VOL. XXII—NO. 65

UNIVERSITY TO OBSERVE XMAS ON THURSDAY

University Chorus, Quartet and Glee Club Will Furnish Music at Annual Festivities

PROGRAM WILL START AT 7

Lighted Tree Will Feature Program and Santa Claus Will Distribute Presents to Everyone

Scene—The University of Nebraska campus, Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. Place—North of U-hall. Scenery—Well-lighted and well-decorated Christmas tree. Characters—Santa Claus himself the University Chorus, the University Quartet and Glee Club. Santa Claus with a large bag filled with stockings-full of candy. Other characters—University of Nebraska students and Lincoln people interested in the University's Christmas party.

Such is the scene which will prevail on the University of Nebraska campus Thursday evening when the All-University party committee's Christmas party will be given as a fitting send-off to the thousands of Nebraska students who will leave the following day for their homes all over Nebraska, in parts of Colorado, Wyoming, Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, North and South Dakota, and in various other states.

The Christmas party will be held Thursday evening. The program for the evening will start at 7 o'clock and will center about one large Christmas tree set on the north side of U-hall.

The University quartet, the glee club and the University chorus will provide the major portion of the entertainment for the evening.

Fraternities and sororities on the campus have been urged to hold their Christmas parties on a night other than Thursday, and the most of them have arranged to hold their parties one of the three earlier nights of the week.

Candy will be distributed to all the patrons who attend the Christmas party. The candy will be done up in stockings of the pink, blue, and yellow variety which features the Sunday School Christmas programs. It will be distributed by Santa Claus, who, incidentally, will be a well-known University student.

The Christmas tree will be a large pine tree decorated in the height of the Yuletide spirit. The tree will be kept lighted throughout the Christmas holiday, and, standing as it does directly in front of the Eleventh street entrance to the campus, it should attract the attention of hundreds of Lincoln people. Such a tree kept lighted during the Christmas holiday a few years ago drew the attention of all of Lincoln, and people made special trips to view the large, beautifully-decorated tree adorning the University campus.

SALE OF CANDLES STARTS WEDNESDAY

Money Will be Sent to Students in Russia to Help Out the "White Christmas"

Candles for "White Christmas" will be sold at a flexible price will be put on sale Wednesday morning and can be bought for whatever price the student wishes to pay. The proceeds from the sale will be given to the student relief in Europe especially in Russia, where the students are suffering untold privation for the privilege of attending Universities where not only the equipment is inadequate but often classes of a hundred students have a single text-book.

With eighty per cent of the students working from twelve to fourteen hours a day to earn their living, classes at Sasatov University, in Russia, begin at 5 in the evening and continue until 11.

Shoes are owned on a community basis. Several students pool their scanty resources, buy one pair of boots that will fit them all, and then take turns attending lectures, those who attend reporting to those who remain at home.

The aim of this "White Christmas" is to provide a means of self-help for the students of Europe rather than charity. The high exchange rate of American coin makes it possible to keep a Russian student alive for a day with five cents.

First All-University Carnival Will Take Students Back to Younger Days

"Oola! Oola! See the world's fattest lady and the world's smallest man. The lady weighs 749 pounds and is only 18 years old. The man weighs 26 pounds, is 18 1/4 inches tall and is 47 years old. Oola! Oola! folks, see these curiosities for only a nickel, the twentieth part of a dollar.

"All right folks! Step right up! Buy a paddle, spin the wheel and win something everytime! One spin for a dime, the tenth part of a dollar, the smallest piece of money Uncle Sam ever made. Come on up folks! Who's next?"

"Right this way, folks, and see the giants perform. The man who breaks iron horseshoes in two as if they were paper. One at a time here now, tickets five cents.

"Three balls for a dime here, men! Hit the bull's eye and you win a baby doll! Take a chance here fellows, only a dime for three throws.

"Ice cold lemonade, ice cream cones, Eskimo pies, hamburgers, all you want to eat over this way folks for five cents apiece."

These and a hundred similar cries, peculiar to carnivals and circuses, will greet passers-by on the night of January 13, when the first of the annual all-University carnivals will be held.

Three of the largest buildings on the city campus will be the scene of the great celebration. Those buildings are the Armory, where dancing will be going on continuously, Social Science hall, where dancing will go on and where there will also be numerous side shows and stands for refreshments, and the other is the Temple, where a big show will run

Former Director of Athletics Leuhring Congratulates Team

Fred W. Leuhring, former director of athletics here, and now holding a similar position at Minnesota U. writes to a Lincoln paper to congratulate the Cornhuskers upon their successful football season. He says that he is proud of the record that Nebraska made and is glad to have been connected with the University of Nebraska at one time. One of the assistant coaches saw the Huskers ru n over the Notre Dame team and carried word back to Director Leuhring that the Nebraska team was the strongest that he had ever seen in the east or west for several years.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE TALK GIVEN SUNDAY

Miss Lucia C. Coulson of London, England, Gives Annual Lecture Sunday

The annual lecture of the Christian Science Society was delivered Sunday afternoon by Miss Lucia C. Coulson of London, England. Miss Coulson is a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ Scientists in Boston, Mass.

Her lecture brought out very clearly several facts that are commonly misapprehended by those who have not made a study of Christian Science. She stated that Christian Scientists were not asked to believe anything, but simply to prove the truths of Christian Science every step of the way. She also corrected the mistaken idea that demonstrating this truth is easy. It is not; and every sincere Christian Scientist must work ardently to understand and prove this Science. Her lecture reads in part as follows:

"It is said of the Messiah in the book of Psalms, 'Lo, I come to do thy will, O God, and Christ Jesus proceeded to show forth that good-will of God by healing the sick and the sinner, feeding the multitudes, and even raising the dead.

"It may be said of Christian Science also that it has come to do the will of God and that it is showing forth this good-will in the same manner. It has come with a message of salvation. It has come to show us that the will of God for everyone is always happiness. It has come to say to a world that is torn with strife, bowed down with cares, sick at heart with loss and poverty. These things are not the will of God! Are you sick? God's will for you is health. Are you poor? God's will for you is plenty. Are you sad? The will of God for you is happiness. Are you discouraged? The good-will of God for you is comfort and success. Is any one without a God? Then Christian Science offers you a God who is both Father and Mother, who

WELLER PLACED ON FIRST TEAM BY ECKERSALL

Eckersall Places Giant Husker Warrior on First Eleven of Three Teams

LOCKE OF IOWA CAPTAIN

Chicago Sports Critic Gives Honorable Mention to Captain Hartley, Noble and Scherer

Raymond Weller, giant right tackle of the 1922 Cornhusker eleven, was given a tackle berth on Walter Eckersall's first All-American team. Eckersall, who speaks very highly of the Fighting Cornhusker tackle, referred the Nebraska-Notre Dame game at Lincoln on Thanksgiving day and is well qualified to judge the Nebraska player's ability. In his praise of the star Scarlet and Cream gridster, Eckersall, who is the sports editor of the Chicago Tribune and a critic of national recognition, speaks as follows:

"The Cornhusker (Weller) had everything which goes to make a great lineman and was a tower of strength to his team. He continually varied his charges and was hard to keep out of plays. In the Notre Dame game he frequently broke through and nipped plays before they were started. In the Syracuse game he successfully checked all plays sent his way while teams in the Missouri Valley seldom sent formations against him. He was big and active, the ideal build for tackle."

In his article on his All-American teams, Eckersall also gave honorable mention the following Huskers: Captain "Chick" Hartley, fullback; Dave Noble, halfback, and Leo Scherer, end.

CORNHUSKER BUSINESS STAFF IS ANNOUNCED

Campaign for Sale of 1923 Year Book Will Start Immediately Following Holidays

"Your Cornhusker" the winning title in the contest conducted by the management of this year's annual, was submitted by T. Pierce Rogers, of Omaha, a senior in the College of Arts and Sciences.

The title was selected from some five hundred suggestions turned in. "The 'Best' Cornhusker"—in honor of Nebraska's veteran trainer, as one of those which occurred in duplicate. "Stadium Cornhusker," and "Victory Cornhusker" practically divided honors with "Wonder Book."

Audley N Sullivan, business manager of the 1923 Cornhusker, announced last night the staff that will assist in the handling of the business affairs of this year's Annual. It is as follows:

Assistant Business Manager, Dave Richardson. Foreign Advertising Manager, Edward Kubat. Local Advertising Manager, Carl Springer. Sales Manager, Elbert Evans. Circulation Manager, Leo Scherer. Staff Stenographer, Leona Neff. Advertising assistants—Clarence Kichoff, Harris Poloy, Art Whitworth, Warren Buchanan, Frank Fry. Sales and Circulation assistants—Phillip M. Lewis, Kenneth Neff, Ronald Button, Blenne Carpenter, Paul H. Cheyney, James H. Tyson.

The sales campaign under the guidance of Elbert Evans will be held four days starting Monday, January 8, and will continue until Thursday night, January 11. Due to the Nebraska spirit which has characterized itself in all the student campaigns held this year, no prizes will be awarded to any individuals or societies as in the past. A book like the Cornhusker which is truly the spirit which Nebraska wants to show should be purchased by every student on the campus and it should not be necessary to have to offer prizes for the sale, said the business manager. The book this year will be, as its name characterizes, "Your Cornhusker" and the editors are now working hard to make it the best annual which has ever been published.

English Ecologist To Use Tansy Cuts In New Publication

Dr. J. E. Weaver of the University Botany department has just received a request from Prof. A. G. Tansley, foremost ecologist in England, for a number of cuts from his publications on rot systems of plants, to be used in a book now being prepared for British ecologists. Dr. Weaver's work is receiving wide recognition both at home and abroad. A recent number of "Nature" contains a review of his most recent book, written in conjunction with Professors John W. Crist of the University of Nebraska, and F. C. Jean, a graduate of this University, who is now teaching in the State Teachers' College at Greeley, Colorado. This review was written by Dr. Bronchley of the Rothamstead experiment station at Harpenden, England.

Dr. Laura Pfeiffer Entertains Italian Renaissance Class

Dr. Laura B. Pfeiffer, of the History department, entertained the members of her Italian Renaissance class at a Christmas tea, last Sunday evening. Little red ice-cream Santa Claus helped to carry out the Christmas scheme. The class, in appreciation for the work that Miss Pfeiffer had done for them, presented her with a small bust of Dante.

UNIVERSITY CHORUS WILL PRESENT THE MESSIAH WEDNESDAY MORNING

Annual Presentation Will be in Armory From Ten to Twelve—All Classes Will be Dismissed—Will Be Used to Dedicate Enlarged Room in the Armory

PROGRAM WILL BE SENT OUT FROM HALL BY RADIO

Mrs. Carrie B. Raymond in Charge of Program—Will be Featured With Many Solos and Orchestra Music—Town People Invited to Attend Annual Presentation

All University classes from 10 to 12 o'clock Wednesday morning will be dismissed for the annual presentation of "The Messiah" by the University chorus under the direction of Mrs. Carrie B. Raymond and the orchestra.

The special program will be in Memorial hall and will be dedicated to the enlarged room which will more nearly accommodate the great numbers who wish to attend.

Two hundred and fifty voices are in the chorus for "The Messiah." For the first time, the University orchestra will assist in the presentation, in addition to a string quartet. "The Messiah" has been given here annually since 1895.

The program for "The Messiah" follows:

The Prophecy. Tenor, Comfort Ye My People. Bass, Thus Saith the Lord, But Who May Abide.

The Nativity. Pastoral Symphony. Soprano, There Were Shepherds. Chorus, Glory to God. Contralto, He Shall Feed His Flock. Soprano, Come Unto Him.

The Passion. Chorus, Behold the Lamb of God; But Thou Didst Not Leave. Chorus, Lift Up Your Head.

The Resurrection. Soprano, I Know That My Redeemer Liveth. Quartet and Chorus, For Since By Man Came Death.

Bass, The Trumpet Shall Sound. Chorus, Hallelujah! Solists. Margaret Perry, soprano. Francis Diers, tenor. Sylvia Cole, contralto. Oscar Bennet, bass.

Orchestra. Edward Walt, first violin. William T. Quick, viola. Mrs. August Moller, second violin. Lillian Etche, cello. Mark Pierce, bass. Donna Gustin, piano. Edith Burlingame Ross, organ. Assisted by the University orchestra.

The program will be sent out from Memorial hall by radio. "The Messiah" is the big musical event of the year, and town people who are active in musical circles always attend in large numbers. Until this year there has never been space large enough to accommodate nearly all the crowd of University and town people who attend. It is hoped that the enlargement of Memorial hall, by the removal of the partitions, will relieve that condition. Since 1895 the chorus has not missed a single year in giving "The Messiah" at a convocation near the beginning of the Christmas holidays.

MISS STEWART SPENDS FEW DAYS IN LINCOLN

Nebraska Graduate Has Been Teaching in Philippine Schools for Nine Years

Miss Elvessa Stewart, a graduate of this University who has been in the Philippines for the past nine years is spending a few days in Lincoln. She went to the islands as teacher of Botany and Zoology, and after teaching in a high school in the provinces she was called into Manila to teach in a normal school.

Later she was made a member of the board of education, and now she is director of all the industrial work in the public schools in the Philippines. Ninety persons work under the direction of Miss Stewart. Traveling teachers go out over the islands teaching cooking and sewing under her direction, and in her office the designs are made for the embroidery work which the school children do. Her work is the training of Philippine children so that they will be able to earn their own living, and she says she feels that she is doing a missionary work even though she is paid by the government.

Miss Stewart is especially interested in a Filipino girl whom she hopes to send here to school next year. The girl is very talented, and will work her way through school if she comes. The problem now is to find something that she will be able to do while going to school.

In March, Miss Stewart plans to return to the Philippines. She came to this country for her vacation on three days' notice, and in that time did not miss an hour from her offices, arranging her work for the six months she was to be away.

ARMORY DESTROYED BY FIRE AT THE AMES COLLEGE ON SUNDAY

The R. O. T. C. Armory of the Iowa State College was destroyed by fire late Sunday night. The loss is estimated as five hundred thousand dollars. The Armory was completed a little more than a year ago and was thought to be fireproof. The cause of the fire is not known, but it is believed to have started in one of the storerooms. The firemen were hampered in their efforts to put out the fire because of a strong wind and because the hose were cut by a street car.

Prof. Waite Chosen Censor For County Medical Association

Dr. H. H. Waite, head of the department of Bacteriology, was elected censor for the Lancaster County Medical Association at the annual meeting of the association held Saturday evening. The censor goes over the applications for membership in the association. Dr. Waite was also elected one of two delegates to the State Medical Society for the meeting which will be held in May.

RAYMOND WELLER. Raymond "Hub" Weller, Husky Nebraska gridster, who has given of ficial recognition to Walter Eckersall's first All-American team. Weller received the right tackle position on the Chicago critic's first team.

INTER-CLASS DEBATES WILL START TONIGHT

Freshmen and Sophomores Meet and Junior and Seniors to Mix

The first round of the interclass debate tournament will be staged tonight at 8 o'clock when the freshman team and the sophomore team mix in Social Science auditorium and the seniors and juniors in Room 101 of the Law building. "Resolved: That the United States Government Should Grant Adjusted Compensation to the Veterans of the World War," is the question for debate.

Open Forum discussion, which will not influence the judges decision will follow the debates. The affirmative side of the bonus question will be maintained by the freshmen and the seniors. The sophomores and the juniors will defend the negative side. The direct argument speeches are to be ten minutes in length. Five minutes time is allotted to each speaker for rebuttal.

Byron Parker will be the first speaker for the senior team; E. G. Funke, the second, and David E. Lindstrom, the third. The speaking order for the junior team is: Floyd Leavitt, first; Merle Loder, second, and Alexander McKie, third. Carter Battershell will open the debate for the sophomore team. John Otley will be second speaker, and Ralph Cole, third. The freshman speaking order is: Orville G. Bosley, first; Tyler Buckenan, second, and Hugh Cox, third.

This will be the first interclass debate tournament held since before the war. Delta Sigma Rho, honorary debating fraternity, has been instrumental in bringing about the revival of the class contests.

VESPER CHOIR WILL GIVE XMAS CANTATA

"The Angel and the Star" Will be Presented This Evening at Five

The Vesper choir will present the Christmas cantata, "The Angel and the Star," at Vesper services this evening at 5 o'clock, in Ellen Smith hall. This is the first service of the sort presented by the choir. The program will be composed of choir selections and vocal solos by Amy Martin, Josephine Bishop, Kathleen Raugh, Margaret Williams, Beatrice Baird, Grace Davey, Pearl Showler and Beatrice Eno. During the services a candle symbolizing the Christmas spirit will be lighted by Carl Maxwell.

A string quartet will accompany the choir. The meeting will be led by May Creeksbaum.

Contrary to rumors, classes are not dismissed on Friday, December 22. Christmas vacation does not start until Friday at 6 p. m. and absences before that time will not be excused except for legitimate excuses. C. C. ENGBERG, Executive Dear
