HEAVY SALES RECORDED IN ANNUAL DRIVE

Kappa Kappa Gamma Is High Among Organizations in Total Sales—Tri Deltas Second.

MANAGERS WELL PLEASED

Josephine Shramek Wins Individual Honors Selling $5 Books—Delta Psi in Third Place.

The Cornhusker management wishes to express their thanks to all those that helped to put the sales campaign for the 1923 Cornhusker over the top. All those who have not as yet checked in their books should do so at once.

The sales campaign of the 1923 Cornhusker ended last night with much greater success than was expected at the beginning of the campaign, over sixteen hundred subscriptions being secured. Opportunity for new students who will register next week to secure their copies of "Your Cornhusker" will be given next week. A booth will be kept open in the registration line for these late comers.

Following is an alphabetical list of the ten senior men and ten senior women who stood high in the voting for upperclassmen to appear in the representative section of the Year Book. Four men and four women will be chosen from this list and their names kept secret until the book is distributed.

Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority led in the number of subscriptions taken during the four-day drive and will receive recognition in the annual. Close following in the race were Delta Delta Delta and Delta Psi. The three Deltas did not start selling the year books until the third day of the campaign and are to be especially commended for their splendid showing.

Students who helped in the campaign but have neglected to turn in their books are urged to do so at the very earliest possible moment. The editors wish to check up on the campaign and find out the number of books as accurately as possible. The Cornhusker office in the basement of the Administration building will be kept open today for those who wish to check in to the business management. The staff in charge of the campaign wishes to thank those students who worked every day this week.

Voting in the booths in U hall and the College Book Store for senior representatives was exceptionally heavy, practically every subscriber taking opportunity to cast a ballot. The election was remarkably free from "campaigning" or any kind of irregularities.

Representative of Consolidated Press Association Here

H. R. Baukhage, a representative of the Consolidated Press Association, is in Lincoln on business in connection with the news service which they maintain. His headquarters are at Chicago.

While in France with the American Expeditionary Forces he worked on the "Stars and Stripes" and later covered the Peace Conference for the Consolidated News Service. He has the distinction of being one of the two privates who were present when President Wilson read his proposed League of Nations in Paris. Mr. Baukhage said that he got in on the virtue of being connected with the "Stars and Stripes" while the other private got in on the strength of the ability to engage the door keeper in an interesting conversation. Mr. Baukhage is a guest at the Delta Upsilon fraternity house while in the city.

Girls Rifle Team to Enter Contest

Louise Branstad, '25, shot a perfect score at the gallery in Nebraska hall Tuesday afternoon. She made fifty points by hitting the bull's eye ten times out of ten trials. Several girls have scored forty-nine points, including Miss Della Marie Clark of the Department of Physical Education, and Irma Kirk, a junior.

Captain Nix has received challenges from other schools which have girls' rifle teams, to enter a competitive meet by mail. Nebraska girls will probably enter this contest, when they have had more practice.

New sections in rifle-shooting will possibly be opened next semester in the addition to the ones now scheduled. A special section for advanced shooters will be organized, it is thought.

ILLINOIS SCHOOL HEAD TO ADDRESS TEACHERS COLLEGE CONVOCATION

Superintendent Blair of State Department of Education Will Make Address to Teachers.

Superintendent Blair of the State Department of Education of Illinois will speak at the Teachers College Convocation Friday morning at 11 o'clock. Mr. Blair is the best known and most capable state superintendent in the middle west in the estimation of Dean W. E. Sealock of the Teachers College.

All students and members of the faculty in the University and all who are interested in educational work are invited to hear Superintendent Blair. Dean Sealock does not know the subject of Mr. Blair's address but it will probably be on the present day problems of education. The Dean says that he should like to have the superintendent speak on student education or a subject closely related to it.

National Director Banquet Guest of Local Credit Men

W. W. Maisch, of Des Moines, Ia., director of the Eighth district of the national association, was the guest of honor and main speaker at a banquet of Lincoln credit men at the Chamber of Commerce, Wednesday night. The wholesale credit men entertained the retail credit men's association.

Mr. Maisch told the credit men the proper course for them to take to remedy existing evils is to secure adequate legislation. He spoke on the organization, aims and plans of the national organization of credit men, and outlined the national board meeting held at Atlantic City last September.

FLOATING SCHOOL WANTS WOMEN FROM NEBRASKA

Dean Sealock of Teachers' College Receives Request from Baltimore, Maryland.

TRIP TO LAST ONE YEAR

School Will Include Three or Four Hundred High School Boys—Stop at All Ports.

Down in Baltimore, Maryland, Zebulen Judd, a classmate of Dean W. E. Sealock of the Teachers College, is organizing a floating school that will tour of the world for ten or eleven months, carrying three or four hundred high school boys. The corps of teachers for the school is now being selected from points all over the United States and Dean Sealock has been asked to send two men who are exceptionally well trained, having strong and pleasing personalities.

The floating school has attracted nationwide attention, being the first of the kind that has been attempted. It is called the Candler Floating School. The steamship Candler will leave Baltimore some time next September with the boys and twenty-five or thirty teachers on board.

Prior to accepting the position as Director of the School Mr. Judd was the director of vocational education in the Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn.

The purpose of the trip is to acquaint the boys with the principal ports in all parts of the world. A short stay will be made and school conducted, using the natural resources of the world for a text. The first stop will be made at England. Then the boys will go to Gibraltar, Naples, Venice, Athens, Fort Angeles and certain points along the west coast of South America.

This trip when ended will have included most of the world. Places of interest throughout the eastern and western hemisphere will have been visited and the high school boys will have gained a comprehensive view of the entire world.

Mr. Judd is a personal friend of Dean Sealock, having gone to school with him at Columbia. There are but twenty-five or thirty men in the United States who will be asked to go as instructors and they are being picked with extreme care. One or possibly two men may be selected from this part of the country as capable of filling the position.

UNIVERSITY PASTORS AT CHICAGO MEETING

Nebraska Represented by Five Student Pastors—Conference Closes To-night.

W. H. Riley, Congregational student pastor, spoke before a conference of church workers at the Edge water Beach hotel, Chicago, Wednesday. Mr. Riley addressed the Congregational delegates of the convention on the subject of "The Student in the University." Four other university pastors attended the conference, D. R. Leland, H. F. Huntington, R. S. McMillan and J. W. Hilton. They are expected back Saturday.

The conference extends over four days, January 9 to 11. The Tuesday session was short, being mainly for the purpose of getting acquainted. Wednesday morning was taken up with the general session of the conference. Several speeches were made by prominent religious workers in the United States. The afternoon was occupied by denominational conferences and group conferences. Wednesday evening denominational questions were discussed by all delegates.

A general survey of the types of organization took up the general session on Thursday morning. Speakers from seven colleges explained the systems in their schools. Discussions and personal interviews followed these talks. Books of interest to church workers were reviewed immediately following luncheon. The afternoon and evening programs were the same as that of Wednesday. The session today will be taken up with a business meeting, the election of officers, the appointing of a meeting place and the reports of committees.

Ivan Glavdonovic was sentenced to four and one-half years in Leavenworth in the district court at San Francisco when he pleaded guilty to participation in a conspiracy to pass more than $500,000 in spurious bank notes of England notes in America.

LAST ISSUE TODAY.

Today's issue of the Nebraskan completes the publication for the first semester. The term of the present staff expires this week, and elections for the second semester staff will be held within the next few days.

The first issue of the second semester will be published Tuesday morning, January 3. The student Publication Board will determine the new staff at the next meeting. The positions of editor, managing editor, associate editor, and three night editors, as well as those of business manager, assistant, and circulation manager are to be filled.

One semester subscriptions to the Nebraskan may be renewed during the subscription campaign which will be conducted January 18 to 4.

MISS HULLINGER WILL GO FROM NEBRASKA TO NATIONAL MEETING

Miss Valora Hullinger Goes to Swathmore, Pa., for National Convention of Mortarboard.

Miss Valora Hullinger has been elected delegate from Black Masque chapter of Mortar Board to the national convention to be held at Swarthmore College, Swarthmore, Penn., February 2 to 4. Miss Hullinger is president of the local chapter.

This is the second convention of Mortar Board at which Nebraska has been represented. The senior girls' honorary organization of Black Masque, founded in 1905, was granted a chapter by the national organization in the spring of 1921 and became the Black Masque chapter of Mortar Board. Mrs. Raymond Westover (Ada Stidworthy) represented Nebraska at the Mortar Board convention at the University of Ohio, that year. Mrs. Westover is national vice president of Mortar Board. She attended a meeting of national officers at Northwestern University last summer where plans for the convention were made. She is planning on attending the national convention in February.

The Nebraska delegates will arrange to meet a number of delegates from western colleges at Chicago and continue the journey east with the party. Delegates from chapters in all parts of the United States will attend the convention. Mortar Board chapters are located only in colleges of the first rank.

Lieut. Panda B. Johnson was instantly killed when his plane collided with another piloted by Sergeant D. G. Warner at Kelly field.

William H. Mather, 5, for twenty-five years telegraph editor of the Chicago Tribune, died yesterday, after a short illness.

Some Advanced Ideas on Modern Dress are Offered Uni Students

One of the greatest problems which confront the up-to-date people of the day is the problem of dress. This is especially true among college men and women. Yes—men as well as women. No one will ever know what troubles a college man has, when he begins to think about dress.

It may not be generally known, but nevertheless, the University of Nebraska has clothing specialists and they reside out at the Agricultural College. This College puts out a weekly paper, published by the Agricultural Extension Service called the Agricultural College Extension Notes. These notes are exceptionally valuable because they contain such absolutely necessary information.

In the editions published Wednesday, December 27, and Wednesday, January 3, there was most interesting information regarding dress. The one was labeled, "Effect of Color in Dress," the other, "Effect of Lines in Dress."

In regard to the first it was stated that "warm colors such as yellow, red, orange are advancing colors and appear to increase one's size." Very slender men will, no doubt, take advantage of this new "vogue," and wear them in cold weather in order to keep warm. "Cool colors such as green, blue, and blue-purple are retreating colors and seem to decrease one's size." It is said that it is advantageous for some college women to adopt these colors in hosiery. "White appears to increase the size

DRIVE STARTS NEXT TUESDAY FOR NEBRASKAN

Subscription Drive Will Continue from Tuesday Until Wednesday of Next Week.

C. W. A. KINSEY IN CHARGE

Free Service to Organization Will Continue Second Semester—Price Is $1.25.

The second semester subscription campaign for the Daily Nebraskan will start Thursday of next week and continue until Wednesday the following week. About eight hundred subscriptions will expire at the end of this semester. The students holding these subscriptions will be given the opportunity to re-subscribe during the campaign.

The subscription price of the Nebraskan is $1.25 a semester. The paper will be sent to the home of the subscriber for the same price. The plan of allowing students to subscribe to the Nebraskan and have it sent home was adopted at the beginning of this semester. Many students have adopted it as a way of keeping their parents informed of the activities of the University.

The free subscription service to campus organizations will be continued next semester by the circulation staff. Any fraternity or sorority having twenty-five or more subscribers may have the Nebraskan delivered free before breakfast every morning.

The members of the Delian and Palladian Literary societies will sell Nebraskan subscriptions on the campus. Subscriptions may also be handed in at the Nebraskan office in the basement of the Administration building.

The circulation of the Nebraskan this last semester is the largest in the history of the school.

"We expect that the subscription list for the second semester will be just as large or larger than that of the first," declared Chauncey Kinsey, business manager, yesterday, "the Nebraskan has evoked quite a bit of favorable comment and has created a lot of interest."

Osage Indians In Tribal Costumes Call on Harding

Principal Chief Paul Red Eagle, accompanied by Indian Commissioner Burks and a delegation composing the sage tribal council, together with tribesmen and squaws paid their respects to the great white father at the white house Wednesday.

At least half of the delegation was composed of squaws in var-colored tribal blankets and there were several Osage "flappers" in the more modern styles of Broadway, bobbed hair and all.—The Lincoln Star.

John Schaeffer, 70, was found guilty last night by a jury at Harlan, Ia., of slaying Matt Herbst, blacksmith of Panama, Ia.

REGISTRATION CLOSES FOR REGULAR FIRST SEMESTER STUDENTS

Registration Figures Are Nearly Equal Those of First Semester.

Registration for the second semester closed yesterday at 5 for regular first semester students. A last-minute rush completed the work for most of the colleges. The College of Arts and Sciences showed the greatest increase. Two hundred sixty students registered yesterday in Dean Candy's office, bringing the total to 1202. The School of Fine Arts total, 230, makes this number 1432, of approximately 1,500 registered last semester. The figure for the Fine Arts school is larger than that of last semester.

Almost six hundred had finished the routine in the Teachers' College last night. There are about eight hundred in the college.

About 125 Bizads went through Dean LeRoussignol's office yesterday, bringing the number registered to 725 of last semester's 800.

About 450 or 460 of the 550 engineers registered in that college last semester, had gone through Dean Ferguson's office by 5 o'clock yesterday.

Agricultural students were nearly all registered. About 460 of the 458 listed last semester have turned in slips to Dean Burnet's office.

Virtually all law, dental and pharmacy students were registered several days ago. No figures are available from the Graduate College Dean Sherman said, because graduate students are not strictly required to register within the time limit set on undergraduates.

Near 3700 students have registered in the University so far, it was estimated, with the preceding figures as a basis. This number is considerably below the first semester count, so that it seems probable that a number of students will have to pay the fee for late registration.

New students, and former students who did not attend the University last semester, are to perfect their programs during examination week. Examinations begin Saturday and will run to Friday of next week. On the following Monday, second semester classes will meet.

The University of the City of Toledo is in favor of indoor work for its track team. The men are divided into three different classes: Sprinters 100 yards, 220 yards, 440 yards; distance men, high jumpers, pole vaulters, and weight men. They practice on different days so that candidates will receive individual attention.

"Tragedy of the Future," a play to be presented in the Temple theatre by the University Players, admission 15 cents, is one of many big events at the Carnival Saturday night. There will be ticket booths, in the Armory, Social Science, and Temple buildings. The carnival starts at 7 o'clock. All stunts are to be five cents and the concessions are to be five and ten cents. Boxes of candy will be presented at the roulette wheel, the duck pond, the shooting gallery, and the horse races. Some prizes are to be given away at the fish pond.

No one could look over the list of toothsome dainties and remain away from the carnival. Where but a carnival could the "intelligentsia" of the college deign to munch the lowly popcorn and the humble peanut? Kappa Kappa Gamma is to put the punch in the festival with its concession in the Armory. The ever-present and ever-popular hamburger will not blush unseemly, nor waste its fragrance on the desert air.

Many Stunts.

What the college girls' plea is, none will know until Saturday, but it offers many possibilities. A combination of Oriental mysticism and occidental Valentinoism will be portrayed by the "Shiek's Cabaret," Romeo (himself) and Juliet (herself) are to be present (in person.)

The proceeds of the carnival are to be given to the fund for destitute European students. Some four hundred students have been working on the carnival, and are determined to make it the most successful ever.

Two thousand rolls of confetti, two thousand, count 'em, are to be distributed at the doors of the two dance floors. Confetti add infinitum, is to be supplied. Balloons and squawkers are to supply the real carnival air to the occasion. The two dance floors will be the scene of merriment all during the evening. The Louisiana Ragadors and Jimmy Schuyler's orchestra will supply the syncope.

O'Malley Is Only Democrat in House To Head Committee

Representative George W. O'Malley of Greeley, holds the distinction of being the only democrat in the house to be elected chairman of a standing committee. He was elected unanimously this afternoon at the first meeting of the insurance committee. Several republican members of this committee have already been taken care of with chairmanships of other committees.—The Lincoln Star.

Impeachment proceedings against Governor Len Small, the lieutenant governor and state auditor may be started in the Illinois house, according to Representative Michael Igoe, democrat.
