CHANGES MADE IN 1923 HUSKER GRID SCHEDULE

Notre Dame Contest Will Be Played on Nov. 10, Kansas Here on Oct. 20

AFFORDS BALANCED CARD

Memorial Stadium Dedication and Homecoming Will Be Held Day of K. U. Game

NEBRASKA'S REVISED FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

- Oct. 6—Illinois at Urbana.
- Oct. 13—Oklahoma at Lincoln.
- Oct. 20—Kansas at Lincoln. Dedication of new memorial stadium and homecoming of alumni.
- Oct. 27—Missouri at Columbia.
- Nov. 10—Notre Dame at Lincoln.
- Nov. 17—Iowa State at Ames.
- Nov. 24—Syracuse at Lincoln.
- Nov. 19—Kansas Aggies at Lincoln.

Athletic Director Fred T. Dawson, head mentor of football at the University of Nebraska, last night, officially promulgated the above revised Cornhusker schedule for 1923. Coach Rockne's "Fighting Irish," originally dated to perform here October 20, will come to the Nebraska camp for the Armistice day game, November 10, while the Kansas Jayhawkers, previously scheduled to tackle the Cornhuskers November 10, will invade Lincoln October 20, the date now fixed for the annual "homecoming" of Nebraska alumni and the dedication of Nebraska's new memorial stadium.

Revision of the schedule is the result of a three-cornered agreement which had the hearty approval of both K. U. and Notre Dame from the first. Director Allen of Kansas is pleased with the re-arrangement because it gives the Jayhawkers the dedicatory game at the new stadium, while the switch of the Nebraska-Notre Dame contest to November 10 may enable Director Rockne to close negotiations with Princeton University for a Notre-Dame Princeton game October 20 on the New Jersey field.

Followers of football at Nebraska will agree that the revision represents a distinct improvement from a Cornhusker standpoint. Coach Dawson will lose a string of seven or eight Varsity regulars and must practically rebuild the forward wall. Of the seven first-string line players on the 1922 team, only Berquist and Bassett are assured for next year. The eligibility of Carl Peterson for another year of college football has been put up to the Missouri Valley Conference and the Cornhusker authorities admit they are fearful that the verdict will be against Nebraska. In event Peterson's name is erased from the list, Dawson and his aides must grapple with the task of developing a new center and four additional line players—all from green material.

While the backfield situation is encouraging, the line layout is sure to be a problem. On that account the schedule revision may work out to Nebraska's advantage. The games with Illinois, Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri should permit of gradual development of the inexperienced candidates for the forward wall, allowing for a final two weeks' intensive drive in preparing for the stiff contests with Notre Dame and Syracuse—The Lincoln Star.

Prof. H. J. Alway of the University of Minnesota, formerly of the University of Nebraska, was elected president. Dr. Condra spoke at the First Baptist church of Lincoln, Wednesday, and to the Norfolk teachers Thursday, on "Teaching Geography."

A series of twelve lectures on "The American Revolution" is being given by Prof. Roy E. Cochran of the department of history, before the history section of the Lincoln Woman's club. "The Punitive Measures of Great Britain; Armed Resistance," was his subject on December 4, and on December 18 he will speak on "The Independent Movement."

G. W. Rosenlot, instructor in the department of history and principal of education of Teachers College, addressed a community gathering of rural school patrons at Wahoo, December 14.

The students of the Nebraska School of Agriculture of Curtis put on a drive, the week of December 3 to 9, for the Nebraska Memorial Stadium.

The water-power resources of Nebraska are the subject of a bulletin soon ready for the press, prepared especially for members of the coming legislature. The authors are: Dr. Geo. E. Condra, director of conservation and soil survey; Prof. V. L. Hollister, electrical engineering; Dean O. J. Ferguson, College of Engineering; Prof. M. I. Evinger, civil engineering.

Prof. C. W. Taylor addressed the American Legion and the patrons of the public schools at Utica, Wednesday. His subject was the general theme of Americanization.

A bulletin, "The Resources and Industries of Nebraska," (No. 14) is being rewritten by Dr. Geo. E. Condra, director of conservation and soil survey, assisted by about a dozen members of the agricultural and engineering faculties.

Mme. Clara Heiner Becheraz, '07, has written Dean Amanda Heppner, from Berne, Switzerland, where her husband, who died about a year ago, was consul for the United States government. Madame Becheraz said that she would return to this country about the middle of November. She formerly lived in Omaha.

Prof. L. A. Wolfanger, '15, of Columbia University, has written Dr. George E. Condra, director of conservation and soil survey, for information on the preparation and selection of lantern slides showing national resources. Professor Wolfanger was formerly a member of Doctor Condra's department. He has been requested by Columbia University to prepare a set of lantern slides, showing the natural resources of the United States, selected from government photographs at Washington.

Dr. H. B. Alexander, chairman of the department of philosophy, will attend the meeting of the eastern and western division of the American Philosophical Association, at New York, December 27-29. This is the first joint meeting of the division. Prof. John Dewey of Columbia will give the Paul Carus lecture.

NOTICE!
A number of articles, including two coats, two caps, and a pair of gloves were taken by mistake by persons attending the Cornhusker banquet at the Scottish Rite Cathedral Friday night. All persons who secured the wrong articles in the "snatch-grabs" in the cloakroom are requested to bring them to the Daily Nebraskan office and exchange them for their own haberdashery and coats.

Final approval of the plan to abolish professional college athletic coaching and to substitute faculty coaches was decided upon at a meeting of the New England Association of College Presidents.

Five of the 11 colleges represented in the association have fully accepted the plan, and the other six are expected to ratify it soon.

Colleges which have definitely decided to adopt the plan of having coaches members of the faculty are Wesleyan, Union, Bates, Trinity and Hamilton. The plan has been presented to the trustees of Amherst, Bowdoin, Middlebury, Tufts, Williams and Colby.

Prof. E. H. Barbour addressed the members of the Sioux City Academy of Science December 12 on "The Fossils of the Great Plains."
