PAN-HELLENIC FORMAL TICKETS GO ON SALE AT FRATERNITIES

Less Than Two Weeks Left Until The Big Formal Party of the Greek World at the Auditorium in Charge of Members of Kosmet Klub.

FRATERNITIES ARE REPRESENTED IN DECORATIONS

Houses Which Take Allotment to Have Electric Emblems and Frat Colors Worked Into Decoration Scheme—Money for Tickets Due by Saturday Night.

Pan-Hellenic dance, the big social event of the year in the Greek world, is only two weeks away. Fraternities have responded immediately to the plans of Kosmet Klub, under whose auspices the dance is to be given at the Auditorium, February 23.

Nine tickets have been allotted to each men's Greek organization and over a half dozen have reached their quotas and become eligible to have their fraternity emblem used in the elaborate decoration scheme planned. Each fraternity that is represented by nine or more men will have an electric sign of the crest and their fraternity colors used in decorations, according to announcement of the decoration committee.

As the ticket sale is being limited to two hundred and fifty couples, the Kosmet Klub is making Saturday, February 17, the "dead line" for all money for tickets to be in the hands of the club members. This is considered necessary so that fraternities which want more than their allotted number may take up any extra tickets at other houses.

Alumni to Come.
Kosmet alumni from Omaha, Fremont and several other Nebraska towns are expected to be in Lincoln for Pan-Hel. They will be given an opportunity to hear one of two of the songs which will be featured in the Kosmet musical show at the Orpheum later in the year. These songs were written by C. L. Coombs, author of the play.

Refreshments, programs, entertainment by University talent, a ten piece orchestra, and other features have been combined to make the formal up to the standard of Pan-Hellenic parties of pre-war days. One representative from Kosmet Klub is visiting each fraternity house to give each house an equal opportunity to secure the quota allotted.

The purpose for which Pan-Hel has been revived this year, according to members of Kosmet, is to bring the Greek letter organizations together in a social way, to create a greater spirit of friendliness and co-operation, and to bring them into harmony in boosting Nebraska activities.

Plans for Play.
At a meeting of Kosmet Klub held in the Daily Nebraskan office Friday, plans for tryouts for, "The Yellow Lantern," the 1923 play, were discussed and additional plans for the formal were announced.

No definite date has as yet been set for the tryouts, but indications point to the latter part of February or the first week in March as the probable time. All students in the University will be eligible for parts in the cast and chorus of the annual show.

On account of the fact that the Orpheum theatre has changed management and a new policy is in effect, the club has been able to change the date of the play from Monday night to Saturday night of the fourth week in April. It is expected that this will give more students an opportunity to see the play.

Committees for the play, including tryout committee and those in charge of the business end of the production will be announced by the president within a short time. A new plan of ticket sales will be followed this year.

ENGLISH WOMAN TO SPEAK HERE

Famous Foreign Worker to Make Address at St. Paul's Church Under Auspices of the Y. W. C. A.

GRADUATED FROM OXFORD

Worked in Slums of Liverpool for Year—Daughter of Sir Thomas Royden—Spoke in English Churches.

Maude Royden, famous English woman preacher, will be in Lincoln February 22, according to the Y. W. C. A. Miss Royden will speak at St. Paul's church Thursday evening, February 22, under the auspices of the association. February 23 Miss Royden will go to Omaha to speak. Lincoln women who heard Miss Royden at the international W. C. T. U. convention brought home glowing reports of her charm and her message.

As founder of the New Fellowship Services in London, Miss Royden, on this, her third tour of America, is scheduled to address more than one hundred thousand people, and has been unable to accept more than one-tenth of the engagements offered.

A lecturer at Oxford University, a non-militant suffragist, the first woman to occupy a great city pulpit, Miss Royden has had a romantic career. She is a daughter of the late Sir Thomas Royden, M. P., Lord Mayor of Liverpool, and chairman of the Cunard Line, a high churchman and a Tory. She studied at Cheltenham Ladies' College and Lady Margaret Hall, Oxford, but was denied a degree because of her sex, although she stood at the head of her class in the School of Modern History. Leaving college she went directly to the slums of Liverpool to work as a member of the University Settlement, but was forced to lay aside this work after a year because of poor health.

The Rev. W. Hudson Shay, Episcopal minister and Oxford lecturer, who was responsible for her appointments at Oxford and for securing her permission to preach at St. Botolph's church, Bishopsgate, in spite of the disapproval of an Episcopal bishop, writes, "There is no woman living in England today who is exercising profounder influence upon her generation, especially the

FORGOTTEN VOLUME FOUND IN OLD DESK

Book Used for Recording Essays Lost for Thirty-Five Years.

A leather-covered volume containing records forgotten for thirty-five years was discovered last week in an old typewriter desk by Philip J. Harrison, who has charge of repair work and distribution of furnishings. Mr. Harrison found the book in an examining desk, which has been in constant use.

The book is in fine condition, the pages being as firmly stitched as the new, and the leather binding showing the minimum of wear. On the back in gilt letters are the words: "Record Essays and Rhetoricals, Volume 1, University of Nebraska," and below, "State Journal, Manufacturer, Lincoln, Neb."

The record begins with the class of 1888, giving the percentage of excellence accorded students for freshmen, sophomore and junior essays, and senior orations. After 1899 no senior or sophomore entries are made. The entries after 1894 are scattered and cease entirely after 1896.

Chancellor Avery came to Lincoln in 1894, when entries in the book were few. He has a slight recollection of an early policy at the university of requiring freshmen to prepare essays for which no university credit was allowed. The books seem to have been a departmental, instead of a university record which would have been placed as a matter of course with records in the registrar's office.

Among the early students whose essays were graded in 1888 were Roscoe Pound, O. V. P. Stout, Jared Smith (now in Honolulu), George Hippe Rogers and C. S. Longier of Shanghai. In the 1889 lists appears the name of T. S. Allen. In 1890 among the essay writers were Miss Edna Bullock, Tom L. Hall, Gertrude H. Laws (Mrs. W. E. Hardy), and Frank H. Woods. E. P. Brown was credited with essay writing in 1891, at the same time as J. W. McCrosky. The 1892 lists included the names of Louise Pound, Floyd Seybolt, F. A. Stuff, May Freshing and Olive Latta.

In looking over the marks attained by men who have risen to distinction in the business world, it is noted that the opinion of their essay writing in early days was usually not high. A grade of 60 was quite common.

Omaha Club to Elect Leaders for Semester

Omaha Club will elect officers Thursday, February 15, at its monthly dinner in the dining room of the Grand Hotel. The entertainment committee is working up a program which will be announced later. Tickets for the banquet go on sale next Monday morning at the College Book Store and at the Grand Hotel. They may also be secured from Frank Fry, Mildred Othmer, Crawford Follmer, Gladys Mickle and Arvilla Johnson.

Silver Serpent Gives Luncheon for Girls

A luncheon for all junior girls of the University was given Saturday noon at 1 o'clock by the members of Silver Serpent, junior girls honorary society at Ellen Smith hall. Sixty girls were present.

Dancing occupied the afternoon, for which music was furnished by "Slick" Merriam at the piano.

ALL-UNI VALENTINE PARTY BIG SUCCESS

Skits, Dancing and Music Take Up Evening in Last Dance of the Year.

The Valentine motif was stressed in the decorations and refreshments at the last All-University party of the year, held Saturday evening in the Armory. Music for the dancing was furnished by the Merrymakers Orchestra.

The headliner of the program was a skit on the song "I've Lost a Girl for Each Month of the Year." Beatrice Eno played the part of the unfortunate young man, and the months of the year were Marjorie Stangland, Sara Surber, Norma Carpenter, Alberta Van Kleeck, Josephine Bishop, Clara Davis, Marie Snavelly, Helen Hunt, Ruth Schwarz, Marjorie Martin, and Marie Walker.

Margaret Daly played the piano accompaniment.

Popcorn balls were served by the committee during the dancing.

SOONERS WIN GAME FROM HUSKER TEAM

Oklahoma Gets First Conference Game at Expense of Nebraska.

Winning her first game of the season, Oklahoma defeated the Husker quintet on the Norman floor, 31 to 25 Friday night. After losing the first seven conference games the Sooners found their winning stride and rapped Nebraska for their initial victory of the year.

The Scarlet and Cream squad traveled to the oil state as victors in a previous encounter with the Sooners but were taken in from the opening minutes of the game by a display of fast floor work. Oklahoma led throughout the fray never being in danger of losing the lead at any time.

Not until the closing minutes of the final frame did the Nebraska offense threaten to injure the Sooner lead. Usher, midget forward, started with a brand of brilliant basket shooting that netted half a dozen field goals and challenged the outcome of the game.

The Nebraska rally came too late and did nothing more than balance up the otherwise lopsided score. The Sooner center, Johnson, was star of the game with eight field goals from the court to his credit.

The members of the faculty may purchase tickets at any time in the afternoon from 2 until 5 p. m. The University Night Committee have been holding regular meetings and plans are laid for one of the finest and snappiest programs that has ever been offered in a production of this kind.

The Evening Shun will be the headliner of the program as in previous years and the members of Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalistic fraternity, will sell the University scandal sheet in the lobby of the theatre following the show. The price will be the same as in other years, five cents per copy. Students and everyone attending are requested to bring their small change for the purchase of the paper as the rush is always so great that it is almost impossible to make change. Extra papers will be given in place of change where ever it is possible.

Accompanying the representatives of the foreign youth movement are John Rothchild and Jasper King. Mr. Rothchild is the executive secretary of the National Student Forum.

The following schedule lists only the open meetings for the general student body:

Tuesday.

These three students are young and human say those who have met them even if they may seem strange and foreign at first. They are just neighbors, when that word implies having something in common, and that common bond is the thing which makes students the world over, according to students where they have spoken.

Liberal Education is Theme for Editorial Winning Second Prize

The article which won the second prize in the editorial contest of Phi Delta Epsilon for 1922, is printed herewith. The conditions of this year's contest may be obtained at the office of the Daily Nebraskan, and have been published in previous issues.

The Practical Values of a Cultural Education.
By SHELBY H. ATCHLEY,
Freshman, University of Idaho.

Today every walk of life demands college bred men as never before. The problems of society—economic, industrial, and political—demand that our citizenship shall be liberally educated; that the constituency of every profession shall have that training which is necessary for common understanding and concerted action.

Liberal education means not only intelligent and concerted action but high standards of living. It means a true appreciation of realities. Lincoln was an educated man despite the fact that he was not college bred.

"Evening Shun" Material Must Be Placed in Box by 5 P. M. Monday

The deadline for material for the "Evening Shun" has been set for 5 o'clock Monday. Get busy and write up that dope on your friend or enemy, which ever it may be. The "Shun" is slighting no one this year. The editors have been working steadily the past few days and already have a large amount of "news" ready for publication.

The box is in the Library entrance and any student contributions will be welcomed by the editors. Sigma Delta Chi does not want to limit this to students alone but the members of the faculty can help out the editors by adding a little news to the "Shun" box.

With the new rule regarding the censorship of the little "yellow" paper in effect, the members of the fraternity are straining every source to get the best scandal that can be had for the headliner of the program for University Night.

"The students are expecting an exceptionally good paper this year and they are not to be disappointed in any way, in fact I think that some of them will think it a little too hot," were the words of Harlan Boyer, president of the fraternity yesterday when interviewed regarding the "Evening Shun."

A close tab of the ballots cast for a "censored" or "uncensored" paper was made yesterday and the final count was 581 against censorship and 8 for it. This goes to prove that the students want the truth and that is what the editors expect to give them. Nothing that is vulgar in anyway is being considered for this year's publication.
