

ALUMNI NOTES.
(Continued from Page Two.)

summer school. This is a professional school for employed officers of the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Dinmore is anxious to promote the organization of a Central Pennsylvania alumni club with Harrisburg as the headquarters.

John C. Beard is in newspaper contest work with the Brayton Syndicate of Chicago.

George Burr is an editor and publisher at Aurora, Neb.

Robert H. Finley is a first lieutenant in the United States army air service at Sheffield Technic School, Yale University, New Haven, Conn.

'16

V. C. George is now connected with the department of mechanical engineering at the University of California, Berkeley, Cal. Mr. George was formerly with the University of Wisconsin but took up his new duties October 1.

H. R. Campbell is now working for a Chicago engraving company. His address is 1951 Grace street.

Lester Westling, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Westling of Fairbury, Neb., who has been port engineer in San Francisco for several years, has recently received letters of patent for an instantaneous sounding machine, both for marine and air craft. "The new invention bids fair to be of great value and incidentally make its inventor rich," says a Fairbury paper.

Helen Wehrli is an instructor in Latin in the Teachers College at Wayne, Neb.

'17

Anna L. Steckelberg, A. M., who has been taking the place of a teacher on leave the past year, has been made head of the department of home economics at the State Normal School at Gunnison, Colo.

M. B. Long, B. Sc., has been for three years in the research department of the Western Electric company at New York, where he is concerned with some of the applications of vacuum tubes to communication over wire circuits.

C. C. Towne has been in the apparatus development branch of the Western Electric company in New York city for the last three years.

Grace Erwin is teaching at Gilead, Neb.

Clinton E. Collett is superintendent of schools at Lexington, Neb.

Otis Martin is a practicing physician with offices in the Brandeis theater building at Omaha. He is also physician for the Union Pacific.

Charles Schofield is student pastor and assistant pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church at Fort Collins, Colo.

Esther Baker is teaching at Blair, Neb.

Helen I. White is attending the Prince School of Education for store service at Boston, Mass. Her address is 131 Myrtle street.

Taro Ijichi is a banker at Kaso-shima, Japan.

Edward Gutherlet is a chemist and supervisor of a refinery for the Standard Oil company at Greybull, Wyo.

Emily Grewe is chief chemist of the Seaboard Flour company, 245 State street, Boston, Mass.

C. LeRoy Meisinger recently published a pamphlet through the United States department of agriculture, weather bureau, in which he explains and illustrates "the pressure distribution at various levels during the passage of a cyclone across the plateau region of the United States."

'18

Mrs. Ruth Shively Collins is now living at 133 South Swan street, Albany, N. Y., where Mr. Collins is attending the New York State Library school and holding a staff position in the New York state library.

Jesse JoJan Baum is teaching Spanish and Latin in the senior high school at Fort Morgan, Colo.

Wahlfred Jacobsen is a salesman living at 430 Pine avenue, Long Beach, Cal.

Hollis H. Kirsch is city salesman for the John B. Ellison Woolens company in Philadelphia, Pa.

'19

Otto Muller is living at 3839 Buena Vista Terrace, Chicago. He is traveling for a fraternity and class pin jewelry house in Iowa, Illinois and Indiana.

Lyman B. Mead is a lumberman at Ashland, Neb.

Naomi B. Zimmerman is with the Kansas State Agricultural college, at Manhattan, Kas.

Josephine Lucille Zrust is doing graduate work at Columbia University in the department of sociology. Her address is 251 East Seventy-first street New York City.

Herman B. Thompson is an inspecting engineer on the new Nebraska state capitol being built at Lincoln. His address is 1336 F street, Lincoln.

Elinor M. Bennett is physical director in South High School at Minneapolis.

Mary Ellen Schank is a Latin teacher in the North Platte high school.

'20

Eula M. Nettleton is teaching at York, Neb.

Alfred Hinze is teaching at McGrew, Neb.

Ray Scott is a civil engineer in charge of construction work for the Burlington railroad.

Katherine Hargrove is director of physical education for women at the State Normal school at Dickinson, N. D.

Martha Hellner is head of the girls' physical education department at Casper, Wyo. Miss Hellner is interested in the formation of a University of Nebraska alumni club at Casper.

J. R. Overturf is now at Palo Alto, Cal., where he will study for a year.

Manfred Lilliefors, Jr., is principal of the Hooker county high school at Mullen, Neb.

Lucille E. Mauck is teaching in the high school at Des Moines, Ia.

Milhan Andreansen is teaching in the William and Mary College at Takoma Park, Washington, D. C.

Noma Wyoma Peterson is home economics teacher at the Lexington (Neb.) high school.

Byron F. Rohrbough is with the Cheyenne Fruit company. His address is Box 391, Cheyenne, Wyo.

Lulu Haskell is teaching English and Latin in the high school at Ragan, Neb.

Glen Graf is practicing law at Kansas City, Mo.

Harry Troendly is a metallographic engineer for the William D. Gibson company, 1800 Claybourne avenue, Chicago.

'21

Grayce Myers is teaching at Diller, Neb.

Glen McRae is engaged in Christian education at Omaha.

Olive Hartley is now at the College Settlement, 433 Christian street, Philadelphia.

J. A. Egan is working for the geological department of the Carter Oil company, Tulsa, Okla.

'22

Grace Osgood Lufkin is a teacher at Council, Idaho.

Clarence Howie is living at Auburn, Nebraska.

Leon Steiner McGoogan is a student at the University of Nebraska medical college.

Viva Swanson is living at Wymore, Neb.

Laurence R. Holland is instructor in dairy manufacturers at the University of North Dakota, Fargo, N. D.

Leah H. Dewey is teaching in the high school at Firth, Neb.

Melvin N. Newquist is a student at the University of Nebraska medical college at Omaha.

W. C. Wiggins is working for the Henningson Engineering company. His address is 110 South Twenty-sixth street, Omaha.

Gertrude M. Robinson is instructor in history and normal training at Exeter, Neb.

John Pucelik is practicing dentistry at Spencer, Neb. He is coaching the South Sioux City high school football team and playing professional football.

Roy Wythers is manager of the Varsity Cleaners at Lincoln.

Monte L. Munn is now working with the National Fidelity Life Insurance company at Kansas City, Mo. He is also playing professional football.

Louise Susanna Kees is a teacher of home economics at Diller, Neb.

Elva Leonora Krogh is teaching at Yutan, Neb.

Helen Diamond is now living at Reedley, Calif.

Mary Ellen Sheldon is a mathematics teacher at the Geneva high school.

Lois M. Ambrose is teaching at Auburn, Neb.

Conrad Jacobson is superintendent of schools at Wayne, Neb.

Howard Crandall is teaching in the high school at Grand Island, Neb.

Lloyd T. Gibbs has moved from York, Neb., to 5702 Vernon avenue, St. Louis, Mo.

John Alden Pettesy is working in a bank at Brush, Colo.

John Ernest Jackson is a student in the College of Medicine at Omaha. John M. Howie is professor of mathematics at Alma college, Alma, Mich.

Torval J. Johnson is teaching mathematics and science in the high school at College View, Neb.

Dora Almada Berg is taking graduate work in the University of Nebraska. She was graduated in June with a B. F. A. degree.

Ex-Students.

Norman Richards, "not satisfied with the two old line political parties, has organized a progressive party in Oregon which has endorsed the state and congressional tickets," says a letter from a Portland alumnus.

C. W. Pugsley, secretary of the United States department of agriculture, was a visitor in Portland for several days in August. He talked to the members of the Chamber of Commerce and met the representative farmers at various points throughout the state.

Coy Burnett, ex-'11, has moved from Portland to Los Angeles.

Samuel Atkins, ex-'14, is a civil engineer with the Wabash railroad.

M. L. Herpolsheimer, ex-'05, is engaged in manufacturing at Chicago.

Arthur M. Bradshaw, ex-'05, is a druggist at Lincoln.

Sister Mary J. Miller, ex-'24, and Sister M. Rita Buttel, ex-'17, are teaching at Falls City, Neb.

Ruth M. Anderson, ex-'15, is engaged in photographic work for the Hispanic Society of America. Her address is 176 Sullivan street, New York, N. Y.

Nina Catherine Steckelberg, ex-'14, is a supervisor of music at Bakersfield, Calif.

Earl E. Harper, ex-'21, is a minister at Auburn, Mass. He holds a S. T. B. degree from Boston University.

Ara Isabelle Evans, ex-'20, is teaching at Omaha, Neb.

Ford Craig Harper, ex-'21, is secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Pittsburgh, Kas.

William Heckman, ex-'19, is the inventor of the Heckman Auto Signal, "all but talks," which is being manufactured at St. Louis by the Heckman Signal company.

Ira M. DeWalt, ex-'19, is studying osteopathy at the Des Moines Sill College of Osteopathy.

William A. Letter, ex-'12, is a banker at Denver, Colo.

F. E. Drake, ex-'29, a furniture dealer and undertaker at Piler, Idaho, things recognition recently accorded former students a file thing. He says in part: "Your letter brings to mind many pleasant associations and names not thought of for years, such as McLain, Dr. Bessey, Elliot White and even Miss Smith, the registrar and Shadd, the football fan, and the U. of N. and K. U. battles, and many, many other associations that come passing along in review which we have almost forgotten in the sterner strife, but every boy has a warm spot for the old school that he never outgrows."

Walter S. Tyrrel, ex-'09, is a rancher at Lusk, Wyo.

BISHOP JONES TELLS OFF NEW WAY TO PEACE

(Continued From Page One.)

enough sense of decency in you to respond to my confidence in you." He has obtained results.

"What approach are you going to give to man?"

If instead of looking after our rights, our property and our safety, we would take into consideration our relation with other people, their human value first, then we would begin to approach the Christian idea.

England is beginning to see today that her safety lies not in threatening nations, but the building up trade with these countries. This is not so very true with us, however, for we are more nearly self-sufficient.

The only way in which we can change people of low ideals and standards is to make personal appeals in confidence, belief and goodwill which will recall the person to believe in himself. This is the only way out of the war situation.

A pacifist, on Armistice night when all New York was celebrating, was going home along a lonely street. He noticed a man, evidently in an intoxicated condition, who was annoying two girls. The pacifist believed not in the ordinary manner of approach, that of knocking the man down, but in a Christian approach, an appeal to decency. He spoke to the man. The drunken man bit him. A second time he spoke to the man. The drunkard repeated his attack. A third time the pacifist spoke to him, holding up his hands to protect the girls. The drunkard witted down and burst out crying. The pacifist had not broken his head but his heart. He had made of this man a better citizen.

"The Christian approach is the only thing which will ever be able to accomplish anything. But it doesn't solve the problems of the world, for we haven't the team work necessary to work out the problems together. War always lowers the standards of life, the standards of morals, and we must determine within ourselves not to support it in any way."

OLGA PETROVA IN THE WHITE PEACOCK AT THE ORPHEUM

As a playwright, patrons of The Orpheum will generally agree that Olga Petrova, the noted Russian star, is a much better actress, for Miss Petrova appeared in a vehicle of her own, "The White Peacock."

It was rather a silly observation on dutiful wives and unfaithful husbands with a distinctive motion picture flavor. Looking back over the drama which Miss Petrova has pleased to call "The White Peacock," one fails to find anything in Miss Petrova's literary efforts which constitutes a distinct contribution to the American stage. It fails to carry the slightest hint of a moral or message which will preserve it for future use.

That is entirely apart from Miss Petrova's acknowledge powers as a dramatic artist, and the pleasure one derived from seeing her and the rather notable company which she has assembled to present "The White Peacock." Miss Petrova was the play itself. All action centered around her and she dominated every scene. The first act revolved her as a stunning beauty, whose cynicism rather cost her the natural sympathy which beauty commands. As the play moved to its conclusion, Miss Petrova became more the woman and less the impersonal cynic—a moving, vividly feminine personality who loved temptuously. Miss Petrova's art is refreshing. She is master of all of the artifice of the stage and yet the simplicity of her portrayal constituted the greatest appeal.

One won't forget for many months the magnificent work of H. H. McCollum as the bandit. It was one of the finest Lincoln people have been privileged to see for many years. Likewise one will not forget the remarkable scenic effects. They constituted a gem in stagecraft.—The Lincoln Star.

Lois St. John, ex-'21, is teaching at Cotopaxi, Colo.

The Campus Shop
HAIR CUTTING
231 No. 12th

Look Ahead for Xmas

- Diamonds
- Rings
- Pocket Books
- Watches
- Tie Pins
- Pens
- Pencils
- Ivory
- Silverware

Harris-Goar's
1330 O STREET

REMEMBER Vall's Barber Sho
131 No. 13th St.

Bert Sturm's Barber Shop
Open Half Hour Later to Accommodate Students
Hair Cuts, 35c. Shave, 20c
The largest and best shop in the city—10 chairs.
Open from 7:30 a. m. to 7 p. m.
116 SOUTH 13th

Roberts' Dairy Lunch
Good Food
Easy Prices
Open 7 a. m.—8 p. m.

WE DELIVER Call B-4423
PILLAR'S PRESCRIPTION PHARMACY

Order Now Your Printed or Engraved Christmas Greeting Cards.
Boyd Printing Co.
125 North 12th St.

GRAVES PRINTING CO.
Student Printing.
244 N. 11TH ST., Lincoln.

'18

Mrs. Ruth Shively Collins is now living at 133 South Swan street, Albany, N. Y., where Mr. Collins is attending the New York State Library school and holding a staff position in the New York state library.

Jesse JoJan Baum is teaching Spanish and Latin in the senior high school at Fort Morgan, Colo.

Wahlfred Jacobsen is a salesman living at 430 Pine avenue, Long Beach, Cal.

Hollis H. Kirsch is city salesman for the John B. Ellison Woolens company in Philadelphia, Pa.

'19

Otto Muller is living at 3839 Buena Vista Terrace, Chicago. He is traveling for a fraternity and class pin jewelry house in Iowa, Illinois and Indiana.

Lyman B. Mead is a lumberman at Ashland, Neb.

Naomi B. Zimmerman is with the Kansas State Agricultural college, at Manhattan, Kas.

Josephine Lucille Zrust is doing graduate work at Columbia University in the department of sociology. Her address is 251 East Seventy-first street New York City.

Herman B. Thompson is an inspecting engineer on the new Nebraska state capitol being built at Lincoln. His address is 1336 F street, Lincoln.

Elinor M. Bennett is physical director in South High School at Minneapolis.

Mary Ellen Schank is a Latin teacher in the North Platte high school.

'20

Eula M. Nettleton is teaching at York, Neb.

Alfred Hinze is teaching at McGrew, Neb.

Ray Scott is a civil engineer in charge of construction work for the Burlington railroad.

Katherine Hargrove is director of physical education for women at the State Normal school at Dickinson, N. D.

Martha Hellner is head of the girls' physical education department at Casper, Wyo. Miss Hellner is interested in the formation of a University of Nebraska alumni club at Casper.

J. R. Overturf is now at Palo Alto, Cal., where he will study for a year.

Manfred Lilliefors, Jr., is principal of the Hooker county high school at Mullen, Neb.

Lucille E. Mauck is teaching in the high school at Des Moines, Ia.

Milhan Andreansen is teaching in the William and Mary College at Takoma Park, Washington, D. C.

Noma Wyoma Peterson is home economics teacher at the Lexington (Neb.) high school.

..... The
Evans Laundry
LAUNDERERS AND CLEANERS

333 No. 12th --- B-3355

You'll like these Ties

JUST the mere consciousness that they are Cheney Cravats will make you like them—for you know what "Cheney" means in ties.

Smart in pattern and coloring—up to the minute in cut and style—wrinkle-proof—easy-tying—they do you proud!

Come in, and let us show you. There's a Cheney Cravat just made for you.

CHENEY CRAVATS

Farquhar, Speier & Simon, Mayer Bros., Magee's, Rudge & Guenzel, Armstrong Clothing Co., Fred Schmidt Bros.

COLTONS SPECIAL
ON—FRIDAY and SATURDAY—ON

COATS $21 and $33	DRESSES $18⁵⁰ SILK and WOOL
--	--

"Quality Is Economy"

Three O'clock in the Morning

Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes speak for you

They say you have good taste, take a pride in your appearance, are "up and coming."

Overcoats and Suits You'll Be Proud of $35 to $45

Armstrong's
Allen Simon & Sons, Successors