

STUDENTS GIVEN CHANCE TO WIN 1923 YEAR BOOK

Slogan Contest for 1923 Cornhusker Will Start at Once and Closes Monday

WANT CATCHY SLOGANS

General Business Staff Will be Announced Friday—Book Larger Than Last Year

A free copy of the 1923 Cornhusker, Nebraska's year-book, will be given to the student submitting this week the best slogan or name for the annual, according to an announcement from the Cornhusker offices Wednesday evening.

The Cornhusker last year had for its name, "Everybody's Cornhusker," and the contest open to all students is to supply the book this year with an equally catchy name. Boxes have been placed at the main entrances of University hall and the Social Science building to receive contributions to be entered. Each student is not limited to one suggestion but all entries will be given equal consideration by a staff committee headed by the editor.

The contest is open until Monday night, when the names submitted will be taken from the boxes and considered. Announcement of the winner will be made in the Tuesday issue of the Daily Nebraskan. It is expected by the editors that competition for the free Cornhusker will be keen.

They emphasize the fact that an annual, as much as a football team or well-known student publication, needs a name by which it will popularly be known. Taking this into consideration, the staff desired to open the competition to the whole school.

The plan adopted by the editors is to award a certificate to the successful contestant entitling the lucky one to a copy of the Cornhusker. The certificate will be held until the books are distributed in the spring. The editors suggest in their announcement of the contest, that names which are short and catchy, which will fit the big annual, and which will serve to attract attention to the book are the ones which will be most favorably considered.

Names may also be handed in to the Cornhusker offices in the basement of Administration hall before the close of the week.

Students who will work on the business staff of the Cornhusker under the general direction of the business manager will have their names announced in the Friday issue of the Nebraskan.

FIRST ROUND PLAYED IN HOCKEY TOURNEY

Juniors Win From First Year Girls and Seniors Win From Sophomore Girls

The juniors won from the freshmen 2-1 in the first round of the girls' inter-class hockey tournament Wednesday afternoon. The seniors won from the sophomores 3-2. The senior-soph game ended in a 2-2 tie, the seniors making their winning score in the extra playing period.

Phi Mu Awarded Pan-Hellenic Cup For Scholarship

Phi Mu sorority will be awarded the Pan-Hellenic Scholarship Cup for the year 1921-22 at a tea given by the Pan-Hellenic Union at the Blackstone in Omaha Saturday afternoon. About half the active members and some alumnae will be present.

The Pan-Hellenic cup is awarded every year to the Greek-letter sorority having the highest average. If an organization is awarded the cup for three semesters in succession, it is allowed to keep the cup permanently.

PSYCHOLOGY CLASSES HOLD XMAS PARTY

Feature Program and General Good Time Is Enjoyed by All Students—Moronicle Appears

The annual Christmas party of the Psychology department, the party of wits, held Wednesday evening in the laboratories, was decidedly successful. About a hundred and fifty students from the Psychology 100 class and the Applied Psychology class were present, with the instructor, Dr. Winifred Hyde, and the laboratory assistants.

Chancellor and Mrs. Avery, and Rev. and Mrs. V. C. Mengers were special guests.

After a puzzle game in the laboratories during the first half hour, an appropriate program was presented in Social Science auditorium.

On black started the action with a chalk talk, in which he caricatured the assistants and several members of the class, along with his standard line of entertainment.

A new pronunciation appeared at the program, known as The Laboratory Moronicle. The editor is unknown, but the contents of the sheet were read by Dr. Hyde. Choice bits of news about members of the class were featured in the columns of The Moronicle.

"Psychology and the Law," a skit written by members of the Applied Psychology class, assisted by E. C. Fisher, Law 22, was presented by the advanced class. The cast of characters was as follows:

- Judge Rummy K. O'Rourke
Cleo Clatter, the vamp Helen Butler
Reg Romeo, hero C. Bloom
Miss Plumtree, heroine Esther Jones
Cicero Sapp, attorney R. Kelley
Andy Gump, attorney I. Lukens
Count Crisco A. Waters
Insipid T. K. Jones
Dr. Singletree, father J. Whalen
Prof. Pillsbury, psychologist R. Sanderson

After the program the group returned to the laboratories for the rest of the entertainment. Mr. Jindra played a violin solo, and the entire group sang "The Cornhusker" and the chant for Chancellor and Mrs. Avery, as it was sung in the Psychology class after the Notre Dame game.

Then Santa Claus arrived in true style through the fireplace and brought his bag of toys, which were distributed at the Christmas tree. There was a gift for every person present.

Candy was served all during the evening, and after the Christmas tree refreshments of two kinds of sandwiches, salad, ices and wafers were served.

Thomas Roope was general chairman for the party, and the committee chairmen were Muriel Allen, decorations; Marian Madigan, refreshments and Dave Noble, program. The laboratories were decorated in red and green streamers, shaded lights, and wreaths, with a lighted Christmas tree as the main feature.

Professor Mickey Offers Prizes To the Civil Engineers

Prizes of $5.00 each were offered to civil engineering students by Professor C. E. Mickey for the greatest percentage increase in average grade for this semester over that for last semester; the best thesis on some subject of engineering interest or the best five minute talk before the A. S. C. E.; the best plan for a display or stunt for Engineers' Night.

Professor Mickey said he would try to have these prizes added to, but that he would personally guarantee the amount offered.

Jack Best Sends Message to All University Students on Birthday

"Give them my best wishes for next year, I'm sure my boys will fight for the Scarlet and the Cream." This was the faintly whispered message of Jack Best, on the eve of his 77th birthday to the student body of the University of Nebraska. Jack is now in the Lincoln Sanitarium suffering from a complication of diseases including yellow jaundice.

Jack plans, however, to hold a big celebration tomorrow in honor of his birthday. Several days ago he told his daughter, Mrs. John Ruff, who is attending him, that he must rest up because he wanted to have his boys" with him Thursday.

Mrs. Ruff said it was remarkable that the sole subject of Jack's conversation was "his boys"—what they have done and what they will do. Jack is especially pleased about the Stadium, because now "the boys will have a good enough place for them."

"I hope I can see two or three more years, I'm pretty weak. But I have a lot to be thankful for."

Jack then turned his face to his pillow and slowly closed his eyes. The reporter quietly picked up his hat from the "N" blanket on Jack's cot and tip-toed from the room.

Engineer Graduates Offered Jobs With Oklahoma Company

Graduates of engineering or geological courses who wish to take training in an oil and gas business are offered a beginning salary of $95 a month with an increase every six months during a two year course, by the Empire companies of Oklahoma.

Dean Ferguson of the College of Engineering received a letter from the firm asking for men to take such positions. He will be glad to hear from anyone who is now ready for this work.

CLASS WRESTLING WILL CLOSE TODAY

Several Winners Announced in Yesterday's Matches—Number of Men Out

All of the finals of the class wrestling meet have been finished except the one hundred and fifteen pound and one hundred thirty-five pound classes. These two classes will finish up today at 5 o'clock in the Armory. The representation at this meet was not very large, and a number of men were out on the sick list. Probst hurt his knee last week and so was unable to wrestle in the 125-pound class, and Renner was missing too.

The winners that can now be announced are Kellogg, 125; Isaacson, 135; Reed, 155; Robertson, 175, and Troutman in the heavy.

Results in Different Classes.
In the 115-pound—Blone won from D. C. Smith by a fall, body scissors, time 6 minutes, 20 seconds. Nakagawa won from Ziegler by a fall, body scissors and chancery, time 4 minutes 48 seconds.

NEBRASKA GRADUATE TALKS TO PRE-MEDICS

State Veterinary Association Representative Speaks on Animals and Man

Dr. Morris H. Hall, a graduate of the University of Nebraska, who has been in Lincoln as speaker for the State Veterinary Association, left Wednesday afternoon. He spoke to Dr. Barker's second-year class of pre-medical students in the morning on the relation of parasites of animals to parasites of man.

Dr. Hall received his master's degree here in 1907 or 1908 in the Zoology department. He is now senior zoologist in the division of zoology in the bureau of animal industry in Washington. He is one of the best-informed men on parasites in the United States, and he has done a large amount of research work along that line. Dr. Hall is one of five graduates of this University who are or have been in the zoology department in Washington.

Harry L. Hubble, E. E. '21, has become a member of the firm of Hollister Engineering company, of Lincoln. In this business he is associated with Professor V. L. Hollister.

Anybody who has a book on etiquette telling what to do when you spill the beans might lend it to France.

NOTICE

Tickets for the Cornhusker banquet should be secured at once from members of Vikings or at the Student Activities office. The committee in charge want to know approximately how many men will be there.

L. E. GUNDERSON.

Who has been elected to the executive board of the local post of the American Legion for one year, beginning January 1, 1923.

Outstanding Bills Must Be Taken Care Of by Organizations

Officers of all student organizations should call at the Student Activities office and straighten up all outstanding bills before the Christmas vacation, according to an announcement made yesterday.

The accounts of some of the organizations are slightly mixed, and the office wishes to outline to each group officer, the exact standing of his society, so that all discrepancies may be corrected before the holidays.

Christmas Bazaar Of Y. W. C. A. Will Opens Doors Today

The Christmas bazaar of the Y. W. C. A. will be opened today at 12 o'clock at Ellen Smith hall. Visitors will be received at 8 o'clock this evening, and from 12 to 6 on Friday. Various Christmas gifts and novelties will be displayed.

Five booths have been arranged in the court. The handkerchief, apron, and novelty booths will supply the wants for Christmas shoppers, and a fortune-telling booth will provide amusement for all callers. Home-made candy will also be sold.

Contributions have been unusually numerous this year, according to Florence Sherman the chairman of the committee in charge. Articles for the bazaar will be received until noon today, and may be left with Miss Appleby.

NEBRASKA'S "GRAND OLD MAN" IS CELEBRATING 77TH BIRTHDAY TODAY

Jack Best Will Hold Annual Birthday Party for "His Boys" at Sanitarium This Afternoon From 3 to 5—Birthday Cake Will be Feature of Afternoon's Festivities

FORMER ATHLETES ARE SENDING IN GREETINGS TODAY

"Jimmy" Has Trained Cornhusker Athletes Since 1888—Many Students Pay Regards to Veteran—Candles Will Cover Huge Cake This Year

Jack Best, Nebraska's "Grand Old Man," is celebrating his seventy-seventh birthday today. He will have his customary cake and birthday party with his boys in spite of the fact that he is in the hospital.

Jack Best was taken to the Lincoln Sanitarium Monday evening. He protested the action with some feeling, because he thought he would have to miss his party if he were in the hospital. But the party will go on as usual, and will be more festive than in other years.

MISS DEDENSKY TO SPEAK AT TEMPLE

Will Hold Open Meeting This Afternoon at 5 O'clock for Interested Students

Miss Brucia Dedensky, a witness of revolutionary conditions in Russia, who is in Lincoln this week, will speak to all students who are interested at 5 o'clock this afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. room of the Temple. Miss Dedensky is a member of the faculty of Central College of Central City, where she teaches French, German, and the History of Europe.

Two younger sisters of Miss Dedensky's are in school in Aleksandree, in the southern part of Russia, the college from which she herself was graduated. From her own experience in that country and from her family ties there at the present time, she should be particularly well-informed.

Miss Dedensky has degrees from the Russian institution, from a French college, and from an English University. She speaks English, very fluently, and is also familiar with the languages of Russia, France, Spain, Germany and Italy.

Tuesday evening Miss Dedensky spoke to the University girls at Vesper. Yesterday she spoke at Cotner College, and Thursday she is to give the address in chapel at Wesleyan University.

Because it was thought unfair that the men had not been given a chance to hear Miss Dedensky, the meeting at the Temple tonight has been arranged. All students are invited to come, as a familiarity with conditions in Europe following the war is valuable to all students. Because of her personal acquaintance with the conditions, Miss Dedensky is particularly qualified to give this valued information.

Girls Will Report In Costume for Big Party in the Armory

The annual girls' Cornhusker party will be held Friday night at 7:30 at the Armory under the auspices of W. S. G. A. All guests are expected to appear in costume. Eleven stunts will be presented by Nebraska sororities. Although fewer manuscripts than usual were submitted, Margaret Hager, who is in charge of the party, believes that the stunts which will be given are no less clever or humorous than those of past years.

In addition to the refreshments which the W. S. G. A. will serve, ice cream sandwiches and candied apples will be sold by the memoir of Mortarboards and Silver Serpent. Games and dancing have been planned besides the program to provide entertainment. The admission price is thirty cents.

Change Suggested For Banquet Of Engineering Men

A suggestion for a change in the usual program for the banquet at the end of the Engineers' Week was made at the meeting of the student chapter of A. S. C. E. last night at 7:30 in M. A. 106. The new idea was discussed by the students.

The proposed plan calls for one good talk from an outsider for "the men are tired of hearing us spout off," and an amateur truth session, during which everyone is to try to insult as many as possible of his friends.

His cake, which his daughter has baked for him, is a large fruit-cake that weighs about twenty pounds. In former years, candles have not figured in the celebration of Jack's birthday, but this year seventy-seven scarlet candles will blaze forth from the cake which is frosted with white. Symbols of Jack's calling have always decorated his birthday cakes in the past.

Another pleasing feature of the big birthday party, will be the presence of Glen Preston. According to plans Wednesday, Preston will be taken to Jack Best's room in the sanitarium for the party, which will take place from 3 to 5 o'clock this afternoon. Members of the football team are the men who are lucky enough to be included in Jack's party.

The old trainer often expresses his regret at not being able to bake birthday cakes for all his boys, and he often tells his daughter that he would like to have her bake for all of them.

Jack Best seems to be perfectly contented at the hospital. Some of the boys are nearly always with him, and his daughters express their gratitude for the thought of kindness shown him by the boys from the University.

A number of athletes who have gone from the University within the last few years are sending words of greeting and cheer to the grand old man. Wednesday a letter arrived from Monte Munn who is in Kansas City. He said in the course of his greeting "It will get us down but it can't knock us out."

Jack Best, who has been at the University since 1888, says he knows he will feel better than ever when he recovers from this illness. He has not been very well this fall, especially in the last two weeks. But every moment he has been able to get away from his home he has insisted on going to the Army to be with his boys, and he used up most of his strength.

His "N" blanket is his most cherished possession when he is at home it is constantly in use, and Wednesday morning at the hospital, when he was taken from his room for an X-ray examination, he sent for his "N" blanket to take with him to the laboratory.

STAGE IS SET FOR CHRISTMAS PARTY

Campus Will be Scene of Annual Festivities Thursday Night, December 21

With the decoration in Christmas garb of a large pine tree on the campus and an All-University program around it shortly before the close of school for the holidays, Christmas spirit this year will take a more definite form at the University than in past years. Festivities are in charge of the All-University Party committee which plans to make this one the "best ever."

According to the plans of the committee the tree selected will be one of the largest pines on the campus and will probably be located near U hall. Tinsel and other decorations will be placed on the tree and strings of colored electric lights will be hung over the branches. These will be lighted every evening during the entire vacation and the tree will send out its message of cheer and good will until late at night.

The program will be held in the evening, Thursday, December 21. It will be open to all students and no collections or contributions will be asked for. While the plans of the
