

THE DAILY NEBRASKAN

VOL. XXII—NO. 141.

LINCOLN, NEBRASKA, FRIDAY, MAY 4, 1923.

FIFTH ANNUAL FARMERS' FAIR TOMORROW

PARADE WILL BE HELD DOWNTOWN AT 12 SATURDAY

University Band and Famous Hick Musical Talent Will Furnish Music for Marchers.

CLOWNS WILL PERFORM

Many Beautiful Floats Being Built—Goddess of Agriculture Will Be Revealed.

Yip, yip, ki yi. Comedies, clowns and everything. Led by the two best bands in the state, the University band and the notorious Hick band, the Farmers' Parade will pass down O street at the noon hour on Saturday. Small boys have already made their reservations on lamp posts, but the older people will have to fight for standing room along the street.

The floats will assemble on the Ag. College quadrangle in the morning and leave the campus at 10:30 a.m. After leaving the campus the route will be as follows: From Holdrege street down 33rd to R street; from 33rd down to 3 to 26th, from R down 26th to O, down O street to 10th, north on 10th to R street, out R to 33rd and back to the campus.

The floats are of various types and designs. The most beautiful and important one will be that of the Goddess of Agriculture—a senior girl in the Ag. College, elected by secret ballot by the girls of the college. The result of the election is not made public until the morning of the fair. As a result there is much interest and speculation displayed as to who is to receive the honor.

Each department will have a representative showing some phase of work within the department. Striking contrasts between right and wrong methods of farming will be displayed. The Dairy Department will show the value of milk and its products. Animal Pathology and Agriculture Education will show the progress that is being made in the state. Home Economics will show the latest methods carried on in the department. Each club will show the why and wherefore of its existence. Enterprising students who are proud of the name "College of Agriculture" will show what has happened to the term "State Farm." Mingling with the serious floats will be comedies, clowns and all that goes with them.

Members of Kosmet Klub Advertise Show in Omaha Wednesday

Members of the Kosmet Klub spent Wednesday in Omaha advertising "The Yellow Lantern," Kosmet Klub musical production which will be presented at the Brandeis theater next Monday. The party included Frances Diers, James Marshall, Dwight Merriam, Dietrich Dirks, Orville Andrews, Oliver Maxwell, Kenneth Cozier, and Ray Stryker. Programs were presented at the Central High School, Brownell Hall, Omaha University, University of Nebraska Medical College, Creighton University, and Technical High School.

Bronch Twisters to Have Turn at Wild Horses on Saturday

Hold 'er Newt—she's headin' for the barn! Sunfishin' bronchos will do their best to make their cowboys pull leather. All comers are invited to try their luck on "Fire Eater" and "Young Woman Red," two bad ones, never been ridden. Long-horned Texas range steers for the steer-riding contest and bull-dogging will need good men to master them. There is no entrance fee for the bucking contest and all the cowboys from the wild and wooly are mighty welcome. See the Guide Book for a list of the prizes.

Fancy roping and trick riding will be added features for excitement. A crowd-gathering stunt will be the performance of the pure-bred Arabian stallion "Sheban" belonging to Professor Taylor. "Sheban" is a high-school educated horse.

Guide Book Will Be Furnished Visitors at Annual Ag Fair

For fear that some one may become bewildered and completely lost among the bustle and clamor of the great fair, "Hobb" Turner has compiled a Guide Book. In this will be a list of the seniors of the College of Agriculture, the cast of the pageant players, the location, time, and a brief explanation of each of the events which will take place.

Get one when you first step on the campus; you'll need it. Read it—follow its directions. Heed the signs that will appear everywhere. Listen to the barkers. Keep moving. Watch your step; don't stop the traffic or the cops will give you a boost.

THINGS TO REMEMBER TOMORROW
To be on O street at noon.
To visit Ag Campus all afternoon and evening.
To get a Guide Book—You'll need it.
To listen to the barkers if you can't read the Guide Book.
To read all signs.
To follow the crowd.
To tell the cat when you leave you won't be home till mornin'.

PLENTY OF DANCING AT FARMERS' FAIR

Coliseum Floor Has Been Laid on Campus and Covered for Fox-Trotters.

Dancing for all will be a big feature of entertainment during the Farmers' Fair tomorrow. A matinee dance will be held, but the ones during the evening will be the big affairs. Machinery Hall in the Ag. Engineering building will be used the same as in previous years. But the huge tent covered pavilion will attract the largest crowds.

The floor of this pavilion is the one from the Coliseum at the State Fair Grounds. Several University mixers have been held on it as well as Varsity basketball games. It is naturally a good floor, well arranged and constructed. The Ags. have it polished like a looking glass and well protected by the large tent. The dreamy waltzes and fox-trot syncopations furnished by Watson's and Belshaw's orchestra, polished and roomy floors, and the general atmosphere of a big celebration and good time will make everyone enjoy things till the last chord dies in the distance.

The Ags. have done much to properly entertain their visitors and now they only await the coming of May 5 to demonstrate how to run a real dance.

Honorary Sorority to Hold Convention at Lincoln in May

Beta chapter of Kappa Epsilon, honorary pharmaceutical sorority will entertain delegates from Minnesota, Iowa, and Montana, at the national convention to be held here May 4 and 5.

Miss Verle Bryan, University of Minnesota, grand president; Naomi Kenifick, University of Iowa, grand secretary; Maude Wieland, University of Iowa, grand treasurer; are many of the delegates to be present Friday morning.

Notables from Omaha to Visit Farmers' Fair

Several distinguished men from Omaha, including some of the Board of Regents, will be guests of Dean Burnett during the Fair. They will be entertained at luncheon at the Ag. College Cafeteria at noon.

Many other out of town people will attend, some of whom will drive in. About two hundred high school students who are here for the livestock judging contest today will remain for the fair tomorrow.

MANY EXHIBITS ON DISPLAY AT FARMERS' FAIR

Soils and Crops Sections of the Agronomy Department Will Tell Why Corn Pops.

DISPLAY A MODEL FARM

Dairy Department Will Have Mechanical Cow for Inspection of All Visitors.

The Farmers' Fair given annually by the students of the Agricultural College serves the two-fold purpose of providing a funfest and educating the University public as to what the Agricultural College is and does. The various departments of the school have arranged exhibits which will be informing as well as amusing.

The soils and crops section of the Agronomy department will demonstrate why popcorn pops, and will answer any questions visitors wish to ask. The agricultural chemistry department will demonstrate the reasons why one variety of wheat makes better flour than another in their milling and baking departments. The poultry department will instruct those interested in how to grade and pack eggs so that they will reach the consumer in good condition.

The dairy department offers a mechanical cow for inspection. Cream, milk and buttermilk will be obtainable. The rural economics department will display a Lancaster county farm indoors, including model buildings and growing crops. The departments of animal husbandry, horticulture, entomology, and plant pathology, have also planned exhibitions.

The work of the Home Economics design classes will be exhibited in room 213. The exhibit will include work in block printing, tie and dye, Gesso, Permadello, parchment and embroidery. The clothing exhibit will be found in 304. There will be groupings of children's clothes, school, street, and afternoon costumes designed and made by the clothing classes. An added feature this year will be the consultation group. Questions in regard to materials, colors and designs will be welcomed by this group. The Textile exhibit is in the form of a playlet given by the members of the Textile classes. Tests of materials which may be used both at the stores and at home will be demonstrated to enable the purchaser to estimate the quality of the materials.

The girls in the industrial management class will have charge of a tea room in the cafeteria in Home Economics building during the afternoon and evening from 2:30 to 7:30. The "Short Cuts in Cookery" demonstrated will be found in the Food laboratory on the same floor, 3 to 5 o'clock. An attractive luncheon will be on exhibit in the Practice Dining room. Real, live pre-school children will demonstrate proper health rules.

In its opening meet of the season the Nebraska golf team Wednesday afternoon completely outclassed the Creighton university golfers at Omaha. Scores made by the Creightonites were so poor that they were not registered.

PROGRAM
FIFTH ANNUAL FARMERS' FAIR
MAY 5, 1923
Morning
11:30 A. M. Parade Down O Street
Afternoon
1:30 P. M. Midway Opens
2:00 Wild West Show
2:30 Pageant—The Masque of Conservation
3:00 Dance Hall Opens
3:30 Baseball Game—Nebrasks v. Missouri
Ag Campus
4:00 Educational Exhibits and Demonstrations
4:00 Snorphem and Minstrels
5:00 Snorphem and Minstrels
Evening
7:00 P. M. Pageant
7:15 Midway lights up
7:30 Outdoor Movies
8:00 On with the Dances
8:00 Snorphem and Minstrels
9:00 Snorphem and Minstrels
10:00 Snorphem and Minstrels
11:30 Lights out.

Yellow Dog Saloon Will Furnish All Drinks for Thirsty

The Yellow Dog Saloon opens with the first gun and closes when the last dog is hung. There will be lots of "yell" in the Yellow Dog Special and a free whisk broom goes with every drink—so you can brush yourself off when you get up. You'll have to admit our stuff is the dog's bow-wow. As proof of the merit of our special we give our formula.

Chase wild bullfrogs for three miles and gather the hops. To them add ten gallons of tan bark, half a pint of shellac, fourteen ounces of sulphuric acid, and one bar of home-made soap. Boil 36 hours, then strain through an I. W. W. sock to keep it from working. Add one grasshopper to each pint to give it a kick. Pour a little into the kitchen sink. If it takes the enamel off it is ready for bottling.

We wish to extend a cordial invitation to the faculty and students of all the Colleges of the University to be present at our Fifth Annual Farmers' Fair, Saturday May 5, 1923.

ELTON LUX
JAMES ADAMS
ROBERT WEIR
ED SCHEIDT
FRANCES WEINTZ
PHYLLIS SPRAGUE
Farmers' Fair Board.

AG. COLLEGE CAMPUS WILL BE SCENE OF FESTIVITIES FROM NOON TO NIGHT

Parade Will Start Annual Event Off in the Morning—Ball Games, Pageant and Dancing Will Form Greater Part of Afternoon Attractions—Floats Will Be Distributed Over Campus.

BARBECUED MEAT AND HOT DOUGHNUTS FOR HUNGRY

Yellow Dog Saloon, Devil's Den, Snorphem Vaudeville, Minstrel Show, Scientific Displays, Movies and Many Other Concessions Will Make up Carnival and Midway.

HOME EC GIRLS TO PRESENT PAGEANT

"The Masque of Conservation"—Is Title of Play to Be Presented in the Open.

One of the main attractions on the Farmers' Fair program is the pageant, "The Masque of Conservation," which will be presented by the Home Economics girls on the grassy slope between the Administration Building and the Home Economics building, at 2:30 p.m. and at 7 p.m.

The cast is as follows, in the order of their entrance:

Dryads or Tree-Spirits:
Dryads or Tree-Spirits: Lyssa, Ann Soulek; Charis, Mae Mitchell; Armida, Velma Townsend.

Little Dryads: Marion Lehmer, Helen Schwager, Helen Rohwer, Elizabeth Thrailkill, Nellie Dee, Helen Brecht, Rhonda Klinek, Erma Collins, Dorothy Vincent, Ruby Sowards, Zephyr, Adeline Cox.

Freeman—Owner of the Woodland, Ralph Cole.

Husk, Alfred Daniels, Goddess of the Forest, Genevieve Mackland.

Dryads in Black, Hazel Banning and Elizabeth McVey.

Dryads in Gray, Emma Mishek and Anna Barney.

River Gods, Lydia Swanson, Lois Jackman, Helen Gates, Clara Noyes and Ella Mae Thurber.

Raindrops, Eleanor Cline, Hester Clark, Gladys Babcock and Marie Streeter.

Conservation, Alice Heldt.

The costumes have been made by students in the department of home economics. The dancing is under the direction of Miss Faye Breeze. Geo-Ainlay of Wesleyan University is the director of the music. Miss Alice Bradt has charge of the production.

CORNHUSKERS PLAY TIGERS HERE TODAY

Missouri Here This Week End to Avenge Defeat Given by Nebraska.

Today at Rock Island ball park the Nebraska baseball team will meet the Missouri university nine in the first of two-game series. Missouri is coming to meet the Cornhuskers bearing a grudge because it has already lost twice to Nebraska and the attempt to settle it should produce some real baseball playing.

The game today is scheduled to start at 4 p.m. Saturday. The Agricultural college will be the battle field as the game will be included in the annual Farmers' Fair of the college.

Lewellen, mound star of the varsity who was injured by having a finger split open during practice this week, is recovering and will be able to pitch one of the two games. Hubub will probably be on the receiving end of the battery. It was reported that Petty was below in some of his hours and might be unable to play but this was not confirmed. Coach Earl Carr, who took over the directorship of the Husker machine this week from Scotty Dye, announced that the remainder of the line-up would be practically the same as that which met Oklahoma last week.

It was reported that the Missourians were placing much confidence in Knight, a whirlwind pitcher. Knight was ineligible when the two teams played before and consequently the Nebraskans have yet to test his strength.

The Farmers' Fair, given by the students of the College of Agriculture on their campus Saturday, is scheduled as one of the greatest events ever staged on that campus, according to members of the committee which are in charge of the affair.

The parade, at 11:30 in the morning, will be more pretentious than any of the past. Floats representing all of the different branches of study on that college will appear as parts of the parade.

The Carnival

If you need a self-commencement, just drop around to the "Yellow Dog Saloon." Lubrications of all kinds may be obtained here. In case you do not indulge, plenty of beautiful, entertaining bar maids will see that your time will not be wasted.

The Devil's Den is Hades itself. If you have any blots in your past, your destination may be determined by visiting these eternal tropics. Moaning, shrieking skeletons will walk to and fro among the molten rocks. Clanking, clashing bones intermingled with the gnashing of teeth will constitute a turmoil. Do not visit the Devil's Den unless you are strong physically and morally.

Real Vaudeville Is Offered.

The Snorphem Circuit management has taken special pains to secure the cast for this year's show. The show is a splendid New York production and has been a successful vehicle for the Follies. This is the only engagement the cast has in this section of the country.

The minstrel show this year promises to be one of the best ever. Black-faced comedians and "Alabama Roses" have been secured, and their entertainment is rare. The show is a continuous whirl of song, dancing, and clever jokes, and includes a program of clean and wholesome wit and humor.

Barbecue Meat Is Delicious.

The prize steer has been groomed and fattened for many weeks and will make the supreme sacrifice the morning of the Fair. He will make his final appearance at the barbecue in the form of tender slabs of beef between whole loaves of bread.

Hot doughnuts right out of the kettle will be served at the doughnut stand. Following in line with other manufactured products since the war, the holes in these doughnuts will be smaller than ever before.

The Dippy, Dizzy Drum.

In case you get lost in the crowd, or think north is south, or after an exciting time at the Wild West show, the Snorphem, the dance or any of the big attraction, a means of recuperation has been provided. The Dippy Dizzy Drum will instill exhilarating energy and pep into the weary. After riding this Drum you

(Continued on Page Four.)

Law and Order to Be Safeguarded By Fearless Ag Police

Led by their chief who can drill an ace of spades at thirty yards, the Ag. Police are out to see that everyone is fully protected and that law and order are observed on Farmers' Fair Day. Ever since Farmers' Fair was started six years ago, it has been found necessary to have a group of students to regulate the parking of autos, to direct traffic, to give out information, and to keep order.

For this purpose the County Sheriff has sworn in a score of fearless students as deputies. If anyone desires aid of any kind on the fair grounds they have but to report to the police for this is their business, and woe be unto him who disturbs the peace, for they are reckless men.