

TEN DISTRICTS SEND IN DEBATE REPORTS

Sixteenth Annual Contest Well Under Way in All Parts of the State.

(University Publicity Office)
In the sixteenth annual contest of the Nebraska High School Debating League of ninety members, reports of ten districts debates have been received at the office of the president, Prof. M. M. Fogg, of the University of Nebraska. In the East-Central District, University Place—district champion in 1922—and Havelock are leading; in the Northwestern District Bridgeport and Sidney have won; in the Northeastern District Beatrice—champion in 1922 and state champion in 1920—has scored two victories and Auburn one; and in the Southwestern District verdicts have gone to Oxford and Nebraska School of Agriculture at Curtis.

Summaries of these ten contests on the proposition thatt Nebraska should adopt the Kansas industrial court system follow:

East-Central District

Northwestern District
Supt. W. R. Pate, Alliance, Director.

Minatare—(Neil Houck, Delmar Brown, Verna McElwee, Ida Harshman). Bridgeport—(Lola Hayden, Sarah McWilliams, Virginia Eubanks, Virginia Acton). At Minatare, January 25. Won by Bridgeport, unanimous. Judges: Principal N. L. Tyson, Scottsbluff, Co. Attorney Wm. Heiss, Jr., Gering; Supt. Howard Smith, Bayard. Presiding, Rev. Frank Coats.

Southeastern District
Principal Julius Gilbert, Beatrice, Director.

Auburn—(Isabelle Snyder, Margaret Gillan, John McKnight, Marie Nelson). Beatrice—(Richard Farlow, Maurice Havelone, Wayne Waddell). At Auburn, February 6. Won by Beatrice, unanimous. Judges: Prof. W. L. Ruyle, Wesleyan University; Prof. J. Duncan, Cotner College. Presiding, C. E. Jones, Beatrice.

Auburn—Fairbury (Helen Cox, Lowell Schroeder, Mary Dawson). At Auburn, Feb. 15. Won by Auburn. Judge: Prof. J. L. Eason, State Teachers College, Peru. Presiding, Emma Overaag, Auburn High School.

Southwestern District
Supt. J. C. Mitchell, Holdrege, Director.

Cambridge—(Dean E. Hammond, Margaret A. Daly, Paul L. Dick). Oxford (Mary MacPrang, Lena Halley, William Ivey; Bula Houghtaling). At Cambridge, February 2. Won by Oxford. Judge: eDan F. E. Weyer, Hastings College. Presiding, Harold E. Day, Cambridge.

Holdrege—(Ruth Palmer, Carl Brown, Paul Copeland). Minden—(Irene Sundeen, Everett Hansen, Carl Curtis; Luella Linson). At Minden, Feb. 5. No decision. Presiding, Supt. Mr. C. Bloss, Minden.

Nebraska School of Agriculture—(Arvell Beery, Lela Adams, Alva Blackstone). McCook—(Evelyn McClure, Fern Harabaugh, Hazel Shepherd, Allan Boughton). At Curtis, February 9. Won by Nebraska School of Agriculture. Judge: County Attorney Fred J. Schroeder, Curtis. Presiding, Supt. C. K. Morse, Nebraska School of Agriculture.

Berkley, Cal., Feb. 17.—Facing a class of both sexes, Prof. G. L. Montgomery of the English department, declared today that there are 7,000 students in the University of California, who should be attached to the handle of a pick or a frying pan.

Seventy per cent of the university's 10,000 students, he said, are more interested in dancing than in pursuing the subtiles of Shakespeare and Chaucer.

"They are out for a good time and the education is merely incidental," said the professor, who advocated raising scholarship standards so that a sheepskin could be won only by the hardest work. This he said, would keep out "triflers."—Lincoln Star.

Iowa Gets "College Night"

A men's "Vod-Vil" will be given here March 3. All women parts will be acted by men and the show is planned as a regular revue.

Blonde Returns to Bid Farewell to Campus

The blonde girl, who went home presumably sick and who had previously been identified as the robber of various fraternity houses, is visiting on the campus this week. After a ten-day recuperation, she decided to return for a week-end visit. She called at the office of the Daily Nebraskan today and thanked the reporter, who had shielded her and asked that her name be withheld. It would be hard to identify her as the same girl who left here a short time ago. Her elaborate blonde tresses have been bobbed and her rather extreme modes of dress have been modified.

She seems to have become more quiet in her speech and mannerisms. While in the city, she will attend a party with the young man in the story. She stated positively that she would not attend the University Night performance. She fears lest some jest be made concerning her recent escapade. When asked if she would return to school next semester, she said that she thought not, but that she intended goig east to some girls' school.

She denied absolutely that she would become engaged to the young man. When the reporter looked startled, she qualified her statement by saying, "Well, not till he is through Law School, anyway."

Fair Maiden Calls Weekly to Learn Party Schedule

"What parties are scheduled for this week end?" This is the inquiry of some sweet voiced feminine received almost every Thursday at the office of the Daily Nebraskan.

In response, the long-suffering reporter finds a copy of the Thursday Nebraskan and reads to the curious one the list of parties as printed in the Calendar.

"Thank you," she answers, and closes the conversation by placing the receiver, at her end of the line, on its hook.

Has she never learned to read? Is she too poor to subscribe, too proud to pick a "Rag," and not enough of a parasite to borrow a copy? Or, does she attend the University? Perhaps she fears that all the parties have not been listed, or that some error must have been made, since her "friend" tells her he is going to a party that the calendar does not mention.

More likely, several students think, she is a town girl who wants to find out which parties she can "horn in" on.

All Freshmen at West Virginia University must be actively participating in some recognized college activity within two weeks after school begins or explain to the Student Council some logical reason for not doing so.—Greenell Scarlet Blade.

Tickets on Sale for Maude Royden's Talk

Tickets for the speech of Miss Maude Royden who will be here February 22 are on sale at the city Y. W. C. A. University students may secure tickets from Miss Erma Appleby who has charge of the University allotment. The price is fifty cents, including war tax.

Miss Royden's lecture, the subject of which is "Can We Set the World in Order," will be given at St. Paul's Church on Twelfth and M streets. Seats will not be reserved.

Miss Royden has asked that no arrangements be made for her entertainment during her visit in Lincoln. Her lecture will therefore be the only opportunity for towns people and students to meet her. Y. W. C. A. officials, under whose auspices Miss Royden is coming, predict a splendid speech, and announce the demand for tickets is large.
