office will be called off until such time as other names are filed.

Besides the presidents of the freshman, sophomore, junior and senior classes, an honorary colonel for the cadet regiment will be chosen from among the co-eds of the two upper classes.

Students who will be worthy to direct the efforts to raise funds to build a great Nebraska stadium in the near future, in both the election for the stadium committee and for the honorary colonelcy, no nominations will be made or announced before Tuesday.

For this reason, the members of the student council in charge of the election have urged that the students have clearly in mind just whom they wish to elect to fill these positions. A big vote is wanted to these positions in order that they may be truly representative of the wishes of the student body.

Nebraskan to Print Pictures
Today is the last day for candidates to hand in to the managing editor of the Daily Nebraskan their pictures in order that they may be printed in the Sunday edition of the paper.

Several candidates have already made arrangements to have their pictures and platforms printed in order that the students may know exactly for whom they are casting their ballots.

The name of the successful girl in the contest for the honorary colonelcy will be the only one not announced after the closing of the polls on Tuesday. This name will be kept a secret until the evening of the annual military ball which will be given this year in December.

Big Vote Last Year
At the last election held on October 1 last year, 2555 votes were cast by the students of the four classes. Members of the student council which took charge of the election for one of the first times, declared that the vote was the heaviest cast in any class presidential election for many years.

No indication as to how the voting will line up in the election scheduled for Tuesday has yet been given out. Names of the candidates for office will be published in the Sunday edition of the Nebraskan.

Paul C. McGrew Wins Honor Prize

Paul C. McGrew, C. E. '22, won the instruments offered by the College Book store last spring for the best original to be used for a plate for millimeter paper. Four others entered the contest. Two of the plates were so excellent that they were taken to the engraver for the final decision. The engraving is being made at present.

Professor Reed of the University extension department states that the extension work is getting a good start.
