In handling the Missouri Tigers the short end of a 48 to 0 score last Saturday, Nebraska's fighting Cornhuskers gave an impressive demonstration of ability. The contest was not marked by the weakness of the Missourians, but rather by the strength of the Huskers. The long weeks of strenuous practice and careful coaching for Dawson's proteges brought excellent results in the first valley game of the season.

A noticeable feature of the performance of the Scarlet and Cream eleven in Saturday's contest was the absence of stars, unless all the eleven men who started the game are all called stars, for each player in the Nebraska machine played a stellar part. The team worked together, and wonderful co-ordination and co-operation was present in the playing of the Huskers.

A few of the highlights of the game with the Tigers are well worth mentioning. Captain Chick Hartley performed in his usual scintillating manner, carrying the piskin for long gains, and proving a powerful factor in the interference and defense. Hartley was also on the passing end of several excellent forward passes, which were good for long gains.

Preston at quarter handled the team with fine generalship. Herb Dewitz squirmed and twisted through the line and around the ends with untiring regularity, while Lewellen's broken field running was little short of spectacular.

On the line, Schoepfel and Sherer worked well at the end positions. Schoepfel's sensational catch of a forward pass, which he caught with his hands behind his head while running at full speed, was a feat which has seldom been equalled on the Nebraska gridiron. Nixon and Wenke, the only Huskers who played straight through the entire game, were in a large measure responsible for the fact that the Tigers only gained seventeen yards from scrimmage during the contest. Nixon also sprang into the limelight by intercepting a Bengal pass and running thirty yards for a touchdown. The other linemen also are credited with playing strong games.

The Cornhuskers will play their second conference foe, Oklahoma, next Saturday, October 28, at Norman. The Sooners, doped to lose to the Kansas Aggies last Saturday, surprised the wise birds by holding the tough Farmer eleven to a 7 to 7 tie. The return of Captain Marsh, end extraordinary, to the Oklahoma lineup, was largely responsible for the increase in the strength of the Sooners. The Sooner end was declared ineligible early in the season, but was recently reinstated by a ruling of the conference eligibility committee.

As a result of the praiseworthy work of the Huskers last Saturday, Dawson's eleven is expected to have little difficulty in disposing of the Oklahoma team. The crucial games of the year for Nebraska's team, however, are yet to come. Syracuse, the Huskers' eastern opponent, who will be met November 3, has a powerful crew which has lost but one contest this year. The Orange gridsters fell before the onslaught of Glen Warner's Pittsburg Panthers last Saturday by a 21 to 14 score.

Then, of course, the mighty Notre Dame machine, which the Huskers play on Turkey Day, must be reckoned with. Knute Rockne's "fighting Irish" have suffered but a lone defeat in three years, during which time they have met the strongest elevens in the nation, and so it is foolish to predict a sure victory for Nebraska's formidable aggregation.

Unofficial Record For Two Mile Made In Cross Country

Did you know that the first two miles of the cross-country race Saturday was officially clocked at 9:45? The Nebraska track record for 2 miles is 9:52.

This feat was performed by Gardner, Bowman, and the Missouri men. One of the Missouri men was taken to the Sanitarium from about a mile out. Gardner was forcibly taken from the race to save him from injury. The second Missouri man and Bowman finished seventh and ninth, respectively.

David Lawrence Unable to Make Lincoln on Trip

The address to the Journalism students this week by David Lawrence, the noted Washington correspondent, who is on a trip through the west studying political conditions, will not be given. Mr. Lawrence telephoned to Prof. M. M. Fogg from Omaha Wednesday afternoon that he would come at once if the students could meet Wednesday evening, but it was too late to arrange for an audience. Professor Fogg and Mr. Lawrence were both in correspondence work on the New Jersey coast for metropolitan newspapers and press associations years ago. Lawrence now conducts a syndicate, furnishing interpretative political news article to a large number of representative papers throughout the country, among which is the Nebraska State Journal. He promised to speak at the University on his next visit to this part of the west.

Wyoming Club Is Organized

A Wyoming club which includes practically every student from that state now enrolled here, was formed at a meeting last week at the Lincoln hotel. Richard Steere of Sheridan was elected president and Frances Mentzer of Cheyenne secretary treasurer for the first year.

The club was organized under the direction of Mrs. W. C. Mentzer of Cheyenne. About forty students were present for the dinner at the Lincoln hotel and the organization meeting which followed. Several members who were called upon for speeches pledged their loyalty to the University of Nebraska.

Students Decide to Do Away With Rushing

At the regular meeting of the Associated Students held yesterday morning during assembly hour, it was unanimously decided to abolish the custom of rushing the shows following a rally which has always been in vogue here.

This was a result of action taken by the Fort Collins Boosters' club. A member, as speaker at the Student Council meeting last Tuesday night, told members the danger of show rushing and asked on behalf of the Boosters, that the matter be brought up before the students.—Rocky Mountain Collegian.

SPORT BRIEFS

By FRANK WALLACE, Notre Dame, Ind.

Coach Knute Rockne, of Notre Dame, is one of the dramatic figures of the present football season.

After producing great teams at Notre Dame during his four years as head coach—teams which lost but two games in four years and which won three consecutive games from West Point, Nebraska, Indiana and Purdue, when the present season began, Rockne found himself shorn entirely of the masters of the game who made history in 1921. Ten men of that team had been picked for all-American by some expert or other. Paul Castner, who broke into a 50-50 division of the right half position as the season closed, was the only regular who remained.

In the meantime, Rockne, who is also director of athletics, track coach and almost every other thing there is in Notre Dame athletics, had scheduled Georgia Tech, Army, Nebraska, Carnegie Tech, Purdue and Indiana for major games. DePauw and Butler were carded as soft spots. St. Louis and Kazoo as set-ups.

Kazoo acted nobly but St. Louis refused to be walked on. Then DePauw tied Indiana and Butler beat Illinois. Carnegie Tech tied and outplayed W. & J. And beginning with Purdue, Rockne faced eight hard games in a row—faced them with a team composed mostly of sophomores. And during the Purdue game he lost his most valuable lineman for the season—Tom Lieb—who went down with a broken leg.

Did Rockne quit? It was then that the wonderful personality which more than any other factor results in Notre Dame's greatness in football, began to fight. He told his men that he would be hard to satisfy from then on. That they must make up for lack of weight and lack of experience by something else—the something else which had given Notre Dame team the title of Fighting Irish. "I don't want men who will go in and die gamey," he said. "I want men who will go in there and fight to live."

Watch the scoreboard. They will fight.

One reason for the remarkable success of the Notre Dame football team is the versatility of the men with whom Coach Rockne experiments. On the squad of 1922, for instance, are found the captains of the five important athletic teams of the university.

Capt. Carberry, left end, is the captain of captains because he captains the gridiron eleven. Paul Castner, fullback and all-American prospect because of his running, passing, punting and drop-kicking ability, is also captain of the baseball team. Last year he pitched a no-hit, no-run victory over Purdue and shut out Michigan 5-0. He captained the hockey team for two seasons.

Gus Desch, right halfback, whose running against Rutgers was a sensation at the Polo Grounds last year, is captain of the track team. He is world's champion in the 440-yard low hurdles and 40-yard low hurdles and was a member of the 1920 Olympic team of the United States. Micky Kane, candidate for left halfback, who featured the opening game with a 50-yard run through the Kalamazoo team, is basketball captain and third baseman on the baseball team. Both Kane and Castner were approached by big league scouts after the end of the 1921 baseball season but each looked away from the professional game for one more year in college.

Neil Flinn, who stepped into the right guard position when Eddie Degree had a shoulder torn, captained the hockey team which won the undisputed western college title last year.

In addition to the captains, twelve other men on the squad have won letters in other sports than football. This number will be greatly increased by the end of the year when the flock of sophomores who will win football monograms this season will have had an opportunity to shine in other sports.

The high spot on the Notre Dame football schedule will be reached and one of the important inter-sectional clashes of the season will be fought at Atlanta, Oct. 28, when Coach Rockne takes a squad of 35 men to battle Georgia Tech. The southerners have won every game on their home field for three years. Notre Dame lost but one contest in the three preceding years and has a clean slate this season.

Chemical Engineers Hold Meeting Thursday

The Chemical Engineering society held its first meeting and mixer on Thursday of last week, at the home of Ned Freeman, 1825 A street.

New candidates were introduced and welcomed. During the evening a speaker pushed the Stadium drive, and at the end of the meeting the Chemical Engineers had pledged 100 per cent.

A business meeting followed, at which the development of the new organization was discussed.

Lucile Fulk To Tell Of Industrial Work

In continuation of the industrial theme discussed at vespers last week.

Miss Lucille Fulk, industrial secretary of the city Y. W. C. A., will speak on her work and experiences Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at Ellen Smith Hall. Mary Brundage will preside. A vocal solo by Dorothy Sprague will be the special music.

Despite all these difficulties, the Irish are going south to win. The team that faces Georgia Tech will be outweighed and inexperienced. But it will be a fighting team—a team fighting to live.

To be a star in one sport comes to many men but to reach the heights in three sports is a rarity. Observe this record of Paul Castner, Notre Dame football, baseball and hockey star—and all of it achieved in his junior year:

He captained the informal hockey team for two years and coached the sextet which last year won the undisputed western collegiate hockey title. At center he is without a rival in western college ice circles.

He pitched a no-hit no-run game against Purdue, shut Michigan out 5-0, played outfield when not pitching and was considered one of the sluggers of the team. Received major league offers in his junior year but declined and was elected captain of the 1922 Notre Dame baseball team.

His punts averaged over 50 yards during the 1921 football season and he completed four of six drop-kicks attempted. Two of these, from the 43 and 47 yard lines, came in the Rutgers contest at the Polo Grounds. He was picked by Fullerton for all-American halfback although he had only divided a half-back position during the year.

In the first game of the 1922 football season he ran through the Kalamazoo team twice for touchdowns. The runs were for 90 and 95 yards and both came from kickoffs. In the same game he ran another kick back 40 yards and was stopped by the safety man.

The informal hockey team which won the western college championship in 1921 will go east this year with Castner as coach and star. He may finish his college career as an acknowledged champion in hockey and an all-American in football and is certain to receive many big league baseball offers.
