REGENTS AUTHORIZE GROUND FOR THE STADIUM

CLEARING OLD FIELD WILL BEGIN SOON AFTER THE NOTRE DAME GAME

Property for North Extension of the Stadium Has Been Purchased and With the Success of the Drive Apparent the Contract Will be Let in January

RESIGNATION OF DEAN CLYDE W. DAVIS WAS ACCEPTED

Number of Minor Appointments and Readjustments Made at Meeting of the Regents—All Plan to Occupy Box at Notre Dame Game on Thanksgiving

Clearing of ground for the new stadium will be started as soon as the football games are over as a result of the action of the Board of Regents taken in their meeting in the office of Chancellor Avery 11 o'clock Thursday morning.

All members of the Board were present. The Thursday meeting was the last for Hon. P. L. Hall of Lincoln, whose term expires January 1 and whose place will be filled by Hon. William P. Warner of Dakota City.

The regents authorized Chancellor Avery to direct the clearing of the ground for the stadium after the Thanksgiving game with Notre Dame. They had previously made arrangements to buy the additional ground near the site of the present athletic field necessary for the construction of the Memorial Stadium. Present plans call for the letting of the stadium contract in January or February.

The resignation of Dean W. Clyde Davis of the College of Dentistry was accepted to become effective December 1. Dean Davis announced his resignation some time ago. He will go to Milford, Delaware, where he has a position in a research institute.

A number of minor appointments and readjustments were also made at the meeting. A large part of the time was spent in consideration of the budget to be presented to the legislature shortly after the opening of the new year. The regents at their last meeting made arrangements for the preparation of the budget by L. E. Gunderson.

The regents will be in Lincoln on Thanksgiving Day to watch the Notre Dame game. They will occupy a box near that to be occupied by Gen. John J. Pershing who has written the athletic department that he will make extra efforts to be present at the Turkey Day annual struggle between Nebraska and the Irish from South Bend.

A report of the national convention was given by Oswald Black at a meeting of Sigma Delta Chi held at the Temple at 6 p. m. last night. Arrangements were made for initiation to be held one week from Thursday at the Grand hotel.

It's easy to yell like a madman When the team goes through like a shot; But it takes all your stuff With things going tough To show all the spirit you've got. BEAT NOTRE DAME.

Y.M.C.A. FINANCES COMING IN SLOWLY

Not Many Workers in the Campaign and Time May be Extended Until Next Week

Subscriptions to the University Y. M. C. A. are usually large this year, according to Creath Spickler, chairman of the Financial Committee of the "Y". Due to a lack of workers, only a small number of the students have been seen. About one thousand dollars is the amount which has been raised up to date. While the campaign was supposed to run only until Thursday, the interviews will continue until nearly all men have been seen. The drive began Tuesday of this week, with a goal of $2,300. Since the organization is one which is always active in school affairs, the committee feels that all men should be given the opportunity to subscribe to the Association. Any men who are not reached by the members of the committee may contribute at the office of the Y. M. C. A. in the Temple.

Notre Dame Game to Start at 2 O'clock

The Notre Dame-Nebraska game will start a half hour earlier as a result of the action of the officials. It is the last game of the season and to assure finishing before dark, the game will have to be started earlier than usual. Darkness threatened to end the Kansas Aggie contest and the officials have taken this precautionary measure so that the classic may be played under ideal conditions.

Students should write home and inform everyone who contemplates seeing the game that the hour has been changed from 2:30 to 2 o'clock. The earlier hour will undoubtedly be welcomed by those who are fortunate enough to possess tickets.

Vesper Choir to Give Program at the City Mission

The Vesper Choir, an organization within the University Y. M. C. A., will give a special program at the City Mission, Ninth and O streets, Sunday night, November 26. All members of the Choir are requested to be there at 7:30.

The Choir has been for the past weeks, rehearsing sacred music. Most of the work of this organization is done in the regular services of the association. On Easter, the girls sing carols, and once each month they furnish music for the City Mission.

Nebraska Stadium Will be Great Influence Toward Better Spirit

"The stadium was the epitome of the glory that was Greece." Here was displayed the highest expression of the ancient mind and body. Dramatic art, oratory, philosophy, and athletic prowess blended to make the Hellenic civilization the finest of the ancient world. That civilization flowered no less in the exploits of the Olympic games than in the oratory of Demosthenes, the philosophy of Aristotle, and the drama of Sophocles. To the Greek the perfection of the physique was no less admirable than the excellence of the mind. The laurel crown of the Olympian was as eagerly acclaimed as the prize of the orator, philosopher, or dramatist. It was the stadium that gave Greek life its symmetry. "Likewise, the stadium has become the means of unifying the best in American college life. The stadia of Harvard, of Syracuse, of Princeton,

Madame de Vilmar To Present Musical Attraction Monday

Madame de Vilmar, accredited teacher for the University of Nebraska, will present a costume performance at the Temple theater, Monday evening, November 27.

A one-act farce, "A Woman's Courage," will be given, a chorus of thirty students will sing and act scenes from "The Bohemian Girl," "Faust" and "Tannhauser." Madame de Vilmar will appear as the seductive "Delilah." Otto Skold will act as Samson. Madame de Vilmar will also sing "Elizabeth's Prayer" from "Tannhauser" and will give her famous interpretation of "The Rosary."

Peppy, pretty girls in Grecian costumes will sing the "Barcarolle" and give beautiful poses in the Arts of Expression. Seats for this performance may be obtained at the De Vilmar-Schaefer Studio, 1329 O street, or the Nebraska Instrument and String Company, 1408 O street.

HOLD UNIVERSITY PARTY SATURDAY

Last All-University Gathering of the Semester Planned for This Week

The last All-University party of the semester will be given in the Armory Saturday evening. There will be no games; the evening will be spent in dancing. The committee asks that students come out to the party, especially girls.

Not unlike the lonesome Virginia Planters in the early colonial days the committee in charge has sent word over the campus that they want a siphon of girls to keep the young men in the best of spirits throughout the evening. The absence of girls at the previous mixers has proved disastrous to many a lad who would enjoy the evening.

The Ames rooters have been invited to attend the mixer and there will probably be many more men than women with the invaders. Just think enterprising co-ed this is a perfect chance to pick up a new imported "line" that will take like the measles when once you spring it.

This is the last All-University mixer that will be given this semester. The price is 30 cents. Masks will be worn the earlier part of the evening. They will be furnished each visitor at the door and will be removed a short time after the dance starts.

Most of the evening will be taken for dancing although there will be a short program. The committee is trying to make this a lively dance and ask that everyone come ready to cut loose in a good informal fashion.

William J. Bryan, Jr., ex-'07, is a lawyer at Los Angeles. Mr. Bryan holds a degree from the University of Arizona.

the bowl of Yale, and the University amphitheatres have made possible the balancing of physical prowess with intellectual achievement, an exhibition of the best elements of college life, and above all, that community of spirit which is the essence of a great institution and the accomplishment of education in its most complete sense.

"No American university can grow in numbers or in spirit, as it should, without a stadium as an adequate forum for the expression of its community of effort, spirit, and activity. "I am glad that the University of Nebraska is to have a stadium. I predict speedy success in this great drive.

Cooley Criticizes Intellect Tests

In commenting on the present widespread use of intelligence tests and the belief held by some writers on the subject that these tests can measure the capabilities as well as the intelligence, Prof. Charles D. Cooley of the Michigan sociology department says:

"I do not believe that any intelligence test can measure the native intelligence of an individual. A number of writers on the subject would give that impression, but the most that can be said of the tests is that they are in a way able to measure the acquired intelligence.

"The intellect is a social product largely dependent upon early environment and education, and for this reason there is no basis for saying that any mental test can determine the innate possibilities of a mind. Those writers who point out that some nationalities among our population average higher in intelligence than others forget the fact that these nationalities are surrounded by different environments which may well account for the difference shown by the tests."

PLAN UNIVERSITY CHURCH SUNDAY

Committee Announces That All Lincoln Churches Will Take Part in Welcoming Students

"Next Sunday is All-University Church Sunday. The churches of Lincoln, always open to students, extend a special welcome for this day. All the churches will welcome into membership the students who apply, and they urge the importance of this step upon all the young people of the University," says a report from the chairman of the Church Affiliation committees of the two Christian Associations. The statement continues:

"Students come to the University to expose themselves to a certain set of influences and certainly no one can afford to neglect the influence of the churches and what they stand for. No matter what the physical and intellectual and social development those who go into life without carrying spiritual development along with the others, are missing one of the most valuable assets for real living. This need the churches are to meet, and extend an invitation at this particular time for the students to avail themselves of the facilities maintained in the city for this purpose.

"One student recently gave this as a reason for church membership: 'Christianity is the greatest uplifting force in human life. The church is the organized expression of Christianity. Therefore every student ought to unite with the church.' That is the attitude which the city churches are taking toward the student memberships.

"The general plan of receiving students for affiliate membership is for the student, through the pastor, University pastor, or some member of a (Continued on Page Four).

LAWS WIN BOWLING MATCH FROM DENTS

Barristers Roll to an Eighteen Point Victory in First Inter-College Competition

In the first inter-collegiate bowling match, the Law College team won the match by the narrow margin of seventeen pins over the total rolled by the Dental College quintet. The totals were Laws 2527, Dents 2509. The match was a close one from start to finish, and at no time was the victory certain.

In the opening game, the Dents took a narrow lead with a margin of eleven pins. The Laws were the winners of the second match with a narrow margin of thirteen pins. With only two pins separating the teams when the third game started, both teams made a strong effort to come out victorious in the final count. The Dents started strong and for the moment appeared to have the decision, but their early lead fell in the middle of the game when the Laws took a spurt and brought the game to a tie. From here on it was a close race, going into the final frame where the Laws nosed out a victory by the narrow margin.

The individual star of the match was Carr of the Dents. He rolled the high series with games of 181, 209, and 200, totalling 593. McKinnie starred for the Laws with a 564 series, two of his games over the two-hundred mark.

The match was made more interesting and exciting by the large gallery of rooters in attendance. Most of these were followers of the Dents. One or two Law rooters were present to cheer for their team, but their efforts were entirely smothered by the uproar kept up by the enthusiastic Dents.

This is the first of a series of inter-collegiate matches that will be rolled by University bowlers. The Dents and Laws already have regular lineups and the "Bizads" commenced or (Continued from Page Three).

Football Issue of Nebraskan Planned For Turkey Day

A Thanksgiving Day football issue of The Daily Nebraskan will take the place of three other papers—Wednesday's, Friday's and Sunday's. After that issue, the next paper will come out Tuesday, December 5.

The Thursday sheet will contain twelve pages. The paper will probably be distributed at the Notre Dame game Thursday afternoon.

Report that Notre Dame Has Been Waiting for Nebraska All Season

The Notre Dame game is less than a week away, and there are many rumors floating around the campus. Speculations as to which team will win are also prevalent, and many have the whole game all "doped out."

The real facts of the case are, however, that when Nebraska meets Notre Dame on the field this coming Thursday, she is going to run up against the stiffest game ever played here. Even though all Nebraska's men were playing and were going fine, the task of beating Notre Dame would be a serious one. But when the fact is considered that both Preston, often referred to as "the brains of the team," and Scherer, star end, will be out—the Notre Dame game appears very much more menacing.

It seems from reports received from the Notre Dame camp, that more than one man has been kept from playing the whole season just for the purpose of being in condition when the Nebraska game came. Then again, Coach Rockne of Notre Dame is considered one of the most wonderful football coaches, if not the most wonderful coach, that has come into existence during the history of the game. His trick plays, too, are so numerous that Nebraska will keep on the jump all the time to keep them from making gains.

It is well known that Coach Dawson's maxim is to play straight football, and the very best of critics say that Nebraska can play that. But strict football alone will not win the game against Notre Dame Turkey Day, and unless she has something to open up with that is unexpected, Nebraska is going to be out of luck. Trick plays, and trick plays only, then, seem to insure the success of the coming game. All that we have shown so far this year has been straight football, and it is beginning to be doubted whether the Nebraska team has anything that is worth while.

The "wonder team" will be destined to defeat, it seems, unless they get some of the "old fight" they used to have, and go into the game to win. Determination to win, the opening up of some new plays, the "old fight," the backing of the whole school, and the realization that the game will be won with effort are the factors that will contribute to the success of Nebraska.

Announcement of the selection of "The Yellow Lantern," to be the musical comedy for the Annual Kosmet Klub production this year, was made late Thursday evening by the Kosmet Klub play committee. "The Yellow Lantern" is an original three-act musical comedy written by Cyril Coombs, a senior law in the University of Nebraska. The entire direction of the play, which will be produced April 24, will be turned over to the author of the winning manuscript.

In having his manuscript selected by the Kosmet Klub, Coombs is entitled to the hundred dollar prize offered by the Klub for the best musical comedy submitted by a student of the University of Nebraska. Coombs is at present the stage manager of the University Players.

Spicy and original songs are included by the author of the "Yellow Lantern" in the manuscript of the play. The plot is laid in China and is the basis for many thrilling situations. From the opening scene of the final curtain the play maintains a gripping air of oriental mystery and every situation is improved by lively musical numbers.

Tryouts for the cast. The tryouts for the cast of the musical comedy will be held March first. Until that time the author of the play will be kept busy putting his production in the best shape for the final presentation.

The members of the Kosmet Klub have been spending three weeks in the selection of the winning play. Three manuscripts submitted early in the year have been subject to the careful scrutiny of the Klub and "The Yellow Lantern" is said by the committee to possess exceptional qualities for an original play written entirely by a University student. Every musical number is the original work of Coombs and the entire play represents the work of more than a year.

The production of the "Yellow Lantern" will require several full sets of special scenery, which has also been designed by the author of the play, who is thoroughly familiar with that part of the stage work. Oriental costumes and settings will feature the major portion of the play.

Each year the Kosmet Klub produces a musical comedy written entirely by University of Nebraska students. The plot and the play must be entirely original with the author and the music is also original. Last year the Kosmet Klub presented the play, "The Knight of the Nymphs," which played successfully to a crowded house. An effort may be made to put this year's show on two separate nights and a movement has been launched to send the play to Omaha after it has been presented here.
