

CHANGES IN FACULTY OF DENTAL COLLEGE

G. A. Grubb, Acting Dean Last Year, Is Head of School—Clinic Is Improved.

The new semester sees several changes in the Dental College. Dr. G. A. Grubb, who is dean this year, was acting dean last year. There are two new members of the faculty and one of last years staff has resigned. The new men are Dr. Fred Webster, who will be head of the Operative Department, and Dr. B. L. Hooper, who becomes head of the Prosthetic Department, taking the place left vacant by the resignation of Dr. J. I. Davis.

The appearance of the Dental College Clinic has also made a change during the summer. All the wood-work has been freshly painted and a new floor covering has been laid down. The room used by the Prosthetic department has been greatly improved according to Dean Grubb. It has been divided into two rooms, one for laboratory purposes and the other is an impression room. One lecture room has been changed to a surgical room.

ENGINEERING FACULTY ADDS FIVE MEMBERS

Three Instructors Secured for Civil Engineering; Two for Applied Mechanics.

The College of Engineering has added five new members to its teaching faculty, three in the department of civil engineering and two in the department of applied mechanics. A third addition may be made later in the department of applied mechanics. The new faculty members are as follows:

Henry J. Kesner, assistant professor of civil engineering, has degrees of B. A., B. Sc. in C. E., and C. E. from the University of Colorado. He has also studied at the Armour Institute of Technology.

Otto E. Hager, instructor in civil engineering, has a C. E. degree from Lehigh university. He will instruct in surveying.

Walter Scott, B. Sc. in C. E., U. of N. '23, returns as assistant instructor in civil engineering.

Edwin A. Grone, assistant instructor in engineering drawing, has a degree of B. Sc. in C. E. from the University of Nebraska, '08.

Joe Smay, instructor in engineering drawing, receives his degree of B. Sc., in Arch. E. from Iowa State college in 1923.

Dr. Carl Dunbar of the department of geology, Yale University, is spending a month doing geological survey for the University of Nebraska. Dr. Dunbar, who is a specialist in palaeontology, is engaged in identifying species of the fossil fauna in the Pennsylvania formations of Nebraska. He spent two weeks in the field with Dr. G. E. Condra and Prof. N. A. Bengston and the remainder of the time he is working in the laboratory. The results of this work with other studies will be included in a lengthy publication on the "Carboniferous deposits of Nebraska"; work on the publication has been under way for several years. Dr. Dunbar expressed surprise that such a detailed study had already been made.

Two hundred and sixty-three Nebraska high school track men, representing fifty-six high schools, were awarded the state numeral by the University of Nebraska athletic for home course track records for 1922-1923. Dark blue and light blue diamonds with the year in white are awarded according to the number of points made. The dark blue representing the higher score. One hundred and twenty-seven received full blue numerals and 136, half-blue numerals. Farman won the state numeral banner for the highest percentage of numeral winners out of the total number of men in school.

Dean C. C. Engberg returned Thursday from his summer vacation at his cottage at Olga, Wash.

L. A. Wolfanger, '18, and R. D. Wood, '24, have returned from making a soil survey of Webster county. Mr. Wolfanger is preparing a report on the county, after which he will leave for Columbia University where he will be assistant in geography and geology.
