UNIVERSITY PUBLICITY

A committee of University women to visit women students who are ill for any length of time has been organized by the social service branch of the University Y. W. C. A. The committee is seeking to get in touch with women staying in rooming houses who are ill.

Nine hundred thirty-six persons were enrolled for courses by correspondence offered by the University Extension Division from November 1921 to November 1922. This does not include the seven hundred who are taking extension work through the night classes at the University. Twelve hundred students have completed over five thousand credit hours by extension since 1909, according to the "University Extension News" of November 15. One student has a record of fifty-two hours, one has thirty hours, five have twenty-five or more hours, and eleven have over ten hours.

Dr. George E. Condra, director of the Conservation and Survey Division left Tuesday with three soil-survey field men, P. A. Hayes and L. S. Palme of the United States department, and C. E. Bates of the state department, to complete their survey to determine the southeastern boundary of the sand-hill region of Nebraska, which has been the particular task of this department for the last few months.

E. Y. Lipetz, head of the Science department at the Nebraska School of Agriculture, Curtis, has been having unusually good success with the radio recently installed.

Prof. Ralph S. Boots of the political science department has an article on the "Career of the Direct Primary in Nebraska" in the November issue of the National Municipal Review.

Prof. Louis Pound of the department of English has a review of Olive Dame Campbell and Cecil J. Sharp's "English Folk Song in the Southern Appalachians" in the last number of Englische Studien, a philological quarterly published in Germany.

"Who's Who at Doane College" is the title of a thirty-page illustrated bulletin published by Doane College. It is the work of Eleanor Hinman, 20, Lincoln, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. E. L. Hinman. Miss Hinman is publicity secretary and instructor in Journalism, which was started this year by Doane. She attended Wesley College two years. She was graduated from Nebraska with Phi Beta Kappa honors.

The Scottish Revue, given by the Howard Russell Company of Kansas City, was the second number of the Nebraska School of Agriculture Lyceum course.

Prof. Ernest Anderson of the department of Chemistry, who came to the University in 1920 from the Transylvania College, Pretoria, South Africa, addressed the Axis club of Lincoln, November 20, giving a popular description of the location and the methods of working the great diamond and gold mines of South Africa. Diamonds are mainly found at Kimberly and near Pretoria in igneous material forced up in post-gracial ages.

Prof. J. P. Senning of the political science department addressed the state convention of the League of Women Voters at Hastings, November 17, on the "Administration of Taxation in Nebraska."

Professors Joseph B. Burt and W. A. Prant of the College of Pharmacy have been asked by Dr. A. G. Dumez of the United States Public Health Service to collaborate with him in abstracting pharmaceutical journals, which abstracts are to be published monthly in the American Pharmaceutical Association Journal.

ARMY DEFEATS NAVY ELEVEN

was the last to appear. He was greeted with cheers as two plobles led him down the field and did not seem to lose his nerve in the tremendous din.

Because of the high wind both teams indulged in much kicking practice to study the air currents. The teams took the field at 2:28. The Navy defended the west goal with the wind behind. The Army took the kickoff.

Mulligan kicked off at 2:32 after the wind had several times blown the ball off the tee.

The first quarter saw both teams battle to a scoreless tie after one of the most desperate gridiron battles ever witnessed on Forbes field.

On the first lineup in the second period, McKee threw a long forward pass to Taylor who was downed on the Army 13-yard line. McKee was then given the ball and skirted the left end for a touchdown.

Barchet made the extra point on a placement kick.

Score: Navy, 7; Army, 0. The Army kicked off and the Navy ran the ball back to the 27-yard line. A bad pass cost the Navy eight yards and the Navy was forced to punt. Smythe caught the kick in midfield and made a spectacular run to the Navy 31-yard line.

The Army was penalized five yards for offside, the first penalty of the game and then Garbisch made a placement goal from the 40-yard line.

Score: Navy, 7; Army, 3.

The Navy outplayed the Army in the first half, the ball being in the West Pointers' territory most of the time. The Navy line held like a stone wall, whereas the Army forwards were often penetrated by the midshipmen. The Navy forward passing was also superior to that of West Point.

Score: Navy, 7; Army, 3. Following a series of line plunges and exchange of punts Army worked the ball down within striking distance during the third period and finally shoved Timberlake over for a touchdown. Garbisch added the extra point.

Score end of third period: Navy, 7; Army, 10.
Each team made a touchdown and the extra point in the fourth quarter. Final score: Army, 17; Navy, 14.
Another good reason why Sid should be barred is that he hits too darned hard.
Getting back to normal is largely a matter of putting the "ex" in experts.

W.A.A. WILL HAVE WEEKLY BULLETIN

Asks Co-eds to Hand in Bits of Information Each Week for Bulletin

The Women's Athletic Association is going to have a weekly bulletin board in Armory. An announcement of the bulletin addressed to W. A. A. members reads:

"If you know some one who is going to school in another state, ask her to tell you of their W. A. A. activities, or their athletics in general if they do not have an association."

When you get any interesting lists of information, you will be conferring a great favor if you will hand them to the undersigned, in order that they may be incorporated in the bulletin.

Your ideas and suggestions are very welcome—let's have them!"

Vesper Choir Will Furnish Special Music at Mission

The members of the Vesper Choir will furnish special music at the City Mission Sunday evening. Every month the girls provide the program for this Mission for one Sunday evening. The choir, an organization within the University Y. W. C. A., was organized primarily for the purpose of furnishing music for the regular Tuesday afternoon Vespers of that organization. Since then it has expanded, and now specializes in service work.

All members of the choir are urged to be at the City Mission at 7:30 Sunday evening.

When the driver holds out one hand, that means he is going to turn; when he holds out one hand while holding his girl's hand, that means he is going to turn over.
