GRID-GRAPH TO HELP ORGANIZE CHEER SECTION

Device to Be Used at Meeting Saturday Afternoon Shows All Details of Game.

WANT 3,000 ROOTERS AT FIRST HOME GAME

Reports From Contest at Urbana Expected to Start Here About 3 O'clock.

An organized student cheering section for the home games is the aim of the N club in staging the "Grid-Graph Party" at the Armory Saturday afternoon at 2:30. Cheerleaders and the band will be on hand, and a new song for the Cornhuskers will be learned by the students. Seats for 3,000 men and women will be provided.

The grid-graph itself is worked by electricity, and shows the gridiron on a plate of frosted glass ten feet by five feet. The position of the ball is indicated by the flashing of a light. The names of the players, of the plays, and of the penalties are printed on the margin of the board. When a play is made, a light shows the players used, the play made, and the progress of the ball.

Reports will begin to come in from Urbana at about 3 o'clock. The admission charge is 25 cents.

COUNCIL NOMINEES FOUND INELIGIBLE

Selections From Arts and Science College and Junior Class to Be Made.

Nominations for men from the Arts and Science College and men for junior members of the Student Council will be made at 12 o'clock today. At the meeting yesterday, two men nominated as junior members of the Council were declared ineligible. At the meeting to nominate men from the Arts and Science college to fill a vacancy, but one man was eligible and the nominations were reopened by action of the Council.

Men, to be nominated as junior members of the Student Council, must have a senior standing. Arts and Science men must have a junior standing.

Nominations, for men to fill the vacancy in the Arts and Science College, will be made at a meeting in University hall, room 102. The other nominations will be made in Social Science auditorium.

RHODES CANDIDATES GIVEN EXAMINATION

Twenty-two Students Applying for Scholarship to Be Taken Alphabetically.

Preliminary examinations for the Rhodes Scholarship begin today at 3 o'clock and will be continued Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. The candidates will be examined in alphabetical order.

Each candidate will receive a post card informing him at what hour he should appear in University hall, room 105. Those who fail to receive a post card may learn the time of their examination from Miss Wright in 103 U hall.

Twenty-two students have signed applications for the Rhodes Scholarship.

Vesper Choir Practice Changed to Friday

The day for Vesper choir practice has been changed from Thursday at 5 o'clock to Friday at five o'clock because of a conflict with the University chorus which meets on Thursday. The change takes place immediately, the first practice of the new choir being held Friday, October 5, at 5 o'clock at Ellen Smith hall. The presence of every member is compulsory.

Special Convocation.

There will be a special convocation for engineering students in the Temple theater at 11:00, Thursday, Oct. 11. All engineers who do not have classes at that time are requested to be present. CARL C. ENGBERG.

HUSKERS SPEED TO TUSSLE WITH ZUPPKE'S STARS

Reed Assigned to Replace Beefy Linesman Who Fails to Make Grade.

FIND HILL INELIGIBLE AT TWELFTH HOUR

Pigskin Luggers Go Through Final Hour of Signal Practice on Stadium Field.

With a rousing send-off from a cheering mob of students, the "fighting Cornhuskers" pulled out from the Burlington station Thursday afternoon for Urbana, Illinois, where they will meet the University of Illinois in the first game of the season.

At the twelfth hour it was discovered that Russell Hill was ineligible and Coach Dawson assigned Danny Reed to fill his place on the squad. The loss of Hill to the squad is of great consequence. Although Hill probably would not have started in the lineup he would have been in the game before the final whistle had sounded. His beef and head-work are needed on the line.

At 2 o'clock Thursday the Cornhuskers went through an hour's final drill on the stadium field. There was no scrimmage, snappy signal practice, and passing the oval composed the workout.

The probable lineup that Coach Dawson will pit against Illinois is:

- McAllister, left end.
- Weir, left tackle.
- Berquist, left guard.
- Hutchison, center.
- Ogden, right guard.
- Bassett, right tackle.
- Rhodes, right end.
- Captain Lowellen, quarter.
- Noble, left half.
- H. Dewitz, right half.
- Hartman, fullback.

STUDENTS AT FARM HOLD CONVOCATION

Engberg and Schulte Emphasize Fact That Ag College Is Part of School.

Students at the College of Agriculture held their first convocation of the year Thursday morning in Agricultural hall, under the auspices of the Ag club.

Coach Schulte and Dean Engberg were the principal speakers.

Schulte emphasized the fact that the spirit of the students must be such that they are proud of the entire institution, and not merely the college in which they are enrolled. "This University is one of the best in the nation," he declared, "and it is you who are to keep it so."

Dean Engberg next spoke to the students, also urging them to consider themselves an intimate part of the institution.

Drives for members were put on at the convocation by both the Ag club and the Home Economics club.

Ag Judging Team Wins Third Place

The swine judging team of the College of Agriculture won third place in the inter-collegiate contest held last Monday at the national swine show held at Peoria, Ill.

Teams from Iowa and Ohio won first and second places, respectively.

Lee King of the Nebraska squad tied for seventh place individual, and was high man on the Nebraska team. Other members of the team were Clyde Walker, Alfred Daniels, Gaylord Hattan and Frank Wilkinson, all seniors at the college.

Allege Freshmen Fight Over Selection Honorary Colonel

University officials were left a bit groggy on the Armory steps late yesterday afternoon when two Cornhusker yearlings are alleged to have engaged in the first fistic brawl witnessed on the Nebraska campus for eleven semesters. Efforts failed to reveal the identity of the two green capsters last night, and students will continue the search for the sparring artists.

Dispute is said to have arisen between several anxiously waiting upperclassmen concerning the election of the honorary colonel for the University R. O. T. C. regiment and the two new comers to the Scarlet fold took up the questions which resulted in the two coming to blows.

Doubtless the question of the second annual scansion of the Junior and Senior classes for the co-ed choice of the entire student body for the honorary position will be a much warmer race than during the initial campaign. Early indications point towards an overflowing ballot and the secret tally of casted votes on October 9 will be withheld until the annual cadet officers military ball on the night of December 7.

The winner of the coming election will be formerly announced at the historical hop and the winner of the campus confab threshed to the finish. Miss Pearl Swanson led the

YELL CONTEST BRINGS MANY SUGGESTIONS

Six Days Remain Before Contest Staged by Innocents and N Club Closes.

Following the launching of the University yell contest Thursday by the Innocents and the N club numerous suggestions for new Cornhusker cheers poured into the office of the chairman of the cheer leaders. But six days remain before the contest closes.

The committee in charge of the competition has arranged two ballot boxes in which productions may be placed, one in University hall, Station A, and the other other in the west entrance of the Social Science building. The contest closes at 6 p. m. October 11, and there is no limit to the number of yells an individual can submit.

The Innocents are desirous of having every student compete and the person composing the winning cheer will be awarded two season tickets to all University athletic competitions by the N club. The yells will be tried out before bodies of students with the Innocents acting as judges.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION DISCUSSED AT DINNER

Chancellor Entertains Faculty Members and Dr. Kent of Yale

The address on "The Place of Religion in a State University" Tuesday afternoon by Dr. Charles Foster Kent of Yale University before the Nebraska Congregational Conference and a large number of the University faculty has been a subject of much discussion and has created general interest in the matter.

Chancellor Avery, who attended the address, said yesterday, "The University authorities recognize the great need of stimulating a genuine religious feeling on the part of students and the desirability of sending forth its graduates with the right philosophy of life. At the same time, they recognize the limitations imposed by State law and the possibility of discord between those of different shades of religious belief."

On Wednesday noon Chancellor Avery gave a dinner in honor of Dr. Kent to which were invited a number of deans and professors giving courses in the University on literary, historical, and philosophical subjects akin to the subject of religion. The time was very pleasantly and profitably spent in listening to Dr. Kent outline plans that have been put into operation and are in contemplation, in connection with sister institutions, for general instruction in religious matters in a broad, non-controversial, non-sectarian way, but, according to grand march with the cadet colonel last year and the winner of the coming ballot will be accorded the honor of the most representative girl during the next few months.

The junior or senior girl elected to the honorary position will also be given the honor of reviewing the cadets at formal parade during the first semester, an honor generally accorded only to distinguished military persons.

LODER IS WINNER IN CLUB ELECTION

Commercial Group Selects All Officers at Session Thursday Morning.

Merle Loder was elected president of the University Commercial club at a meeting of sixteen members of the organization Thursday morning in the Social Science building. John Comstock was chosen vice president; Roland Easterbooks, secretary; and W. K. Swanson, treasurer.

All members of the club have been asked to meet again at 11 a. m. Tuesday in Social Science, room 303 to complete the business arrangements of the semester.

PLAYERS TICKET SALE A SUCCESS

Students Take Most of Tickets for Afternoon Performances—1,000 Sold.

"The most successful ticket sale ever carried on by students," was the way A. L. Erickson, business manager of the University Players, characterized the campaign for sale of season tickets which ended last night. Erickson estimated that 1,000 tickets had been bought by students.

An all-student attendance will be the feature of the Saturday matinee to be given by the Players. Nearly every ticket to the afternoon performances was sold to a student.

Tickets which were not sold during the drive will be placed on sale at Ross P. Curtice Co., at regular prices. The matinee tickets sell for $2.50, and the tickets to the evening shows are $3.50.

NOMINATIONS FOR COUNCIL ANNOUNCED

Filings Not Yet Completed—Election Will Be Held Tuesday, Oct. 9.

Results of the nominations to fill vacancies in the Student Council are as follows:

Fine Arts College: Pauline Gellatley, Katherine Warner.

Teachers College: Arville Johnson, Gertrude Broadwell.

The nominations in the Arts and Science college are incomplete, as but one nomination has been made.

Junior class nominations are also incomplete because of the ineligibility of both nominees.

Elections will be held in connection with the general student election Tuesday, Oct. 9.

Nebraska Students Leave for Urbana

Nebraska's football team will not be without support when it clashes with the Illinois team at Urbana Saturday afternoon. Three cars filled with Cornhusker backers left Lincoln Thursday afternoon and other sport fans are expected to make the trip by train.

Three fraternities sent automobiles full of Cornhusker students to

Vacancies Filled in Y. W. Cabinet

Y. W. C. A. cabinet vacancies made by resignation of two of the members were filled last night at a meeting of the cabinet. Julia Sheldon was elected to fill the publicity chair left vacant by the resignation of Edith Olds. Alice Beavers will head the Bible study staff in place of Eleanor Dunlap.

Twins Will Meet Twins at Twin's Party for Twins

Are you a twin? If you were so lucky as to be a duplicate of some other member of your family, then you are eligible for a twins party. No, you are not seeing double.

The Barr twins invite all twins to a party at their home, 2805 Randolph street Saturday night, October 6.

As the pairs of twins became so numerous on the campus in the fall of 1916, it was necessary to organize a special association for this group. The organization is purely a social one.

Any twin is invited whether his or her twin is in school or not. The only study or work to be taken up by the club for the year will be on the subject, "How to distinguish one's self from one's twin."

FINAL PLANS BEING MADE FOR TICKET DRIVE

Committees Appointed Will Be Announced Sunday; Different Chairman in Charge Each Day.

GROUP OF TWENTY TO WORK EACH COLLEGE

Hope to Sell Enough Tickets to Fill Student Section in Stadium—Requires 4,000.

Committees to sell student athletic tickets Wednesday, Thursday and Friday are being appointed and will be announced in the Sunday issue of the Daily Nebraskan.

Plans now are to have three chairmen, one to have charge each day of the campaign.

The tickets, selling for $7.50, will be sold by committees of twenty from each college on each of the three days before the game with Oklahoma, the first home game, Oct. 13.

It is hoped that at least 4,000 tickets—enough to fill the student section of the stadium, will be sold in the campaign.

The fact that the student tickets sell for less than the total of single admissions and at the same time admit holders to all football, basketball, track, baseball and mat contests, with the additional privileges of the tennis courts, is the main talking point of the salesmen. It is estimated that these privileges paid for separately would cost more than $25.

CUTTER SPEAKS AT MEETING OF NUMEDS

Organization Elects Officers to Fill Vacancies; 150 Attend First Meeting.

"It takes work to succeed in medicine, and not a spectacular amount of brain power," declared Dean Irving C. Cutter, of the College of Medicine, speaking Thursday evening before the first meeting of the year of the NuMeds, premedic society.

"The opportunity in that field is just as great today as ever, if not more so," he declared, adding that two essentials the medical man must have are the ability to work, and to work alone.

Elections to fill vacancies caused by failure of members to return to school were as follows:

Richard Dunker, vice president, succeeding R. Everett, now president. John Cameron was elected sergeant-at-arms.

Theta Sigma Phi Entertains Girls

Theta Sigma Phi, woman's national journalistic fraternity, gave a tea for girls interested in journalism yesterday afternoon from four to six at Ellen Smith hall. Fifty girls were entertained. Light refreshments were served. Other similar teas will be given by Lambda chapter of Theta Sigma Phi throughout the year.

CORNHUSKERS OFF TO MEET ILLINI TEAM

Huge Demonstration Staged Thursday Afternoon When Nebraskans Entrain for Urbana.

DAWSON WILL NOT MAKE PREDICTION

Captain Lowellen Promises Team Will Be Fighting Every Minute of Game.

"We have a new team and one which hasn't been tried out yet, but Nebraska is never licked!" said Captain Lowellen to the 2,000 Nebraska rooters who marched down to the Burlington depot yesterday afternoon to see the football team off for its first game with Illinois Saturday.

"Nebraska has the fire, Nebraska has the pep, and it's going to fight," he continued after the cheers had died down.

The Burlington depot was virtually packed with followers of the "scarlet and cream." When the standing room was taken, scores were forced to hang on the fences and climb on the roof of the train shed.

"We aren't making any predictions except that we're going to fight," said Coach Dawson. "We want you to have your hearts in the right place just as the boys on the team have. We have new men this season, but they're our boys and they're the best we've got."

After prolonged cheering, the coach finished by saying, "Illinois or no Illinois, we're going to play football every minute of the game."

The large turn-out and the enthusiastic spirit was commended by all three of the men who spoke to the students. Coach Schulte, in his talk, said, "No team can leave Nebraska with a send-off like this and do anything but fight."

Coach Schulte told of the defeat the team received last year at Syracuse and the great reception that the team got when it returned, even though it had been beaten. "This," he said, "was one of the reasons why that same team defeated Notre Dame a little later."

"If we're licked, it will be because the other team is better than ours, and we don't know about that. Nebraska is a great school and such enthusiasm as this shows it," he concluded.

The parade, which was four blocks long, was led by the Innocents and the University band. After them came companies H and I under Captains Woodard and Livinghouse. Then came the body of the parade, hundreds and hundreds of cheering and singing Nebraskans.

The rally was managed by the Innocents. Cheerleader "Duke" Gleason led the crowd in the cheers and songs. He was aided along the line of march by the Corncobs who were out in full force.

As the train pulled out the whole crowd, with heads bare, sang the "Cornhusker," and as long as the train was in sight, 2,000 caps and handkerchiefs were waving in the air.

Agricultural Group Elects New Officers

The student branch of the A. S. A. E. held the first formal business meeting of the year Wednesday night. The following officers were elected: President, M. A. Bengston; vice president, O. K. Hedden; secretary-treasurer, Claude Wieggers.

Filings for Offices Close This Noon

Filings for class presidents close at noon today. Six applications have been received at the student activities office, but none, however, for the senior office.

General student elections are to be held Tuesday, Oct. 9.

Wouldn't you like to earn a beautiful "N" sweater for your very own? Come out for sports and make points in soccer, hockey, basketball, baseball, swimming, and other sports. Any "N" girl will tell you how to get into the games. Talk to her today!
