

COLLEGE MEN ARE OFFERED BIG PRIZE

Owner of "Success" Starts Begins Strangest Contest of Kind for Uni Men

Prizes amounting to $250 are offered by Captain D. H. Smith, owner of the famous convict ship "Success," now on exhibition at Warren Bridge, Boston, in one of the strangest contests ever proposed to college men. Captain Smith will give $125 to the Harvard man and the same amount to the Technology man who will undergo a week's imprisonment in solitary confinement aboard the ancient prison ship. Should either man quit before the week is out the survivor will receive $250 if he stays out the week. The solitary confinement includes occupying a narrow lightless cell, 23 hours a day, dragging a heavy ball and chain across the deck for the remaining hour, and subsisting on a bread and water ration issued twice a day. An Emerson College girl, Miss Sallie Coulter, 21 years old, recently created a sensation by remaining 25 hours in one of the "black holes" chained to a ring bolt in a painful position. The "Success," the oldest ship afloat, is the sole remaining relic of the old British felon fleet. Aboard her are preserved in their original state, the cells, dungeons, and torture implements used a century ago.

students do not have to make their pledges to members of their fraternity or sorority in the hope that the organization or person will be given credit. They will not. Only the college will be credited. The pledgers will be checked up with the fraternity membership to ascertain the proportion of organizations going above the quota of at least one $25 unit per member. The persons making pledges will be checked off their organization list whether they make the pledge to a member of their organization or to some person far distant from it. The central booth will tend to all that.

Illinois Fine Example
Illinois is a fine example of what can be done toward raising funds for a Stadium. At the start of a million dollar subscription campaign for the purpose of building stadium, a rally was held and $700,000 in pledges taken in. That is an average of $107 per person.

Illinois has a student body only twice that of Nebraska. Of eighteen schools where recent stadium or union campaigns have been held, but one school raised a quota which was for a quadrangle dormitory by alumni funds. That school, was Yale, an enrollment institution with an enrollment of 3,326.

Of thirteen state institutions every one raised their stadium funds from subscription campaigns. Only one, Kansas Aggies, a school half the size of Nebraska, raised less money than Nebraska, $400,000. Nebraska expects to raise $430,000 after Monday South Dakota, a state institution, with 981 students, raised $200,000 in subscriptions for an alumni building.

Not Only for Athletics
The Nebraska Memorial Stadium is not simply an athletic field. It is a memorial. It is a recreation field for tomorrow's men and women. It is a symbol of the Cornhusker's faith in the University. Is is a part payment of a debt a student must feel that he owes to the institution which gives him an education free.

There will be a Stadium at Nebraska. There can be no doubt of that. Alumni are back of the Stadium to the letter. It is up to the students to do their small share by subscribing the full $90,000 asked as their quota.

Contract Let in January
The contract for the new Memorial Stadium will be let in January or February. One-fifth of the total of $430,000 will be in the hands of the committee at that time. With that amount on hand, a holding committee can be organized to take care of the rest of the amount and the contract for the entire structure can be let. The 1923 Cornhuskers will play football in the new Stadium. Subscriptions made in the campaign two years ago can be renewed at this time. The cash payments made on those pledges will hold for the cash payments on the new ones. The old pledges should either be o. k'd, or made out anew at a higher amount. But a few students in school now made pledges at that time.

How Parker Pens put Capillary Attraction to actual use
IF EVER an instructor asks you to name a practical use of the scientific principle of capillary attraction—just cite the Parker Pen with its leakproof "Lucky Curve" feed.
All fountain pen makers were baffled for years by the so-called "sweating" of pens. Inked fingers still cause many complaints except from those who use Parker Pens.
For Geo. S. Parker solved the problem by inventing the "Lucky Curve" illustrated above. It forms a contact with the wall of the ink barrel—and no matter how much ink surrounds it the capillary attraction regulates the flow—it is steady; even and positive at all times.
This is one of the cardinal reasons that the Parker Pen is in such high favor with educators and student bodies. A pen that's a help—not a distraction—when one is concentrating the mind on study or instruction.
To all students—
Come and try the Parker at the pen counter designated below—try several points to find just the right degree for your individual hand.
Prices start as low as $2.50 notwithstanding that all Parker Pens have 14 K rolled gold points that cannot rust, corrode or tarnish, and all are made with the same jeweler's accuracy and finish as the famous 25-year Parker Duofold—the lacquer-red pen that at $7 became America's leader in less than a year from its introduction.
The older students know we welcome their coming to try Parker Pens whether they buy or not—and we feel the same way toward the freshmen.
