BISHOP JONES TELLS OF NEW WAY TO PEACE

President of Committee of Fellowship Reconciliation Speaks at Convocation

GIVES INTERESTING TALK

"The Christian Way to Peace" is Subject of Bishop Paul Jones

Bishop Paul Jones, of New York, president of the Committee of Fellowship Reconciliation, spoke at convocation at the Temple, Wednesday morning on "The Christian Way to Peace." Bishop Jones was introduced by Miss Erna Appleby, Secretary of the University Y. W. C. A. "Does anything seem to indicate that the people of this country are trying to find something beside war?" asked Bishop Jones. "Is there revolt against war in this country? Not so that you could notice it."

"Why is there that lethargy? It is because of ignorance. Why are people not stirred up? People don't know what war involves. The men of the trenches talk but little. There is no way of finding out. In speaking of ignorance, I'm referring to that in which most of us share. Most people don't know how they're taken in. War is founded mostly on lies."

Bishop Jones then explained the manner in which the governments of the various countries led their people to believe the worst of the enemy. "Peace is built on the same foundation of lies. Then we have a precarious foundation."

Harding has expressed dismay at the manner in which church people have asked for peace and then turned to war. They sent telegrams to President Harding begging him to clean up the situation in the Near East; these same people asked him to aid in the limitation of armaments.

The Italian premier, one of the leaders in the conduct of the war, in his book, "Peaceless Europe," has said that he cannot say that Germany and her allies are solely responsible for the devastation in Europe. People here say that Germany is solely responsible. That is because they don't read such books as Turner's "Shall It Be Again?" They don't hear about the war graft, as told in "How War Came," in which is explained the situation in regard to Belgium and how England was committed to join forces with France.

Before the war, the people of this country heard continually of the atrocities going on in Europe. Sir Philip Gibbs says that the atrocity stories are practically all absolute falsehoods. We also heard of the so-called German plots. Ninety per cent of these had no basis. The book, "The War of 1914," tells the story of how the French were lied to in the same way, and we may be sure that if we get into difficulties in the future, the same process will be gone through.

Wars have as a rule been invested with high and noble purposes. Someone has suggested that there should be an eleventh commandment, "Thou shalt not make the next war holy." War never settles anything. There is always a loss. The world is poorer. We can do better service to our country and humanity in general by sitting our faces against war. It is said that men always fought and always will, but people have done things beside fighting. It is said that human nature never changes. Probably not, but men respond in general to the approach made to them, to the stimulus applied. Suppose you go to the South Sea Islands. The natives will have no way of understanding you except through gestures. Suppose you meet them with clenched hands and a frown. You will receive a hostile response. If, on the other hand, you meet them with an open, trusting gesture, nine times out of ten, you will receive a similar response. Bishop Jones cited another example of Christian approach in regard to a tribe of Indians in Utah. A son of one of the chieftains was suspected, thinking arrest meant death, took the boy and fled to the hills. The marshal followed with armed cowboys. For several days there was skirmishing. A number of casualties ensued. Then General Scott was sent down and he told the marshal to take his cowboys and leave. Alone and unarmed he went out into the hills in search of the Indians. When they saw him coming they came out to meet him. He explained the situation, they understood, and the boy was taken quietly. Thomas Osborne in his management of the prisoners of Sing Sing called forth the sense of decency in the prisoners by saying to them, "I believe there's enough manhood."

Four Nights To Be Declared Open For Parties Next Week

Four open nights are available the week of Thanksgiving day and the Notre Dame game, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday are the days on which parties may be held. Thursday, Thanksgiving, is a vacation, but no students will be excused from classes Wednesday, Friday or Saturday.

GIRLS ARE NEEDED AT ALL-UNIVERSITY PARTY ON SATURDAY

Girls are needed at the All-University party Saturday evening if the Ames players and visitors, guests of the committee at the party, are to be entertained in true Nebraska spirit. All of the parties so far this year have been marred by noticeable lack of girls and the committee is making a special effort to induce the co-eds to attend the party Saturday evening. The dance Saturday evening is the last All-University party to be given this semester. There still remains one party on the All-University party committee's schedule but that does not come until late in February. The committee is already making plans to make that party the biggest and best of the entire year.

The best orchestras always furnish the music at the All-University dances. The music for Saturday evening is especially good and should entice a large number of students to the Armory for the dance. The price of admission to the dance Saturday evening is 30 cents. Masks will be worn for the early part of the evening. They will be furnished each visitor at the door and will be removed a short time after the dance starts.

The reception committee in charge of the party Saturday night has been announced as follows: Ad. Dettman and Carl Kruger, joint chairmen; Gertrude Tomsen, Lois Pederson, Louise Tucker, Helen Guthrie, Francis Mentzer, Eleanor Potter, Norman Cramb, William Alstad, Hoyte Hawke, Ronald Button, Raymond Eller, Charles Mitchell, Austin Sturtevant and Melvin Collins.

Mystic Fish "Splash" To Be Subscription Dance at Rosewilde

The Mystic Fish annual "Splash" is a subscription dance to be held at the Rosewilde party house Saturday evening, November 25. The committee says that good music is assured and that the decorations have been carefully planned. Tickets may be secured from any Mystic Fish or Green Goblin, or at the door Saturday night.

Tuesday evening he was one of the speakers at a father and son banquet at Plymouth Congregational church. He spoke to about 300 fathers and sons there. Dr. Waite was speaker for the Pathfinders' club at its regular noon luncheon at the Grand hotel Wednesday, and Friday he spoke before the Kiwanis club at its luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce. A candy sale will be held by the Silver Serpents, junior girls' honorary society, the third Wednesday of each month, during the term. The next sale will be on December 28. DEBATERS WILL HOLD TRYOUTS FOR POSITIONS

MEET IN LAW BUILDING

Topic Will be "That the United States Grant Compensation to War Veterans"

Reviving a custom prevalent before the war, freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors will meet today at 4:30 in the Law building to try out for positions on the class debating teams. The committee in charge of the tryouts for the debates which will be held under the auspices of Delta Sigma Rho, has announced that candidates should meet as follows: Freshman candidates in room 107, sophomores in room 201, juniors in room 101 and seniors in room 202.

The names of the judges have not been announced. They will select four teams of three each with alternates for each. Each candidate is to speak seven minutes on the topic, "Resolved, That the United States Government Should Grant Adjusted Compensation to the Veterans of the World War." Great interest has been shown in the contests. Twenty-six had signed up with the committee yesterday so that keen competition is looked for.

The name of Richard McCann was announced erroneously in the junior list. He will not try out for a position on the team. Seven students will try out from the third-year class.

The custom of holding the finals of the inter-class debate contests on Phi Beta Kappa day in the spring will not be followed this year, as it is expected that some of the class debaters will try for the school squad and will need to be free for preparation. No announcement of the inter-collegiate schedule for the coming year has as yet been announced.

Results of the tryouts today will be published in the Friday Nebraskan and definite announcement of the time of the inter-class meets will be made at that time.

REV. SAMUEL ELIOT WILL PREACH SUNDAY

President of American Unitarian Association Will Preach at All-Souls Church

Rev. Samuel A. Eliot, LL.D., of Cambridge, Mass., president of the American Unitarian Association, will be in Lincoln this week-end in order to preach Sunday morning in All Souls Unitarian church. Dr. Eliot is the son of Charles W. Eliot, president-emeritus of Harvard university. While a student at Harvard, he was attracted to the ministry as a life work largely because of his admiration for Phillips Brooks, and was ordained into the Unitarian ministry in 1889, his first charge being at Denver, Colo. Since 1906, he has been president of the American Unitarian Association.

He has addressed student gatherings at most of the larger universities of the country. For some years he has been a member of the United States Board of Indian Commissioners. This summer he was preaching in Europe, and attended the meetings of the World Alliance for International Friendship at Copenhagen, and the International Congress at Religious Liberals at Leyden. Saturday noon he will give an informal talk to a luncheon party at the Chamber of Commerce. In the evening he will give an address after a church supper at All Souls' Unitarian church, and will preach in the church on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The subject of his sermon will be: "The Faith of a Free Church."

NATIONAL A. A. U. TRACK MEET NEXT JULY IN CHICAGO

The national junior and senior outdoor track and field championship for 1923 were awarded by the A. A. U. national convention to the Illinois Athletic club of Chicago, representing the central association. The national relay and decathlon championships will be held at the same time, probably July 4, 1923. A strong bid for the major events was made by the Los Angeles A. C., but the convention decided in favor of Chicago largely because the championships were held on the Pacific coast in 1921 at Pasadena, Cal., and on the Atlantic side this year at Newark, N. J. The championship was also sought by New York and Philadelphia.—The Lincoln Star.

Invitations are Being Sent out to Students for Church Affiliations

Five thousand students, by the end of the week, will have received invitations to attend church services. Five student pastors with their committeemen are busy mailing out the printed invitations. These invitations read as follows:

"Every student of the University of Nebraska is invited to attend the church of his choice, Sunday, November 26. The observance of the Sunday before Thanksgiving as All-University Church Sunday has become an annual custom at the University of Nebraska. Let us make church attendance as universal as possible."

"At many of the churches opportunity will be given for students to unite with the church, either as regular members or as affiliated members. Please accept this as an invitation to worship in the church of your preference, Sunday, November 26, 1922."

Appearing on the card with the foregoing invitation is a short endorsement by Chancellor Avery. It reads: "This invitation, which goes out to all the University students, has my hearty approval. I shall be greatly pleased if the movement results in a marked increase in attendance at all the Lincoln churches. This is one of the fine customs which has become an All-University tradition, and every student is urged to observe it."

"I Told You So Stuff" Don't go in Regard to Cornhusker Grid Team

This all happened after the tenuous expedition to Syracuse when the results of the football game declared that the Cornhuskers had suffered defeat. That night there was a bloody murder in Lincoln. The accused was caught, found guilty, and set free upon the merits of his deed. When the reports of the game were sent echoing through the city an innocent fellow boldly sauntered up to the would-be convict and chipped some vulgar expression. Whatever it was the chirping individual was slaughtered in cold blood and the perpetrator of the foul deed fell into the talons of the law.

The case was bitterly fought and there was danger of the offender being sent up for life. The sentence was pronounced and the poor fellow was given a chance to defend himself. His plea was simple and to the point. "Judge—judge, he said, "I told you so." "Acquitted," said the champion of justice. And this is the moral—Woe be unto him who dares say, "I told you so."

Will be Issued Wednesday—Cover Design Drawn by Former University Student

The "Hold That Line" issue of Awgwan will be out next Wednesday, the day before Thanksgiving, and the Notre Dame game. The cover design for this number is especially interesting, and was drawn by Robert Jonas, a former University of Nebraska man who is now a student at Yale. He is a member of Sigma Delta Chi here. There is a possibility that copies of Awgwan will be sold Thursday at the Notre Dame game. They will be on sale Wednesday at Station A. At a meeting of the Awgwan staff held at 5 o'clock Wednesday in the Awgwan office, plans were made for the other numbers of the comic for this year, particularly for the Christmas issue.
