

ALL UNIVERSITY CARNIVAL ADDS NEW FEATURES

All Tickets for Funfest Saturday Must Be Secured at the Six Booths.

CORNCOBS TO BE POLICE

University Players' Stunt Will Be Repeated Several Times During the Evening.

SOME ADDITIONAL STUNTS.

Midnight Frolic—W. A. A. Hamburger stand—Union Society. Ice cold pop—Alpha Xi Delta. A Duck pond—Vikings. Check stands—Green Goblins. Clowns and policemen—Corncocks. Confetti—Kappa Alpha Theta. Concessions—Palladian and Delian.

Six ticket booths, the only places possible at which tickets will be sold or carnival cash received, will be located in the three buildings—Armory, Social Science, and Temple—in which the University Carnival will be staged Saturday night starting at 7 o'clock. These booths will sell tickets worth 5 cents each, and these tickets admit to all attractions, concession-stands and dance floors. No money will be taken at the doors to the various stunts or at the concession stands.

Two of these booths will be located in the Armory, one each on the floors of the Social Science hall, and the other booth will be placed in the Temple building where the University Players will present their comedy drama, "Tragedy of the Future," written and directed by Herbert Yenne of the dramatic department.

A Big Attraction.

The University Players' stunt is one of the biggest attractions of the evening. It will be repeated several times in order to accommodate the crowds. The admission price to the drama has been placed at 15 cents, the only attraction of the entire carnival at which a price of more than ten cents will be charged.

The play depicts life in 1962 when eggs sell for a $1,000,000 a piece. It is a domestic scene and relates the troubles of a man and his wife. The cast, small but of excellent material, follows:

Basil—"Brick" Hawley.
Irene—Marguerite Manger.
Harold—Richard Day.
Corncocks as Policemen.

In order to assure "peace and quiet" throughout the evening at the scene of the carnival, the Corncocks have been secured to act as policemen. Those "Cobs" who do not act as policemen will assume the roles of clowns.

Programs announcing the stunts, the places at which they appear, and the price of admittance, will be distributed free of charge at the ticket selling booths.

Previous to the start of the carnival proper at 7 o'clock, the University band will parade through the streets leading past sorority and fraternity houses and will advertise the carnival.

All students taking part in the stunts will be expected to be at the scene of the carnival at 7 o'clock prompt. Final instructions to students taking part in the carnival were given out at a mass meeting of the carnival participants last night in Social Science building.

Saturday night has been closed to all affairs other than the carnival. Friday night is also closed, due to the start of final examinations on Saturday morning.

Many Seek Admission to Dartmouth College

Application for admission to Dartmouth College in the next three entering classes averaged nearly four a day throughout the month of December, according to an announcement made by E. Gordon Bill, director of admissions. For these classes 119 applications were received during the month. One thousand and ninety-one applications have been filed for admission in September, 1923; 442 for admission in September, 1924, and 235 for admission in September, 1925. The application list for admission next September will not be closed until April 1, when selection will be made of the 550 men whom the college can admit into the next entering class. Priority of application, according to the announcement, is not a factor in selection.—The Dartmouth.

Germany's floating debt increased to 377,000,000 marks during the last ten days of December.

Kappa Phi to Give Play on Thursday

Kappa Phi girls will give a play as part of an entertainment for the benefit of the Union Christian college fund, at the First Christian church Thursday evening. The play is based on conditions in the Orient and Khanto Bala Rai, University student, a Christian girl from Bengal, India, will take a leading part as the "Bible Woman." "Shall we have the harem in America," "Why do our census returns not show 2,000 girls under five years old married?" are said to be questions raised by the play.

AG COLLEGE BULLETIN LISTS ACHIEVEMENTS

"One Hundred Worthwhile Accomplishments" Hymizes Many Feats.

The College of Agriculture has just published a bulletin telling in itemized form its accomplishments during the past two years. The bulletin is known as "One Hundred Worthwhile Accomplishments" because it lists that number of successful pieces of work. The publication is partly in response to the request of the Alumni Association last spring that wherever possible the University show in a definite and tangible way the results of its work, and also to the belief that the citizens who support the institution are entitled to know just what is being done.

Many of the accomplishments listed are of outstanding significance. Whereas a few years ago potato growers in northwest Nebraska were importing seed potatoes, the college has now discovered that the same section is capable of raising some of the best seed potatoes in the world. So successful has this idea proved that the southern markets have taken all the certified seed potatoes that could be shipped.

The College of Agriculture has the distinction of being the only college in the United States that has developed a cow that has produced more than a thousand pounds of butterfat in a year. It has inaugurated a plan of leading dairy bulls to farmers in order to breed up the dairy herds of the state. It has designed a distinctive poultry house and over two hundred similar houses have now been erected in the state.

During the two years it placed its graduates in teaching positions or experimental work in colleges in Kansas, Georgia, Colorado, Michigan, Oregon, Iowa, North Dakota, Maryland, California and Virginia, as well as in the United States Department of Agriculture. The tremendous amount of correspondence handled by the College is evident from the fact that inquiries regarding four hundred animal husbandry answered ten thousand personal letters from farmers and stock raisers. More than three thousand blue prints of farm buildings and equipment were distributed to farmers. Practical demonstrations covering nearly every branch of farming were carried on in nearly every section of the state, at least 800,000 bulletins were printed.

Each of the one hundred accomplishments listed tells of some one piece of work which has been carried out successfully during the last two years in education, experimentation, or extension work. The bulletin was first distributed during Organized Agriculture Week.

De Molay Stag Party Features Athletics

At a stag party in the Scottish Rite temple at Fifteenth and N streets, Tuesday evening, 125 members of Lincoln chapter, Order of De Molay, witnessed an athletic program directed by Ronald Button, master conciller.

An exhibition fencing match opened the program. H. A. Sargent, intercollegiate champion of France in 1920, and J. A. Cameron were the contestants, and Cline Finley refereed the match.

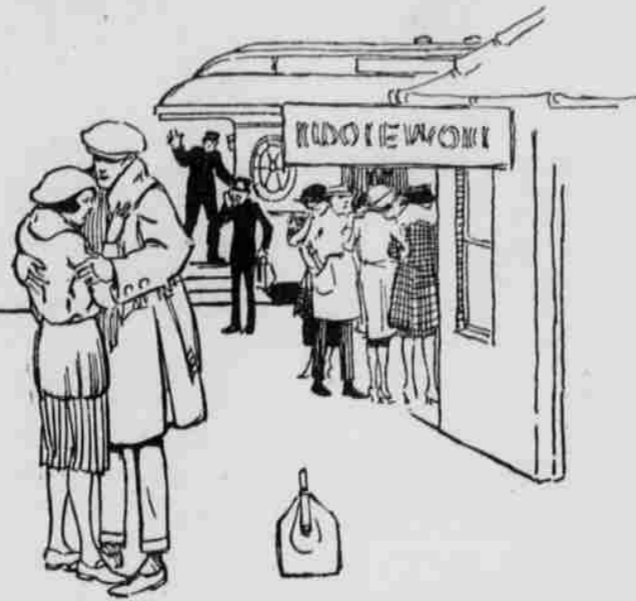

Wrestling matches between Captain Reed and Troutman of the University team, and between Donald Smith and Richard Blore, featherweights, were followed by a boxing exhibition staged by Harry Reed and Asa Hudkin. These bouts were refereed by O. B. Anderson of the city Y. M. C. A.

The De Molay Variety Show to be held January 29 and 30 at the Orpheum theater was outlined by Scribe Branson.

Music was furnished by the De Molay orchestra and quartet. After the program sandwiches, doughnuts and cider were provided by the committee.

Shining shoes to obtain money for gifts to needy families was the method employed by seniors at the University of Washington. Money amounting to $210 was cleared in one day.

The Romance of Youth

The crowds were wending their way to the railroad station in a college town. "Number five will soon be whistling in, Bill," said the small dark-eyed girl at her side. "Mary, it doesn't seem possible," he remarked. "That my college days are over—that you and I have to part now—you go home to your town while I have to make a start in the big city."

They both had little to say after this as they stood at the station waiting for the Limited to come in. As a whistle was heard in the distance Bill looked down at Mary and noticed that her eyes were filled with tears. You guessed it—she was his girl—good old chums of college days. Inseparable companions—and here he was headed away from her towards the Metropolis.

Well—it is the same old story. There is no use to tell it over again. It happens at every college—it is the romance of youth.

His pictures in the Cornhusker, which she will take with her to the little town from which she came, will be a source of great comfort, and her picture in that same year book will bring back memories to him of the days when he was at Nebraska U.

"Your" 1923 Cornhusker will also be a constant reminder of the good old days. It will come to you in your dark hours of discouragement as a ray of sunshine. It will enable you to live over again the days of romance—the days of adventure—the days that unfortunately will end all too soon.

"Your" 1923 Cornhusker will be a constant reminder of the good old days. The ideas that the staff has worked out are bound to make your year book of wonderful quality—an annual that should take its place as the very finest that was ever produced at Nebraska.

A skillful combination of illustrations, texts, beautiful borders, decorative division drawings, special features, wonderful photography, artistic engravings and fine printing will make "Your Cornhusker" a book that will be more than proud to take back home with you in June. And when you think of the price—merely the half of the price of an ordinary pair of shoes, you won't fail to order yours now.

Remember that the sales campaign ends tonight!

Nebraskans May Have Pictures for Annual Taken at Any Studio

Individual pictures for the 1923 Cornhusker may be those taken for the 1922 annual at Townsend's, or at any other photographer's. This announcement is contrary to a rumor that all individual pictures would have to be taken at Doie's, the official photographer for "Your Cornhusker." Students wishing to use some such special picture in the Cornhusker, may do so by getting a print and taking it to Doie's studio.

Senior girls are requested by the Cornhusker management to wear cap and gown.

Wallace's Injuries Are Not Dangerous

Painful injuries received by C. W. Wallace, former member of the University faculty, in an automobile accident in Wichita Falls, Texas, are not expected to prove serious, Lincoln friends of Mr. Wallace learned yesterday. Mr. Wallace, noted Shakespearean authority, who made a fortune estimated at over a million dollars, in the Texas oil fields, was hit by a fire truck while he was walking to his office in Wichita Falls.

A telegram was received yesterday by Mr. Wallace's Lincoln friends which read:

"Mr. Wallace painfully but not seriously hurt. Please let all our Lincoln friends know he seems better this morning. Head cut, wrist broken, and bruises no seem extent of injuries."

COMMITTEE.

"No study—no dates" is a rule for women being considered at the University of Illinois. It has been suggested that two D's or one E will take away the mid-week, and a D and an E or two E's will take away the weekend dates until the next six weeks' grades are reported.

CAMPAIGN FOR CORNHUSKER TO CLOSE TONIGHT

Kappa Kappa Gamma Leads the Sororities in Subscription Drive for Annual.

HARTLEY LEADS CONTEST

Voting for Seniors in Representative Section Is Heavy—Stidworthy Heads Women.

At the end of the third day of the Cornhusker subscription campaign Kappa Kappa Gamma still leads the sororities in the subscription campaign. Delta Delta Delta has captured second place, Delta Psi is third and Alpha Omicron Pi has forged into the fourth position. On the last day of the subscription campaign rivalry between the sororities is expected to be keen. The sorority winning the contest will receive a special page in this year's book.

Today Nebraska students will have their last chance to order a copy of the 1923 Annual. The management of the Cornhusker expects to redouble its forces and bring the last day of the subscription campaign to a whirlwind close.

Any campus organization that subscribes 100 per cent to the Cornhusker will receive a copy of the annual free. All subscription books must be checked in at the Cornhusker office in the basement of the Administration building before 5 o'clock this afternoon. The price of the annual is $4.50, of which $2.00 must be paid when the book is ordered, the remainder to be collected on delivery.

"Students should remember that this year's Cornhusker is going to be superior in every way to the Annuals of past years," declared Audley Sullivan, business manager yesterday. "The Cornhusker is the only annual of schools the size of Nebraska, that does not sell for $5.00 or more. Many college annuals inferior in every way sell for a higher price."

A subscription to the annual entitles the subscriber to vote for eight men and eight women whose pictures will appear in a representative section of the annual.

A heavy vote on the representative section of the 1923 "Your Cornhusker" was cast Wednesday. The results up to 6 o'clock were giving the leads to the following men and women, all popular in the school and active in the affairs of the University.

Women.
Margaret Stidworthy.
Dorothy Williams.
Mildred Hullinger.
Josephine Gund.
Adelheit Dettman.
Bernice Scoville.
Luelle Johnson.
Mary Best.
Hope Ross.
Belle Farman.

Men.
Harold Hartley.
James Fiddick.
Leo Scherer.
Chauncey Nelson.
Orvin Gaston.
Glen Warren.
J. Wilbur Wolfe.
Jack Austin.
Andrew Schoepfel.
Ray Stryker.

A full page will be given to each of these students and his picture and the activities in which he has been prominent will be given. The section is intended to take the place of the "beauty section" common to college annuals, but which are felt to be unfair to the people of worth in the school. Each student who subscribes to the Cornhusker is given the opportunity to vote for eight students to be given places in the section.

Miss Keyes was a sophomore at Nebraska University last year and is a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority. Mr. Schulz is pledged Phi Delta Theta and is a member of Iron Sphinx. The couple are spending their honeymoon in California and later will live in North Platte, Nebraska.

Now if Wojciechowski is assassinated, we'll know that a linotype operator did it.

Loss of Money by Delta Sigs Is Small

Most of the money that was thought to have been taken from the Delta Sigma Delta fraternity house has been recovered. One man who thought $15 was stolen from him found it later so that the total taken is about $4.50. The housemaid, Mrs. Eva Vanhoughtan, said that a man hit her on the head, knocking her senses her notified the police, and a search was made. She was unable to give a good description of the man.

SCHULTE IS SELECTED ON TRACK COMMITTEE

Nebraska Track Coach Honored by National Collegiate Athletic Association.

After defeating a proposed constitutional amendment designed to invade the field of general amateur athletic control, the national collegiate athletic association in annual sessions adopted a modified scheme which enlarged the organization's functions to include supervision of international and intercollegiate sports. Viewed by many members as a radical departure from its previous sphere of activity, the altered amendment to the constitution as finally adopted by a two to one vote provides for "the supervision of the regulation and conduct by its constituent members of intercollegiate sports in regional and national collegiate athletic contests, and the preservation of collegiate records."

Under the former constitution, the N. C. A. A. confined its objects to study and formulation of rules for college athletics, together with the promotion of measures recommended as to their best interests.

Brigadier General Palmer Pierce was reelected to his fifteenth term as president of the organization which he helped to found in 1905 and had headed since then with the exception of a short time he spent in the Philippine Islands. Dean S. W. Beyer of Iowa State College of Agriculture, was reelected vice president.

Representatives exercising supervision in nine districts throughout the country were chosen for 1923 as follows:

First district, C. W. Mendall, Yale; second, H. N. Tendall, Rutgers; third, H. C. Byrd, Maryland University; fourth, S. V. Sanford, Georgia University; fifth, Ralph W. Aigler, University of Michigan; sixth, M. C. Aheru, Kansas Aggies; seventh, E. D. Penick, Texas University; eighth, George C. Manley, Denver University; ninth, L. J. Aver, University of Washington.

E. K. Hall of Dartmouth was reappointed chairman of the football rules committee for 1923, with other members, including: Walter Camp of Yale, A. A. Stag of Chicago, M. F. Horn of Kansas Aggies, F. W. Moore of Harvard, W. W. Roper of Princeton, D. X. Bible of Texas A. and M., and Captain J. J. McEwan of West Point.

The track and field athletics committee for the coming year includes: Major L. G. C'rifith of Chicago, chairman; H. F. Echulte of Nebraska, H. W. Hughes of Colorado State, C. S. Edmondson of Washington State, Keene Fitzpatrick of Princeton, and Clyde Littleton of Texas University.—Nebraska State Journal.
